Dr. C. M. Parks has tendered his resignation of the position of Superintendent of the Western Washington Hospital for the Insane. He alleges as a reason, private interests which need his attention. Four aliens were admitted to citizenship by the Superior Court this week. They were: George Casel and K. Maier, born Germans; Jos. A. Miller, a native of Austria, and A. Cameron, who hails from Canada. R. F. Shoresoff conducted an auction sale of the late Konrad Schneider personal property last Friday, at the old Schneider farm on Mud Bay. A good crowd was present and the property brought fair prices. The County Commissioners have awarded Charles Arnold $146.65 and Herman Whitney $37.75, damages for the right-of-way through their property for the new Mud Bay road, which has been ordered established. Mr. Simenson, the jeweler, is getting in some beautiful as well as useful articles in cut glass for the holiday trade. He has likewise increased his stock of jewelry so as to be able to meet all demands in price and quality of seasonable souvenirs. The Milroy brothers—J. and R. B.—who own valuable mining properties in Alaska, have written to this city, that they will spend the winter at Lomachuck, in the Fairhaven district on the Arctic ocean, instead of returning to "civilization," as they had contemplated. Probably the proudest man in Olympia the past week has been George G. Mills and the cause of it is a stalwart son, which appeared this week to do honor to a worthy name. Congratulations are still in order, for George regards it very properly as an episode in Life's journey of no little importance. Mr. and Mrs. Bordeaux of this city and Tuesday for Los Angeles, Cal., to visit relatives and friends. That charming city is becoming quite a popular rendezvous for our people, there being nearly a dozen Olympians now spending the winter in that clime of perpetual Spring. The outgoing passengers this week over the O. R. & N. P. and Southern Pacific were: D. Griffin, Omaha, Neb.; Miss Olivia Jordan, Topeka, Kas.; Chas. Hart, Topeka, Kas.; Wm. Cooper, Knoxville, Tenn.; C. H. Ingram and wife, Weston, Oklahoma; Toos, Bordeaux, wife and child and Miss Webb, Los Angeles, Cal. The Olympia Light & Power Co. has received a large dynamo, soon to be installed in their new power-house. They also received a carload of hoisting and other machinery to be used in construction of the plant. When completed Olympia can boast one of the most modern power-houses in the State of Washington. "Brad" Hill has had on display, in a show-window this week, a litter of Fox-terrier pups, five in number, which have elicited much attention. They are pure white, with a dash of brown or black on head and ears. They were bred and found immediately new owners in the numerous fanciers of the canine species. The Olympia City Council, Monday night, granted renewals of liquor licenses to Grand McGowan, 223 Main street, J. H. Scott, 321 Main street, Chas. Vietsen 108 West Fourth street, and W. A. Moore, 304 Main street, and refused one to Sant Yenger, for the old Opera Exchange. Councilman Work voted against all but that of Mr. Moore. The "Christian" company arbitrarily canceled its contract at Olympia Theater, without giving the reason. It is not difficult, however, to surmise the reason. The plays are crowded so closely together that the better class of attractions decline to take the chances for securing an audience. "Fever and better," is the imperative demand of the theater-going public. At the suggestion of Councilman Price, the City Council has authorized the firm of Yantis to reconstruct the Silby engine, which, it is hoped to make, a reunion of the old-time firemen. The matter has been placed in the hands of Chief Raymond and Engineer Brautigan for "reconstruction," who will select the date and arrange the programme. The Edison company sustained the loss of an 800-foot strip of films of their moving-picture projector, from bringing a lighted candle too near the strip which is made of celluloid, a substance so inflammable as to be the lightest tinder. The loss was about $100, but fortunately the management has a good supply of films and the loss will in no way weaken that feature of the exhibit. The steamer Capital City last Friday lost her wheel in 60 fathoms of water, off Three Tree Point, while on the run between Seattle and Tacoma. She will be laid up some time for repairs. The change of name of this craft did not change her luck, or ill-luck, as it was hoped it would do. She has been unlucky from the moment she left her wharf and doubled the hoodoo which accompany her till she reposes beneath the waves. The total registration of Olympia this year is slightly in excess of last. A comparative table is given below, in which it will be seen that all but the Sixth has increased its list of voters: First 202 225 Second 152 157 Third 188 186 Fourth 222 229 Fifth 109 109 Sixth 1,054 1,146 Total 2,827 3,041 Jack Grinnett and Lloyd Dorsey were brought before Justice Giles, Monday, for assault upon a Japanese resident, Friday night. Dorsey took all blame upon himself and was fined $10 and costs. A second charge against Grinnett of assault with a deadly weapon, led to his being bound over to wood" of Lue Vernon and our Washington letter are crowded out of this number. The Odd Fellows of Kamlichie are making preparations for a ball at that place a week from Saturday night, and an excursion steamer will run from this city. James Atkinson and Miss Fannie Biles were married at Shelton, Sunday. The bride is a sister of Mr. Samuel Crawford, of the firm of Crawford & Conover, Seattle. The body of John Shannon was brought here Sunday from Matlock and the funeral was held under the auspices of the Macabebes, of which order deceased was a member. The steamship Queen sails for San Francisco to-day; the next steamer for that destination will be the City of Puget Wednesday, and for Alaskan ports the Cottage City, the 27th.

which an excellent view may be kept of the busy scene below and a thorough knowledge of whether the stream of trade is moving steadily and satisfactorily. The prescription department and laboratory is immediately underneath the balcony. The committee on Franchises and Licenses of the City Council recommended acceptance of the bid of Edward McKeister, as City Seawaterer, for one year instead of five as stipulated in the proposition, at the following rates for service: Removing dead animals, $2.50; removing garbage of private homes four times per month or less, fifteen cents; over eight times per month, a thirty-five cents; that of business houses per month, fifty cents; cleaning vaults and cesspools, $25; removing ash from furnaces, fifty cents; removing manure per load, twenty-five cents. The contract was not let, however, on complaint of hotel men that the system as outlined would not work on an equitable basis, and the matter was referred to committee for investigation and further consideration. W. D. Mack, whose illness has been a matter of much concern the past fortnight, died Monday morning at the hospital. He had been suffering for several years from locomotor ataxia, which rendered him a cripple. Prior to his residence in this city, he lived at Gray's Harbor. About three years ago he moved here, but was seldom seen in public owing to his infirmity. He managed, however, the extensive operations of the company he represented and in which he was a principal stockholder. He was a native of Nova Scotia and 66 years of age. A wife and two daughters survive him. The funeral rites were held Wednesday, the services conducted in the house and the grave by Rev. Frederick Howard, of the St. John's Episcopal church, and the interment was made in Masonic cemetery. Sheriff McClarty has received a notification from the Sheriff of Siskiyou county, Cal., that Fred. Brantlucht, who borrowed his brother-in-law's horse to go to the train, and finding he did not have enough money to buy a ticket sold the horse for the necessary equivalent. It was an unreasonable public sentiment called this little family affair horse-stealing, and the argus-eyed vindicators of the law have had their optics stretched for some time to secure the malefactor. In the meantime the aggrieved owner of the mask of Cain in a limited degree, came to the conclusion that his sin was greater than he could bear and voluntarily surrendered to the Thurston county Sheriff. Now the question is, what are we going to do with him? Extradition costs money that the plaintiff will have to pay, and what adequate punishment can be meted out to a malefactor who surrenders? The object of penitence, prescribed by law, to restrain crime, is wholly lost in such cases. About the handsomest thing we have seen for many days is the window of table linen in the large corner window of the Mottman Mercantile Co., where you will see table cloths, napkins and scarfs, in endless variety and at all prices, from the superb hand-kerchiefs of Irish linen, to the finished work of the mills of France, Belgium and Holland. The display is of the imported article, for the reason that linen manufactures in this country while surely are slowly developing and have not yet reached the competition of the old world. Linen is, however, one of the most ancient of all textile fabrics, and its use has been traced to the early history of the Egyptians and Hebrews. The samples in the display under consideration embrace table-cloths up to $12.50 in price and napkins to $12 per dozen, and, by the way, what would be more pleasing and appropriate for a holiday present than a selection from this magnificent display, from which you can obtain gifts to suit both taste and purse? AN INNOCENT ABROAD. The Sage of Yelm in the Land of Perpetual Sunshine. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 10, 1903. ED. STANDARD: As some of your patrons might be interested in our trip to the land of sunshine, I embrace the opportunity to gratify their curiosity. We left Olympia, Oct. 30th, by train for Seattle, went aboard the Umatic, at 7 o'clock same evening. Landed in Victoria, B. C., at 4:50, ate supper at 5 o'clock and took a stroll through town. Passed through the Straits of Fuca Saturday night, in a raging storm, and woke up Sunday morning to find most of the 400 passengers and some of the crew spewing like buzzards. Landed at Frisco on Nov. 3d, at 7 A. M., stayed all day and took the night train for the most prominent being Golden Gate park and the Cliff House. Wednesday evening, at 6 P. M., took train for Los Angeles, traveling all night. At daylight next morning our eyes beheld a most desirable looking country, covered with sage-brush. The road winds around among the hills, through canons, like a snake, the hills and valleys being destitute of timber or other vegetation except when irrigated. The little patches of irrigated were like oases in desert, and were interspersed with orange, lemon and olive trees, and as we proceeded south, the palm, fig and banana began to make their appearance. Los Angeles is a beautiful city, and has the best street car service I ever saw. It contains some beautiful residences and fine gardens, and nine beautiful parks filled with tropical trees and shrubs. It like it much better than San Francisco. If Los Angeles possessed one-third of the water that goes to waste over Tumwater falls it would be a paradise on Earth. It is a land of almost perpetual summer. It has rained here since last April, and the Los Angeles river, that passes through the center of the city, don't contain half as much water as one of my ditches, and what there is, is black as tar, being impregnated with coal oil. If a match were applied to it, I think it would burn. But, notwithstanding the excessive drought, business is excellent. All the factories in full blast and wages good, carpenters getting from $3 to $4 per day, and ordinary laborers, $2. Everybody seems to be happy and always in a hurry. The cost of living don't seem to be much greater here than there. It would be quite a treat to see an old-fashioned Washington mist. It seems odd at this season to see everything so parched and dry. They sell water here by the gallon, but it is distilled. Most people use it for drinking purposes. There is plenty of city water, but it needs cleaning. There is plenty of beef, pork, veal and mutton, but I don't know where it all comes from. In haste, J. C. Co9.

DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING. FOR MAYOR—FRANK G. BLAKESLEE. FOR ATTORNEY—P. M. TROY. FOR CLERK—ROBT. G. GRAHAM. FOR TREASURER—FRED SCHOMBER. FOR COUNCILMAN—AT-LARGE—CHAS. T. LANSDALE. COUNCILMAN, FIRST WARD—W. A. VAN EPPS. COUNCILMAN, THIRD WARD—J. T. KEGLY. COUNCILMAN, FIFTH WARD—T. J. KEGLY. Tuesday evening, quite a representative gathering of Democrats assembled in the Superior Court room, and on being called to order by W. A. Van Epps, T. M. Vance was selected for Chairman and C. T. Lansdale Secretary. On motion of Robt. Graham, the following committees were appointed: Order of Business—Henry Drum, Robt. Frost and T. J. Kegley. Platform—R. Graham, P. M. Troy and W. S. Shaeser. At an intermission of a few moments, reports were submitted, and the venerable joke of requesting Mr. Troy to "interpret" the platform from his cabalistic trade marks, was passed up to that gentleman. The platform is as follows: We, the Democratic party of the city of Olympia, in convention assembled, demand: First. A clean business economical administration of city affairs. Second. That the law should be enforced upon all corporations and citizens alike. Third. The administration of the affairs of our city without reference to the candidacy of applicants for the United States Senatorship or for the Governorship of the State, but with the sole object of how to conduct city affairs. To that end we call attention to the present disgraceful contest within the ranks of the Republican party of Olympia, in which the affairs of the municipality are secondary, and lost sight of, and the sole object sought is to control the organization of the party in order to candidates for the United States Senate and for the gubernatorial nomination. We call upon the people of the city to rebuke this injection of State politics into the purely local government of our fair city by voting for and electing the nominees of this convention. The platform was unanimously adopted. Under the order of nominations for candidates Henry Drum, E. O. Robbins and C. T. Lansdale declined the proffer of the Mayoralty. Mr. Troy then named Frank Blakeslee, and his being the only name before the convention, he was nominated by a unanimous vote. For City Attorney, P. M. Troy was nominated by acclamation. Mr. Troy, in accepting the candidacy, congratulated the party in not having any Senatorial, gubernatorial or State county issues to distract and divide party sentiment, while the enemy had all of the dissensions which would be returned to the advantage of the Democratic ticket. He blamed the Republicans for "injecting" partisanship into municipal affairs and promised that when he was elected he would perform the duties of the office without entailing an expense upon the people for special counsel. His remarks were greeted with applause. Fred. Schomber was nominated for Treasurer by acclamation, as was Robt. Graham for Clerk and Chas. T. Lansdale for Councilman-at-Large, G. S. Prince and F. J. O'Brien declining the latter nomination. A recess was then taken for selection of Ward Councilmen and Committeemen. W. A. Van Epps was announced as selection for Councilman in the First Ward, J. T. Otis in the Third and T. J. Kegley in the Fifth, and for Committeemen were chosen: C. O. Young, at Large; Thos. Kearney, First ward; John Miller Murphy, Second; Scott Shazer, Third; E. O. Robbins, Fourth; Big Eddy, Fifth, and David Mitchell, Sixth. A meeting of the committee and candidates is called for to night, in Mr. Otis' office, in McKinney block. At the close of the meeting, the Chairman on call made a characteristic speech, fairly bursting with wit and humor, closing with a story about a man who back East, who being in a minority party, attended a "convention" of himself, appointed himself chairman of a committee on credentials, reported himself as the convention, appointed himself the committee on resolutions, went to an anteroom and wrote a platform that would reach from the court-room to the city hall, reported it to himself and by himself it was unanimously adopted. He could not remember the whole string of resolutions, but the last was as follows: "We don't care a damn what happens, so long as it don't happen to us." Just where the application came in was unanimously adopted. It was left to conjecture.

COFFEE! THE "BIGGEST" GROCERY IN THE CITY OFFERS YOU: THE "BEST" OF COFFEE. When you buy the CHASE & SANBORN'S "HIGH GRADE" COFFEES, you are not experimenting; you always get the best for the money you pay. This is because they are unlimited in means, and do not spare time or money to thoroughly study the coffee business. They profess to be, and are, experts in that line. They have but one merchant in a town to handle their goods, and the patrons of that merchant never use stale or old roasted coffee, from the fact that they order all old roasted coffee shipped back, and send fresh roasted in its place. No other coffee house does this. No other coffee house looks after their customers so "loosely." There isn't a merchant in any town but that would gladly accept the sole agency for CHASE & SANBORN'S COFFEE and abandon all others, which, in itself, is conclusive evidence of their selling and drinking qualities. Do not be deceived but come to headquarters and get COFFEE that you know to be best. J. F. KEARNEY & CO., SOLE AGENTS FOR CHASE & SANBORN'S COFFEE.
