

Rutland Weekly Globe.

FRIDAY MORNING, FEB. 6, 1874.

Plymouth church and Henry Ward Beecher have, at last, got off from their high heels, and concluded to conduct themselves, and treat the members of the church, in accordance with the usages of the denomination to which it professes to belong.

Although it did appear in an editorial article, we never wrote such an article as this "Until we conceive the proper time to have arrived, we shall express no opinion as to the best man, but may here, more or less, to say in reference to many men."

It is to the credit of American journalism, that only one representative of the press—and he a journalistic guerrilla, as we shall explain—was found low or mean enough to endeavor to sell his opinions about, or make money out of, the national centennial celebration.

RAILROAD COMPETITION.

We have always thought, and remain of the same impression still, that one great remedy for high and excessive charges for the transportation of freight and passengers, by railroad companies, would be found in the construction of competing lines.

LOUISIANA.

A Tuesday's associated press telegram, from Washington, says that "the Louisiana question now excites as much, if not more, interest in congressional circles than any other subject."

LET THE BEST MAN WIN.

In what we had to say, yesterday morning, on "the governor question," we intended to be sufficiently explicit and to make ourself understood. We argued, only that the time had not come to select a governor; that when the time came, he should be selected by the people and by the poll-taxers—and that we believed that would be so; and, lastly, that the best man ought to be governor without any particular regard to locality.

would confer honor on themselves, the office and the state if they were placed in the gubernatorial chair. We are not advised, however, whether the names of any or all of them will be presented for the office.

A NEEDED REBUKE.

The national House of Representatives spent nearly the entire day, Friday, in discussing and, finally, adopting a resolution giving General Howard the right of "challenge" to the members of the court of inquiry to be summoned to investigate the charges preferred against him.

Public Debt Statement.

Table with columns for Principal, Interest, and Total, detailing public debt for the month of January 1874.

A Discontented but Wealthy Widow.

Many of our citizens will remember H. Keep, the once nabob of the New York Central railroad, who a few years ago died, and whose widow is now a wealthy woman.

A Sad and Singular Case.

Ada Roudague, an American by birth, very aged, in eastern New York, on Monday last was exposed to the extreme cold of the winter by being left in a room without any covering.

LECTURE BY REV. W. H. MURRAY.

"My Creed."

A very fair audience assembled at the Opera House last evening to hear the lecture by Rev. W. H. Murray on "My Creed." We hoped to see a larger number, but, as knowing by experience the value of the lecture, we knew that the speaker could interest every one of our citizens in the manner of treating his subject.

The speaker was introduced by Colonel Chas. A. Joyce and did not fail to attract the attention and interest of his hearers throughout the lecture. We have already given our opinion in regard to this lecture, and it is only necessary to say that it speaks for itself.

Public Debt Statement.

Table with columns for Principal, Interest, and Total, detailing public debt for the month of January 1874.

A Discontented but Wealthy Widow.

Many of our citizens will remember H. Keep, the once nabob of the New York Central railroad, who a few years ago died, and whose widow is now a wealthy woman.

A Sad and Singular Case.

Ada Roudague, an American by birth, very aged, in eastern New York, on Monday last was exposed to the extreme cold of the winter by being left in a room without any covering.

LECTURE BY REV. W. H. MURRAY.

"My Creed."

to amuse our neighbor. This capacity to amuse and to be amused runs down through the whole list of animals. The dog, which is considered the most faithful of animals, has a keen sense of the humorous and will scent fun as readily as game.

There is a power that stands back of all our laws, stronger, mightier and more potent for good or evil; that gives life to all our prejudices and able to destroy all other motives in a day; that which no other power possessed by man is so strong or so able to change the impulses of a community and turn the world upside down; that stands back of all your churches and able to take your creeds, your formulas and all existing modes of ancient origin, of observance or faith, to modify or even to abolish.

Public Debt Statement.

Table with columns for Principal, Interest, and Total, detailing public debt for the month of January 1874.

A Discontented but Wealthy Widow.

Many of our citizens will remember H. Keep, the once nabob of the New York Central railroad, who a few years ago died, and whose widow is now a wealthy woman.

A Sad and Singular Case.

Ada Roudague, an American by birth, very aged, in eastern New York, on Monday last was exposed to the extreme cold of the winter by being left in a room without any covering.

43D CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

SENATE.

Mr. Scott of Pennsylvania presented a petition of the Philadelphia board of trade protesting against any reduction of the approval of the Philadelphia board of trade.

Mr. Hamilton presented a memorial of the governor of the District of Columbia in response to certain statements made in a memorial presented a few days ago by Mr. Thurman, which was read.

SENATE.

Mr. Scott, a petition asking for the issue by the government of 3,000 convertible bonds; finance.

SENATE.

Mr. Cooper, a bill to refund internal revenue taxes improperly assessed and collected; finance.

SENATE.

Mr. Sherman, from the finance committee, a bill to amend an act of Congress of 1870, in relation to an increase in the circulation of national bank notes.

43D CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

HOUSE.

Mr. Stowell, from the postoffice committee, reported a bill providing for the office department to one year shall not apply to mail locks and keys, mail bags, stamps, stamped envelopes, postal cards or new letter paper.

Mr. Morrill of Vermont, a resolution authorizing an investigation as to defective illuminating gas in the District of Columbia, and to send for persons and papers. Agreed to.

HOUSE.

Mr. Houghton from the Pacific railroad committee reported a bill to incorporate the Southern Railway and Transportation Company; referred to the committee on the whole.

HOUSE.

Mr. Bates, to enable the secretary of the treasury to gather information on the faithfulness of performance of contracts, and place the proceeds in the treasury of the United States; referred to the committee on the whole.

SENATE.

Mr. Sherman, from the finance committee, a bill to amend an act of Congress of 1870, in relation to an increase in the circulation of national bank notes.

43D CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

SENATE.

Mr. Scott of Pennsylvania presented a petition of the Philadelphia board of trade protesting against any reduction of the approval of the Philadelphia board of trade.

Mr. Hamilton presented a memorial of the governor of the District of Columbia in response to certain statements made in a memorial presented a few days ago by Mr. Thurman, which was read.

SENATE.

Mr. Scott, a petition asking for the issue by the government of 3,000 convertible bonds; finance.

SENATE.

Mr. Cooper, a bill to refund internal revenue taxes improperly assessed and collected; finance.

SENATE.

Mr. Sherman, from the finance committee, a bill to amend an act of Congress of 1870, in relation to an increase in the circulation of national bank notes.

43D CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

HOUSE.

Mr. Stowell, from the postoffice committee, reported a bill providing for the office department to one year shall not apply to mail locks and keys, mail bags, stamps, stamped envelopes, postal cards or new letter paper.

Mr. Morrill of Vermont, a resolution authorizing an investigation as to defective illuminating gas in the District of Columbia, and to send for persons and papers. Agreed to.

HOUSE.

Mr. Houghton from the Pacific railroad committee reported a bill to incorporate the Southern Railway and Transportation Company; referred to the committee on the whole.

HOUSE.

Mr. Bates, to enable the secretary of the treasury to gather information on the faithfulness of performance of contracts, and place the proceeds in the treasury of the United States; referred to the committee on the whole.

SENATE.

Mr. Sherman, from the finance committee, a bill to amend an act of Congress of 1870, in relation to an increase in the circulation of national bank notes.