Harvard Could Win by Big Score With Some of the Yale Spirit Infused in Team

When the Aimer's whistle announced the start of the game between Yale and Harvard at the Yale field Saturday afternoon, the Blue and the Crimson wound up their seasons which proved to be the exact antithesis of each other. Yale started off wretchedly and finished in a blaze of glory and Harvard began the season in a manner that boded ill for their opponents all the way down the schedule inclusive of the Yale game, and terminated her season in a manner calculated to cause a groan at Cambridge that will last for another year. If ever the football system that has made Yale the leader in the great intercollegiate game got down to work it did this year. The team combined with an eleven that was ready to swallow any advice and master any play given it, proved the undoing of the Tiger and the end of the Crimson season generally regarded the best since Campbell's machine which mowed down Charlie Gould's team in 1901, to the tune of 22 to 0. It was a season that Yale will never forget. It actually grew worse as the season progressed until two weeks before its close. Then the "come back" team worked to death since Mr. Jeffries announced that he would box Mr. Johnson, and finally the two big games that were the talk of the football loving public the country over. That Harvard should have been held to no score with that machine of theirs was typical of things that happen. The Cambridge university has the material. The power is there, and the reputation and records are usually back of the eleven, but they fail and miserably when put to a test, the only real test of the season for the cultured institution across the Charles river. It is safe to say that if things had been different Saturday so that the men who wore the Crimson could have been turned into Yale men and the Blue team by magic made into a Harvard eleven, with the Yale system and spirit behind them, the Blue team would have beaten the red legs 24 to 0. Physically and from a football standpoint the Harvard team was a wonder, but mentally it was all off. It was this lack of football instinct that has caused Harvard to bow to Yale more than once and it was never more apparent than on Saturday. The opportunities came and they were passed by time and again. Yale had but one opportunity and it took it and almost beat their rivals with her single chance. It is a wonder that the Harvard students and alumni formed the most magnificent crowd Saturday that ever filled out of the Yale field. Just as Yale will rejoice in the grand showing of the team until the deeds of next year, so the Harvard men and women will regard Saturday's wonder and rant for twelve months over their eleven's showing on that notable afternoon of November 19, 1910.

Daly's Magnificence

Frederick C. Daly, Yale's captain, will take his place in the football Hall of Fame as one of the most admired leaders the university ever had. Never in the history of the college has this year, he played about the sandiest game on the field and set an example that will live long in the memory of Yale men. His magnificence in absolute respect; they played for him as they never played before and not a day passed during the season that they were not for their captain. Last year he was shifted to his seat in the back of the team, and the coaches had the confidence of the team through with flying colors.

Hats Off to Howe

Yale undergraduates for the past two years have had occasion to see their football team run by about as brainy a field general as Yale ever produced, and no little credit for the remarkable showing of the Blue this fall and last rightfully belongs to Arthur Howe, class deacon and star football player. Howe's generalship and handling of Ted Coy's team in Cambridge a year ago are well remembered by all who saw the game, but in that year he had only his duties as quarterback to worry him. This year since his return to the game a month ago, he has worked harder and in more positions than any man on the team, and the many functions which he was called to perform were disposed of with a remarkable display of head work and football knowledge. Howe was laid up at Lakeville and did not get in the game until the Colgate team came here a week before the Brown season. He was sent in at fullback and did all the kicking, playing the most sensational game of the year on Yale field. In the Brown game it was seen that he was too light for a fullback, though he played a wonderful game against the Brunonians, and the week previous to the fight with the Tigers he was shifted to his old place at quarter. The duty of giving the signals then fell to his lot and he still had to do all of the kicking when Deming was not in the game. That his kicking was better than that of any of his rivals is a certainty, and that his team was run with greater speed and precision than ever at Princeton or Harvard, no one is disputing. He has a number of questions. No one but a born football leader with keen football instinct and great confidence in himself and his team could perform as Howe has done this fall and it is no wonder that he will be the team's leader next fall. He is the only logical candidate to succeed Captain Daly and his election will be hailed with great delight by the entire undergraduate body.

All Deserve Credit

In looking over the accomplishments of the team during the past two weeks, every man on the team should come in for his share of the praise and it is not speaking too broadly to say that Yale undergraduates and graduates individually and collectively will point to Captain Daly and his men as representing a genuine Yale eleven. Killpatrick, Scully, Fuller, Morris, McDewitt, Paul, Brooks, Field, Kistler, Vaughn, Baker, Deming, Childs, Corey and the rest deserve their share of the credit and they are getting it.

To the coaches, from Head Coach Coy down through the line to the man who puts in but one day at the field Yale gives the glad hand and to "Tom"

Shelvin, Foster Sanford and Walter Camp hats are off.

To Toss for Ball

Captain Daly last night sent a message to Captain Withington, asking for a meeting at which the ownership of the ball might be decided. The teams decided to toss for the ball and it is this detail that Captain Daly wants to have out of the way. The ball in the trophy room of Yale or Harvard will bear mute testimony of one of the oldest games ever played between the two rival universities.

BOWLING.

The Geo. C. Batcheller No. 1 team took two out of three strings from the Batcheller No. 2 team in their match game at the Arcade alleys Saturday evening. Otto Abt featured for the winners with a high three string total of 248. Bill Gobel, one of the losers was right behind with a total of 267. All three strings were hotly contested. The comedy features of the games were furnished by "Shorty" O'Donnell who had a total of 189 and Rob Ward who fell short of 200 by one pin. The scores:

Batcheller No. 1.
Abt	.....	30	85-367
Smith	.....	84	81-320
O'Donnell	.....	70	60-189
Cole	.....	96	91-264
Wildman	.....	63	76-213
Totals	.....	397	398-1154

Batcheller No. 2.
Connor	.....	81	71-233
Goebel	.....	68	94-268
Benson	.....	78	76-254
Pinnacane	.....	82	82-260
R. Ward	.....	61	65-199
Totals	.....	365	389-1179

The Batcheller duck pin team are out with a challenge to roll the Birdseye-Somers team a match game any evening this week. Arcade alleys preferred. There is considerable rivalry in all branches of sports between these two factories. Both teams have a large following. If the above team wishes to arrange for a game with the Batcheller team they will be accommodated by addressing a communication to Manager Al Smith, care of Geo. C. Batcheller Co.

LOCAL FOOTBALL

The Maplewoods and Tigers played a no score game at the Acid Works yesterday afternoon. The field goals were made by Jackson of the Tigers but failed. On two occasions the Tigers had the ball on the Maplewood 10 yard line, but could not gather the necessary strength to shove the pig skin across.

The Sea Sides and Columbia Stars

played a 6-6 tie game yesterday. The Sea Sides would like to play the Maplewoods or Edgewood Jrs. Thanksgiving at Seaside Park.

The Tammanys and Westerns

game at Hair's lot yesterday afternoon came to an end in the second period when the Tammanys players began fighting, so Manager Arnoldsky of the Westerns says. The latter then took his players from the field. He is now willing to play the Tammanys for a side bet of $50 at Newfield on Thursday, both clubs to use the same players as in yesterday's game. Manager Arnoldsky wishes to start an argument with any team claiming the junior city championship. He believes his club is more so entitled to the honors than any other local team.

GREAT PARADE OF AUTOS IN TOWN SATURDAY NIGHT

The automobile procession en route to the Yale-Harvard game Saturday was nothing to the swarm of cars which struck Bridgeport on the home journey about an hour after the big contest. They all came in a bunch and furnished one of the greatest auto parades ever seen in the city. The parade was the most of most the enthusiasts and 650 diners were accommodated during the course of the evening. The main dining room remaining open until 2 a. m. A number of notables were seen among the guests. The hotel rooms were crowded that night, the accommodation of the hostelry being taxed to the utmost.

CONNERY LAUDS RAY FOR HARTFORD

Manager Tom Connery of the Hartford baseball club while at the meeting of the minor leagues held in Chicago during the past week, pulled down the biggest prize in purchasing the release of Pitcher Ray of the St. Louis Americans. Ray has done cleverly in the search of professional seasoning before he can hold down a permanent berth in fast company. Manager Connery stated that he had a deal on for Outfielder "Red" McKenna.

ENGLISH RUNNER SHRUBB COMING

(Special from United Press.)
New York, Nov. 21.—Alfred Shrubbs, the great English racer, will be a starter in the Marlborough team race, to be held in Madison Square Garden, November 29. Shrubbs' partner will be A. E. Wood, ex-amateur 10 mile champion of England, who has come to this country in search of professional honors on the cinder path. Wood was ten mile A. A. champion in 1909, and champion of the southern counties and international champion in 1909 and 1910. On paper the Shrubbs-Wood team looks far beat, though the Holmer-Queal entry is regarded as exceptionally fast.

POLISH GIANT HERE FRIDAY IN GREAT WRESTLING MATCH

THE POLISH GIANT

The wrestling game will be revived in this city on Friday night, Nov. 25, at Eagles Hall, with two star bouts between Heavyweights of International reputation. The principal card will be the appearance of Zbyszko, the Pride of Poland, one of the best known athletes in the world. He will meet H. Strenger, the German Oak, who weighs 225 pounds, and who will be a worthy opponent for the gigantic Pole.

The other big bout will be between Hjalmar Lundin, the Swedish champion, who put up a good bout against the Pride of Poland, and Bert Hackenschmidt last week in Hartford, and George Sudakoff. Both bouts will be at the catch-as-catch can style.

THUNDERBOLTS OVERWHELMED WATERBURYIANS

Speedy Bridgeport Eleven Put up Great Article of Play at Steeplechase

The fast traveling Thunderbolts made short work of the Independents of Waterbury yesterday at Steeplechase winning easily in a speedy 23-0 contest. At no stage of the game were the visitors dangerous, but they kept a plugging, and were fighting hard when the referee's whistle told the end of the game.

The total run up by the residents was a big surprise to their followers. Both teams played a week ago in Waterbury, the Thunderbolts winning 6-0, but their score was disputed. It was expected that they would win again yesterday, but not by the big total they succeeded in running up. There was nothing doing in the point making departments in the first period, though the Thunderbolts showed by their work that they far outclassed their opponents. On their scoring machine was not warmed up and could not respond. In the second period, the Thunderbolts succeeded in rushing the pig skin to the visitor's forty yard line where they were held for downs. From behind his own goal line, Butler kicked out to Moshier who made a fair catch, an attempt for a field goal following the catch failed. Waterbury brought the ball out to their 25 yard line punting out of immediate danger. Again the Thunderbolts started another procession. Noonan worked in a forward pass to Kecko. Hayes of Waterbury just got under the ball but could not hold it. Moshier of the Thunderbolts picked up the fumble rushing over the independents goal line for the first touchdown. Lavery kicked the goal.

On the kick off of the third period, Hughes carried the ball to the center of the field for the Thunderbolts. On play Smalling circled the Waterbury end for a 30 yard gain. Being held for downs the Thunderbolts kicked to the independents five yard line. The latter could not gain and kicked out. The punt was short, Smalling being down on the independents 35 yard line. From this mark it was easy work for the locals to rush the ball across Holopin getting a touchdown.

In the fourth period following the kick off, the independents by a cleverly executed forward pass worked the ball to the center of the field for the Thunderbolts. They followed the play which was really the best of the game. From the center of the field Fullback Lavery of the Thunderbolts tore through the right of the enemy's line, knocking off tackle after tackle. Then started a lively sprint for the visitor's goal. Lavery had a clear field but there were several independents close on his heels. They loomed up dangerously, but Holopin overcame them in the long sprint bowling them over ere they could work any harm. It was easy work for Lavery, and just as simple for the same player to kick the goal. The Thunderbolts kicked to the independents, but the latter could not make any gain and were forced to kick out. On the return the Thunderbolt back field reeled off the gains yard after yard, prancing down to the independents line. Smalling getting the fourth touchdown of the game. From a difficult angle, Lavery placed the pig skin squarely between the independents goal posts, making the total 23.

Score—Thunderbolts, 23; Independents, 0. Touchdowns, Smalling, 1; Lavery, 1; Moshier, 1; Halopin, 1. Goals from touchdown, Lavery, 3. Referee, Waters; Umpire, Laudor; Field Judge, Farrell; Head linesman, Seamon; Linesmen, Shea and Hardy; Timers, Burdick; Constance and Grackley. Time, four 10 minute periods. Attendance, 1,200.

HARVARD WONDERING HOW IT HAPPENED

Four Seniors Who Are Eligible For Next Year's Team

(Special from United Press.)
Boston, Nov. 21.—How it happened, was the favorite topic in the neighborhood of Harvard Square, Cambridge, today, and as many different reasons for the nothing to nothing score with Yale were advanced, as there were students. Next year's prospects came next in discussion, for several players will be graduated, this year. Those who have played their last game for Harvard are Captain Withington, Bob McKay, Minto, Leslie, Corbett, Perkins and P. D. Smith. Coach Haughton will, however, be enabled to start the season of 1911 with eleven men who are wearers of the "H." As a result of Saturday's game, the following eight men were awarded the varsity football "H" for the first time: Potter, Gardner, Campbell, Felton, Wendell, Perkins, Lewis and Morrison.

The selection of a captain for next year's eleven will not take place, probably, for several weeks. There are four men who will be seniors, next year, who have been on the squad for two seasons and thus it seems practically certain that one of these will be elected, these four men being Fisher, T. Frothingham, L. D. Smith and Wiggenworth.

YONKERS ELEVEN TO PLAY THUNDERBOLTS THANKSGIVING DAY

Edgewoods Can Have Game in Morning if They Desire

Manager Tad Dunnigan of the Thunderbolt football team has cancelled the game scheduled for Thanksgiving morning at Newfield Park with the Independents of Waterbury, which team received such a drubbing yesterday by the local team. In their stead he has booked the Fulton A. C. eleven of Yonkers, N. Y. The latter team claims to weigh in at 165 pounds, considerable over the weight of the Thunderbolts, and also claim that they have yet to meet defeat, having won from a number of college teams, including Fordham, in and around New York city. The game will be played at Newfield in the afternoon.

Manager Dunnigan is also willing to take on the Edgewoods Thanksgiving Day in the morning at Newfield. The Edgewoods are far from the Thunderbolts' class, but think they have something on the local champs.
