

HERE MENTION.

— Nette, of course. Fill up your woodshed. Fall begins next Thursday. Are you going to see Jo-Jo? Plums are now in their prime. Men are now at work shingling the Pacific Hotel. Mr. Latham, of Skokomish, was in town, this week. For Plums at 1 1/2 cents per pound leave orders at Silsby's. Mr. Cheim will leave by Sunday's train for San Francisco. The Puget Sound Pipe Factory is now running on full time. Mr. E. N. Ouimette paid Olympia a short visit, last Wednesday. The Olympia Collegiate Institute will open on Monday, Sept. 5. A son was born to the wife of Mr. R. S. Weston, of this city, yesterday. Born, in this city, yesterday, to the wife of John D. Patterson, a daughter. The ruling ambition of the small boy just now is to be a clown in a circus. Miss Mary O'Neil's school will begin its Fall term in Odd Fellows Hall, Monday. The book Politkofsky took a large boom of logs from the Westside, Sunday evening. The juvenile band will give a concert in Columbia Hall, next Wednesday evening. Bishop Paddock will conduct services in St. John's church next Sunday morning. Mr. Van Epps is now agent for the New Home Sewing Machine, one of the best made. Butter now sells at 60 cents per "short weight" roll, and eggs at 30 cents per dozen. Mr. E. T. Young has been making some notable improvements to his residence on Westside. Little May Weston fell down stairs, yesterday, and sustained some very severe bruises about the head. The mothers of young children are considerably exercised on account of the scarlet fever in town. Mr. R. G. O'Brien is making arrangements to place twenty acres of his farm near Olympia in hops. The little steamer Cello brought up a large scow-load of hemlock bark, last Sunday, for the Tumwater tannery. A large number of Olympians are preparing to visit the Mechanics' Fair in Portland, to come off in October. The happiest man in town, this week, was a festive chap who went through a dish of oysters at the Gem Chop House. The arrival of the train was delayed till 10 o'clock Monday evening, by an obstruction on the track, near Tenino, of a fallen tree. Another elegant bay-window has appeared on the Eastside, and it is the latest attachment to the residence of Mrs. L. M. Clark. The walls of Mayor Chambers' brick building are nearly completed, and Mr. Woodcraft's are up to the windows of the second story. Mr. A. B. Rabbeson is temporarily in charge of the Eastside sawmill, pending the adjustment of some of the affairs of the company. Capt. Gil Parker is now in command of the steamer Emma Hayward, a just recognition of his skill and reliability as a navigator. Mrs. T. F. McEroy left last Saturday for a trip East, to visit her sister, at Pittsfield, Illinois. She will be absent about three months. Miss Lucia Mason, one of the publishers of the New Northwest, has been in the city the past few days, on business connected with that paper. Mr. H. E. Shields has assumed the office of Receiver of Public Moneys, releasing Maj. Hayden. Mr. S. is a true Democrat and will make a good officer. Harry J. Russell, the gentlemanly clerk of the famous Merchant Hotel, Portland, was on a brief "outing" the past week, and paid the Capital city a visit. The Fleetwood has resumed her daily round-trip schedule, and leaves considerably earlier in the morning, 5:30, and arrives about eight in the evening. The steamer Messenger took a picnic party down to Doffemeyer's Point, last Thursday morning, and the Fleetwood brought the excursionists back to town, in the evening. Nearly everybody, it seems, has a baby or two who want to see the circus, and the parents will have to go, of course, to see that they are not eaten up by the wild animals. The Street Commissioner finds difficulty in finding laborers to prosecute the street work. The price paid is $2 per day, which rate has hitherto commanded all the help needed. The City Council will hold an adjourned meeting next Wednesday evening, to revise the assessment roll and prepare an estimate of expenses for the next year, as a basis for a tax levy. Mr. G. Kaufman left for San Francisco, Wednesday, to be present at the baptism of the first son of Mr. Ferd. Toklas, a brother of Mrs. Kaufman and our townman, J. W. Toklas. Remember that you can obtain round-trip tickets of the steamer Messenger, good for ten days, for the passage between Olympia, Tacoma and Shelton, and— the price remains at one dollar. Among the arrivals in this city the past week was Dr. Hamilton Garretson, a noted Chicago dentist, who we understood is introducing a new form of Dental plate, known as the Eureka Artificial Denture. A large supply of school books and school supplies received at C'Conner's, Main street. The vote for a special school tax levy of $1,600, last Saturday, was a mere form, their being evidently little or no opposition to the proposition. Only ten votes were polled—eight being for and two against the tax. The cost of several of the prime necessities of life are unusually inflated at this time. Flour sells at $6 per barrel, bacon at from 14 to 16 cents, butter at 60 cents per "short weight" roll, and coffee at 33 1/2 cents per pound. Editor Johnson, of the Walla Walla Union, notes that the brick buildings now in process of construction have a frontage in Olympia of 102 feet, in Seattle of 140, and Tacoma of 620. It seems that we are not far behind Seattle, by this rule of measurement. The STANDARD is pleased to note that Frank Turpin has received the appointment of Clerk in the Receiver's Office. Frank combines the qualifications of clerical skill with those of soundest of political views, and his appointment will, we believe, give the best of satisfaction. Barrett's circus is transported over the country in 27 cars from 50 to 60 feet in length, making two or three of ordinary-length trains. It has two advertising cars that go in advance, carrying 18 men, whose business, like that of St. John, is to merely tell of the greater wonder that is coming. Mr. John F. Doyle, of Washington, D. C., one of the Secretaries of the Civil Service Commission, arrived here Monday, to enter upon the list for clerical positions such aspirants as choose to pass the ordeal of examination. Nobody responded, which is an indication that we have very few office-seekers in the community. M. O'CONNOR has determined to close out his stock of New Home sewing machines at cost. Call and see him before buying elsewhere. One of the finest pieces of home manufactured cabinet work to be seen in Olympia, is a secretary and case of drawers just completed by Mr. J. R. Wood, of this city, for Governor Sample. It is composed wholly of native woods and finished in imitation of rosewood in a style that would elicit the admiration of a connoisseur. The man David O'Grady, whose leg was amputated, last Monday by Dr. Riley, died on Tuesday, having survived the painful operation only about eight hours. The funeral took place, yesterday morning, at the Hospital, under the auspices of the Sisters of Charity. It will be remembered that Mr. O'Grady was severely injured while at work on the Satsop railroad. The electric light is growing in popular favor, and many of our business men have determined to introduce it, soon as the long nights render efficient means of illumination a necessity. Arc lights have been placed in McKenny's drug store, Frank Dickerson's saloon, the Grotto saloon, and the Schooner Beer Hall. The incandescent system has been tried in the Gold Bar Restaurant and gives satisfaction. A new joint stock company will assume control of the Occidental Hotel in Seattle, the first of September, and they have secured the services of Mr. A. D. Whitney, of this city, to act as chief manager. As a hotel expert, Mr. Whitney has not a superior on the Pacific Coast, and we bespeak for the Occidental a wide popularity from the day of its new opening. The Carlton House, of this city, will continue as heretofore, under its present management. Why do you buy sewing machines of strangers when you can buy Talcott Bros as cheap, if not cheaper, and pay for them in installments of 45 per month, or get a liberal discount for cash? They will take your old machine in part payment, and warrant every machine sold for five years. The circus company have opened a veritable picture-gallery on the plaza and several of the principal streets. A stand on the square is covered with over 2,500 square feet of bright colored pictures illustrating the wonderful performances of riders and acrobats, while strange-looking animals are portrayed in a manner that gives the beholder an exalted opinion of the manager who accompanies the circus. It is quite a "show" in itself, and has set young America fleetly wild with anticipation of the joys to come. By presence of mind and prompt action, a life was saved at Tenino, last Wednesday. When the evening train arrived from Portland, Mr. J. Davis, of Seattle, a passenger bound to this city, had been as it seems asleep just previous to the arrival of the train at Tenino. Having been suddenly aroused, however, after the train had begun to move, he rushed out of a car in a partial daze and on reaching the platform by some unaccountable mismanagement fell between the cars, landing at full length crosswise upon the track. Of course the bystanders expected in a moment more to see a mass of mangled and bleeding humanity. But, exactly in the nick of time, Mr. S. F. Elemeesser, a gentleman hailing from Whiting, Kansas, also an Olympia-bound passenger, sprang between the revolving wheels, seized Mr. Davis, and by dint of almost superhuman strength and wonderful tact pulled him out of harm's way, while the wheels were rubbing against them. Both gentlemen came in to this city by the evening train, and as they registered their names at the Carlton House, it would have been difficult for a close observer to determine which was the happier man.

OLYMPIA COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE. ANNOUNCEMENT FOR 1887-8—CALENDAR. First Term begins September 5th, 1887. Second Term begins November 14th, 1887. Third Term begins January 30th, 1888. Fourth Term begins April 9th, 1888. Commencement June 15th, 1888. All legal holidays given and one week at Christmas. NORMAL AND SCIENTIFIC. The Normal and Scientific departments are under the charge of L. K. Follenberg, A. M., the Normal course will prepare teachers for the work of the ungraded and graded school, the High School or Academy. The course of study is to be thoroughly and systematically taught and methods of teaching constitute the prominent feature of the professional work. The sciences of Education and the Art of Teaching, lectures on Moral and Mental sciences, and full discussion in the class, will be presented each term. The Scientific course will be practical and thorough with apparatus for illustration. The Classical course will continue under the charge of L. P. Venen, A. M., an old and tried teacher. Mr. Venen will also bear classes in the Higher Mathematics. Mrs. S. M. E. Jones, the well known and successful musician, will have entire supervision of the Musical Department. Instructions given, during the day, in the reading of both Instrumental and Vocal music on either Piano or Organ. Mrs. Jones is an efficient teacher of French, and instructions will be given in this language, if desired. Miss Lillian Menzies, a competent teacher, will have charge of the Grammar Department. COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT. This Department is under the management of Prof. J. L. Henderson, a well known accountant, and a teacher of fifteen years' experience. It is the design to make this one of the best business schools in the territory. A room is specially fitted up, with necessary furniture and other appliances, where theory and practice can be thoroughly instilled. Prominent features will be a bank with all appliances for practical instruction in banking and a series of lectures on Commercial Law by prominent members of the Bar. The object is to make the work practical and to fulfill everything advertised. Other instructions will be employed if found necessary. TUITION AND BOARD. Tuition is due at the date of entrance, and is charged from that date to the close of term, and payable in advance, unless by special arrangement. Tuition due students is transferable, but money will not be refunded. It must be borne in mind that irregular attendance is a loss to the student, as no deduction will be made for less than month's continuous absence and that only in case of protracted sickness. It is expected that patrons will comply cheerfully with these requirements. GRADE SCHOOL... $ 6.00 ACADEMIC... 5 00 NORMAL... 9 00 COMMERCIAL... 10 00 Instrumental and Vocal Music, French and German extra. The best of board can be had in private families, including fuel and lights, $3 00 to $5 00 per week. Students can rent rooms at a very low rate, and board themselves at a much lower figure. Those who wish to board themselves or rent rooms should communicate with the Principals who will gladly make the desired arrangements. Principal J. L. Henderson will accommodate in his own family a limited number of young men, board and washing at $3 00 per week. A boarding house will be provided for young ladies under the charge of a suitable Christian lady as matron. Board and washing $3 00 per week. A good gymnasium and reading room will be provided. Send to the Principals for special circulars and information. CHARACTER OF SCHOOL. The School is under the special patronage of the M. E. Church but its teaching are absolutely free from anything of sectarian nature. If any further information is desired, personal correspondence is solicited. C. ALDRIDGE. R. B. HOY. NEW FIRM AND NEW PRICES. We won't be beat in anything in the line of GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS. New Goods arriving by every Grain and Steamer. Call and See for Yourself.
