

A HORRIBLE DEED.

A PRISONER LYNCHED AT COL-FAX, WASH.

Terrible Struggle by one of the Men—Taken From Jail at Mid-night—Marshall Hanged by Masked Men to the Wall of the Court House.

A Colfax dispatch of the 8th inst. states:

Chadwick Marshall, the suspected murderer of young Hayden, near Farmington, October 22d, was taken from jail by a mob at 12 o'clock midnight and hanged to the west wall of the court house.

Yesterday there was a suspicion that a mob was collecting, but the officers made no preparations to resist it. The train from Spokane last night arrived just after midnight. A few minutes afterwards the prisoners in jail saw a body of masked men march on Mill street east of the jail.

Jailer Treff, who was the only officer about the court house, was awakened and notified that an officer wanted a prisoner locked up. He dressed and came out and was then confronted by masked men, with drawn revolvers.

Treff was informed that the mob wanted to hang "Blackeye" Marshall and "Dakota Slim" McDonald, and demanded that Treff give up the jail keys.

The officer was led to the Sheriff's office, got the keys and gave them to his captors. Twelve of the mob then entered the jail, taking Treff with them.

At first the mob went into the woman's wing, where "Dakota Slim" was confined. "Slim" protested his innocence, and said, "Take 'Blackeye,' who admits his guilt, and if he implicates me I will go."

The mob thought this a fair proposition and went into the east wing of the jail where the Blackeye cell was unlocked. He had only time to say, "Don't hurt me; before God I am innocent," when one of the mob struck him a heavy blow over the head with an iron bar, stunning him.

A rope was then fastened around his neck and he was dragged out of the jail and up the narrow stairs to the Superior Court room to a double window, where a rope was tied around a standard between the windows.

Blackeye's body was then pitched out head foremost and left dangling at the end of an eight-foot rope against the court-house wall in plain view of people on the main street.

While this was being done, part of the mob went to "Dakota Slim's" cell again.

During their absence, the prisoner had stuffed the keyhole of the cell door with rags and fastened a sharp knife on the end of a broomstick. With this spear he kept jabbing through the barred door of his cell, thus preventing any one from approaching the door to pick the rags out of the keyhole.

His cell had two doors, the inner one being of solid steel, and behind this he protected his body. Finally one of the mob, catching a glimpse of Slim's shoulders, fired a shot at him. The bullet passed through his sleeve, struck the wall and rebounded, striking him on the breast.

He fell to the floor exclaiming, "My God they have killed me." One of the mob was heard to say, "Let's be sure we've killed him." Another said, "Let's give him another shot and finish him."

Finally they decided that Slim was dead, and left. His wound, however, is not serious.

The mob was at the jail less than 10 minutes, and the jailer's family, who occupied rooms directly beneath the jail, did not know of any disturbance until "Blackeye's" body was taken down an hour later.

REGISTER YOUR LETTERS.

Drop Them in the Slot and the Machine Does the Rest.

A slot machine which takes the place of the registered letter clerk is now being given a trial by the postal authorities. Three of the machines have been placed in New York, and if it is found that they will do the work successfully the machine will be adopted as a regular adjunct to the postoffice system all over the country.

It costs 8 cents besides the regular 2 cent postage to register a letter, and the slot machine offers no cut rate. To work the machine you first drop a dime into the spout at the upper right hand side. It must be a United States silver coin in good condition.

If the coin is all right, a square iron cover on the top flies up automatically, and the machine is open for business. The cover reveals a ruled form of paper on which you write the name and address of the person to whom you wish to send the letter; also your own name and address. Then you find a small lever at the upper right hand side of the machine. When you press this back, the letter slot is opened and you drop in your letter. Next you grab the handle of the big lever at the right and force it back until a bell rings. As you do this the iron cover closes and locks over the writing roll. Now you jerk the big lever forward until the bell rings again. As you do this a duplicate of your writing, on a separate slip of paper, is shoved out at the left hand side, and on this are printed the postoffice date mark, the serial number of the letter and the postmaster's signature. This is your receipt. Your original writing remains in the box until the letters

The Beauty of Health

Features don't matter so much. Most any features will do if the complexion is clear, the eyes bright and the lips rosy. Healthy, healthy wholesomeness is better than mere beauty of features. A face full of the glow of good health—full of the kindliness and good humor that health brings, is bound to be an attractive face—a face that will make friends. The face tells the story of the whole body. "Murder will out"—and so will "female weakness" and nervousness and other disorders peculiar to women.

If there is a drain on the system and strength, the record of it will show in the face. If there is nerve nagging—"bearing-down" pains, dragging and pulling at the most sensitive organs in a woman's body, the face will show it. Abundant, deep, draw lines of care and worry on the face. Nervous prostration writes its warning on the face long before it comes. Sleeplessness, nervousness and debilitating drains make more wrinkles than age.

Nine-tenths of the sickness of women comes from some derangement of organs distinctly feminine. Nine-tenths of this sickness can be cured and avoided by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. There is nothing miraculous about it. "Favorite Prescription"—nothing supernatural.

It is the result of rational thought and study applied to medicine. It has been prescribed by Dr. Pierce for over 30 years. It has made thousands of women healthy and happy, and has brought joy to thousands of homes and in "female weakness" it acts directly and strongly in healing and strengthening the parts that are most severely tried. It clears out impurities and promotes regularity at all times.

are removed, and then it goes with them. That is all there is to the process. In order that the collector may not have an opportunity to tamper with the registered mail, the machine is fitted with a hopper at the bottom over the opening of which is fastened a patent mail bag. This bag cannot be removed until it is locked and cannot be opened until it reaches the postoffice. The dimes fall into a brass cylinder in the order in which they were deposited, so that the postoffice people, if they find a bad dime, can tell at once by running over the written slips just who put it there and hold his letter until he produces a good coin.

IMPROVED METHOD OF LOGGING Shelton Journal.

A new machine has just been constructed in the Pennington machine shops for S. G. Simpson & Co., which is considered as big an improvement over the horse-team and donkey engine as those improvements were ahead of the ox-team of early logging days. Although the oxen have disappeared, except in a few small logging camps, the horse and "donkey" will continue to find employment, and will have their uses in connection with the new machine. For some time past S. G. Simpson has been experimenting with a grip-wheel, which was invented by Mr. Bird, a Seattle engineer, in the hauling of logs. Finally the proper application of the idea was made on a car, using a stationary cable, and the machine has been doing good work for some months past in Griddale's camp, near Matlock. The machine which has just been completed has been designed specially throughout and is a fine piece of work.

The boiler, which is of fifty horsepower, is mounted with the engines and wheel on a solid bed, which is placed on a specialty built car of extra strength. The boiler and engines are similar to the ordinary logging donkey, but more powerful. The improvement consists of the grip-wheel which is mounted on a solid axle, with the grips on its outer surface, which are controlled by an eccentric set to the axle. The wheel revolves upon the axle, and as the car is pulling itself backward or forward, five of the grips on the under portion of the wheel clutch the cable, while all those on the lower part of the wheel are automatically released, allowing the cable to drop. As the cable is fastened at either end of the route, it remains stationary, and the car with its turn of logs in tow, literally pulls its way along, "hand-over-hand."

It is expected that the "Walking Dudley" as the new machine has been nicknamed, will handle a load of six to 8,000 feet of logs and move about eight miles an hour. Its haul is only limited to the length of the cable, and any kind of a track will do. Little grading is required, the rails being laid over ties or skids as is convenient, and the logs hauled on them between the rails without further preparation. In Simpson's camp the machine will be used to handle the haul of one or more donkeys hauling from their landings to the roll-way on the railroad tracks.

The iron work was made in Seattle, but the woodwork was done here by F. D. Grout, who has another one of the machines nearly completed. They cost about $3,000 each and are to be used in Jos. Simpson's camp, where they are already completed was taken Tuesday.

Our Fisheries. Jud. Todd, the Union City merchant, informs the Mason county Journal that the fishing industry on the Canal has now reached such proportions that nearly all the residents are engaged in it, and the business is the source of their principal revenue. Salmon of some kind are running in the Canal all through the year, besides all the salt-water fish in these waters, and there is a good demand for all the fish that can be secured, many of which are shipped to the Atlantic coast in refrigerator cars and command a fancy price. Spring salmon, which are considered the best fish we have, brings the fishermen four cents a pound, and probably sells as high as fifty cents in New York. Rock cod, ling cod, flounders, sole, perch, crabs, and even the cat fish, find ready sale, and as high as 1,500 shipped by Todd & Co., from Union City, in a single day. The fishing industry should be fostered by legislation, as it will probably become our most profitable industry. We believe that we have several sources of revenue in prospect that will soon become more direct benefit to the communities than the lumbering, and a fortune awaits those who take hold of them intelligently.

Steamed Pudding. Here is a recipe for a pudding that has been tested with the best of results. Try it: One egg, one small cupful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, butter size of an egg, one cupful of milk, flour to make as thick as cake. Steam two hours. Eat with hard sauce made of one tablespoonful of boiling water, butter size of an egg, six tablespoonfuls of pulverized sugar; beat well, flavor with nutmeg.

It is the army of pension agents greedy for fees and commissions that have made the trouble. They are constantly studying out new devices for getting at the nation's coin. One of the latest is the issuance of circulars urging veterans to put in claims on their clothing account during the war. Simon Hasebach, of Lyons, N. Y., received of these temptations, and promptly sent in his claim. He has just been informed that an examination shows that his clothing account was over-drawn $40 and this will be balanced by stopping his $8 pension for five months.

One man in Western Washington reports that he received $24.16 from a Walnut tree ten years old. Another in Oregon sold from three trees nine years old, $12.95 worth of nuts. Walnuts can be grown successfully on any ground that will grow good potatoes. Filberts and hazelnuts do well and would richly repay a trouble caused in setting out and caring for them.
