He paid $250 for them. M. B. Taylor who jumped the quarantine at camp, a few days ago, has been bound over for trial on $200 bail. The Capital Brewing Co. has received an order for 500 kegs of beer for Dawson. It will be shipped Monday. Miss Susie Barr, who is taking a course of instruction in photography and music, in Seattle, is home on a visit. J. H. Ogden, a former resident of this city, now of Spokane, was over on a visit to "old acquaintance" this week. Mrs. Eliza Leverton has brought action for a divorce from Charles R. Leverton, alleging abandonment as a cause. Councilman Richardson was too ill to attend the municipal meeting, Monday night, but is in a fair way for recovery. The steamship City of Seattle sailed from Seattle for Alaskan ports today. The next steamer will be the Cottage City Friday. The West End Base Ball Club, of Tacoma will play the Olympia nine, Sunday afternoon, on the ball grounds near this city. The Westside mill had a cylinder head of its engine to blow out, Monday, compelling a suspension of operation for a day. Albion H. Smith, of this city, who is now serving as guard at the U. S. penitentiary on McNeil's Island, was home on a visit a few days ago. Robert Elwell has bought two lots in the former home of Dr. Ostrander, on which he contemplates the erection of a fine dwelling-house. The Whitworth base-ball team of Seattle won the match game with our local nine, played in this city, Saturday, the score standing 7 to 14. The Capital City Band will give a concert and ball at the Armory on the night of the 28th. The proceeds will be used for obtaining new uniforms. The Olympia Press Club held a meeting Tuesday night and adopted resolutions of respect for their late member, Charles R. Carroll. The association, as a body, were present at the funeral rites Wednesday.

Mrs. Caulin R. Curtis lately from Michigan, has bought a lot in Bigelow's second addition, on which she intends to erect a building for a residence. F. M. McCully, Deputy State Superintendent, is erecting a neat cottage corner of Seventeenth and Franklin streets, for a house for himself and family. L. H. Hadley, a brother of Judge Hadley, of the Supreme bench, is on a visit to his relatives here, and incidentally to attend to some business in the high court. Mrs. Ren Pattison will spend the summer in that quaint old town Steilacoom, and have for guests in the picturesque retreat her sisters, Misses Green, from Spokane. The following passengers left this week over the O. R. N. and U. P.: Chas. Koppler, Henry Boyd, and Fred Hall, for Baker City, Ogn., and Frank L. Willey for Denver, Col. Articles of incorporation of the Presbytery of Olympia have been filed, which will enable that congregation to have a body as well as a soul for management of its beneficent work. Mark E. Reed leaves today for Nome, where he expects to spend the summer looking after the extensive mercantile, mining and railroad interests of the Simpson-Lane company. The Bigelow orchard, on Eastside, it seems, is to be devoted to the pressing demand for residence sites. Stephen D. Smith has led off in appropriating a building lot in that old land-mark. Attorney General Stratton has decided that the lands bought in by counties at delinquent tax sale are not assessable till 1903, as title is owned by the county and hence exempt on March 1st. The Olympia Development Co. will make needed repairs in the Collegiate Institute building, and open a preparatory school for their University which will in the near future be instituted at Butler's Cove. Dr. W. L. Bridgeford, of Albany, Oregon, is on a visit to his brother, Dr. Redpath. He is at present a student in Cooper Medical College, San Francisco, but will graduate this spring and open up a practice in Albany. To give an idea of the amount of money taken in by the merry-go-round owner, this office printed 30,000 voting tickets and in eight days they were all sold. If he received five cents each for the tickets the week's run netted him $1,000. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Henry died at North Yakima, yesterday morning, of asthma, with which he had been afflicted a long time. Interment was made today on arrival of the train, Rev. Dr. Hayes conducting services at the cemetery. The State Treasurer has received from the Governor a United States warrant for the sum of $3,491.64, being 5 per cent. of the total amount of government land sold in this State during the past year. This money is applied to the permanent school fund. A coffee and tea store will be opened next month in the room formerly occupied by the Queen restaurant, on Fourth street, by Frank W. Pumphrey, late of Tacoma. He has secured a long-time lease of the premises, which is an indication that he has come to stay. Oly lifts his hat, as well he may, to that delicious product—Olympia oysters—in noting the fact that Mr. Oullette had on exhibition a tin can which was covered with young oysters, "who," he says "clung to the rusty iron as though it was the choicest kind of a bed." Memorial Sunday, in honor of the Nation's soldier dead, will be observed this year by a union service at the Baptist church next Sunday at 3 p. m. The male quartette will furnish the music and Rev. A. G. Sawin will preach the sermon. The hour selected enables all to attend. Oly set his little steel-trap for the Recorder, Wednesday morning. He omitted from the list of teachers selected by the directors Tuesday night four of the names, when lo! and behold the little Recorder came nibbling around and swallowed the bait, hook and all. The same names were omitted from his report. A patient named Campbell escaped from the asylum at Steilacoom, Tuesday. Chief Savage has been notified and is keeping a strict watch for the man who is described as young and dressed in a light suit of clothes. The patient has since the above writing been found and returned to the asylum. Those young chaps, with a white C prominently displayed on their uniform, at the station yesterday, were members of a California base-ball club on their way to Victoria to show our British neighbors how to play the national game. They are from Berkeley and look as if they were confident of wearing the laurels on their return trip. Jack Kirk, who so brutally assaulted William Thompson at Little Rock, last week, was held for trial by Esquire Giles, Wednesday, in default of a $700 bond. Kirk, when on trial, said he committed the assault "just for fun," and it appears that he has just arrived at the hilarious part of the performance which consists of playing checkers with his nose behind prison bars. A good play, well presented by an excellent company, was the verdict of theater-goers last night, on departing from the opera house after a delightful evening's entertainment. "Too Rich to Marry" came to us lauded to the skies, hence popular expectation was aroused to a high pitch. It was not disappointed and we pass the play and company along with the highest commendation.

Another paint-mine has been discovered in this county. This is located on land on Mud Bay belonging to Mr. G. Rosenthal, and like Mr. Sellers, nothing can convince him that there are not "millions in it." It resembles yellow ochre somewhat in color and consistency, and has been pronounced by painters to be an excellent pigment for out-door painting. The Secretary of State had to make a second award of the printing supplies, which was at first divided between the two contestants, the American and the Richmond paper companies. It seems that Mr. Miller, who represented the former, demurred to the economic arrangement, and by recommendation of the Attorney General, who was called in as counsel and arbitrator, the whole contract was awarded to the American Paper Co. T. M. Reed, Grand Secretary F. and A. M., and concordant Masonic orders has given notice that the annual meetings will be held at Tacoma on the following dates: The Grand Commandery of Knights Templar, Wednesday, June 4th; Grand Chapter Royal Arch Masons, Friday, June 6th; Grand Council Royal and Select Masons, Monday, June 9th; Grand Lodge Free and Accepted Masons, Tuesday, June 10th, and Grand Chapter Eastern Star, Thursday, June 12th. The Mason County Logging Co. have just received from Lima, Ohio, a new form of locomotive, specially adapted for steep grades and hauling heavy loads. It will not be noted for speed, which is by gearing sacrificed to power, the eight drivers being attached to a central shaft. The engine weighs 160,000 pounds, is a wood burner and has a fire box about the size of the "Texas" of a steamboat. It made the run from the East attached to a freight train, with its machinery disconnected. Mr. Israel has bought of the McKenny estate block 45 of the Crosby addition to this city. It is situated at the head of Main street north and east of the curve on the bluff overlooking Tumwater. It is one of the finest residence sites in the city, commanding a splendid view of part of Budd's Inlet, the head of the Sound and quaint old Tumwater, with her beautiful succession of cascades. It is Mr. I.'s intention to build a residence on the tract. The purchase price was "dirt cheap," only $400. The Eastside Lumber Co., composed of G. S. Allen, Henry Mallory and John Graff, has been dissolved by a division of property. Mr. Allen relinquishes all ownership in the Eastside mill, on Jefferson street, and the other parties give him a clear title to the mill on Westside, a mile and a half from town, and paying him $3,500 in cash. Mr. H. Crowell, lately from Nebraska, will be associated with Messrs. Mallory and Graff in operation of the Eastside mill, and Mr. Allen will personally manage the smaller mill on the opposite side of the bay. Mr. F. W. Pumphrey, who is soon to open the tea and coffee store in this city, is a son of the well-known pioneer, who many years ago, and for many years, kept a house of entertainment at "Pumphrey's Landing," on the Cowlitz river, where all the old-timers slept their second night on making a three days' trip from Portland to this city. The hostelry was noted for excellent fare, the refresh for which was doubtless sharpened by the arduous nature of the trip. The old settlers, and doubtless many of the new comers, will accord Mr. Pumphrey a cordial welcome to our business circle. In the merry-go-round contest for the gold watch resulted in it being awarded to Miss Hall. Saturday afternoon the friends of Miss Hall planked down $125 and bought all the remaining tickets the management had, thereby ending the "contest," but not so in the minds of the friends of Miss Rosie Hubbard, who was giving her opponent a merry race, and insisted that the merry-go-round management should have had enough tickets to last until the close of the contest that night. The matter was finally settled by Mr. Hawley, the manager, purchasing and giving to Miss Hubbard a watch just like Miss Hall's. The job of planking Fourth street is progressing very favorably. The Light and Power Co. have their track reconstructed from Jefferson street to the new court-house and the planking, under the personal supervision of Messrs. Cotter and Forbes, the contractors, is not much behind it. The covering laid is this time made of "sized" four-inch plank, and is as smooth as a dancing floor, and will doubtless last much longer than the rough lumber formerly used, which left projections for the heavy teams to splinter and the boards shatter by heavy jolts. The job, it is thought, is a good one, and when completed will last a decade or more, with slight occasional repairs. The Board of Directors of Olympia schools met Tuesday night, and selected W. W. Montgomery for Superintendent and Principal of the High School; Margaret Keyes, Georgiana Fisher and R. R. Loomis, teachers in the High school; Chas. Briffett, Principal of Lincoln school; Frank D. Cook, Principal of Westside school; Grade teachers, Lethia Gallier, Margaret Bigelow, Clara McKenzie, Anna O. Iverson, Myrtle Robertson, Mildred Stanford, Selma Kronberg, Ethel McCollum, Linnie Barnes, Amelia Dison, Veronice Marsan, Lorena Gleason, Janet S. Moore and Beulah Rankine. A. C. Gallia tendered his resignation as Principal of Lincoln school, to engage in other business. It is thought that it may be the temperature of the water that has interfered so far with the propagation of Eastern oysters on Puget Sound. Fish Commissioner Kershaw thinks he has discovered a lagoon in San Juan county which may, by a small expenditure, be made to overcome the difficulty hitherto encountered. By constructing a dam, an area of several acres in extent may be covered with a shallow depth of sea-water, and this will doubtless raise the temperature sufficiently to overcome that cause for failure, if it is the true one. He thinks that if Eastern oysters can be once produced the yield will have become acclimated sufficiently to make propagation possible at many other points on the Sound. A marriage took place in Seattle last Saturday evening, in which many of our people will feel a decided interest, as the bride was one of the fair daughters of our city, born and reared in our midst. Miss Mayme Weston was united to Mr. George Richard Wood, of that city, Rev. Clarke Davis officiating. A correspondent says that the bride wore cream-colored silk mill, trimmed in applique. She carried a lovely bouquet of white carnations. She was married at the home of her parents, 1215 Taylor avenue. The parlor and reception rooms were beautifully decorated in green and white, and the dining-room in yellow. The couple received many beautiful presents. They have begun housekeeping at 1230, on the same avenue. "Alle some Boston man," Andrew Saunders, a "red man" filed for record a deed, Monday, transferring a 20-acre farm near Rochester, signed by Perry Yorkton, another aborigine, for a consideration of $120. The poor Indian now wears white men's clothes instead of the single robe, the blanket; drives horses attached to wagons, instead of riding them bareback; eats from plates instead of cedar "shacks" or clam-shells; lives in frame houses instead of a wigwag; uses a cook stove instead of preparing his food for mastication over a fire without pipe or chimney, to carry off the smoke; draws wild music out of a piano, or drums plaintive wails from an organ, instead of beating on boards as an accompaniment to his melancholy chant; uses the telephone to transmit his guttural wawa, and the phonograph to furnish his rag-time music. Oh yes, indeed; Lo is getting there with bipedal swiftness! The body of William Bradshaw, a resident of Bucoda, was found in the Skookumchuck river Tuesday, by some millmen who were drifting down the river on a raft. It had lodged in the branches of a submerged tree. Bradshaw had been missing since the 12th. Coroner Hartcock on being notified, went out and held on inquest, which resulted in a verdict of accidental drowning, although circumstances very strongly impel the belief that it was a case of suicide. Deceased was 29 years of age, industrious and popular, but his married life, it seems, was anything but a happy one, and the day before his disappearance he followed his wife to Centralia and it is surmised that the final interview with her drove him to desperation. He had purchased a ticket for return home the day following, but it was not used. Deceased was a member of the United Workmen and a policy of $2,000 was recorded in favor of his wife. High School Graduating Exercises. The graduating class of the High school, consisting of Harold Agnew, Alice Yantis, Hallie Pierce and Bert Umpley, will be the central figures of an interesting programme at Olympia Theater to-night. The programme is as follows: Overture.....Orchestra Invocation.....Rev. R. M. Hayes, D. D. "Ship Subsidy".....Harold Agnew "Race Problem".....Hallie Pierce Selection.....Bert Umpley "Lessons from the Development Theory".....Alice Yantis "Who Shall Sway the Scepter?".....Bert Umpley Vocal Solo.....Mrs. Bertram Graves Address.....Supt. F. B. Cooper Presentation of Diplomas.....Supt. W. W. Montgomery Selection.....Male Quartet A nominal charge of ten cents will be made to defray expenses. The class that will enter the High school next year is a large one—38 in all—and they are as follows: Charity Austin, Lulu Bailey, Grace Barr, Myrtle Calvery, Laura Dwyer, Myrtle Erb, Flora Faylor, Inez Hadley, Hilda McKelroy, Hattie McRostie, Annie Rick, Georgia Melville, Marjorie Percival, Jennie Austin, Nettie Baker, Maud McCadden, Marjory Murphy, Maud Saffin, Earl Crisman, George Cotter, Mitchell Garrison, Robert Mann, Royal Veir, Horace Coker, Anna Sadley, Flavel, Raton, Juliet Van Eaton, Genievie Watson, Alma Whittier, Roy Scott, Ethel Wood, Effie Alexander, Freda Biechschmidt, Myrtle Stephens, Evelyn Abernethy, Helen Grindrod, Sarah Kegy, Charles Henry and Irvin Maurer. THE COMING ANNIVERSARY. At a meeting held by the Chamber of Commerce in the Superior Court room, last evening, it was decided to give a celebration in Olympia, that, if possible, will be made to excel all previous efforts in that line. The following committees were appointed: On Finance, J. H. Scott, chairman; J. E. Dailey, C. M. Bolton. On Sports, Jesse T. Mills, chairman; John Berkshire, Thomas M. Vance. On Programme and Speakers, Henry Drum, chairman; Frank C. Owings, George C. Israel. On Printing, Guy C. Winstanley, chairman; J. H. Price, Gus Harris. On Music, F. G. Deckeback, chairman; George Mills, A. T. Erickson. General Committee on Arrangements, Henry Drum, chairman; J. H. Scott, Jesse T. Mills, Guy C. Winstanley, F. G. Deckeback. It is understood that the exercises of the day will be under the general supervision of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, which has made a success of about everything it undertakes. Take Notice. All the grocery stores of Olympia will close at noon for the rest of the day on Decoration Day. By order of the Association. You will have to hurry if you want the six-piece toilet set to be given away by Marshall & Scott.

STATE NEWS. Centralia will celebrate the 4th. Pasco reports the first wagon-load of strawberries brought in last Saturday. The cornerstone for the new St. Paul church at Walla Walla was laid with impressive ceremony, Wednesday. Peter Nolan, a tramp, went to sleep on the N. P. tracks, near Elma, and was run over by the passenger train but not killed. Alfred Hamilton was whanged at the county jail, at Whatcom, this morning, for the murder of D. M. Woodburd, of Anacortes, last September. The city of Vancouver has sold its electric lighting plant to J. R. Harvey for $11,000 and have given him a franchise for 25 years. Mr. Harvey will put in a modern $50,000 plant. J. C. Osgood, an employee of the Cochran-Zook mill at Ballard, was instantly killed Saturday by falling across the knee-bolting saw. He was saved almost in two before help could reach him. Young Russell W. Hubbard, who was employed in the round house at Pasco, met an unusual death Sunday. On some errand he went into the small pit where the gasoline tank is and was overcome by the fumes. Ten or twelve shingle mills in the vicinity of Elma have shut down for two weeks, in obedience to orders from the shingle combination. The purpose of the "close down" is to force the prices back from $1.60 to $1.75 a thousand. The Aberdeen fire boys were trying a new fire-hose attachment the other evening. The hose got loose and in attempting to get out of the way of the flying water a boy, Ray Ellis, was knocked down by the crowd and had his leg broken. Everything New. Gentry Bros.' Famous Shows, enlarged exactly twice their former size, will soon exhibit in this city. Gentry Bros.' shows are the most entertaining exhibitions that exhibit under canvas, and the recent addition of nearly 100 new acts and animals make it more enjoyable than ever.
