

THE PANIC.—The musical concert given last Friday evening for the aid of the sufferers by the recent devastating fires was quite a success. Some $1,200 were realized. A panic which occurred during the audience during the first part of the evening, however, greatly marred the remaining portion of the concert.

RETURNED.—Rev. John Spencer and wife have recently returned from a visit to their old home near Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. Like most Oregonians visiting the States, they found no place they liked so well as the land of big red apples and Webbet.

PLUMMER.—This benevolent humorist gave an entertainment last Monday evening at the Unitarian church in this city in aid of the Wisconsin and Michigan sufferers. The receipts were considerable.

FAIR.—The Washington Co. Fair commenced on Thursday last. Owing to the rains the attendance has not been as full as was expected. "Trials of speed" seem to be the principal feature of the Fair.

THE O. & C. RAILROAD.—The track of the Oregon & California Railroad has been laid eight miles beyond Eugene City, and the work of construction is being pushed rapidly.

PRINTING PRESS.—Mr. A. L. Stinson, proprietor of the Willamette Farmer, has just received a large cylinder Taylor press, and will soon also purchase a complete job office.

LECTURE.—Mrs. J. B. Frost is announced to lecture at the court house in this city to-morrow evening in opposition to Woman Suffrage.

WHEAT SEWING.—Sewing for fall wheat is fast progressing in Linn county. A much greater breadth of land will be sown this fall than last.

EXPECTED.—Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bates are expected here soon to commence an engagement at Oro Fino Theatre.

WEST SIDE RAILROAD.—The West Side Railroad will be completed to Hillsboro in about twenty days.

SPIRITUALIST CAMPMEETING.—A campmeeting of the State Association of Spiritualists was appointed for the 23d and 24th days of Sept. at the grove near Woodburn, but the unavoidable weather of Friday deterred many from starting at the appointed time, and it was not until late Saturday morning that the meeting was organized, by electing D. H. Hendee, of Portland, President, C. A. Reed, of Salem, Vice-President and Harriet K. Eves, Sec'y.

THE HOUR FOLLOWING WAS DEVOTED TO CONFERENCE. Meeting convened at half-past one. After the transaction of business, Mr. Charles Lohmeller, trance speaker, addressed us on the distinction between the duties of the physical man and the spiritual man. He said: "Man's duties pertain to this world, to the advancement of science, art, mechanics and all material interests. The inhabitants of the spirit sphere handle thought, all that pertains to the mind as you handle material things, and their duties are the furtherance of spiritual interests. Together their work is complete and harmonious."

SAD ACCIDENT.—A short time since a youth by the name of Alvin McKnight accidentally shot himself, near Fish Lake, in the Cascade Mountains, where his parents, who were moving to Eastern Oregon, had stopped to camp for the night. The unfortunate youth was endeavoring to draw the tent from the wagon on the purpose of pitching it, when a loaded gun, which had been rolled up in the tent a short time previous, struck against the wagon in such a manner as to go off, discharging its contents in the breast of Alvin. He reeled backward, was caught in his father's arms and laid gently on the ground, when he gasped the words, "Good-bye, mother," and expired. The next morning the stricken family turned their steps in the direction of their old home in Linn county and buried their first-born in the family graveyard at Sand Ridge. Deceased was 18 years and 9 months old. This account is gleaned from the local columns of the Albany Democrat.

STATE FAIR STATISTICS.—The Secretary of the State Agricultural Society, says the Stateman, finds that the result so far shows the receipts to have been $13,925 '08, or an increase over last year of $582 '82. To this is to be added some $200, received on licenses, the exact figures are not remembered, making in all over $800 increase on receipts of 1910. The entrance money was some $150 over 1910, and the license about $200. Who says the Fair was poorly attended?

BLIND SCHOOL.—Certain parties desire to found a school in this State for the blind. All persons who have blind children, and all those who may know of blind persons living in Oregon, are requested to report the same to Miss Nellie Simpson, Salem, Oregon, giving name, Post Office address, age, sex, whether parents are living, whether educated or not, and any other information in regard to such blind persons. It is desired that this information be collected as soon as possible.

REFUSE TO PAY.—The citizens of Eugene who subscribed to bring the railroad to that place now refuse to pay, alleging that Mr. Holladay has broken his contract by erecting machine shops at Junction City instead of Eugene as contemplated, which they say was "instituted in the bond." There is a prospect of litigation about the affair.

MISS ANTHONY'S ADDRESS.—The audience that listened to the able address of Miss Anthony last evening numbered about one hundred persons, among whom were several members of the Legislature. Notwithstanding the fatigue incident to a stage ride over the portage, Miss Anthony spoke with her usual ability and logic, carrying conviction to many minds. Before closing, she introduced to the audience Mrs. Dunlavy, the sprightly address of the New Northwest, who made a few remarks about her paper. Her statement was she began her editorial career by rocking the cradle, that she was the mother of her type-setting sons, and that she had earned the type by her sewing machine, were received with applause. Mr. and Mrs. Dunlavy will accompany Miss Anthony in her tour of the Sound. We hope both ladies will address us again, and that they will put the admission fee within the reach of the masses, for there are few in this community who can afford to pay a dollar for any kind of entertainment.—Olympia Tribune.

EDITORIAL CALL.—We acknowledge the compliment of a call made by Mrs. A. J. Dunlavy, the talented and enterprising address of the NEW NORTHWEST, who accompanied Miss Anthony on her lecturing tour of the Sound. The admirable results of the lady's efforts to establish her journal were set forth in her remarks of Tuesday evening. She said she began the enterprise sixteen years ago, by rocking the cradle, and singing lullabies, to the oldest of the three sons who perform the mechanical labor upon her paper. The type and material were paid for out of the earnings of her own sewing machine, and the editorial labor was performed exclusively by herself. A noble example of the enterprise of American womanhood when emancipated from the thralldom which has hitherto bound her down to the dogmatisms and vanities of life! May it stimulate others to effort, and fit them for the duties which they will soon be called upon to discharge as co-laborers in the great problem of self-government.—Washington Standard, Oct. 21.

MISS ANTHONY'S LECTURE.—At 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, a large and intelligent audience of ladies and gentlemen were in attendance at the Olympia Hall, to listen to the lecture of Miss Susan B. Anthony, the famous, eloquent, learned and logical advocate of woman's right to the ballot. The subject of Miss Anthony's lecture, was the enfranchisement of women. Her arguments were also pointed and logical, her illustrations were forcible and clear, drawn from facts incontrovertible. Miss Anthony's style of argument is systematic and philosophical, her manner dignified and lady-like. It was hard for her to speak as she did for hours and three-quarters, after a stage ride of 90 miles across the country, yet she held her audience spell-bound to the end. It was a rich treat. When she is rested we anticipate a thorough and exhaustive investigation of her commendable and popular theme.—Olympia Echo, Oct. 20.

"Where's your filial gratitude, you naughty boy? What would you have been without your kind father and mother?" "I suppose as how I'd been an orphan, sir."

Mrs. Ida North has been appointed State Librarian of Iowa.

LITERATURE AS A PROFESSION.—We have said elsewhere, that success as an editor is necessary evidence of no transcendent ability. Editing is a profession, a business, and so in any other respect, a qualification for it consists partly indeed in pure force of intellect, but largely in special adaptation of natural qualities, and largely in training. But success in purely literary work is a very different matter. That is attainable only by rare powers, which very few possess. We feel constantly moved to vigorous remonstrance, in seeing young people starting in an almost hopeless attempt to achieve a "literary career."
