It is estimated that about 400 or 500 of the homeseekers flocking to this Coast, have located in this county since the season opened about two months ago. C. H. Pridham, our townsmen, was the successful bidder on a star-route mail contract from Cle-Elum to Liberty, and will soon depart for his new field of labor. Lizzie H. Hoage, has bought of the Land Mortgage Co. of Northwestern America, a farm of 320 acres, adjoining the Shotwell place, for a consideration of $4,000. The Hi School Review has gone where the daisies bloom, from financial stagnation. Its attempt to spell High with two letters was too much for its feeble constitution. A. S. Ruth started out on a surveying expedition to-day in the Yakima country. His party consists of A. Muirhead, C. Conklin, Arthur Green and Henderson. The passengers this week over the O. R. & N. and U. P. were D. S. Lilly, Bancroft, Neb.; John Schilling and wife, Des Moines, Iowa, and Miss Anna Bregger, Overton, Neb. It is rumored that there is a deal on hand whereby the lot on the southwest corner of Fourth and Jefferson streets, is soon to become the site of a brick business building. The Parents and Teacher's Club of the Washington school met in that building this afternoon to discuss the topic "How Shall our Children be Employed Out of School?" Miss Jennie Boyer is now employed as assistant in O'Connor's bookstore, and Miss Minnie Sweet (an appropriate name for the sweet) has taken her place in Mr. Beattie's candy store. Mrs. Chas. Vietzen has returned from the Hot Springs in King county, where she has been for the benefit of her health. Mr. Vietzen went to the Springs and accompanied her home. Oly contemplates changing his home to a part of the creamery building, corner of Third and Washington. He seems to realize that it will be nearer the STANDARD, for protection. Miss Maud Scofield has just closed an eight months' term of school at Arcadia, and a very satisfactory exhibition of progress made by the pupils was given in the school house, Saturday night. C. W. Shaffer of Wenatchee, and Allen Weir and C. S. Reinhardt have been appointed a committee to examine candidates for admission to the bar, by the Supreme Court, at the May term. W. H. Brackett won the silver medal awarded in the bowling contest, completed last night. His run for the four games played was 205. C. W. Grant scored 186 and C. H. Pridham 187 points. The weather the past week has been "the odds and ends" of April, and a fair beginning for May. The woods were too damp, however, from late showers, for the usual May-day outing parties. Miss Eva Weir has been compelled to resign her position as stenographer in the State Superintendent's office, on account of an affliction of her eyes. Mrs. Marie Garrison temporarily performs that work. Owing to the increase in the business of the tailoring department of J. E. Dailey & Co., that enterprising firm is fitting neat quarters upstairs, in which they will install several additional first-class tailors. The regular quarterly examination of applicants for common school certificates will be held in the Superior Court room on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 8, 9 and 10, beginning at 9 A. M. Thursday. J. T. Thacker has purchased from the State 440 acres of valuable timber land in section 16, township 18, north range 2 west. He paid $4,917 for the property, and had already paid $3,800 for a portion of the timber on the tract. John Hager, the carpenter, who disappeared some time ago, and whose whereabouts, fearing that all had not gone well, has finally been located in San Francisco where he is enjoying the sights of the big city. That bicycle riding, as a fad, has had its day, is shown by the limited demand for tags. Not half the riders in this city have yet procured this permission to ride, and work on the paths is consequently in a condition of innocuous desuetude. The commission appointed by the Governor to represent this State in preparation of an exhibit for the St. Louis Exposition consists of Geo. B.

Kandle, of Pierce; Chas. L. Denny, of King; T. B. Sumner, of Snohomish; Miles C. Moore, of Walla Walla; Geo. M. Brown, of Spokane; A. H. Stultfaunt, of Kittitas, and C. J. Lord of Thurston. A. H. Chambers has contracted with Chinaman "Tom" to clear 25 acres of land near Mud Bay, to be planted in potatoes, the crop to be divided evenly. Mr. C. furnishes land and seed, and Tom the muscle necessary to make them effective. Maud Schoen, of Spokane, known to some of our townspeople from a visit here as a charming and accomplished young lady, died this week in that city. Her brother Joe, called to her bedside on her last illness, has returned to his home in this place. Thomas B. Westendorf has been re-appointed Superintendent of the Reform School at Chehalis and James Watson of the School for Defective Youth at Vancouver. The former has held his position 11 years and the latter 14 years, which is some indication of their fitness. Sister Vincent, who has so long and successfully labored for the interests of the hospital in this city, has been transferred to Spokane. Her departure will cause universal regret, for she has shown herself to be a kind, active, conscientious laborer in that part of life's vineyard where the heavy laden come for rest. Jesse Platter, an employe of J. E. Murray's camp, eight miles east of Elma, suffered the fracture of his leg Monday, in a peculiar manner. His coat had caught fire, and in trying to extinguish the flames he was blinded by the smoke and caught between two logs as they were drawn on to the skids by a donkey engine. He was brought to this city and is undergoing treatment at St. Peter's hospital. The Capital Brewing Co. are making arrangements for erection of a large cold-storage building for their product, on the Northern Pacific depot grounds, in the rear of the freight-house. The present warehouse has been moved a short distance northward and the new building, which will occupy an area of 40 by 90 feet, will stand partly on the ground vacated. An ice-machine may in due time be installed in the building. William Mitchell, of Tumwater, has taken his son Albert to Portland, to submit him to treatment by a professional oculist for some disease of the eye, which has nearly destroyed his sight. The misfortune has been gradually coming on for years past, and now he can barely distinguish a difference between night and day. Mr. M. will probably go to San Francisco or some city in the East, if he cannot find a competent oculist in Portland. Attorney-General Ross has prepared an opinion in response to a request from State Auditor Atkinson as to whether the State should participate in the distribution of the proceeds of the sale of property purchased by the counties at recent tax sales. In his opinion, the State should not. As the amount of the delinquent taxes due the State is added to the county's apportionment, if the State also shared in the distribution from the tax sale it would result in a double collection by the State. Fred W. Stocking, the newly appointed Register of the Land Office, is a son of Washington, having been born at Gray's Harbor, 39 years ago. He was a graduate of Collegiate Institute, of this city, in 1888. He has been a school teacher, a merchant at Centralia, a Justice of the Peace at Grand Mound, a Deputy Assessor and Deputy Treasurer in this county and a member of the Legislature twice. It was in the latter capacity that he earned the appointment of Register by support of Foster for the U. S. Senate. THAT TRIP TO THE CIRCUS. The Performance Was Mainly Outside the Tent. There is a mournful side to the levity of a stranded dramatic company, no matter how much snap and vim may be claimed for the parts. While the "Trip to the Circus" Company, here Monday night, was by no means equal to the Mansfield or Ward combinations, nor their band music equal to that of a Sousa, nor were their songbirds to be likened at all to Patti or Nevada; it would have been a pleasing little vaudeville performance, well worth the price of admission, had it not been for internal dissension over money matters and a disposition on the part of some of the performers, knowing this, to gyp the performers. Let one imagine, for a moment, how difficult it must be to force a smile to the lips while the heart is throbbing with sadness, or to utter a jest while the stomach clamors for replenishment, and he will surely have some charity for those who are compelled to follow such an exacting vocation. The cash-box was attached by one of the company for back salary, and trunks, valises and other equipments were levied upon by landlords and restaurant men, until about everything possessed by the company was covered by leases of the law. The rights of the company's share in the office receipts—$62—is to be determined Monday, by Justice Giles, assisted by five lawyers, retained by the conflicting interests involved. Weekly Crop Bulletin. The following report of climatic conditions for the week ending on the 28th ult., is issued by the Washington section of the U. S. Weather Bureau: Although the weather has been somewhat cool, with several frosty nights, the past week has been more favorable for crops than any heretofore this spring. Light frosts on the 21st, 22d and 24th did no injury to fruit bloom, except, possibly to peaches in localities of the eastern section. Warmer weather is desirable. There were but a few light showers, the week having been mostly dry and favorable for seeding and planting. Out seeding is in progress in Skagit county on the flats. Potato planting is now general. Hops are now being trained for the first time. Spring wheat is coming up in the eastern section. Fall wheat is four or five inches high in a few localities, but, as a rule, improvement has been slight since the previous week, the weather having been too cool. The fruit prospect thus far has been very good. Apples are coming into bloom, while plums, peaches, and cherries have been in bloom some time. ORIGIN OF "COLUMBIA HALL." It Was a Project Planned and Executed by the Firemen. The partition in the rear room of Columbia hall is to be removed to double the capacity of the Council Chamber, and the history of that locally historic room is therefore revived in the memory of our older residents. Columbia hall was built under direction of a City Council, elected on that special issue raised by Columbia fire company, which then occupied cramped quarters in a building which stood on the site now occupied by Vietzen's saloon. The company raised $1,800 by subscription, conditioned upon the city appropriating a like sum for erection of a modest structure to accommodate, primarily, the fire department—Columbia No. 1 and Barnes' Hook and Ladder Co. So popular was the suggestion, that while the alternative of electing officers favorably to the project was not sprung till about noon, on election day, and many people had cast their votes, the whole ticket was elected. The firemen stipulated on payment of the $1,800 subscription, that a room 40 feet by 30 should be reserved in perpetuity for them in which to hold their company meetings and social sessions, and to make adequate provision for storing the apparatus. Unfortunately, however, the contract was not made a matter of record, and at various times has been cropped out of a spirit, in succeeding councils, to ignore the agreement, and finally the room was divided by partition. Columbia engine company retaining the east half and receiving pay from the city for the part used by the Council. Now that the hand engine has been sold, and the members having left the service or joined the Silby and hose-cart company, there seems to be no one who recalls or asks for a further compliance with the bond, made in good faith, but not "signed and delivered." The name of Columbia is not derived from the River of the West, as many suppose, but was the name on the hand-engine bought by Chas. E. Williams in a New York town, second-hand, for $900, (the proceeds of a really grand ball given for the purpose, at a cost of $10 per ticket). The name was on an arch over the pump-dome in solid brass letters, and was so artistic in effect that the "boys" adopted it as the name of the company, and for the foregoing reasons the city named the town building Columbia hall. EIGHTH GRADE EXAMINATIONS. To Be Held in the Various Schools of the County and at the Court House in Olympia on May 22 and 23. County Superintendent of Schools T. N. Henry will soon send out to the various schools having Eighth grade classes the questions for the final examinations. In view of the fact that a large majority of the schools will close before that date, all teachers whose schools are then in session will be notified by the superintendent, and they will not receive the questions and are requested to give the examination to any pupil who may present themselves for examination. As usual heretofore the County Superintendent will hold an examination at the court house for the accommodation of such pupils as cannot be conveniently accommodated elsewhere. The manuscripts will be forwarded to the County Superintendent's office to be graded and marked by the county examining board, composed of the following: Principal C. H. Briffett, Bucoda; Principal L. N. Plomondon, Little Rock; Principal A. C. Gallac of Lincoln school, Olympia, and L. J. Morrison, together with Superintendent Henry who is ex-officio member and chairman of the board. The questions will be sent securely sealed and not to be opened before 9 o'clock on the morning of May 22d. The order of the programme will be as follows: Thursday morning: arithmetic and spelling; afternoon: geography and civics. Friday morning: grammar and physiology; afternoon: U. S. history and reading. "The Denver Express." The glories of melodrama are undimmed and though hot-spiced theatrical feats are perhaps a little warm for the season, they are still seductive in the case of "The Denver Express" which is one of the warmest and most rapid plays of its class. Once again Sitting Bull, Standing Cow, and their band of braves will attack the emigrant train and emit their war whoops at Olympia Theater to the huge delight of the gallery, and the subdued thrills of the parquet. The Holden Bros. have equipped the play with an excellent series of new scenes, and the grand ball at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, provides a socially element that has hardly ever before the suspicion that this is a wild and woolly western drama. It has situations and climaxes which are thrilling to a degree, in the frontier scenes, but the two acts devoted to the American millionaires and the scenes of British aristocracy show the skillful hand of a clever dramatist and are satirical and amusing always. Taken all in all it has proven its right to play return dates, and its interesting story, uproarious comedy and well woven plot entitle the play to whatever success it may achieve. A carefully selected company under the management of Holden Bros. will present the Denver Express at Olympia Theater, next Tuesday night. Tickets will go on sale at O'Connor's Monday morning at 9 o'clock. J. A. Flaherty, an old mill hand in the employ of the Stimson mill at Ballard, met an awful death yesterday. He was wound round a shaft, the life whipped out of him and his body thrashed and pounded until there was not left an unbroken bone in any part of it. The man had been an employe of the Stimson company for a number of years. He was about 50 years of age and leaves a widow and grown-up daughter. The attorneys of Snohomish county have endorsed Judge Hanford for promotion to the Circuit judgeship of the Ninth Circuit.

The Congressional appropriation for the Puget Sound Indian school will be $50,000, for support and education of 300 pupils. Twenty thousand additional is appropriated for new buildings. Tuition will receive $30,000 to replace buildings burned and $50,000 for repairs and installing water, sewer and light apparatus. For Sale at a Bargain.
