

CHILD DROWNS AS SHE FALLS FROM ROWBOAT

Fairfield Girl Tumbles From Seat Into Water of Creek Near Home.

While playing in an old boat on a creek in the rear of her home in Vinsons place, Fairfield, on Saturday afternoon, Julia Bobb, the 10 year old daughter of Daniel Bobb, fell into the water and was drowned. A small boy playmate was the only one near enough to hear the child's screams and he ran for help but the child was drowned before anyone could rescue her. The body was recovered later in the afternoon.

Acting Coroner H. C. Stevenson will not investigate the case as Dr. W. H. Donaldson reported that it was accidental. Julia's mother died several years ago, but her father married again. Her father, stepmother and several stepbrothers and sisters survive her. The funeral was held this morning from her late home at 7:30 and a half hour later from the State Street Reformed church. Burial was in Mountain Grove cemetery.

MOTORCYCLIST IS HUMAN PINWHEEL FOR FEW SECONDS

He and Companion Come to Grief In Peculiar Mishap In Southport.

(Special to The Farmer.) Southport, July 31.—Oscar Smithberg, of 423 Warren street, Bridgeport, and a companion, found out yesterday afternoon how a pinwheel would feel if it had feelings. After pinwheeling in Southport for a few seconds yesterday morning they were launched into space, after which they acquired many abrasions and contusions.

Smithberg and his friend were returning to Bridgeport from Westport, riding a sidecar motorcycle. Passing the Roundhouse, the connection between the sidecar and the cycle snapped and a leaf of a spring became imbedded in the Warrenite pavement.

With the spring as a pivot, the cycle holding to the sidecar by a piece of metal that didn't break, swung around in a circle several times. Then the passengers left the machine involuntarily and struck in the roadway. Dr. C. B. Hyde dressed their injuries after they recovered from the daze and shock. They had cuts and bruises in many parts of their bodies.

Search Employes of Casting Room Where Workman Lost $120

Robbed while he was stealing a "smokey" in the casting room of the Bridgeport Brass Co. last night, Thomas Severn of 170 Willard street reported to the police during the night that someone had rifled his pockets and taken $120.

Severn, who is employed in the casting room, said that he fell tired during the night as the room seemed to be hotter than usual and the heat was unbearable. He selected a bench in one corner of the room for a resting place, he went to sleep. For some time he was peacefully enveloped in the arms of Morpheus but upon his awakening, he found that someone had gone through his pockets and his roll had been taken.

The foreman of the department had every employe of the department searched and every locker in the room was examined but no trace of Severn's wealth could be found.

Denies Attempt Was Made To Smuggle Boy Into City From Easton

A story that only the vigilance of the nurse at the North Main street entry of the city prevented the menace of a poliomyelitis-stricken child traveling in an open ox cart through the city, was discussed today but according to Supervisor of Nurses Tuttle of the health department, it isn't true. It was said that an automobile bearing Leslie Barr was stopped at North Main street and sent back to Easton last Tuesday. The next day another attempt was made to get into the city, and the car was again turned back. Dr. Irving Nettleton was sent to examine the child and found it a case of infantile paralysis. The child was removed to Hillside home by Dr. E. A. McLellan.

Supervisor Tuttle said that she had no report to that effect, that the child was taken ill in Easton and that it was isolated here for the protection of Bridgeport.

Courtdade Refuses to Use Hose on Streets

Director of Public Works Jacob A. Courtade will not use a fire hose to flush the permanent pavement as suggested by Dr. Saphian. The director had the automobile sprinkling carts with their flushing apparatus give a demonstration in daytime but the demonstration did not suit Dr. Saphian and he insisted that the fire hose be used. "The high pressure of water from a fire hose disintegrates brick and other permanent pavement," is the claim of the director. He said: "If the board of health wants a fire hose used, it can hire men to do the work and take the responsibility for damage to the pavement. I won't do it and I won't take the responsibility. My men will continue to run the flushing machines over the streets as usual after 12 o'clock at night, but they won't use a fire hose."

Leonard refrigerator, actually germ-proof. A claim is made that many diseases, including infantile paralysis, may be charged up against the use of the ordinary refrigerator! This type of refrigerator, with galvanized or enameled lining, offers splendid refuge to germs. If a million germs can hold a convention on the head of a common pin, what a fine field they find on the lining of such refrigerator! Children are more in danger of their attacks because they have not become immune through constant resisting of attacks by germs. Then, too, their food is kept almost entirely in refrigerators and has plenty of time to become laden with germs. But the Leonard Cleanable refrigerator is NOT of this type. The food compartment of every Leonard Cleanable refrigerator offers a smooth white fused-on porcelain lining protection to food. On that lining no germs can find a home. It is smooth and polished and seamless; just like the fine china dishes on the dining-table. Its corners are rounded, it is made all in one piece, its surface is so hard that a knife will not scratch it even! When this lining is washed or sponged off, everything is cleansed thoroughly. No germ can stay there. With this cleanliness, Leonard refrigerators have excellent construction all through! They keep cold; 25 degrees colder than the surrounding air! They do not use a great big lot of ice! They have a real ventilating system. To sum up:—they are not ice boxes but genuine refrigerators; and germ proof. According to size and style and ice capacity,— $33.50 to $65

Fourth floor.
