Bradstreet-Wortman

Popular Young Couple Will Wed Monday Evening - To Reside in Jersey City

At six o'clock Monday evening, a pretty wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ogden Wortman, 483 Norman street, will unite in marriage their daughter, Miss Bessie Ogden Wortman, and Mr. George Frank Bradstreet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Bradstreet, of 64 Eaton street. The Rev. George Richard Brown, pastor of the First Baptist church, will perform the ceremony, using the double ring, Episcopal service.

Miss Wortman, who will be given away by her father, will be attended by Miss Ethel Parke Adams of Brooklyn, N. Y., while Elizabeth Boney Bradstreet will attend his brother, Miss Edna May Williams will play the wedding marches, also a soft accompaniment during the service.

The bridal gown will be of cream white, charmed with Chantilly lace, a white tulle veil, edged with lace, and caught to the hair in cap fashion, with orange blossoms will complete the costume. Miss Wortman will carry a bouquet of white roses with a shower of lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaid's costume will be of taffeta in the banana shade, trimmed with silk net of the same color. A cap of silk lace, with roses of ribbon, will adorn her head while her arm bouquet will be of chrysanthemums tied with streamers of yellow ribbon chiffon.

Under the efficient direction of James Horan & Son, the house will be effectively transformed, chrysanthemums being the leading flower used. The ceremony will be performed before a bank of palms and ferns, while pink and white chrysanthemums will be used exclusively in this room. In the dining room, carnations and apparatus items will be used, while the centerpiece is to be of yellow chrysanthemums. The guest room on the second floor will be decorated with cut flowers.

Following the ceremony, which will be witnessed only by the immediate families, there will be a reception from 7:30 until 9 o'clock, which will be attended by the many friends of the young couple. The destination of the wedding trip has been kept a secret, but the bride will travel in a suit of peacock blue gabardine and a hat of black velvet.

At the conclusion of the trip, the young couple will be "at home" to their friends at 2135 A. Boulevard, Jersey City, where a prettily furnished home awaits them.

Both Miss Wortman and Mr. Bradstreet are graduates of the local high school. Miss Wortman is a alumna of the class of 1911. While at school she was a member of the Kappa Phi sorority. Mr. Bradstreet was graduated from B. H. S. with the class of 1908 and from Yale Scientific school in 1911. While at college he was a member of the Alpha Sigma Phi, and at high school of the Gamma Delta Phi. He holds a responsible position with the General Electric Company of New York.

The out of town guests at the wedding will include Mrs. Thomas Bradstreet and Miss Katherine Bailey of Rowley, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Pevear, of Lynn, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Burton Davis, Minot, N. H.; and Miss Marjorie Davis of New Haven, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ogden Wortman, Mr. and Mrs. F. Wortman, the bride's family; Miss Alma Ruffin, Howard Ruffin, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Adams and Miss Grace Adams, all of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Rachel Dickert and Miss Louise Faythe of Fairfield, Mrs. Andrew Huntington of Ossining, N. Y.; Mrs. Samuel Bassett of New Britain, Conn.; C. H. Pullen, Arthur Cameron, and L. M. Gerber of New York.

MRS. CARMAN TO TELL HER STORY ON STAND IN FIGHT FOR LIFE

MRS. CARMAN

Mincola, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The keenest interest in the trial of Mrs. Florence C. Carman, the ditigraph spy wife, for the murder of Mrs. Louise D. Bailey, which opens Oct. 19 at the courthouse here, centers in the story that Mrs. Carman will tell on the witness stand. This narrative of what she saw and heard in her home in the first degree. Her counsel sought, even by a waiver of immunity, to get her before the grand jury which twice indicted her, first for manslaughter and finally for murder in the first degree. Her counsel sought, even by a waiver of immunity, to get her before the grand jury, but District Attorney Smith prevailed, and Mrs. Carman's version of the tragedy, save as she related it at the coroner's inquest last July, has never been heard.

FORFEITS $1,000 TO CITY COURT FOR PICKING POCKET

Rather than defend charges of picking the pocket of William Mathewson, 280 Wells street, of $2.90, Monday, near the Columbus school, Joseph Marks, salesman, 73 Elm avenue, Providence, R. I., allowed a cash bond of $1,000 to be forfeited at today's city court session. The police believe that he had picked the pocket of Mathewson, who had been arrested at the scene of the crime, but did fear publicity in other cities where Bertillon photographs and data were sent from the local police department.

Allow Liquor Transfer To Hollister Heights

The county commissioners have decided to allow Andrew Adzema a transfer of a liquor license from the Washington bridge section of Stratford to Hollister Heights. Adzema is the man who paid $3,000 for a license after he had been informed that he would have no trouble getting a transfer to the Avon park section. He was unable to locate there and when he sought to get a place in Hollister Heights some residents remonstrated. After hearing the testimony the commissioners decided Adzema was entitled to a transfer.

TRUSTEE APPOINTED FOR STAMFORD BANKRUPT

COURT ORDERS TURNEY TO PAY WEEKLY SUPPORT

The domestic disagreements of Isaac P. Turney, newsdealer of 1330 State street, again received a partial string before Deputy Judge Wilder at today's city court session when non-support proceedings, brought by his wife, Susan, were heard. Following a spirited session characterized by a number of verbal tilts between Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Gray and Attorney Jacob E. Klein and Judge E. P. Nobbs, counsel for the defense, Turney was ordered to pay $5 a week for a year with bonds for an appeal fixed at $250. Turney's contention was that his sole income is now only $19 a week, the income of one share in business that he founded 23 years ago, and which was incorporated last summer, and that, if forced to pay a weekly sum, he is unable to pay more than $4 a week.

Attorney Klein subjected Mrs. Turney to a searching cross examination and later scathingly arraigned her as a woman who thought she was getting a wealthy man and had been disappointed. Mr. Turney said that he had spent at least $1,500 on Mrs. Turney, $500 of which had been withdrawn from his business. He testified further that she had informed him that she had married him not on account of love but as a business transaction. Also that he was not given home comforts and that she persisted in having a daughter and nephew live with them. He said that he wanted her to come with him to a smaller home that he would provide but that she refused. Testifying further, he said that upon one occasion she had placed some meat before him and said that if he did not want to eat it, "the dog would."

Counsel for the defense said that the incorporation was made with no intention of avoiding financial responsibilities on the part of Turney but to give his children the business that they had materially assisted in building up. A little over a year ago Judge Coughlin ordered Turney to pay $5 a week for a year.

Four more cases of typhoid fever have been discovered in St. Anthony's Orphan Asylum at Arlington, N. J. This brings the total up to 25 cases.

CORONER WILL PROBE ENGINEER'S DEATH

Investigation into the death of Albert Merritt, 1356 Main street, an engineer in the employ of the New Haven railroad, who was ground to death beneath the wheels of a locomotive about 5:45 o'clock last night in the south end freight yards, will be opened by Coroner John J. Phelan, Monday. Merritt had descended from his locomotive, and in company with a mechanic, James Cummings, started to cross the tracks on his way home. Owing to the driving rain, the men had pulled their hats over their eyes, and turned their collars up. Several tracks were crossed in safety. As they crossed a track upon which a switch engine in charge of Engineer Patrick McDonough of New Haven and Fireman Arthur Branch of Stratford, was moving, the pilot beam struck Merritt, throwing him beneath the wheels, and hurling Cummings to one side. Neither of the men heard the approaching locomotive, for in crossing a switch situated at this point, McDonough had shut down the steam in order to "drift" across. They were not seen by the engineer until it was too late. Merritt had both legs amputated, dying before medical assistance could be summoned. Cummings suffered severe bruises.

Merritt was 42 years of age and well known over the New Haven system. He was an active member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers. Two sons survive him.

Protest Filed By U. S. Senator Thomas

Washington, Oct. 17.—Protest against a forcible search of the American merchant ship Metapan by the French cruiser Conde in Mexican waters was filed in the Senate today by Senator Thomas. A letter was submitted by the Senator from R. W. Patterson, a passenger on the Metapan, who said officers of the Conde forced five Germans on the vessel to sign parole agreement binding them not to fight against the allies in the European war.

Managers of New York theatres refused to rent to Cristabel Pankhurst, the English suffragette any of their theatres despite her assertion that militancy is dead.

A QUEEN WITHOUT A COUNTRY, SAD INDEED IS SHE!

QUEEN OF BELGIUM

Queen Elizabeth of Belgium is a queen without a country. She is the saddest woman of royalty in the world today. Happy and contented with her husband, King Albert, and their two children, only a few brief months ago, she now is exiled from the land of her choice, and her people are scattered like chaff before the wind. Her country lies devastated and overrun by the invading Germans. Her life is in danger and there is apparently no silver lining to the black clouds. Sad, sad, indeed, is Queen Elizabeth of Belgium.

Contributions amounting to $3657 were received by the New York State Board of the American Red Cross bringing the total amount to $251298.

RHEIMS STILL UNDER FIRE FROM GERMAN SHELLS; CATHEDRAL SPARED FURTHER DAMAGE

RUINED CATHEDRAL OF RHEIMS PHOTO © 1914 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION News dispatches state that the Germans continue the bombardment of the ancient city of Rheims, the beautiful cathedral of which was so seriously damaged by German cannon fire at the start of the long engagement. The Germans have spared the famous old pile further damage, it is reported, and have defended their previous artillery attack on the edifice by stating that it was done to damage French officers who were signaling to their own artillery from one of the church towers. The picture shows one of the trenches which was badly battered. The beautiful facade was cracked and smashed. The statues around the door were mostly ruined.

Lads Interfered With Railroad Signals and Are Fined in Court

New Haven, Oct. 17.—Six urchins who have been amusing themselves by short-circuiting the automatic block signal system current on the New Haven road in West Haven, were fined in the town court today. None of the boys was over 11 years old. By means of a wire they made sparks fly on the rails and at the same time unknown to themselves, they changed changed block signals to the opposite position from that in which they had been set from the towers. On Thursday trains were stopped by signals which had been set for them to proceed and which had been changed by the boys.

Steamship Company Ceases Operations Because of War

New York, Oct. 17.—The Uranium Steamship Co.'s agents in this city announced today that this was the last day that the company would do business in the United States, temporarily at least. Cessation of trans-Atlantic travel, due to the war, was assigned as the reason for closing the offices. Such affairs of the company as may be pending or unfinished, it was announced, have been taken over by the Canadian Northern Railway Co. of Toronto.

CLAIMS PROPERTY BUT MAY GO TO POOR HOUSE

Father was attached to the picture of James Noonan, crippled with age and rheumatism, hobbling from city court today after being discharged from non-support charges. Once a well known resident of Bridgeport, living on Madison avenue, he enlisted with the "Go West" army 11 or 12 years ago. He is reported to have prospered there and claims to still own property in Kansas City. A month or six weeks ago he returned to Bridgeport, was coldly received by his wife and relatives and secured lodgings on Water street. Shortly afterward he was arrested for non-support and since then he has been in jail during numerous continuances of hearings while officials have been puzzled as to what disposition could be made of the case. After being discharged he went to the Charities Department for aid and will probably be sent to Lakeside. His story of having property in the west will be investigated.

ELLISON SUES TO RECOVER MOTORCYCLE

Declaring that a motorcycle has been wrongfully withheld, C. W. Ellison of this city has brought suit against George Van Wagner of Conn. Col. Deputy Sheriff John M. Donnelly has attached the cycle in proceedings returnable to the common pleas court. Ellison says he demanded that the defendant return the cycle but Van Wagner refused. Compensation Commissioner E. T. Buckingham is sitting in the New Haven district today. He will dispose of a number of cases that have accumulated within the past few weeks.
