Mrs. A. E. Laberee left Saturday for Guthrie Center, Iowa, in response to a telegram announcing the serious illness of her father, Chas. Root.

Chas. Vietzen has bought of E. S. Horton lots 2 and 8 of block 10 of Sylvester plat, for $400. The property is situated at the lower end of Main street.

T. H. Phipps, our popular grocer, made an address on "Transportation—How Improved," at the State meeting of men of his trade, at Everett, last Friday.

Jesse S. Kearns and Miss Nellie May Frost, of Little Rock, were united in marriage at the home of the bride, Sunday afternoon. They will reside in Olympia.

Mrs. C. H. Guiberson was the recipient of an enjoyable party last evening given in honor of her birthday, by Mrs. Bridges, at the latter's home on Eighth street.

A check for $143.00 tendered for payment of delinquent taxes against the Olympia Hotel, on street improvements, was accepted by the Council at its last meeting.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather the entertainment of the fire chiefs has gone on without any apparent hitch. They are used to water, you know.

Dr. John L. Kellett, who was this week registered at the Olympia, is said to be a nephew of Joseph Kellett, one of the leading business entities of our city forty years ago.

A bill for $87.71, submitted by Margaret Adams to the City Council for care of city patients was rejected on the ground that those receiving the benefit are now able to pay.

Otto Stuth, arrested on a charge of gambling and confined in the county jail, was yesterday released by the Sheriff by order of the court, on motion of Prosecuting Attorney Owings that there was not sufficient evidence to convict.

A meeting is called for to-morrow evening, in the Superior Court-room, to organize a branch of the Y. M. C. A., under the direction of State Traveling Secretary, C. L. Wilcox.

The Elks and Foresters played a game of baseball on the grounds near this city, last Sunday. The latter won the challenged parties and won the game by a score of 10 to 1.

A shipment of 100 barrels of cement was received from Portland, for the new heavy extension at Tumwater, yesterday, which does not look much as if work had been suspended.

The county has formally transferred to the city of Olympia a one-third interest in the new jail, the third being described as the corridor and cells of the ground floor of that stately edifice.

The steamship Queen left the Sound for San Francisco Monday, with Mr. Webster and daughter passengers by her for that destination. The next steamer for that port will be the City of Puebla to-morrow.

The Tumwater City Council favors Gen. Stevens' idea of an eighty-foot boulevard to connect that suburb with this city. At a late meeting right of way was granted and the project highly commended.

The Supreme Court have under consideration the new jury law in a case from Whatcom county, in which the validity of the position requiring litigants to pay a jury fee in civil cases has been questioned.

Dr. Mitchell and J. R. Chaplin have leased Horst's dock for a term of three years, with an option of buying at the end of that time, and expect to secure a line of steamers to make it their landing-place and headquarters.

Mrs. Asenoth Choate, daughter of T. B. Houston, died on the 17th inst. at the residence of her brother on Bush Prairie, after an illness of many years. She was a widow and 43 years of age. She leaves two children, John and Belle Choate.

The trial of Hans Goldenberger will come off this afternoon at 2 o'clock in a Justice Court. Through his attorney, Phil Skilton, he asked for a jury trial of the charge of assaulting his neighbor, J. G. Grimm, and yesterday his demand was granted.

Rev. Frederick R. Howard, lately of Superior, Wis., accompanied by his wife and child, arrived Tuesday, and are now residents of the Rectory of St. John's Church. His work will begin next Sunday, when regular morning and evening services will be held.

The Enati Club have made arrangements for a course of "Perry Entertainments," on the evenings of Oct. 8th, 9th and 10th, at the Grand Army hall. The leading subject treated will be "Books, and Their Makers," and will be illustrated by stereopticon views.

Tuesday was the Jewish New Year's day, beginning the 5664th year of this dispensation. The stores of that day that faith were closed on that day. Yesterday was another holiday, the feast of Gualadiah, and Oct. 1st comes their greatest festival, Yom Kippur.

Bert Ward and Miss Frances Taber were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon. The happy couple are both well known residents of Tumwater, the groom being a son of the late Ira B. Ward. Justice Giles performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends.

The farm-house of Fred Writter, on the road to Rainier this side of Chambers Prairie, was destroyed by fire, with its contents, Saturday morning. The owner was away from home, and his wife did not discover the flames till they were beyond control. The loss is estimated at $1,000, with an insurance of $250.

"Over Niagara Falls," notwithstanding its fulsome advance notices, doubtless written by its advertising man, was of a mediocre grade. Why is it the management does not get "The Chaperson" or the "Burgomaster," or kindred attractions floating around on this circuit, if it can reach those "teller" attractions?

The outgoing passengers this week over the O. N. and U. P. were Mrs. A. E. Laberee, Guthrie Center, Iowa; Allen Weir, Chicago, Ill.; W. L. Downing, Dallas, Texas; Mrs. Lucy Downing, Springfield, S. D.; Mrs. Avery, Grantburg, Ill.; Mrs. W. D. Lilley, St. Paul, Neb.; and David Maritz and wife, West Plains, Mo.

Geo. U. Piper and Miss Lillian Shaw were married Monday, by Rev. Frederick T. Webb, of St. Luke's Episcopal Church. Mr. Piper is a well-known citizen of Seattle, and Miss Shaw an esteemed resident of this city. The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony for a bridal tour in California.

Work seems to be going on steadily at the Tumwater brewery, on the annex, about 15 or 20 men being engaged in excavation. The buildings that stood in the way have been moved to make way for the structure and an immense pile of gravel has been unloaded from scows for building the concrete walls.

Benjamin L. Mann, of Tumwater, died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. C. Lloyd, last Friday, aged 87 years. He was a native of the Bay State, and came to Washington about 16 years ago, residing most of that time at the place of his death. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon, Rev. A. G. Sawin officiating.

Divine services will be conducted by the Lutheran pastor, Rev. Wm. Hoberger of this city, next Sunday morning and evening, in the First Methodist Church, corner of Eighth and Adams streets. The morning sermon will be held in German; the evening service in English, at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Sunday school at 9:30 A. M.

Dr. Wm. H. Hare, State delegate to the International Congress lately held at Odera, passed through this city at Odera, passed through this city Wednesday, en route for his home at North Yakima. He reports that the convention was well attended and the proceedings will doubtless result in much benefit in reclamation of land here. The next meeting will be held at Ellensburg, Texas.

The City Council has contracted with the Olympia Development Co. for grading Hancock avenue for a consideration of $1,491.00, to be assessed against abutting property. The cost of the grading is figured at 23 cents per yard. The avenue is on Westside and runs from Fourth street northward to Madison avenue. It is the sixth street west from the channel.

Mr. T. F. Mentzer, of Tenino, in subscribing for the STANDARD, the other day, said he wanted a few lessons of the "pure and reliable Democracy" taught in its columns, although he is a staunch Republican. Probably he is wound up somewhat like the writer, who can find nothing which confirms his belief more in the underlying principles of Democracy than to witness the proceedings of a Republican convention. Or there may be possibly a hope of conversion.

The Westside Shingle mill was sold Tuesday by its late owners, Wallehan & Eschman, to Frank Tomlin and H. M. Grob, of Eltonville, this State, who will start up the mill soon as the trestle connecting it with the railroad is rebuilt. In fact the mill has been idle since June, when the trestle gave way just north of the depot. Quite a number of improvements will be made in the machinery and means of operating. The former name of Capital City Shingle mill will be retained.

J. B. Jones, of Tenino, who with his son, manages the Lumber & Power Co., of that enterprise, lately to-wit, visited the STANDARD, while in the city last week. He seems to be imbued with the proper spirit for business success, a perfect confidence in present conditions and a firm hope for future results. It is to such men that a community owes its progress and development, and our suburban neighbor seems to have quite a number of such potentialities at work at the present time.

H. H. McCray, who has been reading with attention the "bean stories" in the STANDARD, yesterday brought in a bunch of the White Waxen variety, grown in his garden at Sunset Creek, which contained over 100 pods averaging about six inches in length. He brought likewise a sample lot of shell beans, large as the Lima variety, pods averaging eight and ten inches in length. These products, as those previously noted, demonstrate that we are "some pumpkins" when it comes to beans.

A telegram received on Wednesday from Arizona, announces the death of Mrs. Margie Slater, a sister of Mrs. J. C. Percival, who had sought that climate in the vain hope of escaping the ravages of that dread disease consumption. She had been there two months, but without receiving any perceptible change until death came to her relief. She was born in Olympia, where she leaves a large circle of friends to mourn the loss of a true friend and exemplary woman. The burial rites will be held here, where the body will be removed for interment.

The unusual event of a double wedding was performed at the Carlton Wednesday. Two couples from Vance, in Lewis county, were the contracting parties, and Rev. A. G. Sawin the pastor who performed the interesting ceremony. Their names were Charles Gardner who wedded Leonora R. Orr, and Paul J. Orr, her brother, who was united to Miss Maude Moore. It was a quiet, unpretentious affair although involving such momentous consequences to twice the ordinary number of people. The parties will make their homes at Vance.

The popularity of our serial, "Land of the Changing Sun," is so great that it is reported that in one of the country districts nine families are reading it from a single copy. Count the STANDARD's circulation by that method of computation, the best of the number about 72,000, which is not far from correct. The present serial will be followed in a few weeks by another, in a different vein, but of equal interest, "The Grip of Honor." To get it complete and on time, put your name on our list. You will never regret it, and wonder how you could have done without the "Old Reliable."

The Olympia Development Co. have made a proposition to establish a porch-column industry, which they say will cost $100,000, provided the people will buy 200 of their lots in Percival and Woodruff additions at $200 each. A deposit of $50 is required, and the balance may be paid in three installments of $50 each. A "porch column" factory is somewhat of an oddity in this neck of the woods, but we are just as willing to give it a trial as was Artemus Ward to give the country a helping hand when the nation called for recruits. It makes little difference how prosperously come, so it comes. People care little whether the advance guard comes riding on a prairie schooner, a palce car or a porch column.

The Supreme Court has decided that Miss E. M. McKenzie and Mrs. Rose R. Turner, school teachers dismissed by the Trustees of the Cheney State Normal School, after contracts had been signed, the people because the kindergarten department that had been assigned to her was abolished, and Mrs. Turner being discharged at the request of Principal Miller. The courts sustain the contention of both ladies that they cannot be summarily dismissed of a privilege inasmuch as they were on contracts resulting from a formal contract. The Superior Court of this county held that the plaintiffs were not entitled to the relief prayed for, but the Supreme Court reverses that finding and awards the teachers a year's pay—$500 and $1,000 respectively.

Charles Seymour, one of our leading citizens a third of a century ago, who made the plans for Colchagua Hall, then the finest public edifice in the Territory of Washington, who now resides in Defiance, Ohio, has sent us his subscription for the STANDARD up to September, 1905. He still has a warm spot in his heart for the town where he spent several years of his life associated with John L. and Harry Clarke, A. B. Rabeson, and others, in various mechanical enterprises. Thirty-three years must have borne somewhat on the stalwart frame then in the meridian of its strength and activity, but if so, it is not apparent in his handwriting, which has the same graceful Spencerian curves as of yore. The few companions left of a generation ago will be pleased to hear from one who occupied so deep a hold upon hearts as well as place in business activities as did Charles Seymour, way back in the beginning of the 70s.

The number of freemen attending the convention in this city, instead of being 75 or a 100, numbered about 40, but they made up in appearance what they lacked in numbers. A better looking representation of any body has never visited our city, and they seem to take a pride in their work which is the best guarantee of achieving the highest success. Among them, Tacoma sends over one gentleman who is the observed of all observers, for he stands 6 1/2 feet in height. His name is G. E. Motley, and he is Superintendent of the fire alarm telegraph at Tacoma. Another gentleman in attendance is John W. Chute, of San Francisco, agent of the Gamewell Fire Alarm Telegraph Co., the gentleman who installed our excellent system over ten years ago, which he responded promptly and effectively for duty. Seattle is represented by that

Many a married couple in Olympia who call each other in public "papa" and "mamma" fling hot peppers, fly pans and other articles of furniture at each other when they arrive home.

Now comes the worst part of the year. We must quit the cold vanilla and wondrous whine we'll get the "mon" to buy the war m chinchilla.

The gentleman who came into the STANDARD office, last week, purposely to state that King Edward was a Norwegian, because he is a VII-king, was hit with the "shooting-stick" and now lies in a precarious condition.

The Presidential contest in the United States will soon be on. The Strategy expected to be used by Marcus Hanna will be seen during the campaign. Ah, how great is honest merit. How mighty is truth!

When you meet some people they would have you think that they own the sidewalk. But reader, they don't. The city had it built for the comfort of all, not for one or two overbearing specimens of the Anglo-saxon hog, made in the image of man.

A man who boards at one of the leading boarding houses in Olympia comes to the breakfast table every morning, sweeps the board with his eyes, then closes them and mutters: "Hebrews 13:8." Finally his landlady decided to borrow a bible and investigate, and the shock nearly prostrated her, as it will you, if you do likewise.

I may be Philistine as referred to by a certain paper, but if the dictionary is to be believed, I am glad of it. For I would rather be coarse, see the vulgar side of things, be illiterate, be an idiot, eat more than I digest, every morning, than to be a bookish, some-wise man always know; I don't, still, I am willing to learn. Philistine suits me. Let the good work go on.

CROP REPORT.

Following is the weather summary for the week ending on the 21st inst., issued by the observation bureau at Seattle:

The weather during the week covered by this report was mostly warm and dry, with light frosts in exposed localities at night, which on the 14th and 15th, were damaging to tender vegetables. On Saturday, however, it began to be cloudy and cool, and showers set in near the coast. On Sunday the 20th, rain was general over the western counties and in a portion of the eastern division of the State. There was about an inch of rainfall in the Sound county, but east of the mountains the rain was light.

The rain was heavy enough to again delay haying, harvesting, threshing and hop-picking, and perhaps still further damage the hop crop. Standing wheat was lodged and quite badly shattered and considerable of that in the shocks were badly bleached. Oats and barley will be somewhat discolored; otherwise not materially damaged.

The greater part of the week was very favorable for harvesting and threshing, and a great deal of that work was accomplished. Most of the week was also favorable for hop-picking. The crop in the Yakima county is apparently good; that in the western yards is reported rather light.

Cutting the third crop of alfalfa in the irrigated districts, and the second crop of clover in some of the western localities progresses favorably. Potatoes digging is well under way. Although, in general, the crop is reported large and of good quality, in some localities of the eastern division it is light, and in some parts of the western division there are reports of blight and rot.

The rain has benefited pastures, root crops and late fruits and vegetables. It has also put the soil in very fine condition for summer fallow seeding, and fall plowing, although in the dryer districts of the eastern counties more rain is yet needed for seeding. Harvesting would have been over in all localities before this, but for the delay occasioned by the rains. A few good days will see it finished in even the latest districts. Much winter wheat is now being sown, the weather being favorable. Fears are now ripening and are a heavy crop. Italian prunes are about ready for the dryers. Apples are reported only half a crop in several localities.

This is because they are unlimited in means, and do not spare time or money to thoroughly study the coffee business. They profess to be, and are, experts in that line. They have but one merchant in a town to handle their goods, and the patrons of that merchant never use stale or old roasted coffee, from the fact that they order old roasted coffee shipped back, and send fresh roasted in its place. No other coffee house does this. No other coffee house looks after their customers so loyally. There isn't a merchant in any town but that would gladly accept the sole agency for CHASE & SANBORN'S COFFEE and abandon all others, which, in itself, is conclusive evidence of their selling and drinking qualities. Probate Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned has been duly appointed and qualified as administrator of the estate of Charles E. Taylor, deceased, and that all persons having any claim against the estate of most aforesaid or any attorney, J. W. Robinson, at his office in the Byrne Block, Olympia, Washington, within one year from September 15, 1905.

ESTELLA CARROLL, Administrator.

First publication, Sept. 15, 1905.

Dr. Kellett seems to think that he has a specific for kidney and nervous troubles in his Oil of Eden and Sweet Spirits of Eden, and he certainly gives logical reasons why and how his remedies may have a decided effect upon such complaints. The Oil is likewise a sovereign cure for rheumatism, that prevailing scourge during the damp season. The doctor's remedies may be had at the B. L. Hill Drug Co.'s store.
