

Experienced Salesladies Wanted—Permanent Positions
Kline Brothers 1031 Main St.
THE MONEY BACK STORE.

CHILDREN'S COAT NEWS EXTRAORDINARY

A manufacturer of Children's High Grade Coats needed money badly and knowing us as spot cash buyers he offered us Coats at half and two-thirds of their real value. We traded; he got the cash, we the Coats. They are here today, over 500 of them, ages 1 to 17, and we will sell them as we bought them, all underpriced.

$1.69 to $6.98

for Coats worth all of $2.50 to $10.00. First come naturally will get the choice bargain, so be amongst the early ones.

CHRISTMAS FURS... JUST ARRIVED

Description and prices cannot convey to you rightly any idea of the splendid values in reliable Furs we have to offer you. You must come to the store and personally see and handle the Fur to appreciate their real value. We have been purchasing our Furs of the same wholesale manufacturing firms for a period extending over 15 years and know that we can stand back of and guarantee any Fur we sell you. This should mean a whole lot to you for unreluctant Furs are costly at any price. We show separate Scarfs, Hats and Sets in the latest styles and in all the Furs that are being worn. Priced

$1.49 ON UP TO $39.98 SET

YOU'LL PAY LESS FOR IT AT KLINE'S

Family in Flames Saved by Whistle

Greenwich, Dec. 1.—The whistling of a locomotive engine on the New Haven road saved Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stewart and their three children from perishing in the burning home early yesterday morning. Fire broke out in their kitchen and soon had the building, a light frame structure, wrapped in flames. The family were sound asleep and the fire had reached the bedrooms of the children when an engine driver on the nearby railroad tracked over his whistle and kept blowing. The Stewarts were aroused and had barely time to escape with their children.

THREW OUT HIS SHOULDER

Joseph Carroll, aged 19, suffered a dislocation of his left shoulder playing basketball with St. Joseph's J.C. against the Fenwick team at St. Joseph's hall last evening.

LAND IS CONDEMNED NEAR STATE LIBRARY

Hartford, Dec. 1.—Judge Case in the Superior Court has decided that the land of William in Hamden, Conn. shall be condemned to permit of a west entrance to the new state library and Supreme Court building. The last legislative act of the session of this kind but the owner declined to give it up.

CONN. FEDERATION OF PROTESTANT CHURCHES

Hartford, Dec. 1.—At a meeting of the Connecticut Federation of Protestant churches here, yesterday, the following officers were elected: President, Prof. W. N. Rice, Middletown; vice president, Rev. J. W. Green, Middletown; secretary, Rev. J. F. Johnson, Hartford; and treasurer, Rev. E. DeF. Mel, Hartford. The constitution was amended to allow two representatives for each five thousand communicants of each denomination in the federation.

BLAKESLEES NOW ON THEIR BIGGEST JOB

Major D. A. Blakeslee, of the firm of C. W. Blakeslee & Sons, New Haven, said last night that he should go to New York himself to take charge of the contract involving the expenditure of two and a half million dollars, which has been awarded his firm for constructing a big link in the new aqueduct service for New York City. He said that this was the largest contract that his firm had as yet undertaken.

POINTS OF INTEREST

The Allis Rubber Co. are headquarters for reliable rubber goods of every description. They also carry a large assortment of men's leather coats and men's and boys' dress and work clothes. Their sporting goods department is now under new management and they are selling their sporting goods at greatly reduced prices. The Allis Rubber Co. are headquarters for reliable rubber goods of every description. They also carry a large assortment of men's leather coats and men's and boys' dress and work clothes. Their sporting goods department is now under new management and they are selling their sporting goods at greatly reduced prices.

THE CURTIS PHARMACY

Franklin St., Cor. Courtland.

BREWER TRUSTS EXPLORER COOK

Yale Professor Says He Himself Would Disappear Under Same Circumstances.

William H. Brewer, professor emeritus in the Sheffield Scientific school at Yale, who has been an ardent supporter of Dr. Frederick Cook's claims in the North Pole controversy, was asked by a reporter last evening what he thought of Dr. Cook's explanation of the disappearance of his party. Brewer said that he himself would disappear under the same circumstances.

"If I were in Dr. Cook's place," said Prof. Brewer, "I should have done the same thing long ago. Cook has been bothered beyond all patience by newspaper men who have nothing else to write about just now but the North Pole. He has been called at all hours of the day and night and has finally taken the only means of securing peace until the verdict of the University of Copenhagen is reached."

"Don't you think that the enthusiastic reception of Cook by the Danes will prejudice, ever so slightly, the findings of the University of Copenhagen?" the reporter asked. "Copenhagen is the best place the records could have been sent to. The University is entirely fair and independent and will not hesitate to decide according to the evidence. But be that as it may," added the professor, "many people have already made up their minds that Cook is a fakir and nothing will ever swerve them."

Professor Brewer was unwilling to say more than he has already said about the Pole controversy, but was willing to talk about the Mt. McKinley climb, which he said, would never have been made again but for the dispute over the other matter. "Burrill is a liar either way," said Prof. Brewer, "for he lied when he said he climbed the mountain or when he is lying now. That is an affidavit from a liar who said he was offered $50,000 to do it, and it was secured by interested parties."

"I believe that Dr. Cook reached the top of Mt. McKinley and also reached the Pole. It is just to believe every man tells the truth until he is proven a liar. I have known Dr. Cook for fifteen years and believe him essentially truthful, and shall continue to do so until he is proven a liar. Cook either climbed Mt. McKinley or he did not. That it is possible, to believe one has climbed a mountain and yet not to have reached its summit is known to be very easy from my own experience. I have had Mt. McKinley pointed out to me when there was doubt as to which was Mt. McKinley. I have crossed within nine miles of Mt. St. Elias for two weeks and been unable to see the entire mountain at one time, and unless you can see the entire mountain it is impossible to plan your route up it. On this Harriman expedition it was frequently impossible to locate mountains."

"In 1864 I was in charge of a party in the Sierras and ascended Mt. Brewer, from which we saw plainly Mt. St. Elias, the highest peak in the United States outside of Alaska. Clarence King, a member of my party, with some men, soon after set out to climb Mt. Whitney. He had a map and summit and wrote of the climb and the wonderful view in his book on the Sierras. In 1872 another party climbed Mt. Whitney and found an altogether different altitude and a view showing that King had climbed some other peak, the real Whitney being hidden from him by the Sierras. In later editions of his book he added an appendix acknowledging this, although he honestly believed at the time that he had climbed the mountain. It may have been the case with Cook is possible."

"I advised Cook against his first attempt, telling him that his ascent of Mt. McKinley depended largely upon luck—as to weather and other conditions, no matter how strong the party. If a party ascends the mountain to verify Cook's record next summer, the success in the climb will depend largely upon luck whether they even hit the right mountain, let alone find the records Cook left there."

"In 1863, as an example, I climbed Mt. Brewer on July 2, and went onto the peak again the next day to show King and Whitney. On the ascent I buried a bottle with records under a pile of stone. Since then hundreds have ascended the mountain, including large excursions of the State club. Yet, although all these men had climbed over Mt. Brewer the records I left were not found again until 1865, and then by mere chance."

For these reasons, and others less important, Professor Brewer finds Cook's claims very probable, but he does not believe in him until Dr. Cook is absolutely proven a liar.

E. H. DILLON & CO. 1105 Main St.

908 MAIN ST., Hartford, Conn. 10 RUE ST. CECILE, PARIS LEADING MILLINERS

GREAT SIXTEENTH Anniversary Sale

Special Price Reductions in Untrimmed Hats, Trimmed Dress Hats and Ostrich Feathers

- $1.00 UNTRIMMED HATS... $1.50 UNTRIMMED HATS... $2.00 UNTRIMMED HATS... $3.00 UNTRIMMED HATS... $4.00 UNTRIMMED HATS... $5.00 UNTRIMMED HATS... $6.00 UNTRIMMED HATS... $7.00 UNTRIMMED HATS... $8.00 UNTRIMMED HATS... $9.00 UNTRIMMED HATS... $10.00 UNTRIMMED HATS... ALL OUR BETTER GOODS FROM $10 TO $200 NOW MARKED AT HALF PRICE

FRANK LALOR, IN THE CANDY SHOP

Monday evening next will be a gala night at Jackson's when the Shriners will present their annual entertainment. They have been able to procure Chase, Dillingham's biggest musical comedy, "The Candy Shop," the musical comedy which has had an all autumn run in Boston at the Tremont Theatre, from which city it practically comes here intact. Followers of the toly shows of the native theatre will

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. George Wellington, Secretary and Treasurer of the Anti-Vaccination League, with his wife and daughter, Gertrude, had returned to this city from New Haven where they spent Thanksgiving and the week end, with Mr. Wellington's mother, Mrs. W. H. Read of Winchester Ave.

GHASTLY SIGHT AT GUILLOTINING OF BANDIT MURDERER

(Special from United Press.) Mont Brison, Department of Loire, France, Dec. 1.—No more horrible scenes have been witnessed in France since the days of the revolution than today attended the guillotining of Riboulet, the "Bandit Murderer," and a result the advocates of private executions have a new argument in advocacy of their contention. Crowds packed about the ghastly instrument of the prison long before the hour of midnight, all anxious to witness the spectacle. A cordon of troops was placed about the ghastly instrument and efforts made to drive the crowds beyond the confines of the prison square.

BALLINGER TURNED HIS BACK ON THE PEOPLE'S RIGHTS

(Special from United Press.) Washington, Dec. 1.—More fuel will be added to the fire of the Ballinger controversy by Collier's Weekly for December 1, in which will appear an answer to Secretary Ballinger's statement that the whole record of the case would explain away the Glavis charges in connection with the Cunningham land claims. In answer to Ballinger's assertion that he was unaware of the details regarding the Cunningham claims after he became secretary, the following statement is made:

Lawyers in Lively Tilt Quelled by State Police

Terryville, Dec. 1.—The case of Ralph Lambert and Louis Florio, who were arrested charged with illegal liquor selling, came up before the town court in Plymouth yesterday afternoon. Both men were fined $25 on each of the five counts against them with costs of $37.05. During the trial attorneys representing the state and defendant became engaged in a lively tilt which the state police had to quell.

Deep Killed in New Haven Streets

New Haven, Dec. 1.—Deer are so numerous that State Game Warden Clark has warned boys and men not to throw sticks or stones at the animals when they are seen in the city streets. Last night the warden killed a buck which had sought refuge in a park. The animal had been chased and had broken its leg. A few days ago a deer caught downtown was taken in an express wagon and liberated in the suburbs.

FRANK JACOB

1266 Main St. Opp. "The Stratfield" MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN'S CLOTHING OF LATEST STYLES

THE SMITH-MURRAY CO.

NOAH'S ARK Books==Books==Books

Ready with our stock of Holiday Books. We are showing this year the greatest values we have ever been able to procure. The best Books by all the best authors at popular prices. The Henty Books at 19c a copy. At 25c a copy we have such well known Books as Black Beauty, Hans Brinker, Helen's Babies, Miss Southworth's Works, Mrs. Meade's Books for Girls, Little Prudy Stories, etc. See our Magnolia Series for Girls, the brightest and best 25c Book in the market. For Boys we have Oliver Optic, Mayne Reid, Cooper, Castlemaine, Verne, Marryat, Alger and Bonchill, all 25c a copy. All the Popular Copyright Books of the day. Your choice 39c a copy. Special Presentation Edition of The Little Minister, Robinson Crusoe, The First Violin, Hans Brinker, Black Rock, The Wide Wide World, Evangeline, etc., at 50c a copy. Each copy in a handsome box. Elsie Dinmore, 25c a copy. (Right Aisle, Rear.)

PETTICOATS

Each year finds our Christmas Gifts becoming more practical. Here in our Petticoat Department we are showing what is practical and pretty. Petticoats in black satens and light weight materials, in shirred hemstitched and tucked effects with underpiece and dust ruffle, 95c each. Petticoats of Black Saten, all the newest styles, at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00 each. Heatherbloom, Moreen and Italian Cloth Petticoats, in a fine range of up-to-date effects with underpiece dust ruffle and featherbone, $1.95 each. A large assortment of Silk Petticoats in black and all the desired colors, just the shades for drop skirts, for Voiles or other thin materials, $3.95 and $4.95 each. (Left Aisle, Center)

THE SMITH-MURRAY CO. GET WISE

Suits Overcoats Cravenettes $10 $15 SAM HARRIS SUIT SHOP, 1154 MAIN STREET

Conn. Office & Library Supply House

Furniture, Stationery and Supplies For the Business Office and Home Library Cor. Fairfield Avenue and Water Street Tel. 1237-2

UNION HOTEL WATER STREET, OFF. DEPOT EUROPEAN PLAN ROOMS 50 CENTS AND UP Private Dining Rooms. First Class Cafe. EDW. FARRELL, Prop.

NORWALK ARTILLERY TO BE CONSOLIDATED

Sixth and Seventh Companies Effected To Start Naval Militia.

Two Norwalk military companies, the Seventh and the Sixth Coast Artillery Corps, C. N. G., have received orders from the office of the adjutant general to consolidate the two companies into one. This action has been taken by the adjutant general on recommendation of the board of organization. The adjutant general issued from the office of the adjutant general provide that the following named enlisted men of the Seventh Company, having previously made application, are hereby transferred to the Sixth Company: Sergeant Harold S. Sperry, Corporal Percy L. Haynes, Musician Frederick S. Jennings, Private Arthur Brotherton, Private James E. Dagon, Private Thomas Downey, Private John W. Munroe, Private Alexander O'Connor, Private Charles J. Valentine. The remaining members of the Seventh Company, unless they make immediate application for transfer, through military channels, and the same is approved, will be discharged in orders December 15, 1909. First Lieutenant Howard N. Godfrey, Coast Artillery Corps, is relieved from duty with the Seventh Company, and placed upon the unassigned list.

HARMON ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF HIS SWEETHEART

(Special from United Press.) Boston, Dec. 1.—The emotional insanity defense of James M. Harmon, who shot and killed his sweetheart, Maude Hartley, on the street in Somerville opened here today. It will take two weeks to examine all the witnesses in Harmon's behalf while the presentation of the government's case occupied a little more than three hours. Dr. Rebecca Anna Hartley, mother of the slain girl, was one of the most sensational witnesses for the state. Racked by sobs, she told on the stand how Harmon had led her daughter into a debauch only two days before killing her and the facts becoming known and the girl's accusation of him, she said, caused Harmon to kill her. In behalf of the slayer, nearly 50 witnesses will be called to prove eccentricity since his childhood. The state will demand a verdict of deliberate and premeditated murder.

FRANK JACOB

1266 Main St. Opp. "The Stratfield" MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN'S CLOTHING OF LATEST STYLES

HOW ARE YOUR TEETH

Are You Satisfied With Them? Do They Do Their Proper Work? Look at the pictures below and note the story that words cannot tell! Do your teeth look like these?

Principal Resigns After Teaching for 35 Years

Henry W. Loomis, principal of the Goff street school, and for 35 years a teacher in the New Haven public schools, has resigned. Illness in his family is the cause of his resignation. Special Price Reductions In untrimmed hats, trimmed dress hats and ostrich feathers at the great 16th anniversary sale of E. H. Dillon & Co., 1106 Main street. WANT ADS. CENT A WORD.