PUBLIC HEARING NEXT MONDAY ON WARRENITE WORK

Streets and Sidewalks Committee Plans To Rush Through Paving Grab.

By vote of the common council, public hearings will be held at the council chamber, city hall, next Monday evening, on the proposal to renew the Warrenite contracts which were the subject of litigation last year.

The streets and sidewalks committee of the common council, in a report to the board last evening, recommended a resolution that an ordinance be adopted forbidding the laying of any patched pavements in Bridgeport. The resolution was referred to the ordinance committee.

The Warrenite Co. presented a communication offering to waive all rights they might have in the contracts made on May 18, 1914, and June 6, 1914, in case new contracts were entered into for the same streets at the same rate, $1.50 per square yard, plus $5 per cubic yard for bituminous binder.

The communication said the company installed four plants here and that while it was considered that it could sustain its contracts in court the prospect of lengthy and costly litigation in the superior and supreme courts was not an inviting one. The company agreed to waive damages for costs of court, etc., except payment for the work actually done in West and Myrtle avenues.

The streets which it is proposed to pave are: Arctic street, from William street to Seaview avenue; North Main street from North avenue to city line; West avenue, from end of Warrenite pavement already laid near Pleasant Street to Broadway street from the water to Boston avenue; Myrtle avenue, from State street to South avenue; Washington avenue, from Park avenue to Main street; Clinton avenue, from railroad to North avenue; Broad street, from Gilbert street to Park place; Brook-lawn avenue, from North avenue to Capitol avenue; Kosuth street, from Stratford avenue to Barnum avenue; Wood avenue, from Park avenue to North avenue.

REV. SPENCER BRAY FATALLY HURT IN GRAND CENTRAL

Venerable Clergyman in Critical Condition at Bridgeport Hospital.

Rev. Spencer Bray, former pastor of Bethany mission in Stratford, is in the Bridgeport hospital and will probably die as a result of an accident in New York when he was on his way to attend the New York East Conference. Rev. Mr. Bray, who is more than 70 years old, fell off a concrete platform in the Grand Central Terminal and suffered a broken arm, and injuries to one of his legs, a shoulder and his other parts of his body. At the Bridgeport hospital it is said, there is little hope for him. The aged man, who resigned the pastorate of Bethany Mission April 4, was on his way Friday afternoon to attend the conference in Brooklyn, when he emerged from a train at the New York terminal. He stepped too close to the edge of the concrete platform on which he alighted and he slipped. He fell heavily to the tracks below, suffering painful injuries. Surgeons were summoned and they treated him. He was put on a train later and taken to Bridgeport whence he was conveyed to his home on a stretcher. His condition grew worse rapidly and yesterday afternoon he was removed to the hospital. His wife was summoned to his bedside at 7 o'clock this morning, because he was sinking rapidly. Physicians in attendance declare that owing to the advanced age of the clergyman, there is little hope for his recovery. Mr. Bray had been a worker in the evangelical field for many years. In Stratford, he is beloved, and the accident has caused genuine regret.

ROOSEVELT ON STAND TO BACK UP HIS CHARGES

(Continued From First Page) an author at that time had been to make himself a factor in public affairs. He had more influence than any single newspaper and he gradually became the greatest factor in American politics. Now Mr. Barnes and Col. Roosevelt were both trained at Harvard College. Mr. Barnes having been graduated about eight years after Col. Roosevelt. While Mr. Barnes was speaking Mr. Roosevelt arrived in court and took a seat at the table occupied by his counsel and nation are founded." John McGrath, Colonel Roosevelt's private secretary, who gave out the offending statement, was called as the first witness. Mr. McGrath told of giving the statement to newspaper correspondents at Col. Roosevelt's home at Oyster Bay. Mr. Irvine then read a list of newspapers published in all sections of the United States, in which the statement was printed. A detailed statement of the circulation of each of the papers was then placed in evidence.

P. U. COMMISSION HEARS ABOUT BOOM IN BUSINESS HERE

(Special to The Farmer) Hartford, April 20—The industrial growth of Bridgeport was reflected today in a hearing before the Public Utilities commission. The Connecticut Company petitioned for a permit to extend its single track trolley on Boston avenue, which terminates at Hallett street, from this point to the new station at the intersection of the new line being constructed along Boston avenue. There will be a turn out at Hallett street. It is expected that this line will be soon extended through Boston avenue until it joins the company's double tracks on Barnum avenue, and this entire section is expected to build up rapidly.

DETECTIVE SHOOTS PRISONER TRYING TO ESCAPE ARREST

Edward Duplease Run Away But Bullet In Shoulder Ends His Flight.

Edward Duplease, aged 39, of 230 Island Brook avenue is under arrest, following a warrant issued by the Essex Justice, N. H. authorities charging him with abduction of Esther Dorsey, a 16-year-old girl of that city whom it is claimed, he brought here several days ago. Following his capture in company with the girl, also held upon a charge of incorrigibility, an attempt to break away from detectives Cronan and Dooley, resulted in Duplease getting a bullet scar on his right shoulder. He was shot by Dooley. The wound, treated at the emergency hospital upon arraignment of the prisoner in a night one, Detective James Dooley fired after the prisoner had made a mad dash to escape. Duplease is well known to the police in this city as a man who will take desperate chances. His last arrest was for the theft of a horse from the Keenan stables on Fairfield avenue. Both prisoners are held awaiting arrival of the New Hampshire policemen who have been notified.

QUESTION WHETHER HOPE'S DEATH WAS BY HIS OWN HAND

Asphyxiation Causes Death of Young Man Who Dined Elopement Story.

Question has arisen today over the death of John J. Hope, foreman at the U. M. C. plant, which may show that his death was due to accident. Medical Examiner S. M. Garlick, who is today continuing his investigation into the matter, is not able to issue an official statement of the facts. It is now known that about a month ago, both Hope and his wife, formerly Miss Julia Tote, of the South End, were arrested by escaping from a light jet which was loose and had been displaced in throwing the covering from the bed. Dr. W. C. Watson of Stratford avenue, was then called into attendance upon the couple by neighbors who discovered the unconscious pair in a condition similar to that which resulted in the discovery of Hope last night. It is now believed that the death of Hope may have been accidental.

In a statement made by members of the family to-day, it was learned that John Hope, Jr., had left Bridgeport a week ago for Oyster Bay. He went to New York to have a slight operation performed. He did not return as expected and the family became frightened. Miss Mary A. Hope, his sister, had gone to New York and found him wandering about the Grand Central depot in a dazed condition. At that time he believed that he was being his mind and feared to come home until it was assured that his actions would not be considered as premeditated.

He was brought to this city on Sunday, and at once denied to his friends the stories that had been rumored about his disappearance with another woman, which he branded as absolutely false. Last night he had an appointment to meet his immediate superior at the U. M. C. Co., who hearing of the rumored "elopement" wrote him to come back to work. He left his wife at Stratford avenue and East Main street, waving good-bye to her, and presumably went to keep his appointment. He had promised later to meet his wife at her father's home and take her home with him.

Neighbors in his home, 47 Drew place, smelled gas last night and upon breaking into the apartment found him unconscious upon a bed. The ambulance corps was summoned but he died before he could be taken into the Bridgeport hospital. Hope, a member of many clubs in this city, including the Bridgeport Elks and East End, was well liked. He had been actively engaged in the ammunition industry and at one time went to Canada for his company. Besides a mother and father he is survived by a widow and one sister. The schooner Estelle of Newport News ran ashore off Newbern, N. C.

SEARCH FOR BODY OF LAWSON STILL IS UNSUCCESSFUL

Family of Supposedly Drowned Man Visited By Many Misfortunes.

Though continued search for the body of Victor F. Lawson, supposed to have been drowned in Cedar Creek last Saturday, has been continued yesterday and to-day by his wife, and sons, and David Goldstein, employed by the police department, it has not as yet been brought to the surface. Another attempt to drag the lower section of the creek will likely be made at the behest of the police this afternoon. Much sympathy for the bereaved family is being expressed throughout the city to-day where Lawson is well known both as a waterman, conductor and amateur photographer. The prisoner in St. Augustine church at the fourth in a series of catastrophes which have plunged the family in mourning for several years. Mrs. Lawson's father two years ago was missing for six months before his body was found, a sister dropped dead shortly afterwards. A son of the Lawsons was killed by an automobile in 1912, where the driver and now her husband has disappeared.

Though nearly prostrated by grief Mrs. Lawson has persistently sought for her husband along the docks and estuaries of Cedar Creek. She was on the scene early Saturday night continuing her search far into the night and stimulating others that were engaged in the same quest. She had been weary for the most part early yesterday and stayed until late at night and to-day she is still continuing the search which is likely to end in such gruesome discovery.

In the meantime, the police have not abated their activity in the case though they are assured that the death was probably accidental. Superintendent Birmingham to-day instructed Deputy Goldstein, who has been successful on many occasions in bringing to the surface bodies of drowning victims to again drag a lower section of the creek where the water sweeps around a slight promontory, and it is hoped that it may there be found lodged on the bottom.

LOCAL CHARTER AMENDMENT IN HOUSE IS ADOPTED

(Special to The Farmer) Hartford, April 20—The House today adopted an amendment to the charter of Bridgeport giving the common council power to establish building lines and to determine the type of construction in given localities.

Dressed Broken Leg With Cabbage Leaves; Given Jail Sentence

For dressing a boy's broken leg with cabbage leaves and refusing to give the youngest child medical care, Joseph Szurak of this city was sentenced to jail for 60 days by Judge Davis in the criminal common pleas court this afternoon. It was alleged that as a result of this bungling treatment the boy contracted blood poisoning and was seriously ill for a time. William B. Davies of Fairfield was fined $7 and costs, amounting to $8, for a serious assault upon 15 year old Mildred Ryan of Fairfield on Feb. 21 last. The baseball season at Sing Sing was officially opened when the St. Augustine team, made up of villagers, was beaten by the score of 6 to 5.
