

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Winter Bouquets. Dried grasses, pressed ferns, pressed flowers, autumn leaves, everlasting flowers, cattails and many other beautiful things may be prepared during the long summer days to brighten our homes during winter.

The best way to cure grasses and grains is by sticking the stems in a box of dry sand. In this way they cure in their natural graceful positions and do not have that stiff appearance as when dried with heads down.

They keep their color better if gathered just before they are ripe. All of the wild grasses are pretty for winter decoration, and there are many varieties as well as different colors and shades. Oats, wheat, barley, cleat, etc., are all pretty.

There are many pretty berries found in the woods that keep well. Those of the bittersweet, sweetbriar, wild rose, pigeonberries and many others are found in most localities.

Cattails should be cut before they are fully ripe, otherwise they are very troublesome in the house.

The foliage of the rosehues, ferns and bright autumn leaves when nicely pressed make pretty ornaments. Be sure to gather some bright red leaves of the woodbine and sumach.

If goldenrod is picked just before the buds open, and dried in the dark, it will keep its color and the buds will expand as it dries; this is also true of many chrysanthemums. Wild flowers should be dried quickly to preserve their beauty. Many seed pods are also quite ornamental.

When making up your bouquets, arrange the grasses and leaves, then place the berries and flowers among them.

If any have short stems they may be glued to small twigs that will bring them to the required height.

Do not crowd too many in the vase or they will not be so pleasing. Have enough so that when one bouquet becomes dusty it may be thrown away and a fresh one take its place.

The time to prepare for winter is during the summer. Seeds of briza, agrostis and other fine grasses, also of everlasting flowers should be sown at least by mid-summer, to have cutting material by autumn. And the wild grasses, ferns and everlastings must be cut and cured at the proper season in summer to have fine specimens for winter decoration.

Serving Green Corn.

Green Corn on the Cob: Strip the ears, and put in salted boiling water, boil for an hour. It is said that corn is much sweeter if the innermost leaves are left on until the corn is done.

Stewed Corn: Cut the corn from the ear, being careful not to cut into the cob. To 2 pts corn add a piece of butter as big as an egg, salt and pepper. Cook in a granite kettle with water enough to more than cover it, for three-quarters of an hour. Stir frequently, and if necessary, add more water. Just before it is done, allow the water to cook almost out, then add 1 1/2 pt milk thickened with 2 level teaspoons flour. Let it come to a boil and serve immediately.

An Impromptu Conspiracy.

I forgot just now what character it is that Shakespeare makes to say, "Lord, Lord, how this world is given to lying!" But I was reminded of the exclamation while eating my luncheon in a restaurant the other day.

A young man asked his friend to pass the bowl of cold slaw.

"That's not cold slaw," said the other, as he pushed it along, "it's celery."

"What are you givin' me?" demanded the first speaker.

"Chopped celery," replied the other, unblushingly. Then he winked at the waiter and said:

"George, isn't that celery?"

"Yes, sah; dat's celery," replied George promptly.

The first young man was dazed, and then he appealed to a couple of typewriter girls who were eating at the next table, but who had listened to the dispute.

They sweetly assured him that the bowl contained celery.

Then he turned to a man at the end of the table who had watched the proceedings, but had said nothing.

"What do you say it is?" he demanded.

"It's apple butter."

Then everybody burst out laughing, and the man who had asked for cold slaw recognized an impromptu conspiracy to deceive him.—Pittsburg Gazette.

SENATOR Stewart says that he and the State of Nevada are now safely in the ranks of the Republican party, hence the chances of their making any capital out of the free-silver idea are no longer considered good by them. Senator Stewart is believed to have been in the silver movement because he thought the West would favor it and he wanted to be on the victorious side, without regard to any principle involved.

A PROMINENT Democratic editor, after conceding the versatility of Senator Mark Hanna, is disgusted with his attempts to manage both the trusts and the labor organizations, and says: "The Cleveland workingmen who applaud Hanna are a disgrace to American citizenship."

PROTECTION is not justice, equity, or even fair-play, it is favoritism, pure and simple, and who gets it? The rich man invariably.

The Changeling Child.

The Scientific Explanation of the Change Formerly Attributed to the Fairies.

In folk lore stories there is frequent mention of changelings—children who were changed by fairy influence. Some loving wife and proud husband found their child weak of body, and sometimes weak of mind. It grew up to be fretful, sullen and perhaps spiteful. It seemed impossible that love could bring such a child into the world. So the child was called a fairy changeling, a child substituted by the fairies for one whom in their envy for its loveliness they had carried away.

We hear no more of fairy stories. Science says that healthy and lovely children must have healthy parents, and that when the mother in her days of waiting and anticipation is down. Had several hard cramping spells, and was not able to do any work at all. I received your answer in a few days, telling me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took three bottles, and before I had taken it a week I was better, and before I had taken it a month I was able to help do my work. On the 27th of May my baby came, and I was only sick three hours, and had an easy time. The doctor said I got along nicely.

"We praise Dr. Pierce's medicine for it has cured me. I am better now than I have been for thirteen years. I hope all how are afflicted will do as I have done and be cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a perfect medicine for women. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and cures female weakness. It is the best preparative for maternity, strengthening the nerves, encouraging the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep. It gives the mother strength to bring a child and make the baby's advent practically painless.

THE TEST OF WOMAN'S HEALTH. It is a strength. A well woman will be a strong woman. She will not be "just dragging around" with throbbing head, aching back and constant weariness. No woman can be strong who is troubled by disease of the delicate female organism. The proof of the curative power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription may be all summed up in the phrase "It makes weak women strong, sick women well."

"During my two years of married life I have not had good health," writes Mrs. Daisy Studdard, of 608 So. Esplanade Ave., Leavenworth, Kans. "I was all run-down, and my husband got me to write to Dr. Pierce and explain my case to him and see if he could do me any good. So I wrote, and thank the Lord, I got an early reply, telling me what the trouble was. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and also 'Pleasant Pellets,' and now can say that I feel like a new woman and can say also that we have a big baby four months old. When the baby came it was just wonderful how I got along now I do all my work and do not feel tired out like I used to. I have taken eight bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and makes one feel like a new woman. Women who are troubled with chronic diseases are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All letters are privately read and privately answered, and womanly confidences are guarded by the same strict professional privacy observed in personal consultations. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

When a dealer tempted by the little more profit paid by less meritorious preparations offers a substitute for the "good" as "Favorite Prescription" remember that "just as good" for him means his profit and your loss.

A WOMAN IS AT HER WITS' END sometimes to find a cure for familiar ailments. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is full of helpful hints and information for women.

"I got the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser for 31 one-cent stamps," writes M. M. Wardwell, Esq., of Lincoln, Leavenworth Co., Kans. "Wouldn't take five dollars for it if we couldn't get another. Gave receipt for 'mussel mouth' to two women that the doctor was not able to benefit, and they were cured."

This great medical work, containing 1000 large pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper-covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

There are 16,000 acres of asparagus under cultivation in Sacramento county, Cal., and recently the California Fruitgrowers' Association have purchased 15,000 acres near Stockton, at $1,000 per acre, on which asparagus will be grown.

"Land at Mill Peters, near San Jose, which a few years ago could be bought for $10 an acre, is now worth $1,000 per acre for asparagus production. California produces 98 per cent of the canned asparagus of the world. New York last year canned about 5,000 cases. These are the only places in the world where asparagus is cultivated and canned. The world is the market for canned asparagus, every case having ready sale."

King Alfonso Manifests Signs of Insanity. It is feared that King Alfonso, of Spain is insane. A Madrid dispatch of last week says that he continues to embarrass his entourage by his unconventional doings. Visiting the Cathedral of Leon he shocked the holy men of the place by facetious remarks about the saints whose remains are treasured in chests. He then went up to the organ loft to play a chant. Suddenly he struck up a march and cried out loudly, "Attention, quick march!"

Allonzo, on leaving the Cathedral, jumped a fence and commanded the aged dean to follow his example, but graciously excused the dean's disobedience, as the feat was physically impossible for the aged dignitary. These recent pranks and eccentricities add force to the gossip started by previous outbreaks and fears are openly expressed concerning his sanity.

A WRITER in a well-known magazine calls attention to the frequent mention in the daily press of the Roosevelt children and says: "If such is possible, an earnest public is just one degree more weary of the little Roosevelts than of the once celebrated 'Baby McKee!'"
