WINDOW-SMASHING WILL BE UNNECESSARY AFTER WAR, IS OPINION OF MISS PANKHURST

Great Struggle Has Caused Mental Awakening, Declares Prominent Suffrage Advocate—Women Have Shown English Men That They Are Worth Something, As-sets Militant.

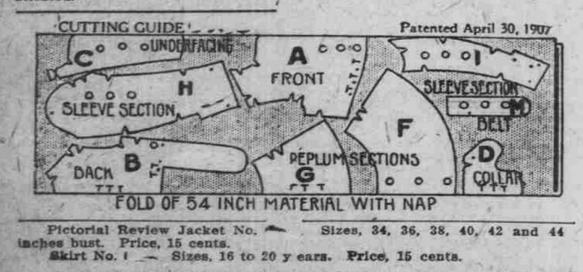

Rome, Italy, May 13.—"It won't be necessary for women to smash windows and go to jail to get their rights when this war is over," said Miss Pankhurst to a correspondent of The Associated Press during her visit here for the purpose of forming a closer organization of the women of Italy with those of France and England.

Easy & Practical Home Dress Making Lessons

Prepared Especially For This Newspaper by Pictorial Review

A Tailored Frock for Mild Days.

Particularly enchanting are the tailored suits for mild days—days when it is too cool to be without a jacket, and yet too warm for a serge or gabardine. Facile is used for this costume, the color dark blue. Nothing is smarter than blue or wears better. The interesting feature of the suit is the jacket, which has a convertible collar. The back is made with or without tab extensions, while the circular peplum is cut in three pieces. To make the entire costume requires 5 1/2 yards 44-inch or 4 1/2 yards 54-inch material.

Pictorial Review Jacket No. 1. Sizes, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust. Price, 15 cents. Skirt No. 1. Sizes, 16 to 20 y. ears. Price, 15 cents.

These Home Dressmaking articles are prepared especially for this newspaper from the very latest styles by The Pictorial Review.

LAURA JEAN LIBBY'S DAILY TALKS ON HEART TOPICS

DOES DADDY DANCE?

"False pride has crusted o'er with ice The heart where youth still burns And tho' the world deems it forgot Still to the past returns."

The young man who stoutly maintains that it is quite ridiculous for his father to insist upon going to the dance that he does arrange for the light fantastic toe as merrily as he does has something to learn about old heads and young hearts.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTEBOOK

(By Lee Pape) The Park Avenue News.

The weather. More or less. Bix Explosion. There was a big bang last Thursday, and all the fellows around the corner thinking maybe it was somebody shooting somebody else, and it was a man with a punkster in one of his back wheels.

THE ASH MAN.

The ashman comes down our back street Yelling, "Git up there; Wo! Depending on weather he wunts his 2 mules To stop standing still or to go.

SHOULD NOT CONSIDER LOVE

G. D. writes: "Months ago, I met a boy near my age, around 16. He is handsome and has good manners, nicest I ever met. Appears to think considerable of me. Often escorted me home from school. I became fond of him. One day he asked if I loved him. I replied that I did. He said both were well suited. He continued my ardent escort. Please don't say anything to 'That's impossible.'"

TOO MANY QUARRELS.

D. X. writes: "I am a girl of 17. Over a year kept company with young man of our home town. We are of same height. If at a show, next day, girls say, 'Better looking if both had same color hair and eyes.' Has that anything to do with it? I heard so much I stopped going with him. He thought I was ashamed of him. Not so. One night in town, I met a boy friend. He invited me to the show. I attended. One I kept company with saw me, angrily. Our first love quarrel resulted. Made up. Four of us out walking—girl, my chum. We quarrel quit. Will we ever be reconciled?"

SWEETHEARTS SAD OVER LOST LOVE

D. H. writes: "Sweethearts once, we fell out. Not together since to make up. We speak when we meet. Often he tells certain girls and boys I go with that he loved me, but I did not love him. He is mistaken. He is thought everything of by me. When I go to places with others, I have no good times. They seem so different from him. He goes with no girl. Do you think there's a chance of restoring his friendship? Often he spoke of marriage."

AGAIN THE WIDOWER.

B. E. writes: "I am a maiden lady of 40. I have recently met a widower—who has four children—who has proposed marriage. I am comfortably situated. I do not care for him, but dread dying an old maid. What ought I to do? He seems to be my last chance. Do not marry a man whom you do not love. There's many a fate decidedly worse than being a spinster."

THIS GOWN FOR SUMMER AFTERNOONS

LINGERIE AGAIN

Embroidered organdie, figured lawn and striped voiles are suitable for this model. Below the skirt falls a net tulle, and the peplum simulates a double skirt. Net revers and ruffling finish the front and sleeves, while any becoming taffeta ribbon carelessly draped makes a suitable girle.

POINTS OF INTEREST.

E. H. Dillon & Co., 1105 Main street, 23rd anniversary sale commences Wednesday, May 17. Great bargains in untrimmed millinery, trimmings of every description, beautiful trimmed hats, shirt waists, silk petticoats, sweaters, white, brown and grey fur scarfs, maline neck ruffs, cloth coats, guaranteed raincoats, all at unheard of low prices.—Adv.

A Rent Saver.

Every one interested in economizing on space in the house and yet adding to a room's attractiveness will be interested in the display of the Kindel divanettes and Davenport beds at Nothnagle's busy home furnishing store, corner Main and Elm streets. The Kindel is the different, the splendid piece of upholstered furniture in the day time and one simple operation makes a luxurious bed of it at night. No tugging the piece away from the wall, no unsightly metal parts in view and other similar objections are not found in the Kindel. Visit the demonstration all the week at the store and have the special club offer for the week only, explained to you.—Adv.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Young Men's Hebrew association held concert and social last night at the association rooms, 181 State street. More than 300 attended. Morris Clark, former editor of the Century Opera Magazine, lectured. Mrs. Dorothy Spinner sang and Albert Lefkowitz gave piano recitations.

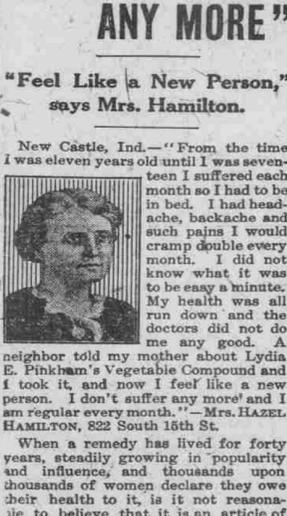

'I DON'T SUFFER ANY MORE'

New Castle, Ind.—"From the time I was eleven years old until I was seventeen I suffered each month so I had to be in bed. I had headache, backache and such pains I would cramp double every month. I did not know what it was to be easy a minute. My health was all run down and the doctors did not do me any good. A neighbor told my mother about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it, and now I feel like a new person. I don't suffer any more and I am regular every month."—Mrs. HAZEL HAMILTON, 822 South 15th St.

'Feel Like a New Person,' says Mrs. Hamilton.

When a remedy has lived for forty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their health to it, it is not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

How London Dresses Her Spring Maid

ENGLISH AS POSSIBLE

This dressy frock is of white nixon draped over white satin, bunched panels giving a symmetrical skirt. The surplice waist has puffed, if scanty, bands at the armeyes and a surplice front. A dash of color is given by the crimson belt and trailing spray of rambler roses.

CONNECTICUT SUFFRAGE NEWS

(Mrs. Edward Porritt, Hartford.) In the news service of the Connecticut Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage the statement is made that the Suffragists of Connecticut have abandoned the old plan that there are four million women entitled to vote in the equal suffrage states. The Connecticut association has not abandoned this contention, because it is based on the figures on the United States census, and on the percentages of increase in population for previous decades. The misunderstanding may have arisen from the fact that the Anti-Suffragists have confused the claims as to the number of women entitled to vote in the states where they are fully enfranchised and those in Illinois who have the vote for Presidential electors and as well as for President, the Illinois women for President only.

The figures on which the claim of 4,000,000 women entitled to vote is made are given in the United States census of 1910. In the 11 equal suffrage states there were then 2,097,654 women over 21 years of age. In Illinois there were 1,567,491 women over 21. The increase in population in the United States generally was 21 per cent. in the decade from 1900 to 1910. This would give an increase of 451,858 women in the six years since the census was taken, making in all 4,137,003 women in the equal suffrage states over 21 years of age.

Of flower eyes waken all the streams along. In tender whiles I feel most near to you. O, when we meet there shall be sun and blue. Strong as the spring is strong.—F. Ledwidge (Lance Corporal), in The Spectator.

TODAY'S POEM

TO THE DISTANT ONE. Through wild byways I come to you, my love. Nor ask of those I meet the surest way; What way I turn I cannot go astray And miss you in my life. Though fate may prove A tardy guide, she will not make delay. Leading me through strange seas and distant lands. I'm coming still, though slowly, to your hands. We'll meet one day.

Your name is in the whisper of the woods Like Beauty calling for a poet's muse. I have I lost that I shall not retrieve. Far shall I wander yet with much to do, Much I shall spurn before I yet meet you. So fair I can't deceive.

CORNER FOR COOKS

FISH OMELET.

This is a good way of using up the remains of cold fish left over from a meal. Free the fish from all skin and bones and break up into a saucepan with about half an ounce of butter, season with pepper and salt and add enough white sauce or milk to moisten the fish. Strain aside and keep hot while you prepare the following mixture: Break three eggs into a basin, beat up lightly, add one tablespoonful of milk. Melt an ounce of butter in an omelet pan. Pour in the eggs, stir over a quick fire until the mixture begins to set, then shake well. Put the prepared dish into the middle of this, and fold over. Serve at once.

CORN CHOWDER.

Fry a half pound of diced salt pork in a big sauce pan until brown; add one sliced onion and cook until light brown; then add four sliced potatoes that have been parboiled 10 minutes, a can of corn and a pint of boiling water; cook until the vegetables are tender, then add a quart of rich milk, pepper, salt and a half dozen crockers which have been soaked in a little milk. Serve with a cracker on each dish of soup. Codfish may be used in this dish in place of corn and is a most satisfying chowder. Add the salt fish, shredded and soaked, with the milk at the last.

BRAN BREAD AND OATMEAL COOKIES

There are many kinds of bran bread and I am not at all sure that I can please you since you cannot furnish date of publication. One and one-half cups rye meal and cornmeal, one cup of Graham flour, one teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of soda, dissolved in very little water, and added to one cup of molasses. Mix well and steam three hours; then unmold and bake 20 minutes. Oat cookies are made as follows: Half a cup of sugar, one-third cup butter, one egg, 1-4 teaspoonful salt, one cup rolled oats or oatmeal 1-2 cup of flour, 1-2 cup chopped raisins, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoonful of soda in one tablespoonful of hot water. Beat the butter and sugar to a cream, mix in the other ingredients, adding the soda last. Roll dough out lightly and cut into cookies, or make into small balls like nuts, with the hands, and bake on buttered tins in a moderately hot oven.

COLD SWEET POTATOES.

When there are cold sweet potatoes on hand, they may be utilized as follows: Cut in lengthwise slices, place in a baking dish and add little dabs of butter to each slice. Sprinkle them with a little salt and some sugar. Add layers in this way until the dish is filled, then bake in a good oven for about three-quarters of an hour, meanwhile basting with butter. Another way that cold sweet potatoes may be used is still simpler. Slice them lengthwise and place the slices on a broiler. Dot each slice with butter, and sprinkle with pepper, salt and a small amount of granulated sugar. Garnish with parsley and serve on a platter.

CHILDREN'S EMPLOYMENT DURING VACATION

The problem of finding useful occupation for children during vacation begins to worry parents as the school year draws to a close. Though the youngsters are supposed to suffer from strain of school life, they often get more tired and nervous during vacation. Some useful occupation for the time serves as a balance wheel in regulated activity. The United States Bureau of Education recommends that in each school there be one teacher who has practical knowledge about gardening. This teacher should be employed throughout the year. She should help pupils select seed, visit gardens, and assemble children in groups for instruction in the matter. Many lawless ways disappear with regular tasks. Once a boy has seen his fruits and vegetables robbed by some youngster he gets the owner's point of view. After that, stealing things from a neighbor does not seem funny and glorious.
