PRISON YAWNS FOR YOUNG VOCALIST WHO RUST GIRL IN TO LIFE OF SHAME HERE

Motion Picture Theatre Singer Abandons Wife, Brings Paramour Here and Puts Her in Dive

One of the Notorious Herman Gang Arrested Again As Result of Shocking Depravity Disclosed in His Bank Street Joint

Frankly confessing that infatuation for a singer in a motion picture theatre had led her to consent to lead a life of vice...

Apparently the enormity of the crime with which he was charged young Carroll made what appeared to be a clean break of the relations...

They hastened to police headquarters, told their story and Sergeant Webb sent Patrolman Bray and Beamer out to bring in the girl...

The girl refused to talk to her mother, who appeared heart broken at the disgrace of her daughter and wept violently as she was led away...

Carroll lives at 223 Putnam avenue, Brooklyn. He is a handsome young man with a short time. He was employed in a motion picture theatre as a singer, usher and machine operator.

He was engaged to play at a party in Brooklyn where he met the girl. She told him she was not living happily with her mother, and at once

INFANTILE PARALYSIS TO BE TREATED FOR HIS LIFE

On Thursday morning of this week, Napoleon Bissonnette, who killed his brother-in-law, Rome P. Demery, in the former's home on the evening of Oct. 14, 1909, and on Dec. 17th was sentenced to State prison for life...

The Pennsylvania commissioners stated there were 153 cases in the state. Polymetia, the scientific name for the disease, prevailed in Kansas in epidemic form for the last year. Over 100 cases were reported. This year there have been 59 cases and 19 deaths.

In Iowa there have been this year 150 cases and 29 deaths; Massachusetts, 29 cases; Minnesota reports 20 cases; District of Columbia, 71 cases; Rhode Island, 59 cases; Washington, 110 cases and 10 deaths; and Oklahoma 5 cases and 4 deaths.

MAYOR GAYNOR'S HARNESS AGAIN TODAY

New York, Oct. 3.—Mayor William J. Gaynor shot down on the deck of Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosser by James Gallagher, a discharged city employe, on August 1 returned today to his desk in the City Hall. His active re-entry into public life was marked by no ceremony.

Mayor Gaynor came over to the City Hall on a street car from his Brooklyn home. When he left the car a newsboy recognized him and began

WEALTHY OIL OPERATOR IS SHOT DOWN

Shooting Said to Be Result of Attention Paid to Wife of Slayer

Menlo E. Moore, Who Killed Gibson, Is Proprietor of Chain of Theatres

(Special from United Press.) Vincennes, Ind., Oct. 3.—Edward Gibson, 62, a wealthy oil operator who amassed a fortune in the Illinois oil fields, was shot and instantly killed early today.

Moore had watched the oil producer purchase a ticket and allowed him out of the station to the platform. All of the persons connected with the tragedy are prominent. Moore has a son five years old and Gibson is survived by a widow and a seven year old boy.

THOMAS WOULD RESCIND ACTION NAMING JUDSON

Doubtful If Senatorial Convention of 25th District Could Legally Withdraw Nomination Once Made

Edwin S. Thomas, secretary of the Democratic state central committee said this morning that, because of the nomination of Attorney Stiles Judson, a Republican, for senator on the Democratic ticket of the 25th District, a special session of the Democratic State Central committee may be called for the purpose of rescinding the nomination and rescinding the former action.

Secretary Thomas said this morning that there was plenty of time to legally convene the convention and make another nomination. He did not think there would be any difficulty in getting the convention to reconvene. He said there were several conferences of men powerful in the party being held today and they decided whether the delegates of the 25th senatorial district would again be asked to convene.

GRAND PRIX RACE MAY BE PREVENTED

(Special from United Press.) Mineola, L. I., Oct. 3.—When the Nassau County Board of Supervisors met today the final word against death-dealing automobile races on the Grand Prix course was expected.

As a result of the wholesale butchery of speed mad motorists on the Vanderbilt race on Saturday, the board is certain that the big Grand Prix race scheduled to be run on October 15, would be stopped by the supervisors withdrawing their consent to the promoters to use the county roads.

With 15 of the 20 injured in Saturday's race still in the hospital, three of them near death, a great wave of feeling against the racing arrangement that make wholesale destruction of life and limb possible, was in evidence. District Attorney Frank Coles of Nassau County called in a score of observers who were stationed along the race course on Saturday and reviewed their reports.

Supervisor Chester A. Painter of Oyster Bay said before going into today's meeting that he wanted to allow another race. Smith Cocks of Hempstead will probably vote against the race. The board is in Nassau Hospital today Harold Stone, the Columbia driver, is in a precarious condition. Stone's 19 year old bride is at his bedside almost continuously. Mrs. Ferdinand D'Zulba, whose husband was killed when his car turned turtle on the way to the race, is in a dying condition as is Theodore Granucci, a chauffeur who ran his machine into a telegraph pole.

SMALL TOWN ELECTIONS IN PROGRESS

The small town elections being held today throughout the State are awaited with interest by many of the voters as they are in rebellion against local machines. This is true in Stamford, Stratford, Milford and many other places. The Stamford election is complicated with a citizen's ticket. The principle fight is over the election of a Registrar of Voters.

SEVEN BODIES FOUND TODAY AT FOOT OF ELEVATOR SHAFT IN BURNED LOS ANGELES BUILDING

(Special from United Press.) Los Angeles, Oct. 3.—Shovelers engaged in searching the ruins of the Times Building today came upon the remains of seven persons at the foot of the elevator shaft. These with the five corpses in the city morgue brings the total so far to 12 known dead.

The corpses were reached only after derricks had been called into action to lift the huge steel girder and pieces of masonry.

Exciting scenes were presented in the crowds surrounding the building when the corpses were lifted out bit and bit and dumped into morgue baskets.

Employees of the Times viewed the fragments of bodies and made an effort to identify them. They found it practically impossible, so badly charred were the bodies.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 3.—The most sensational man hunt in the history of the west is now on. Private detectives by the score, including William J. Burns and the graft fame and M. J. Moran of the United States Secret Service, assisted by the officials of every city on the coast are working feverishly to find the persons responsible for the explosion that destroyed the Los Angeles Times Building, causing many deaths.

Every clue, no matter how flimsy, is being run down and there seems little chance of the assassins escaping. The police today announced that they found four one-pound sticks of dynamite and a box of explosive caps.

RELATIVES OF BARNUM HURT IN AUTO WRECK

New York, Oct. 3.—Herbert C. Barnum, who suffered a fractured skull and two broken legs when an automobile in which he was riding struck a pillar of the subway structure at Broadway and 231st street early last night, is recovering from his injuries in Fordham hospital. With Barnum at the time of the accident was the owner of the car, Thomas J. O'Brien, a nephew of Morgan J. O'Brien, 67 West Ninetieth street, a lawyer for assault, and from the information thus obtained presented enough evidence before the police to allow the hatters to prevent an outbreak.

Charles Dusch, the first aside from the two in jail, to be arrested, was found hiding in a trunk in his home at 113 Church street. He was arrested early Saturday morning to arrest him. Bail was fixed at $500. The property of the store keepers is tied up in civil suits brought by Silwitz.

JUDGE BALDWIN'S DECISION FAVORED BY THE HATTERS

At the county convention held on Saturday, Secretary of the Connecticut Federation of Labor and a prominent member of the United Hatters of North America told where the United Hatters stand on the question of voting for Simpson E. Baldwin for governor. He said, "It has been decided from certain sources that the United Hatters of North America would not support Judge Baldwin for the decision he gave was a benefit and not a curse to the organization. This great jurist in his decision pointed out the defect in the law concerning the hatters' label and with the decision to guide them the United Hatters went to the legislature and had the law changed. Also been decided that the United Hatters had not pointed out this defect in the law. It is a great doubt of where the United Hatters would have stood in the greater battle they were to have in the future. I feel and I think every other member of the organization feels that Judge Baldwin had done the organization a great service when he handed the business of the convention.

MANGLED BODY OF ENGINEER FOUND UNDER UNLUCKY 13TH CAR ON HIS OWN FREIGHT

FEEBLE GLEAM OF LANTERN GIVES SEARCHERS CLUE TO WHEREABOUTS OF HIS REMAINS

Fireman Ran Thirteen Cars Over Body of His Comrade, and Waited in Vain for His Return With Orders

Mangled under the wheels of his own train, the lifeless body of Arthur Willson, among the best known railroad engineers of the Berkshire division, was found beneath a freight car on the 13th car.

Knowledge born of long experience taught them to peer beneath the freight cars. They had gone back to the 13th car. "This makes thirteen," said Fairchild. "I'm not superstitious, but here's where we'll find him if he's gone."

THE BRAKEMAN started at sight of the glimmer of an upturned lantern, still burning feebly. "There he is," he whispered, and Fairchild, peering beneath the car, saw the bloody remnants of his comrade.

THOMAS F. SOMERS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT AT RACE
