Heavy rains fell the early part of the week, mostly in the night-time, fulfilling the poor man's petition that rain should fall nights and Sundays, so as not to interfere with outdoor work.

If anybody is doubtful of Thurston county being able to present a wonderful fine front display, let them take a glance at the fruit exhibited Saturday at the Horticultural Society's regular meeting.

The annex to St. Martin's College at Woodland, which will soon be ready for occupancy, will afford ample accommodations for the increasing attendance of that popular educational institution.

Geo. H. Stone, W. W. Pickering and Wm. T. Sheard, all of Tacoma, have been appointed by the State Executive delegates to the Trans-Mississippi Congress, which meets in St. Louis on the 25th inst.

An error was made in stating the legal dimensions of apple-boxes, in the report of the horticultural meeting on the first page of this number. The figures should be 18 inches by 11 and 10 1/2, inside measurement. Pear boxes are the same length and width but only 8 inches deep.

Miss Zula Shelton, formerly of this place and well known here, died in New York last Saturday, where she was taking a post-graduate course of instruction as a hospital nurse. She died of typhoid fever. The body will be brought to Tacoma for interment, where her parents reside.

The State Capitol Commission met at Tacoma, Monday, and appropriated $500 for exchange of the lanterns to adapt them to the current employed for lighting. They likewise agreed to pay the cost of the Ryan contract for removing rust stains from the walls, out of balance due the Goss Company. The lighting plant and elevators were formally accepted.

Mrs. John Thill, who died suddenly at her home, near Tenino, Sunday, after a long illness, was a native of Belgium and came to this State from St. Paul, Minn., about 15 years ago. Soon after arrival here her husband died. She leaves three daughters and one son. A daughter lives at Tumwater and another daughter and a son at Tenino. Mrs. Thill was held in high esteem by all who knew her.

The Presbyterian congregation is making preparations to celebrate its 50th anniversary in this city, on the 12th prox. Its founder was Rev. G. F. Whitworth, now of Seattle, and 50 years of age. D. C. Beatty, of this county, was one of the charter members. One of the most prominent and successful pastors was Rev. John R. Thompson, who lost his life while serving as regimental chaplain in the Philippines.

Miss Ida Chambers of this city, and Senator W. G. Potts of Seattle, were united in marriage at Everett, Tuesday morning. Rev. Father Classens performing the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Chambers, and is a native of Olympia, and Mr. Potts is part owner and manager of a hotel in the Queen City. The happy couple left for the East immediately after the ceremony by the Great Northern route.

A collision of two Northern trains at Roy, Wednesday, fortunately resulted in but slight damage and no loss of life. Two tramps, William Ryan and William Martin, sustained minor sprains and bruises. The "Willies" were as usual stealing a ride via the brake-beam. The collision was head-on, but luckily the speed was slow, a dense fog prevailing. The damage to the trains is confined mainly to demolition of their "pilots." For a time traffic was diverted to the loop via this city.

The Populists have concluded finally to make their work more effective by placing no State ticket in the field. Most of their votes will doubtless go to the Democratic nominees. They have filed, however, an electoral ticket, consisting of J. G. Wolfe of Lincoln, W. E. Runner of Spokane, Geo. F. Cotterill and Edward Clayton of Seattle, and Alexander McDonald of Ballard. The list of names was submitted the 14th day for filing an official ticket, which seems to indicate that the act was a reluctant one, after all.

Probably the best play that has appeared at Olympia Theater the past season was "For Her Sake," Wednesday night, but was unfortunately placed so close to "By Light of Sword," another Russian play, that it gave small audiences to both. The play is a powerful one and the cast was almost perfect, attracting two who were in it three years ago, when presented in the same house. They were Mr. and Mrs. Marble, in the leading parts of "Gen. Gruffin" and "Princess Natasha Wallonoff." The play was well presented, and, despite the mismanagement which resulted in an unsatisfactory business.

ACT OF A DESPOT.—A Manila dispatch of the 9th, says that an immense popular demonstration in support of the port of Parker and Davis and the Democratic platform, had been broken up the previous evening, by order of the Secretary of War, William H. Taft. Thousands of people, representatives of all classes, had assembled, they had innocently supposed they had a right to do, under the Stars and Stripes, when, through his obsequious straps, the meeting was ordered to disperse. The order was respected, but by no means approved.

Harry C. Ranft, Superintendent of the Olympia Light & Power Co. started up the electric light service at 11 o'clock Saturday night. The occasion was one of much rejoicing, and a public meeting was held, the Mayor presiding, when the switch was turned by the executive officer of the municipality. The electric light service, appearing all over the city was greeted with great applause. A concert and ball followed as an appropriate ending of this marked step in the line of progress.

SHERIFF Huntington, of Cowlitz county, expresses the opinion that the whitecap outrage of which comment is made in another column, was simply a fake planned by Kelly himself to delay his wedding on account of want of money to complete arrangements for even beginning married life. He relates many circumstances which tend to show that his alleged kidnapping was a clumsily arranged plan for delay of the marriage.

SEVENTEEN Japanese geisha girls at the World's Fair, as part of the Pike exhibit, refuse to return to their own country, despite the efforts of U. S. Marshals to deport them. Having observed with watchful eyes the American men and their habits the little brown maids want to become a part of the community. The girls are kept from separating by a guard placed over their boarding-house.

MUCH fighting with variable results, is being done up of the Oriental war the past few weeks. For some time the results seemed to be with the Russians, after Kurapatkin had assumed the offensive, but later dispatches divide the honors of war. Movements seem to be concentrating for a great battle in a few days, which will be decisive of the year's campaign.

A "SIGN OF THE TIMES."—Mr. J. H. Scott reports that there is every little discussion of politics in the East, and very little interest manifested on either side of the question. This is always an ominous indication for the party in power, who are supposed to possess the incentive for fear, and the means for making it effusive as well as effective.

THERE is one town in this country—and only one—which has no municipal tax to pay, and that is Bartonville, Ill., where the State Asylum for incurably insane is located. The population is but 300 and a liquor license income of $1,000 is annually collected.
