It is after the pilgrimage of prominent Republicans in every city and town of the United States and Canada, that he never before in his 25 years practice has the work of the office been so well up to date. The Beach & Bowers' minstrels, which appear at Olympia Theater, to-morrow night, rate higher than any black-cork combination that has appeared at Olympia Theater since the Thatcher and the Cleveland combinations in the palmy days of '91. The present attraction is large enough to render a diversified programme and to give volume to the choruses, and has attained a reputation which places all on their metal to exemplify and maintain. They play here at what they call "popular prices"—75 cents being the highest. Their rates in the larger cities invariably run as high as $1 for choice seats. Watch for the parade Saturday at 11:20, unless it be, at that time, raining "pitchforks."

A Tribute to a Comrade.

ED. STANDARD:

I ask space in the columns of your paper to pay my tribute to the lamented General McKenny. He was my comrade in arms during the civil war. We were together in the memorable campaign of '62 when the concentrated forces of Van Dorn, Price and McCulloch were driven from Missouri and Arkansas. I never heard of his shirking a duty, which is credit enough for any man. In his death Thurston county has lost one of its best and noblest citizens.

Arthur Huey, a Walla Walla youth, left home July 29th and has not been heard from since. He started to work in a harvest field in Union or Umatilla county, Oregon, but, as his parents can learn nothing of him, they fear he has been foully dealt with. He had been a Salvation Army drummer, and was fond of music. He was 5 feet tall, had dark hair, brown eyes, round face, and walked with a limp. His father, Nathan Huey, is anxious to learn the boy's fate.

SCRAMBLE FOR PIE.

Imperialistic Ideas Still Expanding—Loss of the Charleston Argments the Cost of War for Imperialism—Teddy Now Pushed for the Second Place on the Republican National Ticket—The Administration Dicker With Aguinaldo—Dewey Tells the Truth About Otis—The Political Outlook.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17, 1899.

Republican members of the House are scrambling as eagerly as though the big prize—the Speakership—had not been awarded months ago. The chairmanships of committees and the patronage of the House are the prizes for which they are now struggling. Cannon and Hitt, both of Illinois, have been assured of retaining their places at the head of the Appropriation and Foreign committees; consequently there is no fight upon either of them, not because the selections are acquiesced in but because they know that fighting will be useless. The biggest fight is over the chairmanship of the Ways and Means committee, which carries with it the floor leadership of the party. Payne, of New York, was chairman of that committee, after the death of Mr. Dingley, in the last House, and he claims it again.

But several other members, including Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, and Hopkins, of Illinois, think they have equal claims, and as Mr. Payne is not over popular with members they are getting strong backing. The fact that Illinois is already booked for two big chairmanships will probably operate against Hopkins. A big shake-up is likely in the membership of the committee on Banking and Currency, which was packed by Reed for the special purpose of preventing its reporting a financial bill. In this House it is to be packed for the purpose of reporting a financial bill, one declaring for the single gold standard, to which Mr. Henderson is thoroughly committed. The job of reorganizing the committee was made easy for Mr. Henderson by the failure of some of its most prominent members, including its chairman—"Jee" Walker, of Massachusetts—to return to the House. The old Reed officers of the House are all fighting for reelection.

The latest imperialistic dream includes a combination between this government, Great Britain, and Germany, for the purpose of dominating the commerce and preserving the peace of the world. Some believe that this combination has already been partially made.

The cruiser Charleston, wrecked off the coast of the island of Luzon, although one of the oldest ships of our new navy, was worth more than half a million dollars, and that sum may now be added to the large and rapidly growing amount that this country is paying for imperialism.

What readers of this paper have known for some time—that Boss Platt was scheming to get Gov. "Teddy" Roosevelt on the ticket with Mr. McKinley next year—is beginning to be fully understood by friends of other party managers wished him to run for the Vice Presidency he would accept. Humphrey, of course, he would accept, and be almighty glad of the opportunity, too.

According to what seems to be trustworthy information, the administration is secretly dicker with Aguinaldo. It is said that Gen. Otis was instructed to open communication with Aguinaldo and submit certain propositions to this government to him, and that Otis replied that he had forwarded the dispatches to Gen. MacArthur, with instructions that he should accept, if he could find him. Not a word of information as to the nature of the propositions submitted to Aguinaldo, or rather which this government is trying to submit to him, can be had in official circles, further than a statement that they relate to Spanish prisoners.

Why the preliminary report of the Philippine Commission, which was forced by Mr. McKinley for use in Ohio, did not throw any bonquets at Gen. Otis has been ascertained. Admiral Dewey put his foot down on the report containing a single sentence of praise for Otis. And that isn't all that has become known. Admiral Dewey, while declining to criticize Otis, told Mr. McKinley that if the American army had been commanded by the right sort of an officer there would have been no war with the Filipinos. That is said to have been the principal reason for curailing the authority of Otis, by fixing it so that Gen. MacArthur, Lawton and Wheeler would be left free to fight the troops under their own way during the present campaign against Aguinaldo.

Very few Democratic Senators and Representatives have yet reached Washington, for the session of Congress shortly to open. But those who have been in Washington since the State elections have all been disposed to regard the outlook for Democratic success next year as decidedly favorable. With a majority of votes in the President's own State, where vast sums of money were used against his party's candidate, they do not even regard that State as sure to go for McKinley. It is, they believe, merely a question of uniting the anti-Republican vote to elect the next President, and the Republican Congress may assist materially in doing that.
