CITY NEWS IN BRIEF.

Judge Jacobs, of Seattle, visited the capital this week.
A German social was given in Columbia hall last evening.
Isaac Chilberg, of Skagit, is on a visit to relatives in this city.
The Everett legislative excursion has been postponed to the 22d.
E. O. Robbins and wife, of Eastside, visited the City of Destiny this week.
Sousa's Band will give a matinee in Olympia Theater, on the afternoon of the 27th inst.
Jessie Shirley will appear at Olympia Theater, March 18th, for a week's season of drama.
C. H. Springer, our mill man, has arrived at San Francisco, on his return from the San Francisco Islands.
This is the fifth week of the Legislature and the usual routine is dragging its slow length along.
The steamship Senator sailed from the Sound for Alaska ports yesterday. The next boat north will be the Alki, Tuesday.
The weather forecast to-day reads: "This afternoon, to-night and Saturday, rain; brisk to light southerly winds."

Monday, John Swift, of Woodland, sustained a broken leg, from having been thrown from a wagon by his team taking fright at moving cars near the switch to Richardson's mill, on Jefferson street. The broken limb was carried by Mitchell, but the sufferer insisted upon returning to his home in the country without delay for further treatment.
Just about this time it might be of some interest to the members of our Legislature to know that there are only about an even dozen States in the Union whose capital buildings are larger or of superior architecture than the Thurston county court house. But after all, "A prophet is not without honor, save in his own country and in his own house."

Mr. G. E. Huggins has traded his new apartment at Plumb station, on the Port Townsend Southern railroad, about nine miles from this city, for the stock ranch of Abram S. Hall, of Rainier. The consideration for the quarry is stated at $10,000, but as the sale is made through the Hamilton People's Bank, of Puyallup, Pa., the precise figures are not given. It is said, however, that 1,600 acres of the ranch constituted $8,000 of the purchase price.
It is rumored, on what are deemed authoritative grounds, that the Union Pacific Railroad Co. are making preparation to extend their line to Puget Sound. If so, it will doubtless be over the route selected and partially graded ten years ago, and that will bring it through this city over the eastern shore line of the bay. This, with the assurance of speedy construction of the Port Angeles Southern will wipe out the last vestige of Olympia's inaccessibility so persistently urged by Tacoma as a cause for Capital removal.

Mrs. Sarah Derby Le Clero, of Chicago, lays claim to the distinction of possessing a face bearing a striking resemblance to Queen Victoria's, in her later life. Englishmen who have met the Queen are reported to have stopped Mrs. Le Clero on the street to compliment her on having a facial expression which they pronounced a perfect facsimile of the Queen's recent portraits. It may not be generally known that an Olympia lady, also bears so close a resemblance to the late Queen as to cause general comment among strangers meeting her on the street.
W. H. Kneeland, of Shelton, has ordered 25 tons of Willapa Bay seed oysters for transplanting on his Puget Sound beds, and A. S. Bush & Sons, of Bay Center, will experiment with Olympia oysters on their beds in Willapa Bay. The object of the experiment is to improve the quality of oysters. By transplanting it is believed that the Willapa oysters may regain its original size in the clearer waters of Puget Sound, and that the Olympia oyster may grow larger, lighter in color and better flavored in Willapa Bay. The experiments will be watched with the deepest interest by oystermen in both sections.

THE ELEVENTH HOUR.
The Sensational Play of the Season—Scores a Phenomenal Success.
The Seattle P. J., has this to say of Lincoln J. Carter's masterpiece, which appeared last week at the Grand Opera House:
It is a play rather above the average and while it is without the very sensational scenic effects common to Carter's plays, at the same time it gives the people in the cast a chance to do more real acting than is usual.
"The Eleventh Hour" is full of highly dramatic situations, but the company now at the Grand is above the average, and is fully equal to the interpretation of it. The piece is full of interest from beginning to end, the climax of the last act being peculiarly odd and sensational. Lamps, hats, racks and other furniture are upset in the hand-to-hand fight which ends the play, without regard to cost or appearance. Chandeliers are broken, tables are upset, chairs are overturned and smashed with careless abandon.
J. P. Lowery plays the hero and does clever work in the dual role as Joe Mainer and Doby Dick. William Tulley plays the villain, Benjamin Fowler, cleverly and especially strong in the fighting scenes in the last act. Charles A. (Kar) Gardner plays the part of a good-natured German in love with the sobriette of the play, and is the principal comedy character. He sings several original songs in the fourth act. He is ably assisted in the comedy work by Miss Marguerite France, the sobriette, with whom his love scenes form the principal comedy feature of the production.
Miss Elsie Cressy, as Susan Hackett, and Miss Pauline Fletcher as Helen Fowler, the wife of the villain, were good in their respective parts. A clever piece of work, although the part was small, was that of J. H. Moore, as Hans Peltz, a waiter and policeman.
The play was enthusiastically received yesterday afternoon and evening, the house being crowded on both occasions.
The stage settings are elaborate, especially in the last act.
This sterling company will appear at Olympia Theater, Wednesday night.

A Miserable Failure.
It may well be declared first as last that the shell walks in and about Sylvester park are not only a dead failure but a foregone nuisance. Every rain or frost that comes puts them in such a sticky condition that nobody, not even a logger with gumboots can walk upon them with any degree of comfort or convenience. They resemble a mortar-bed more closely than anything else, and in order to avoid them the public are now walking over the grass plates of the park. The sticky condition once trodden upon by the unwary pedestrian carried all over town and dropping upon the sidewalks, took to the annoyance of tidy property owners. The thing has been thoroughly tested and now let us go back to first principles. Give us the old fashioned gravel or plank walks once more.

Parasites Cause All Hair Troubles.
Nine-tenths of the diseases of the scalp and hair are caused by parasite germs. The importance of this discovery by Professor Unna of the Charity Hospital, Hamburg, Germany, cannot be overestimated. It explains why ordinary hair preparations do not cure dandruff, because they do not, and they cannot, kill the dandruff germ. The only hair preparation in the world that positively destroys the dandruff parasites that burrow up the scalp into scales called scurf or dandruff, is Newbro's Herpicide. In addition to its destroying the dandruff germ Herpicide is also a delightful hair dressing, making the hair glossy and as soft as silk.

A Magnificent Picture.
Mr. Lang, the well-known Olympia artist, has just completed an oil-painting representing the Capital Brewery and its surroundings, at Tumwater. The picture is mounted in a gilt frame about eight feet long and five feet wide, and at present it is hanging in the lobby of Hotel Olympia. The painting is not only a living epitome of Mr. Lang's skill but its details are so perfect that the beholder may well fancy that he is standing within a stone's throw of one of the finest brewing and mineral water plants on the Pacific Coast as now operated by our townsman, Leopold F. Schmidt.

THE LEGISLATURE.
A Brief Summary of the Proceedings of the Seventh Biennial Session.
In the Senate Monday, Preston gave notice that at the proper time he would move to reconsider the vote by which the railway commission bill was defeated.
A letter was read from Secretary Long of the navy, acknowledging receipt of the memorial asking that the battleship to be built at Seattle be named in honor of the State.
Governor Rogers submitted the appointment of Dr. James E. Yokum, of Tacoma, as a member of the State Board of Health, to succeed J. R. Lee, term expired. The appointment was confirmed.
The following bills were introduced: No. 160, by Davis, authorizing taking of depositions by defendants in felony cases to be used in the Superior Court.
No. 161, by Tolman, amending the law relative to assessments for local improvements.
No. 162, by Crow, of Spokane, relative to entry of judgments.
No. 163, by Land, an act to protect fruit growers in the State of Washington.
No. 164, by Hamilton, an act to amend revenue law.
No. 165, by same, to amend law relating to roads and bridges.

In the House Monday, the bill creating a new judicial district in northwestern Washington passed. The bill provides for the division of two existing districts into three as follows:
1. Lincoln, Adams and Franklin counties, to be presided over by Judge Neal.
2. Okanogan, Ferry and Douglas, to be presided over by a new judge to be appointed by the Governor to serve until the next election.
3. Chelan, Kittitas and Yakima, to be presided over by Judge Rudkin.
The bill passed by a vote of 37 to 7. Several bills were given their second reading, and the following new ones were introduced:
No. 293, by Gunderson, to provide for State teachers' examinations in the State normal schools.
No. 294, by Davis, to protect game animals and song birds.
No. 295, by Howell, relating to fees of prosecuting attorneys.
No. 296, by Badger, repealing sections of code relating to justices of the peace.
No. 297, by Ingraham, compelling bond owners to account for all logs rafted by them.
No. 298, by Moore, to provide for incorporation of co-operative institutions.
No. 299, by Miles, to provide for a herd law.
No. 300, by Ulmer, defining manslaughter. This bill creates four degrees of manslaughter, and fixes the penalty as from county jail imprisonment for the lesser offense to ten years in the penitentiary for the graver one.
No. 301, by Ulmer, providing for the protection of game fish.
No. 302, by Chambers, to prevent stallions, bulls and rams from running at large.
No. 303, by Brown of Spokane, to protect natural scenery of the State. This bill was referred to the Public Moralities committee.
No. 304, by La Wall, for propagation of game and game fish.
No. 305, by Fairchild, for relief of Captain Henry Rader.
No. 306, by same, changing name of New Whatcom to Whatcom.
No. 307, by same, to permit cities of the third and fourth class to regulate and care for animals running at large.
No. 308, by same, for the relief of certain kinds of citizens of New Whatcom.
No. 309, by Cameron, defining the crime against legislative power.
No. 310, by York, to amend the law relative to sale of school warrants.
No. 311, by Stocking, making it a misdemeanor to elope with a girl under eighteen years of age.
No. 312, by Barron, providing for State deputy game wardens.
Both Houses adjourned to Wednesday.

In the Senate, Wednesday, Senator Preston made his motion to reconsider the vote whereby his railway commission bill was defeated, he having changed his vote in order to move such consideration. The motion to reconsider was defeated by a vote of 19 to 15, each Senator recording himself in exactly the same manner as he did upon the final passage of the bill.
Immediately after the defeat of the motion for reconsideration, Senator Preston, on behalf of the railroad commission, reported favorably upon the Tolman railway commission bill, with such amendments as made it identical in its provisions with the Preston bill, except that the Governor is given power to appoint the commission. The report of the committee, as a matter of form, was adopted. The bill was not made a special order for Welly of Lewis introduced a bill which provides that standing timber on all State land, when it shall exceed one million feet on any quarter section may be sold separately from the land.

The Senate passed several minor House bills including one making a deficiency appropriation of $2,200 for the Railway Commission, Department of Public Instruction.
Senator Megler presented a resolution for the appointment of a sifting committee. The enemies of the Preston creation presented a resolution, suspicious of this resolution, especially as it conferred the power to appoint the committee, and it was voted down, although a sifting committee will undoubtedly be appointed before the end of the session.
Crow and Hall, both of Whitman, presented several petitions from their constituents praying for the passage of the Rosenhaupt bill which provides for a reduction in freight rates.
Senator Preston presented a resolution looking to the abolishment of the printing of the Senate calendar. He declared that the calendar was worthless, and was a needless expense. The matter was referred to the Printing committee.
A House bill providing that prosecutions under the pilotage law be instituted in Jefferson county, passed.
House bill No. 4, limiting the corner to a charge of $75 for burial expenses in all cases where no claim is made upon the estate of deceased person, passed.
At the afternoon session of the Senate, Senator Smith introduced a constitutional amendment providing that no foreigner shall be naturalized during the six months immediately preceding any general election. The bill provides for the submission of the amendment to the people of the State at the next general election.
Senator Biggs of Whatcom, introduced a bill changing the name of New Whatcom to Whatcom. Mr. Biggs suggested that the bill be referred to the committee on Medicine, Hygiene and Dentistry, because, he said, "the name needs fixing." The bill was so referred.
A bill giving King county an additional judge of the Superior Court was passed. The bill gives the Governor authority to appoint the judge until the next election.
S. B. No. 67, for relief of C. W. Geiger, land cruiser, was passed. The bill carries an appropriation of seventy dollars.
Senator Crow of Whitman, on behalf of the Democrats, introduced a bill dividing the State into Congressional districts, as follows:
1. Adams, Asotin, Chelan, Columbia, Douglas, Ferry, Garfield, Kittitas, Lincoln, Okanogan, Spokane, Stevens, Walla Walla, Whitman and Yakima.
2. Clatsop, Clallam, Clark, Colville, Jefferson, Kitsap, Klickitat, Lewis, Pacific, Pierce, Skamania, Thurston and Wahkiakum.
3. Island, King, San Juan, Skagit, Snohomish and Whatcom.
Under the terms of this bill the first district—Eastern Washington—would naturally be expected to be Democratic, while the other two districts would, probably, be Republican. The first district includes all of Eastern Washington except Klickitat county, which is placed in the southwest district. The bill also places Congressmen Cushman and Jones in separate districts. In the rough the bill places King county and the northwest in one district, Pierce county and the southwest in the second and eastern Washington, barring Klickitat county, in still another.
