FOLKS

Offering a revue in song and dance that is quite the most artistic production of its kind ever presented here, Ethel Whiteside and a big company of boys and girls scored an immediate hit at Poli's yesterday where they topped a big bill of features. Starting with "Colonial" times in America, the revue takes in a world wide scope, having its climax in a 1915 ballroom in New York. The songs and dances of America, Germany and the Orient are presented in a bewildering revue that is bewitchingly beautiful. Miss Whiteside is a talented artist and has a most capable company.

Mme. Olga Petrova, the noted dramatic star, was featured in the five-part film drama, "The Soul Market." The drama tells a story of life in society and on the stage today and is replete with many interesting situations. Mme. Petrova appears at her best and is surrounded by a big company of stars.

PLAZA

No photo-production in which Bessie Barriscale has yet appeared, has offered her so many advantages for emotional acting as "The Last Act," the Triangle feature at the Plaza, the first half of the week, in which Miss Barriscale assumes the role of Ethel Dupre, a poor chorus girl who rises to the heights of success with the help of a rich charity worker who befriended her in the hour of need. Chosen from the chorus ranks and starred in a Broadway production, she was unconsciously thrown in contact with the husband of the woman who had helped her when she needed a friend most. Their love was mutual but he, the more ardent, begged her to elope with him and marry as soon as he could get a divorce from his wife. How the young star meets the wife, the recognition, the heartaches, all are interestingly shown in the five reels of the picture and Miss Barriscale is at her best throughout. She is supported by Harry Keenan, Clara Williams and Robert McKim.

The vaudeville program is headed by "The Garden of Aloha," a decidedly pretty attraction with six people, including Garry McGarry, late star with the Vitagraph Co. Mme. Veronica of the Koston Russian Ballet and the Hawaiian Trio. It is a dance

WEST END THEATRE.

There are several novel scenes introduced in "The Green Swamp," the new Inc-Triangle play, which will be shown at the West End theatre on State street, near Clinton avenue, today at both matinee and evening performances.

There is a grand masked ball, which shows society people amusing themselves in an unconventional way. One scene full of intensity shows the woman sitting in the waiting room of her husband's office. She writes with jealousy as she hears a woman's laughter within and finally can contain herself no longer. She suddenly throws open the door to find her husband playing with a child whom he has just treated and the mother laughing with relief and joy at sight of her child's happiness.

EMPIRE

"Out of the Drifts," a five part Famous Players Paramount masterpiece featuring that irresistible screen star Marguerite Clark will again be the featured attraction to-day at the above theatre with an entire change of the regular, select and entertaining photoplay program of selected Universal comedy and dramatic subjects.

To-morrow's program will be a big double feature program headed by the latest episode of the greatest of all master serials, "Graft," and the spectacular five part startling drama, "Sons of Satan." In conjunction a program consisting of a number of recent multiple and single part subjects will be shown rounding out an altogether pleasing as well as entertaining program.

Hear in mind that the Keeney motto is "the best and only the best at all times."
