POLIS

If you haven't seen Williamson's Submarine Pictures, at Polis, you will miss a real treat if you do not avail yourself of the final opportunity offered this evening.

The submarine pictures are without doubt the greatest achievement of the modern science of photography.

The five flying duValls are contributing a flock of thrills to each performance.

Francis and Ross are winning new laurels every performance with their artistic dance revue, in which unique interpretations of the old and new steps are featured.

EMPIRE

"House of Bondage." Readers throughout the world have read the novel extraordinary entitled "The House of Bondage," written by that master author, Reginald Wright Knapp.

The story is one that is founded on the truth that unfold the thrilling life incidents of one Mary Denbigh, who lives of the great city of New York with one of the human vultures type.

When she arrives in the city of tears and heartaches, the city where no one cares, she leaves the lesson and the fact that many a smiling face hides a breaking heart.

The picture version of the novel will be shown at the Empire Theatre on Thursday evening. Requests received by the management.

LYRIC

In reviewing the play at the Lyric theatre Monday evening, Cosmo Hamilton's great drama, "The Blindness of Virtue," Bridgeport's critics spoke of the play in part as follows:

Standard: Charming staged and well played, the piece is a distinct addition to the repertoire of the Calburn Players. Both in the characters and the scenes the play has many elements of strength and attractiveness, entirely apart from the situations designed as a lesson to parents.

Telegram: "The Blindness of Virtue" proved to be one of the most interesting plays in many ways, that the Calburn Stock Co. has presented since making its advent to Bridgeport. As producers at the Lyric theatre last evening, it was in every way as delightful as when given by the original English company.

Post: Credit should be given Director Kendall Weston for his arrangement of Cosmo Hamilton's Broadway success "The Blindness of Virtue" playing at the Lyric this week.

Farmers: "The Blindness of Virtue" is a play that treats of a delicate subject with no smirch of softness. With all, it accomplishes its object and sends every mother and father home thinking.

A SIMPLE TRAP FOR THE HOUSE-FLY

Washington, April 21.—A simple trap which will practically prevent the breeding of the house fly is described in a new bulletin of the United States Department of Agriculture, No. 200.

The principle of the trap is simple, it is easy to construct, and the expense is said to be probably less in the long run than the investment which many farmers now make in screens for their dwellings, and sprays and fly-nets for their live stock.

The successful operation of this trap rests upon several facts connected with the habits of the house fly which have been thoroughly established by observation.
