AMERICAN CATTLE DEALERS TO BENEFIT BY ARGENTINE'S BIG CATTLE DEMANDS AND LAWS

Buenos Aires, Oct. 6.—The removal of the interdiction upon the importation of American cattle into Argentina opens to American breeders a most promising market that has been monopolized by British breeders heretofore. Already some of the Argentine rancheros, as the owners of great ranches are called, have taken interest in the possibilities of the new conditions, and as a pioneer in the trade, Señor Leopoldo Peredo, one of the most prominent of the Argentine ranchmen, has gone to the United States to select bulls and other blooded stock for his vast estates.

In view of the phenomenal advances in the prices for live stock in the Argentine and the probability that they may reach still greater heights, particularly if the European war continues, it is assumed that the estanciaeros who seek cattle in the United States will be prepared to pay well for choice stock.

The cattle show at Palermo, which is an annual fixture and which is considered an economic barometer of prosperity in the republic has just closed with results that are far more encouraging than could have been expected. It made plain the fact that in whatever other ways the country might be suffering depression, its basic industry—cattle grazing—prosperity is never before.

The Argentine has suffered trade disturbance as a result of the war, and during the past two years the country has been passing through what is called here a "crisis of progress"—the result of lavish expenditure of borrowed capital in national and provincial public works. But in the face of these adverse conditions, there is the outstanding significance of a fact that a single champion Durham bull, for instance, has just sold at auction for $50,000 paper (the Argentine paper dollar being equivalent to about 42 cents gold.)

The polled Angus, which was deemed the coming breed a few years ago, was in such little favor at Palermo that it was difficult to find a bidder. The champion of this class went for only $4,500 paper. The Angus steer, however, is in great demand among the establishment that pack frozen beef. Only recently prices in the ordinary cattle markets went as high as $400 paper for the type of steer—probably a world record.

Vote Would Fetter Women Now Free

From Mrs. William B. Williams, Anti-Suffragist. Suffragists have much to say about what they think the vote-willing women mean. Ask them what they want away from them. One great disadvantage of "Votes for Women" would be that it deprived women of their political independence.

The members of the Orient Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, are planning to give their annual concert and organ recital on Monday evening, October 25. The proceeds of the affair will be given to the Masonic home in Wallingford. Miss Ethel Plieg, who will preside at the organ for several numbers, is arranging the program. Mrs. W. T. Garner is general chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the concert.

Some 150 members registered at the first meeting of the Oratorio Society held last evening in Warner hall. Applications for membership are coming in so rapidly that it is not unlikely that the list may be closed after the first rehearsal which will be held next Tuesday evening.

It was decided at a cabinet meeting of the boys' department of the Young Men's Christian association to hold two Halloween parties, one on the evening of October 29 for the older boys and one on Saturday evening, October 30, for the younger boys. It is expected that both parties will be largely attended.

AMERICAN CONSUL IN LONDON COMING HOME

London, Oct. 6.—Robert P. Skinner, American consul, will sail for the United States within three weeks on a short leave. Mr. Skinner was unwilling to discuss today the report from Washington that the American note to Great Britain relative to the detention of American goods would be held up until he reaches Washington, saying he had no information to this effect. He said, however, that he expected to discuss Anglo-American trade conditions.

Karl A. Staaf, former premier of Sweden, died in Stockholm.
