Geo. A. Barnes has been confined to his home with a severe cold the past week.

The city schools resumed their studies Monday, after a holiday vacation of a fortnight.

The next steamship leaving the Sound for Alaskan ports will be the Alki, Monday.

The steamer Aberdeen omitted her trip Wednesday, owing to a break in her machinery.

The Universal Brotherhood is giving a series of card parties in their hall in Reed block, this winter.

A large scow is now on the ways at the shipyard on First street, with John Hager as master ship-builder.

The Black Hills logging train has resumed its service of dumping "sticks" in the Westside boom.

The weather prognostication for the next twenty-four hours is: "Occasional rains; brisk to high southern winds."

Monday was the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, as well as the birthday of the junior proprietor of the STANDARD.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Springer of Seattle, last week. The parents formerly resided in this city.

Thomas ("Bud") Jones was married on New Year's day, at Clear Lake, in Skagit county, to Miss Phoebe Bartel, of that place.

Harry Wetherall has purchased a strip of tide-land about half a mile long, fronting his oyster beds in Oyster Bay, paying for it $225.

A public installation of the officers of Olympia Camp No. 5247 Modern Woodmen of America will be held Tuesday evening.

P. Sturdivant has returned from the Arkansas Hot Springs, where he spent two months to boil rheumatic pains out of his bones. He thinks that he has been permanently benefited by the treatment.

fact that he was the leader of the Capital City Military Band, an organization he has brought to a surprising degree of proficiency in a very short time.

Two cases in which the city is defendant are before the Superior court—Hedden vs. Blake and Strathairn vs. Blake, the defendant in both cases being the City Treasurer. The suit is for an order to restrain the Treasurer from transferring money from the bond interest fund to other funds to replace money borrowed from said funds to pay the interest on bonds after that fund had been exhausted. The position taken by the Citylock's attorneys is that money can be transferred to the bond interest fund but cannot be re-transferred from it to replace the loan.

Dr. Broednicht, of Tacoma, spent several days in Olympia, and seems to have been an easy bird to pluck while under the influence of the "ardent." Somebody captured his watch and while negotiating for its return with a crook his pocket was picked of $20, by probably the same man who took the watch. The doctor complained to the police and the light-fingered gentleman was interviewed but he of course denied all knowledge of the theft. He was, however, deemed a vagrant and notified to leave town, and the doctor was advised to return to Tacoma where matters do not usually come so "swift."

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. N. Talcott, who reside on Eastside, on Christmas day, gathered in their garden, in the open air, a bouquet of gladioli. They concluded to send the flowers to a cousin at St. Louis, as a reminder of the remarkable mildness of our climate. The stems were first dipped in hot sealing wax to prevent the evaporation of moisture, and the whole enclosed in damp tissue paper and sent by mail. A letter from that city, received on the 4th inst., announces the receipt of the flowers in perfect condition and it excited no little comment among our eastern friends, inasmuch as the temperature was near zero and the Mississippi river was frozen from shore to shore.

Robt. McFadden returned from Skagway, the other day, where he has been employed the last few months, in a clerical capacity, in the office of the Skagway, White Pass and Lake Bennett Railway Company. He reports that he located several claims, and purchased several more, in the Atlin county, but on account of the Ohio Canadian Alien Mining Act, which prohibits Americans, for the present, from working their claims, he was compelled to abandon them. He says that hundreds of destitute miners from that region who flocked into Skagway were enabled to find work on the railroad in building snow sheds. This fortunately made it possible for all who wished to earn money enough to pay passage home to do so. Robert says he will return to Alaska in the Spring, but his destination will be the Nome country.

Frank Oades, a lad of thirteen, whose parents reside on Sixth and Broadway streets, met with a fatal accident Tuesday morning, while hunting in the suburbs about a mile from home. It seems that he had just received from the East a new gun and it was while trying this well-known infernal apparatus in the hands of children that the accident took place. The accident did not vary from the usual details. Frank fell from a log, and in doing so the hammer of the gun caught some projection discharging the piece, and as usual the gun was aimed at its unfortunate owner. The charge of shot entered the boy's abdomen, inflicting a frightful wound, but strange to say the victim, mainly by crawling made his way to the house of a resident on the outskirts of town, nearly a mile from the place of accident, where he was cared for, his condition being too serious for removal to his home. The doctors think it hardly possible that he will survive. This is the third time, it is said, that he has been seriously injured by the use of firearms. The victim was accompanied by a companion of about his own age, Harry Newmarker, but he was so frightened by the catastrophe that he did not report the matter to anybody, or the sufferer might have had a better chance for recovery. The sufferer died at 11:30 last night.

A Ghastly Find.
The body of the missing man, Joseph King, was found Wednesday night by some fishermen, in their net which was cast off Percival's dock. The net, which had been placed during the day, at the southern section of the wharf was hauled in about 6 o'clock, and when drawn up on the beach the fishermen became aware of their unhappy find. A light had been procured no trouble was experienced in identifying the body as that of the man who disappeared several weeks ago, and for whom persistent search has been made by his friends. The body was in an excellent state of preservation, and the clothes worn by deceased at the time of his disappearance were upon him. An abrasion of the skin on the right side of the head it is thought was caused by crabs which had begun to eat the flesh. King was, so far as is known, without relatives in this part of the country. He came here from Spokane about nine years ago. A Coroner's inquest held yesterday determined that death was probably due to accident, as the deceased had been drinking heavily on the day of his disappearance. The body was interred in Mr. Howard's lot in Masonic cemetery, beside the suicide M. L. Howard, who was likewise generously accorded a last resting-place, a few days ago, by its owner.

The Perfection of Hose Nozzles.
The trial of the Kellerman-Crane spray nozzle by our fire department Wednesday, was witnessed by a large number of our people, who were unanimous in their expression of approval of its performance, when compared with the service rendered by the spray-nozzle now in use, and which up to that time was considered almost perfect in its operation. The new nozzle emits a solid stream, apparently with little friction, and a veiling of spray which may be increased almost to a sheet of water, and deflected to an angle which affords absolute protection from sparks and cinders as well as heat. It seems to be all that can be required from a spray-nozzle, and its cost, $30, places it within the reach of all fire departments, be their requirements many or few. This device is a home production, the company which manufactures them being located at Monteseano, of which Mr. Agnew, of this city, is President.

The Old Fellows' Home at Walla Walla now has nine inmates.

A Model Store.
The Mottman Mercantile Co. will have, when changes now under way are completed, one of the best store-buildings in the State. The whole building will be devoted exclusively to their rapidly growing trade. The rear ascent from the street will be removed and two broad stairways on either hand inside afford easy access to the sales-room above. An elevated office and cashier's stand will be erected between them, where parcels will be sent by trolley conveyers for wrapping, and exact change will be made, and returned therewith to the counter, by the same unique conveyance, where the transaction is completed. The greater part of the large area above will be devoted to display of special and additional lines of goods now on the way from manufacturers. The tier of apartments fronting on Main street will be elegantly furnished and adapted for a reception or waiting room, a lunch room, and toilet rooms, all for the accommodation of patrons.

These improvements are innovations upon past and present business methods of our city, and a long step in progress which will be appreciated by customers and add very much to convenience in transacting a large business.

A Family Gathering.
(Published by request.)
A party of friends and neighbors met at Dr. A. H. Manier's, on the evening of the 4th inst., in honor of the birthday of two of his granddaughters, Miss Mollie Manier and Ida Neat. They played games and had a general good time. Sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Manier, Mr. and Mrs. Steadman, Mr. and Mrs. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. D. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. George Manier, Mr. and Mrs. Neat, Mr. and Mrs. C. Thacker, Mr. and Mrs. McCray, Mr. and Mrs. Chilson, Misses May, Lona and Minnie Collins, Ethel Steadman, Adalina, Maud and Georgie Chambers, Nora Thacker and Messrs. Fred Seafang, Jim, Chas. and Wm. Manier, Ernest and Rufus Neat, and Masters Harry McCray, Clarence Neat and R. Chambers.

"Tripping the Light Fantastic Toe."
Last Friday evening, at Belmonte, the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. McCleod assembled at their residence and had a most enjoyable time tripping the light fantastic toe till the "wee sma' hours of morn'." Music was served by Tom Brown, Mr. and Mrs. McCleod, and as usual the guest supper was served at midnight, of which all partook freely, and at 4 o'clock a. m. the party broke up and each member declared it to be the most enjoyable time they had had of the season. Each, in taking the departure, wished Mr. and Mrs. McCleod a long life and many just such entertainments.

That Would Surely Kill Him.
In the statement of city finances yesterday morning, the Ledger was only $10,000 out. The only man who knows owner may find his finances that much out of line before he gets through.—Tacoma News.

STATE NEWS.
The police of Seattle made 6,744 arrests in 1899.
