P. U. COMMISSION GRANTS CHANGES FOR NOBLE AVE.

Connecticut Co. Allowed To Install Ten-Foot Centers There.

Hartford, Sept. 28.—The public utilities commission has approved the method of construction of tracks on South Main street, Middletown, and on Noble avenue, Bridgeport. The commissioners held a hearing in Hamden today on the petition of the Connecticut Co. for the extension of tracks on Dixwell avenue.

The track changes granted by the public utilities commission are for 10-foot centers in Noble avenue.

Collision Between Truck and Touring Car Ties Up Traffic

A collision between two automobiles, one a touring car and the other a commercial truck, tied up traffic on Main street, between Wall and John streets, this morning, and partly damaged the touring car.

The pleasure machine owned and operated by Samuel L. Kowarsky, of 53 East 86th street, New York, was proceeding south on Main street, when the truck, owned by C. P. Noyes of Trumbull, and driven by James Merrill, crossing Main street, struck the New York machine almost head on.

The guards, running board and headlights of the touring car were ripped off and smashed. According to the police, Merrill was to blame for the accident, and was arrested for not having a license to operate an automobile, although he said he had applied for one. Kowarsky refused to prosecute Merrill.

Police Seek Twain, Gone From Lodgings Where Theft Occurred

The police would like to apprehend Al Hadden and William Donnelly, both from New York, and question them regarding the theft of $26 from a lodger in the house where they roomed, 432 Union avenue. They would like to know whether Donnelly used this money to defray the expense of his marriage and honeymoon, or not.

It appears that the day the money was stolen from the trousers of Oscar Joachim, while he was asleep in his room, Mrs. Bertha Hays of New York reached this city searching for her daughter, whom she believed had come to this city and eloped with Donnelly.

Search for Donnelly at his home disclosed the theft and the sudden disappearance of her and his present Hadden. The mother hoping to find some trace of her daughter has been staying in this city, receiving this morning a telegram from New York signed by the girl saying she was married.

Fine Giant For Theft of Savings

Eberdo Danaguilla, the tallest man ever arrested by the police of this city, measuring 6 feet 6 inches, was found guilty by Judge Frank Wilder, of stealing a savings bank containing $35, from Ambrósio Bernardino, 17 Reilly street, landlord of the house where he roomed, this morning in the local court.

Danaguilla was arrested yesterday, the savings bank being found in his trunk. Searched at the station house a revolver was found in his possession. On the theft charge he was given a 90 days' suspended sentence, and fined $50 and costs for carrying a loaded revolver.

Meet Tonight to Fight Assessment For Sewer

A mass meeting of those who protest the Knoxville sewer assessment will be held this evening in the King's Highway chapel.

Several hundred are expected to get together and form an association for the purpose of combatting the assessment, which, it is asserted, should be taken out of the taxes instead of levied against selected persons.

Submarine Base Won't Be Moved

New London, Conn., Sept. 28.—Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels has suspended temporarily the order to remove the submarine base from this place to Newport, because of the complaints caused by a neighboring fertilizer plant. Information to this effect was received by former Congressman Bryan F. Mahan, in a telegram from Homer S. Cummings, this morning. Stringent steps are now being taken to abate the nuisance.

Reilly Resigns As U. S. Revenue Agent

Meriden, Conn., Sept. 28.—Thomas L. Reilly, of this city, Democratic candidate for Congress from the third district, announced today his resignation as a special agent of the Internal Revenue Department. The resignation was forwarded last Tuesday.

OBITUARY MARGARET JOHNSTON.

Six boy schoolmates at Lincoln school were bearers at the funeral of Margaret Florence Johnston, held at 2:30 o'clock yesterday from her late home, 300 Newfield avenue. Half an hour later Rev. Daniel M. Lewis, pastor of Newfield M. E. church, conducted services there. The child was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Johnston, a winsome girl, beloved by all who knew her. The burial was in the family plot in Park cemetery.

GUARD RICH MAN'S HOME

Connellsville, Pa., Sept. 28.—Armed guards were today thrown around the residence of Alfred M. Fuller, a millionaire resident of Perrispolis, near here, following receipt by Mr. Fuller of threatening letters demanding money.

Autumn Opening Week

Attention is directed to the very important specials for the remainder of the week

- The Tailored Suit Special at $20.00
- The Jacobean Dining Set Special at $170.00

The Coat and Suit Shop

This beautiful department is more than a third larger than last season. There is more floor space and room for the display of goods and extra fitting rooms. The stock is more extensive than in any previous year by a hundred per cent.

Your Suit may be Exclusive.

Beautiful Suits of Poplin, Gabardine and Broadcloth are designed from imported models, and in very many cases there is but one of each. There is also a small and select group of imported costumes which are really very elegant, with the distinctive touches in fur bands, buttons, pockets and braid adornments that only the French artist knows how to apply.

- Velour Cloth Suits, plain or checked, very popular this year. From $35.00 to $65.00.

A Special in Tailored Suits

This company of smartly tailored little business suits are just arrived. They were to be sold at $22.50 and considered very good value for that price. But it is late, only a couple of days left in opening week, so, as long as they last the price is $20.00

They are in wool poplin, black, brown and navy blue, coats belted, some plain, others trimmed with bands of a plush imitation of beaver. A very pleasing assortment. Second floor.

Particular attention has been paid to the requirements of the stout woman. No longer need she worry about her clothes. Garments are planned especially for her, and every little trick is regarded to make her look thin and give her long lines. If interested come and see the suits for the stout woman.

The Display of Millinery Attracts

Among all the elegant styles, the fur turbans, the velvet toques with fur and gold lace, the wide-brims, that bewilder and fascinate with their beauty, there is a nice, quiet little group of Motor Hats, the non-crushable variety that go on and stay on, Comfort is the keynote of this display.

School Hats.

Pretty little Hats designed to stand wear and weather. Little tailored affairs just as fine and stylish as mother's. Second floor.

Music Every Afternoon.

A Good Time to select Furniture Opening Week brings Specials.

The Read Furniture is made to endure and give pleasure for years. The best craftsmen have built carefully and finished in the best ways. Particular attention is called to the Dining Room Sets in the various periods, examples of which are on the floors.

Louis XVI, Adam, Chinese Chippendale and the English oak sets of William and Mary, and Jacobean times.

Mahogany Sets, Queen Anne Period

Ten pieces in Mahogany, a magnificent group: One at $200.00. One at $210.00.

Jacobean Oak Set of ten pieces, very dark oak, very plain and dignified, and not too large for the modern apartment dining room:

- Buffet, 54 inches, China Cabinet, Serving Table, Dining Table, Five Chairs and One Armchair. Special for $170.00

Arts and Crafts Dining Sets in fumed oak. Nine pieces, $112.00 and $125.00. Fourth floor.

Vacuum Sweepers

Every house needs one. A combination sweeper and cleaner, a heavy bristle brush, 3 bellows, easy running and every effective. $5.85 special. Basement.

Lamps, Artistic and Practical

A clever designer has invented a tip shade for electroliers. One adjusts it to throw the light where it is needed. This little lamp is most acceptable for desk or table use.

Tall Lamps for table use have as standards, metal or pottery jars finished in bronze or terra cotta, extremely graceful. Some of them are typical of the Greek amphorae and are topped by wide shades of beautiful white glass set in bronze.

Lamps in Jacobean finish combine with rooms in Jacobean Oak.

Other artistic finishes are Alexandrian and Olympian.

Shades of brown parchment have paneled landscapes or quaint figures in transparency effect. Empire and Eighteenth Century styles.

Floor Lamps, Mahogany standards and Empire shades of shirred silk, rose, amber and other colors.

Portables, gas or electric, for living room tables. Basement.
