What Wall Street Thinks of the Poor Man He Has too Many Privileges, too Many Excursions and Lives too Well. Rice is Good Enough for Him - Pie too Rich for His Blood.

The following letter, says the Denver Evening Post is so remarkable in its utter absence of real Americanism, and even of humanity, that it would be considered a forgery were it not for the character of the man to whom it is addressed and who authorized its publication.

No. 11 Wall Street, New York, August 19, 1896.—To Hon. R. C. Bell, Ft. Wayne, Ind.—Dear Sir: The committee of political education of Wall Street, this city, to which the undersigned has the honor to belong, having determined that each member should write personally to at least one or more prominent party leaders of the silver cause, your name has been handed to me.

We whose business it is to study finances and are therefore capable of determining such questions, know there is at this time too much money. Millions are now ready in this city to be loaned on call, with good collateral, such as government gold bonds, where it is really needed, at remunerative rates.

But what do you working men say? If they cannot get a dollar a day they refuse to work, while they ought to take 75 cents or 50 cents so that we may keep them at work. You ought to teach them that $1 per day on a gold basis is enormous pay in this country; no gold country pays more than 50 cents for labor, while here living is the cheapest of all countries, providing the lower classes will live as they should live.

They are really extravagant; they buy meat four or five days in the week; they even indulge often in pie, which is no kind of food to be enjoyed by working people and does them no good.

Mr. Hanna, if he wins the election (and all intelligent men of the East hope and believe he will) will certainly inaugurate a much better system for the lower classes. He will try to take the money question and tariff out of politics, which should have been done long since.

The Socialist Labor Party of San Francisco have adopted a plan for averting difficulty with the police, similar to that of the Brahmin devotee who stamps his prayer on papyrus and hangs it to the bed-post with a supreme confidence that his deity will regard the silent petition with all the consideration of verbal prayer.

There is one thing that is sillier than another it is for candidates for positions requiring only clerical ability or whose duties are perfunctory in their nature taking the stump to display their profound ignorance upon the fundamental principles of the great issue now before the people.

For my part, says Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, "I do not ask any interference on the part of the government except to undo the wrong it has done. I do not ask that my money be made out of nothing, nor do I expect that property may be born out of paper, but I do ask for the re-education of silver. Silver was demonetized by fraud. It was an imposition upon every solvent man, a fraud upon every honest debtor in the United States. It assassinated labor. It was done in the interest of avarice and greed, and should be undone by honest men."

JAMES HAMILTON LEWIS says that there are not over 500 Jack Republicans in the State, and as he has had means of very general observation his opinion is of considerable weight.

increased. In talking with Mr. Hanna recently he said he would need 25,000,000 of dollars from our city before the polls closed in November, caused by such men as you and Mr. Bryan, but we think that if treble the amount is really needed, our generous people will supply it to keep the ignorant people from committing political suicide.

Everyone at the last meeting when Mr. Hanna was here agreed to stand by him. Our newspapers are loyal to the people; they are terribly mad, however, at Mr. Bryan for his speech at Madison Square garden, and we should not be surprised if some of them indulged in violent language should Mr. Bryan speak here again.

The lower bridge at Tumwater is closed to travel pending repairs. Dr. A. B. Woodard will occupy the residence of Geo. A. Barnes this winter. Mrs. Hugh Ross has returned from a visit to her parents in Ontario, Canada.

Gottfeldt & Bennett launched their new fishing-sloop last night. It is 38 feet long and 11 feet 10 inches wide. Rev. R. H. Massey of Tumwater, is moving his household effects to La Connor, his new field of ministerial duty.

Savage & Schofield, of this city, have received a $11,000 contract for Government work on the harbor at Everett.

The next steamer sailing for San Francisco is the City of Puebla, Thursday. The same date the Walla Walla is due at Seattle. The weather prophet in Portland has uttered the following oracular observation: "To-night fair and Saturday fair and warmer."

The Northern Pacific carried passengers to-day to the Portland Exposition for $4.50 round trip, including two admissions to the fair. Mrs. M. Mitchell, of Howell, Mich., mother of Mrs. Ida Smith and Mrs. Aggie Price, arrived this week for a protracted visit to her daughters.

A four-masted schooner, the Bangor, Capt. Aspe, is loading lumber at the Westside mill for Mexico. She will carry a mixed cargo of about 700,000 feet.

Capt. Hatch and family have returned from their visit to New York accompanied by Miss Trowbridge, of that city, who will remain several weeks on a visit.

Dr. Adams, formerly of this city, now of Stanwood, slipped and fell breaking his leg, on Davis Slough bridge, while returning from Utsalady, Sunday morning. At the Bryan-Rogers Central Silver Club Rooms, on Tuesday evening, Guvnor Teats, of Tacoma, will address the public. A special invitation is extended to the ladies.

L. M. Hall has just received a large shipment of the celebrated air-tight heaters of all sizes and invites the public to call at his hardware store on Fourth street and see them and get his prices.

The outgoing passengers this week have, over the Union Pacific, Henry Anderson, Orway, Col., and Miss Kate Parham, Atlantic, Iowa; by the P. C. S. S. Co. Miss Foster, San Francisco.

The Olympian is quoting the opinion of the Benedict Arnold, printed at Bucoda, regarding the Republican county ticket. That is enough to damn it, if it had not been born under a curse.

Rev. J. R. Chaplin spoke in the Bryan headquarters Saturday night. He has just returned from a long sojourn in the East and gives glowing reports of the prospects of triumph for Bryan and Silver.

Last Saturday night, in McLane precinct at Mud Bay, a Bryan and Rogers Club was organized with a membership of forty-nine and still more to come. J. M. Newsum was elected President and J. H. Dyne Secretary. Prof. Miller and Hon. T. J. Miller spoke, and as usual Mud Bay's "little banty" had to crow, but when Prof. Miller answered his question Mr. Robertson drew in his neck, and subsided.

Two bids were submitted for Olympia harbor improvements at Seattle Saturday; one by the Bowers Dredging Company at 19c per cubic yard, and the other by the New York Dredging Company at 22c per yard. As the estimated improvement consists in moving 150,000 yards of earth, the bid of the former amounts to $29,250 and the latter $19,312.50. The bids have been transmitted to the Department at Washington for award.

Political Speaking. The following dates have been named by the People's Party Campaign Committee, for meetings at the various places mentioned for the discussion of the political issues of this important campaign. It is conceded by all parties that more importance attaches to a thorough understanding of the political situation this fall than at any presidential election that has occurred since 1860.

A. H. Chambers has the prize black-berry vine on his place on upper Main street near Judge Anders' residence. The vine is of the evergreen variety and covers about fifteen feet of ground. So far this year, ten gallons of berries have been taken from the vine and "put up," and in addition, $10 worth have been sold and it is estimated that as many more remain on the vine. If any one can show a greater profit than this off of 15 feet of ground in fruit raising, he is invited to trot in his record.—Olympian.

The Jack Republicans met at the Olympia Hotel Saturday and elected themselves delegates to the Tacoma Convention, which meets in that city on the 26th inst. The list is as follows: E. Morsbach, Geo. B. Mason of Bucoda; A. E. Young and J. B. Flynn of Little Rock; J. H. Norris, Edmund Rice, T. N. Allen, A. J. Gillis, W. P. Watson and L. B. Faulkner. The involuntary exclamation of the boy when shown the triplets that had just taken up their domicile in the family crib, "Did any get away?" comes to the mind when we reflect upon the largeness of the representation in proportion to the smallness of the "party" that names them.

The Republicans held the only large meeting of their campaign, Friday night, in Olympia Theater. It was addressed by Herman Craven, of Tacoma, and Harry Wilson of Spokane, with Mrs. Worthington as a finality, and some of the listeners regarded the effort as like the juvenile appetite turns to, the last course, desert, as the best of the whole. Mr. Craven's remarks were orthodox stock-in-trade goldbug arguments, every one of which had been duly sampled, inspected and branded by his hearers, and Mr. Wilson might have kept the attention of his auditors better had he not endeavored to show self-possession by continually walking to-and-fro, which on the contrary betrayed self-consciousness. His discourse was to some extent a repetition of the ideas of the former speaker. The glee club was the best part of the performance; their melody was excellent but their selection of songs perfectly execrable.

What's the matter with mankind? Within the past week two men have been tried before our local Justices for assault and battery of women. Martin Lathrop of South Union was last Saturday fined $15 and costs amounting to all $46 for assaulting Mrs. Lisk with an ax, in a dispute of right of way over a disputed highway, and Chas. Balletti, of Tenino, has been tried for like offense on Mrs. Minerva Enfield of the same hamlet. Mrs. Enfield was the mother-in-law of the defendant and a bar to conviction. Hence a man can beat his wife, or a brother his sister, with impunity, the offense being characterized by the Judge as a "family row." In this instance it was a mother-in-law who was the victim, but the brutality was justified by the above ruling.

WALK!—D—N—Y—U—W—K!—Harry Wilson has been dubbed "The Walking-Man of the Republican Party," since his remarkable debut at Olympia Theater, Friday night. He must have walked at least twenty miles during the delivery of his fiery harangue, arousing the query with those who have read De Vere's character poem of the tramp "Walk, damn you, walk," as to whether or not Harry was not indicating a similar self-imposed penance. De Vere's tramp had made a fortune by hard labor in the camp and spent it in riotous living amid the gilded throng. It was when he set out on his tie-passage trip East, he is supposed to recognize as the poet has reduced to numbers. Each verse is a review of some gleam of good fortune, ending with self-abasement for having thrown away the benefits bestowed by beneficent providence and the penitential admonition "Walk, damn you, walk!" Whether there was a similar chestnut bur under the crupper of Harry Wilson or not which accelerated his motions, certain it is that the rear of his pants cut "bullet patches," all during his interminably dreary passage over the Sahara of mental stagnation.

A CORDIAL WELCOME.—Olympia is a pretty "tough" place for goldbugs. The other day Wm. Callow, Republican member of the last Legislature, came to our city, and he had no sooner landed than he was surrounded by numerous friends he has here, despite his politics. There were by count 23 members of the "triple alliance," many of them former co-laborers of Mr. C., and they were very naturally wanted to know why he had not been true to his professions and actions in State Convention and Legislature, instead of following his party into the wilderness. The questions came from all sides and with such persistence that finally the victim threw up his hands with the exclamation: "Great heavens! Stop. I came to Olympia for rest—I have not found it! And, boys, it's the same in my own county."
