WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12, 1880. Editor Democrat: Wind exercise is the most prominent thing resulting from last week's deliberations of Congress, though some business of a semi-routine character has been quietly transacted.

And now the changes have begun by the resignation of Justice Strong and the appointment of Circuit Judge William B. Woods in his place.

Pension Commissioner Bentley is preparing to make a strong push after the recess for the passage of his bill now pending before the Senate.

A PRETTY STORY. In Naples the papers tell a very pretty story of the Queen of Italy.

"Give him twenty francs for his trouble," said the queen to one of her escort, who, going after the countryman, said to him: "Here, my man, is a little present from the Queen of Italy, who thanks you."

"The Queen?" cried the countryman, returning to the carriage. "Forgive me that I did not know thee; but I had never seen thee before. Thou art as beautiful as a May rose. God bless thee." And the carriage drove off.

Now, the countryman who had once seen the Queen, wanted to see her again, and the following day he presented himself at the palace.

"I know her, you know," he added mysteriously. "I spoke to her yesterday, and I want to speak to her again!"

Thinking he had to do with a madman, the porter was about to have the poor fellow arrested, when the very gentleman who had given him the twenty francs, appeared, and recognizing the man, told him to wait. He informed the Queen of his presence. "Bring him up here by all means," was her answer.

"When the man was for the second time before the Queen, he said: 'Yes, 'tis thou. I thought I had seen a fairy. Thou art just an angel. I did not tell thee yesterday that I have two little ones without a mother. Will thou be their mother?'"

"That I will," said the Queen. "Then there's the twenty francs thou gavest me yesterday. I thank thee, but I want no money." And he went away, crying and smiling like a child.

"The queen had adopted the two little ones, and they are in an institution, under her special patronage."

"GUILTY or not guilty?" asked a Galveston Justice of the peace of a colored culprit who was accused of stealing a whole line full of linen.

"Dat 'ar depends on circumstances. If you is gwine to let me off with a reprimand, like las' time, den I owns up to six shirts, four pily-slips and about a dozen under pieces, but if you is gwine to sock it to me, den, sah, I calls for a jury to vindicate myself, so I can sue for $40,000 damages."

"All enter the plea of not guilty." "I say, boss, if you will let me off wid de reprimand I'll plead guilty to dis fast offense, and five thickens I pulled las' week, and a wood-pile I'se gwine to inspect ter-night."

It begins to look as though Mr. Hayes was going to get the Supreme Court to suit him before he vacates his office, after all.

There has been a good deal of talk for some weeks about plans to get Stanley Matthews and other fa-

THE GARFIELD CABINET.

As to General Garfield's Cabinet there is a general belief that it will be of a mixed character—a compromise structure, intended to harmonize the two wings of the party.

Gen. Logan is known to desire the Secretaryship of the Interior. It was the place he chose for himself when he thought Grant's nomination certain; and at the time he and his friends made no secret of his wishes and determination.

Justice Clifford is not expected to recover. His ailment is paralysis and softening of the brain, and he is not now able even to dictate a complete sentence, and cannot, therefore, tender his resignation unless an unexpected improvement should take place in his health.

Justice Bradley will hereafter preside over the Third Judicial District, embracing the Districts of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware, which has been Mr. Strong's Circuit.

Mr. Cameron did not conceal from his friends that he found the Senate far less pleasant than he had found the War Department, and that he hoped to return to that place, for which, gossip says, he believes himself to be peculiarly fitted.

There are, however, people who do not believe General Garfield will give him his wish in this matter. It is taken for granted that if Mr. Conkling does not ask for a Cabinet place for Mr. Platt New York will be unrepresented in the Cabinet.

The general opinion among politicians is that Hayes blundered very foolishly, when, having refused a place to Mr. Conkling's friends, he made Mr. Everts, a New Yorker, Secretary of State.

To leave the State without a cabinet place would have been wiser—for then neither of the two Republican factions would have had cause of complaint, whereas, to appoint Mr. Everts was to offend all the Conkling people.

This is the way the question is reasoned out, and there are those who believe that General Garfield may quietly ask Mr. Conkling to forego any representative of his own in the Cabinet, in the cause of general harmony.

There is some expectation here that Mr. Garfield may offer the Secretaryship of War to General Grant. The General's friends say that he really did immense service in the canvas; that he ought to be rewarded; that he, like Washington, has a house here; that he could scarcely afford to go abroad on a foreign mission; that he wants something to do, and that, in short, the War Department ought to be given to him.

There are others who urge that he ought to have the Department of State, and that he would prefer this of all the Cabinet places.—Washington Correspondent New York Herald.

A LOVER'S REVENGE. When James Lick, the California millionaire, was a young man he fell in love with a miller's daughter in Pennsylvania.

Young Lick faced the stern old miller and asked for the hand of his daughter. Now, James was a poor young man, but honest and industrious, and withal full of pride.

The man refused James request, and advised him not to marry until he had a competency to support a wife.

These remarks were rather humiliating to young Lick's pride, and with emphasis he replied: "Sir, I shall see the day when your boasted mill would not make a respectable wheat bin for one I shall own." Years passed, when James Lick erected in Santa Clara county, Cal., a mill, the woodwork of which is solid mahogany.

Shortly after its erection he had photographs taken of the inside and outside of his mill, and sent them to the miller who had refused him the hand of his daughter.

"Has love, her love is dead," sadly sings Claude Melnotte in a poem entitled "Blighted Hopes." It was not love, Claude, not real, simon-pure love. She was fooling with you. Pure love never dies. It gets dreadful sick, but it never, never, expresses up, Claude.

ALBANY, LINN CO., OREGON.

THE "GEM OF THE VALLEY." OUR CITY.

One of the most substantial financial concerns of the northwest is the banking and exchange house of Mr. John Conner. A resident of this city since 1852, Mr. Conner's record here is one of which it is unnecessary to give our readers details, as all are well acquainted with it.

A man of unflinching integrity and principle, his word is as good as a bond, and his success in business the surest evidence of his ability.

For a long time engaged in various mercantile pursuits, he is well and favorably known throughout the Willamette Valley. He opened the banking business in February, 1871, and is doing a general banking and exchange business, loaning money, etc.

He sells exchange on the principal cities, and attends to all classes of business coming within his line. Deposits are received, etc., etc. Mr. Conner is the only banker in the city.

Mr. Henry Merrill is the obliging cashier and accountant of the bank.

ALBANY IS WELL FAVORED in the item of music, and not only her sons but her daughters, also, have an organized band, and both are above the average usually found in cities of this size.

THE LADIES' CORNET BAND. Is one of Albany's greatest attractions, composed as it is of some of our most talented and refined young ladies, and including the daughters of some of our most wealthy and influential citizens.

They are, we believe, all unmarried young ladies. The band was organized December 29, 1879, and since that time have acquired a extensive reputation. The young ladies are constant and assiduous in their practice and do not propose to be outdone in the way of good music.

They have attracted not a little attention from the press all over the country. The members of the band are as follows: Leader, Miss Nettie Piper, 1st E flat cornet.

Miss Lottie Monteith, 2d E flat cornet. Miss Dollie Hawk, solo B flat cornet. Miss Maggie Foster, 1st B flat cornet.

Miss Eva Paxton, 2d B flat cornet. Mattie Foster, 1st alto. Lulu Clark, 2d alto.

Jennie Clark, 1st B flat tenor. Laura Houk, 2d B flat tenor. Laura Goltra, baritone. Libbie Irvine, tuba. Tiny Monteith, snare drum. Rosa Dannels, bass drum.

Musical Instructor, Prof. C. L. Pierce.

THE MECHANICS' BRASS BAND. Is one of the leading band organizations of the State, and since its formation in May, 1879, has received many compliments on fine appearance and good music.

They have been very successful, and have become quite popular. During the last year they have filled over twenty-five engagements, aggregating some $700.

The Band meets to practice at their rooms over the Willamette Marble Works, which they have fitted up very pleasantly. The membership is as follows:

Leader, Prof. C. L. Pierce, 1st E flat. M. J. Monteith, 2d E flat. Ed. L. Thompson, 1st B flat.

J. L. Goltra, 2d B flat. Wm. Miller, solo alto. Geo. F. Foster, 1st alto. E. W. Langdon, 1st tenor. Theo. Monteith, Jr., 2d tenor. J. F. McCoy, baritone. Frank Wood, tuba.

Wat. Monteith, snare drum. John Oakley, bass drum.

THE ALBANY ORCHESTRA. Is composed of old and skilled musicians, and although only organized last September have built up a good reputation and are receiving frequent calls for their services not only at home but from the surrounding towns. The membership is as follows:

Leader, Frank Davis, 1st violin. Prompter, John Oakley, 2d violin. George Richards, clarinet. C. L. Pierce, cornet. Harry Richards, double-bass.

RESTAURANT. JAMES MADY'S. Restaurant, on the south side of First street, between Ferry and Broadbald, is one of the most popular places in the city—about meal time. It is well known that Mr. Mady is not to be excelled in the excellences and variety of good things he sets before his patrons, and they may come early or late, he is always ready to oblige. Mr. Mady came to Albany in 1876 and opened a small restaurant near the Exchange

Business notices in the Local Columns 20 cents per line. For legal and transient advertisements $1.00 per square, for the first insertion, and 50 cents per square for each subsequent insertion.

General job printers, are located in the Parrish Block, corner of Ferry and First streets. They are doing an extensive business and are prepared to execute all classes of work. They have a fine line of type, two Gordon presses and all the improved facilities for doing first-class work. Both are experienced workmen and thoroughly understand their business. The firm was organized in 1876 and are well known. They are doing the typographical work on the Baptist Beacon and the Musical Postive. Mr. W. H. Mansfield is a native Oregonian and a son of Mr. D. Mansfield, Secretary of the Albany Farmers' Co. Mr. M. S. Monteith came to Oregon when quite young from the State of Illinois but considers himself "allos same" "Washfoot."

One door below Simpson's warehouse, is manufacturing a good line of wooden pumps, very well adapted to the needs of this section. Mr. Furber is thoroughly experienced in the pump business and is the patentee of many improvements in the pumps made by him. He proposes to introduce his pumps here and build up a business in their manufacture. He is originally from the State of Maine and settled in Albany the past year.

Barber, is located on First street, between Ferry and Washington, and has a neat shop. He came to Albany from San Francisco in 1876, and opened business at his present location. He came to this country when young from Prussia. He is doing a fair business.

Barber, has a fine shop on First street, three doors east of the Mechanic's store. He came to Albany from Utah in 1879, and is originally from Tennessee. He is a first-class workman in the tonsorial line, and is open all the time for the accommodation of his customers.

Came to Oregon in 1852 from Illinois. He is doing a general drayage business and owns several heavy trucks. He is also running a wood yard in connection with the business, and handles over one thousand cords of wood yearly.

Came here in 1874 and purchased the express and delivery business of A. N. Arnold. Since that time they have built up a reputation for attention to business and accommodating their patrons that has brought them all the business they can attend to, and they are now running three teams and wagons. They are energetic and enterprising, and attend to everything in the line of carrying and delivering light goods to any part of the city. They came to Albany from Clackamas county, that being their native place.

Is a native of Albany and was engaged extensively in the drayage business for several years. He is now running a dray and ready to accommodate the public in this line.

Came here from Illinois in 1877. He went into the general drayage business in September, 1880, and is running a heavy truck.

Restaurant, on the south side of First street, between Ferry and Broadbald, is one of the most popular places in the city—about meal time. It is well known that Mr. Mady is not to be excelled in the excellences and variety of good things he sets before his patrons, and they may come early or late, he is always ready to oblige.
