PRIVATE BANKER HELD FOR DISREGARDING LAW

Torrington, Conn., Nov. 9.—The trial of Paul Telesca, who is charged with violation of the state banking laws, was postponed to Nov. 20 in borough court today. Telesca was arrested last night by State Policeman Virelli but was released on bonds of $100. The bonds were changed today to $500. Telesca for two years has been the local representative of the Italian commission of immigration of New York which is said to represent the bank of Naples. It is alleged that Telesca failed to notify the state bank commission that he was in the banking business and that he failed to file a bond.

JINEUR FINED.

For operating a jitney car without proper lighting facilities, a fine of $3 was placed upon August Undersefer of Stratford, when he was arraigned before Judge Bartlett in local city court today.

Weather Forecast

New Haven, Nov. 9.—Forecast: Fair tonight and Wednesday; colder tonight. Connecticut: Fair tonight and Wednesday, colder tonight. Moderate west to southwest winds. The disturbance which was central over upper Michigan yesterday morning has moved eastward and is now passing out the St. Lawrence valley. It is causing unsettled, showery weather with mild temperature in the eastern portion of the lake region and in New England. Cloudy and rainy weather is also reported for the lower Mississippi valley. An extended area of high pressure central over the upper Mississippi valley is producing pleasant weather with lower temperature in the northern districts between the Rocky Mountains and the lake region. A long trough of low pressure extending from Idaho southward to Arizona is causing considerable unsettled weather with local showers between the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific coast.

ALUMNI DRAMA CLUB PREPARES TO PRESENT PLAY BEFORE HOLIDAYS

Plans for the presentation of a play before the Christmas holidays will be made at a special meeting of the Alumni Drama Club of the Bridgeport high school tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, at the high school. Members of the class of 1915 are especially interested in the undertaking, and a large attendance of the recent graduates is expected. The coronation of Emperor Yoshitomo of Japan takes place tomorrow.

"WILL PAY ALL" SAYS C. H. KING IN PRISON CELL

Will Toil to Requite Defrauded After Expected Term of Confinement

Visited by his wife Sunday and daily by his former law partner, Clitus H. King, now awaiting trial for embezzlement in the county jail is making plans for the restitution of all he owes when the prison term he fully expects to receive has been served. He is apparently buoyed up by the hope that the leniency of the court upon which he will throw himself unreservedly will be extended to him and that he may escape with not more than two or three years' sentence.

"When I have paid the law what I owe, I shall leave Bridgeport and work solely for the restitution of those sums which I have been partly obliged, through circumstances, to embezzle," he is quoted as saying. He freely admits his guilt and only hopes that the date of trial may be advanced that his time in prison may be expedited. The fact that his wife and family are loyal in his time of need, is one of the bright spots in his gloomy surroundings, according to a friend who visits him frequently. He will not allow any of his numerous lawyer friends to attempt defense in his behalf though several have volunteered to do so.

Chief Egan of the state police advised that he had not been correctly quoted in the article sent out from Hartford which said that Dodd, Mead & Co., King's employers, had forced him to return to this city when they saw one of the state police circulars calling for King's arrest. Assistant Prosecutor John P. Gray also did a little denying. He said he was not King's counsel, as had been stated in various newspapers. "I am an officer in a state court," he said. "and it would hardly be proper for me to act as counsel for a man about to be brought before the criminal superior court on a serious charge. Because Mr. King and I were law partners before people probably thought I would be his lawyer."

Attorney Gray said he had talked with King several times since the latter has been in jail. Some progress has been made in mentioning legal matters left unfinished at the time of King's departure. These are office matters, however, and have nothing to do with King's own financial situation. This matter he will endeavor to attend to himself.

It was rumored that an attempt might be made today to get Judge Case of the civil superior court to fix bail in King's case. Neither King nor anyone representing him was seen about the county courthouse during the morning, however, and the lawyer at press hour was still occupying a cell in the county jail.

LEGS BROKEN IN FALL FROM LADDER

Thomas Murphy, age 29, of 1070 State street, employed as a painter at Curle & Curtis factory, slipped and fell from a ladder on which he was standing while painting yesterday and fell 35 feet to the ground. Both legs were fractured and Murphy was transferred to St. Vincent's hospital in the emergency hospital ambulance. Here the injured members were placed in casts.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK DISCUSSED AT MEETING

Teachers of the South Congregational church listened with interest last night to the remarks made by Miss Martha K. Lawson of New York on the teaching of Sunday school children. Miss Lawson is an expert in the work and her many suggestions were most interesting.

OBITUARY

JOHN S. SIMMONS. John H. Simmons died at the home of his son, Officer Robert S. Simmons at 89 1/2 Hartway avenue last night at the age of 72 years. Mr. Simmons had lived here much of his life and was a horse man, auctioneer and hotel man. Previous to coming to Bridgeport he was manager of one of the largest hotels in the Adirondacks. He is survived by his son and a grandson, John E. Simmons, manager of Dorsey's Food Market, three brothers, Frank of New York City, Joseph of Philadelphia and Wesley of Albany, also by a sister, Minnie of Albany.

JAMES BLAKE. James Blake, formerly a well known resident of the North End, died last night at the Shelton sanatorium where he had been a patient for about two weeks. Mr. Blake was 55 years of age and a farmer by occupation. He formerly owned considerable property in the northern section of the city. He was a member of St. Patrick's church and is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary J. Ryan and a niece, Miss Theresa Ryan and a nephew, Harry Platt, all of this city. The body was brought to the undertaking parlors of Michael J. Cannon on Broad street.

OTTO A. SCHULTZE. Otto A. Schultze died last night at St. Vincent's hospital where he had been removed following an attack of uraemic convulsions with which he had collapsed at Fairfield avenue and Norman street while waiting for a car. Mr. Schultze was 81 years old and one of the proprietors of the American Dyeing and Cleaning Co. He had lived at 53 Buckingham street, a short distance from where he was stricken with convulsions, for the past 25 years. He is survived by his widow, a son, Hugo C. Schultze and a brother, Victor L. Schultze of this city.

DR. ROCHE SUCCEEDS SMITH AT HOSPITAL. Dr. Thomas J. Roche, 432 State street, will become assistant superintendent of Bridgeport hospital, filling the vacancy made by the recent resignation of William F. Smith. He will begin his duties next Friday.

LORD KITCHENER HASTENS TO INDIA

(Continued from Page One) clude a separate peace. Competent observers point out that Japan is strategically in much better position than England to land troops in India or Egypt. If the reports of a serious situation in India are confirmed, it would not cause surprise here if the proposal to use Japanese troops were revived.

EXPLOSION AT U. M. C. KILLS MAN

(Continued from Page One) would detonate it. Should the explosion displace the heating system, the danger would be great. Experts say that there is little danger on every movement of the body is regulated and the proper consistency of the paste is kept. These action must vary, and teaching employed by the company spend many weeks trying the applicant upon a harmless mixture before the real article is used.

When sufficient material had been taken from the explosion, the drying process is completed there is little danger from explosion except by sharp and sudden movements. The material is a salt of fulminic acid usually made of cyanic and cyanuric acids, but sometimes mixed with nitre in the form of nitroglycerine. Its name is taken from the Latin "fuligare" to lighten or strike with lightning. An official of the U. M. C. following the explosion, when the fulminate men had been released from work for the day, as is customary in such events, said: "It is another one of those regrettable accidents that mar our work. We have been extremely fortunate in that with the thousands we employ, more fatalities have not resulted. Our competitors have shown a much greater loss of life, and we are doing everything in our power to minimize the hazard. Just how this accident occurred will probably never be known. The practice of the company is to risk but one life and none but the mixer is ever permitted in the pit. Bell had been working for some time when the explosion came. There is nothing left to tell the tale. We would give many thousands of dollars to anyone who can devise a method that will take the hazard from this work."

CHARITIES BOARD DISPLEASED WITH SPENCER GORDON

(Continued from Page One) The failure of the Hillside Home, which was made in a Utopia for Bridgeport's poor and before long attracted attention when Mr. Gordon announced that all the frills had to be cut out of the plaster left out and $4,000 pared off the last cost, has been in the mind of the board since Fred Johnson's successor. Added to that the lack of harmony in the charities department, has caused the board members and those who appointed them to become apprehensive.

There is no harmony in the departments; there is only one way to get it," Commissioner William Behrens, president of the board, told a Farmer reporter today. "We will threaten to resign if there is something radically wrong, we'll ask the resignation of the man responsible."

"There's been trouble there for some time. The board members didn't know what was going on until recently."

BOY BURGLAR BOUND OVER FOR BARBER SHOP THEFTS HERE

Seventeen year old Levi Patterson of 11 Williston street was bound over this morning to the December term of the Superior court upon bonds of $500 when arraigned before Judge Bartlett in city court to answer the charge of burglary. Placed upon the stand, Patterson confessed to having entered the barber shop of John Kazar at 2058 Seaview avenue last night. He later confessed to having robbed other barber shops and to having robbed other barbers shops and to having broken into an open lot in the Williston and Union streets. The police went to the lot where they unearthed razors and other tonsorial implements. The tools are awaiting claimants at police headquarters.

MISS CURTIS GREETED BY RECORD AUDIENCE IN HER SONG RECITAL

Vera Cameron Curtis, the gifted soprano soloist of whom Bridgeport music lovers are proud to boast as a native daughter, sang before the largest gathering of music lovers ever assembled here in honor to an individual singer of Bridgeport birth, at the Stratfield ball room last evening. Miss Curtis, with her usual discrimination, had a faultless program in the rendition of which she had ample scope for the exercise of her well-rounded, powerful and sympathetic voice.

The audience was far beyond the seating capacity of the large ball room and extra chairs were carried from the hotel dining room to provide for the unexpectedly large attendance. Miss Curtis gave generous attention to her repeated requests to be encored, and in her selection of encores she displayed the same skill as characterized the make-up of her set program. Miss Curtis was assisted by Willis Alling, at the piano.

BELL RELEASED

In city court today judgment was suspended in the case of Henry H. Bell, of the City Mission, arraigned before Judge Bartlett, charged with defrauding Alexander Weeks, keeper of a lunch room at 194 Congress street. He said that he had mislaid his money and was unable to find it when payment for a meal was demanded. Probation Officer C. W. Simpson said that he would report to the court, and the latter was allowed to go after setting up with the lunch room keeper. Farmer Want Ads. One Cent a Word

ACORN MEMBERS VOICE PROTEST AGAINST STORY

Believe Farmer Has Been Unjust Towards Them In Its News Columns

The Acorn Athletic club, which is one of the most notorious of Bridgeport's illegal drinking clubs, protests against a news item, declaring that some of the frequenters of the organization tried to elect Alderman Daniel E. Walker mayor, and prepared a wreath of immortelles for Mayor Villason.

They assert that these charges would be libel, if they were directed against an individual member of the club instead of against a body of individuals. This was regarded in legal circles today as the first time, historically speaking, that body of men have regarded themselves as libeled because of an assertion that they voted for one candidate for mayor, rather than for another. The Acorn Athletic club has a long and not always savory history, which culminated a few days since when the Bridgeport Pastors' association filed a remonstrance with the town commissioners, naming the Acorn club among other pseudo, fictitious or pretended clubs.

On Sunday, July 11, the so-called Acorn club was raided by a squad of local and state policemen, headed by Deputy Sheriff John Brown. Those placed under arrest, charged with violating the liquor law were Archibald Cameron, "steward"; Henry Albus, bartender, and Charles Flynn, doorman.

The charges were tried in city court and judgment was suspended in the cases of Albus and Flynn. Cameron was fined $50 and costs and a fine of $20 was held out to Flynn, who was released on the additional charge of keeping a gaming machine.

After the case had been disposed of in city court the officers of the Acorn club filed an appeal, through their attorney, Judge Thomas C. Coughlin. When arrested the accused were bailed under bond of $150 each, furnished by Walter Anderson, an agent for lager.

The letter, complaining of the accusation that the club membership largely supported Alderman Walker, follows: "Dear Sir:—We, the officers of the Acorn Athletic club, an organization operating under a charter issued under the hand and seal of the Secretary of State, on April 6, 1897, and having vested in it corporate and club rights and privileges, and which has been in existence for a long period, and which has provided adequate meeting place for the members thereof, foster all forms of athletic activities, and to promote social intercourse among the members thereof and therein enrolled on the charter, wish to take exception to the article appearing in the Bridgeport Evening Farmer, bearing date of November 5, 1915, bearing caption of 'Bridgeport's Days Numbered', and 'Bridgeport', on front page of said issue, fifth column, the offensive paragraphs being as follows:—"

"But the election just over, many frequenters of the Oxford club, and most of the frequenters of the Acorn club, made strenuous efforts to effect the election of Alderman Walker, as their president."

"The story gained currency that the Acorn club was so sure of the election of Walker, some of its members contributed for the purchase of a wreath of immortelles, to be sent to Mayor Wilson, whose political demise was expected. It bore the inscription:—'"

"Requiescat in Pace." We wish to make the statement that the wording of said paragraphs in said article are offensive to members of the organization, in which we serve as officers by elective choice, and cast a stigma upon the organization, and to our minds, constituted a veiled libel and in which redress in a court of law cannot be obtained owing to the fact that the editor allowing the article to be published has seen to it that the personalities were not of an individual character but reflected on the body as a whole.

We wish to state to a man that the paragraphs in question are a tissue of lies from beginning to end, and made out of whole cloth. We have no jurisdiction over the invidious members at any time in relation to their preference for any electoral candidate, and will not stand for the name of the organization acting as sponsor for any candidate, or set of candidates.

In conclusion, we request a retraction in full of the statements published in your paper, bearing issue of November 5, and also make a request that you divulge the source of the information which led to the publication of the statements.

We wish to state that the paragraphs deemed offensive are lies in the truest sense of the word, and that such retraction being given the same prominence in your paper as that of the article which led to this retraction being demanded. Respectfully, JAMES M. WILLIAMS, President. CHARLES W. HALL, Vice-President. THOMAS M. CONNERY, Secretary. ARCHIBALD A. CAMERON, Treasurer. JAMES A. BRENNAN, Matchmaker. JOHN FOLEY, LOUIS HILZINGER, ERNEST F. PAN, CHANCEY J. TAYLOR, J. DREW, Board of Governors. THOMAS M. CONNERY, Secretary.

BRIDGEPORT WOMEN AT MACCABEES MEET

Waterbury, Nov. 9.—The state rally of the Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees was opened in this city today. Over 150 delegates from 35 hives, representing Hartford, New Britain, Bridgeport, New Britain, Middletown, Bristol, Torrington, Windsor, Ansonia, Derby, Danbury and Windsor Locks were in attendance. The members were addressed in the morning by Supreme Past Commander Mrs. Eva L. McNett, of New York and State Commander Miss Clara W. Larkin, of Ansonia. Mayor Martin Sullivan, of this city, is to address the delegates at the evening session.

GOVERNOR DOES NOT APPEAR AT D.A.R. MEETING

Disappointment Caused When Executive Fails to Arrive On Time

Much disappointment was manifested among the 350 delegates of the Daughters of the American Revolution gathered here in convention today, when Governor Marcus H. Holcomb failed to make his appearance. Governor Holcomb was scheduled to give the words of greeting soon after the opening of the session and his absence was regretted by the convention.

The convention was held at the First Methodist Episcopal church at Broad street and Fairfield avenue. A luncheon at 12 o'clock preceded the convention proper. Two hundred of the guests were accommodated at the First M. E. church and 150 at the nearby Universalist church. Besides Mrs. John Laidlaw Euel the state regent, and the other state officers, prominent guests from out of town were Right Reverend Chauncey E. Brewster, Bishop of the Diocese of Connecticut, Mrs. Sarah W. Kinney, honorable past regent of Connecticut, Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, chaplain general, National society, D. A. R., and one of its four founders, Miss Grace M. Pierce, registrar of the General National society, D. A. R. Mrs. George Maynard Minor, vice-president-general from Connecticut of the National society, and Hon. William H. Lee, president of the Connecticut, S. A. R.

County Commissioners Get $38,000 In Sale Of Liquor Licenses

The county commissioners received $38,000 in Danbury yesterday from the sale of 60 liquor licenses. This amount included seven club licenses. The commissioners will go to Stamford Thursday to issue licenses and on November 16 will visit Norwalk.

RECOVER AUTOMOBILE STOLEN FROM VISITOR

The automobile runabout, the property of Arthur R. Hotchkiss of Morris, Conn., stolen from Main and Gilbert streets last night was found at Broad and Atlantic streets by Police Patrolman Patrick Lynch at 2:30 this morning. When Hotchkiss left the car standing on Main street the speedometer registered 40 miles. When found it totaled 68 miles which shows that the joy riders who stole the machine had driven a distance of 28 miles since taking possession of the car. The machine has travelled a distance of 20.000 miles since it was purchased one year ago. Hotchkiss recently came to this city from Florida in his runabout. The car was not damaged.

MYSTERIOUS ENVOY STARTLES ALL ROME

Rome, Nov. 9.—A mysterious envoy bearing an autographed document to the Pope from the ruler of one of the belligerent nations has been in Rome this week, according to the Giornale d'Italia. The mission of this personage has not yet been accomplished, the paper says, and it is not known whether he is awaiting a reply from the Vatican or orders from his chief.

STEAMER DACIA, HELD AS WAR PRIZE BY FRENCH, SUNK BY GERMAN U-BOAT

TEUTONS AND BULGARS HOLD MOST OF SERBIA

London, Nov. 9.—The central powers and their Bulgarian ally now control about two-thirds of Serbia and within a few weeks probably will have the main Serbian railroad, running through Belgrade and Nish, in full operation. This will give them two routes to Constantinople, as communication by way of the Danube to Bulgaria is already open. That this has not been accomplished without weakening the other fronts is indicated by definite news of Russian advances on the Riga-Dvinsk front.

Thus far, the plans of the central powers in the Balkans have worked like well-oiled machinery but the latest news from Macedonia indicates that the initiative is not to be left entirely to the invaders much longer. Reports come by way of Paris that the Anglo-French forces are making the exception for artillery exchanges of operating in a difficult country.

It is reported also that the Serbians holding part of the Macedonian front have checked the Bulgarians, after inflicting heavy losses on them. If the Serbians can sustain the attack for a short period the French should be able to join them south of Veles.

The Russians continue their policy of sharp and unexpected attacks at various points along the front. The latest of these attacks, according to Petrograd, consisted of three successful assaults, southwest of Riga, two southwest of Dvinsk and three west of the Sty, south of the Pripa marshes, where the Austro-German line was broken in two places. The western front, nothing of great importance has occurred recently in that theatre of war.

NURSE DRUGS BABY AND SETS BED AFIRE

(Special to The Farmer.) Springfield, Mass., Nov. 9.—Lucille Thomas, aged five, the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas of Bridgeport, is dead as the result of an attempt at murder and suicide in Russell yesterday. Miss Elizabeth Cannon, a nurse in whose charge the child was confined by the parents, has confessed that she injected hyoscine into the child, and after setting fire to the pillows and bedding also injected the same drug into her own body expecting that the flames would consume them both. It is believed that mental depression was the cause of the woman's act. She has recovered from the effects of the drug but the child was overcome by smoke. Miss Cannon is held in the Westfield court upon a charge of murder.
