

METEOROLOGICAL

Forecast for the week ending April 10, 1935. High 65, low 45. Partly cloudy with light rain.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Articultural meeting to-morrow. G. Blankenship went down the Sound yesterday. Henry Meyer, of Mud Bay, was in the city Monday. The woods are fragrant with the odor of wild flowers. Fruit trees now look as if ornamented with strings of popcorn. H. G. Messinger, of Seattle, is visiting his parents in this city. Mrs. James Israel visited friends down the Sound, this week. Al. Munson will leave next week for Alameda, Cal., to visit relatives. Mrs. O. C. White and daughter returned this week from Pasadena, Cal. The Supreme Court has decided that Indians holding land under allotment must pay taxes. Mrs. J. D. Ryan, of Wisconsin, has arrived to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Lyman. The Police Justice reports fines and collections for the month of March to the amount of $229.75. Judge Crow met his wife in Seattle, Wednesday, who was on route for this city, their future home. Labor Commissioner Charles Hubbard has appointed E. F. Huff, of Montesano, his deputy. The fees collected by County Auditor Langridge during the month of March amounted to $283. The new gridiron was completed yesterday and the Greyhound went on its last night for repairs. St. Martin's College team won a victory over the Garrison team of this city, Sunday, at Woodland. Mrs. M. B. Morrow, who has been the guest of Mrs. J. L. Brown, has returned to her home in Aberdeen. A cute little daughter arrived Sunday to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brucker, of Eastside. Swayne's pile-driver is busily engaged in driving piles for an extension of the yards of the Olympia Door Co. It is reported that Gov. Mead has decided to appoint John E. Frost of Ellensburg, the third member of the Tax Commission. Nine wedding licenses were issued by the County Auditor during March, which is rather a smaller number than usual for a month. The Capital City Band began the season's open-air concerts by rendering an excellent programme in Capitol Park, Wednesday evening. The City Council is making arrangements to establish a dumping ground for garbage, a matter of no little difficulty by it is known. A flag staff 100 feet long was raised on Maple Park, Tuesday, which is a part of the plan laid out by the Civic Club for beautifying the city. The Capital City Band has just received a couple of additional clarinets to perfect the harmony of their now really magnificent organization. The local chapter Order of Eastern Star held a special meeting last night to do honor to a visit of Grand Matron Mrs. E. Belle Marcy, of Montesano. The insurance adjusters have placed the amount of damage to the Carlton House by fire at $2,900. The $1,000 on the furniture was allowed in full. If any of our country readers will send us news items of their district it will be appreciated by the STAFF AND as well as the readers in their locality. Mrs. W. L. Bridgford has returned from a three weeks' visit to her sister, Mrs. Dawson of Albany, Oregon. Mrs. Dawson and son accompany her on a visit to this city. Mayor Boyd, of Spokane, is in this city looking for work for the park in his town. He has his eye on the Light & Power Co.'s herd at Tumwater, for selection of a buck. Edward Rogers, formerly one of the owners of the Oxford saloon, has bought a farm near North Yakima, and left with his family this week to make it their home. Mr. and Mrs. George G. Mills visited Tacoma, Tuesday, to attend the wedding of Carroll Gordon, Mrs. Mills' brother, of Spokane, with Miss Edith Norton, of that city. Thomas Blauvelt has purchased the lot on the northeast corner of Ninth and Main streets, from Louis Burke of Portland, and proposes to erect a residence thereon. Richard Eskridge, an attorney of Seattle, visited our city on official business this week. On dit, Mr. E. is a grandson of the first Territorial Governor, Isaac I. Stevens. An effort is to be made to compel doctors to report births and deaths, as the law requires them to do, and copies of the statute are being sent out with that object in view. Gov. Mead has pardoned W. L. Leonard sentenced at Seattle, last October, to one year in the penitentiary for assault. The petition was signed by the trial judge and jurors. Many who went fishing with poles jointed and flies dangling, this week, returned minus rod, without fish and with profanity on their lips. It seems that the fony tribe have not yet awakened from their winter's sleep. Mrs. Clara H. Martin, wife of H. Martin, died at her home at Five Oaks, Chambers Prairie, yesterday morning, of consumption, aged 20 years. She leaves a husband and two children. The funeral will be held to-morrow (Saturday) from the family home at Five Oaks, at 11 a. m.

A fire alarm Tuesday afternoon was caused by a blaze in the chimney of John Yantis' house on Dayton and Jefferson streets. The fire which had communicated to the roof was easily extinguished. Samuel Benn, the well-known pioneer of Aberdeen, has filed suit against Edward Bateman in the Superior Court. The suit involves ownership of a tract of land in the northwestern part of the county. Little Frank Cunningham was run over by a horse belonging to Capt. Paterson on East Bay Avenue, Sunday morning. The horse of the spine and one of his shoulders are badly bruised, but the injuries are not dangerous. The College Independent has changed its name to Western Independent, amended doubtless by the spirit of the complaint. Remember and call at Gottfeld's Emporium on East Fourth street, and look at the fine line of suits just received, at prices that will sell them quickly. This is Olympia's up-to-date exclusive graft's furnishing establishment. Work has been begun on extensive improvements to the brewery at Tumwater. The foundation for a big four-story structure is under way, and next Monday pile-driving will be begun for a 60 by 120 wash-house over tide-water. E. J. Norton, a member of the Olympia Aerie of Eagles, committed suicide at Tacoma, Sunday night, by swallowing carbolic acid. He had been ill for some time, and it is supposed that despondency led to the rash act. He leaves a wife and child. The trout season opened Saturday, the 1st—all fools' day—and from all accounts the catch on Sunday, which by common consent was the real "opening" day, was not large; a few returned with fish and many with accounts of the big fellows which—escaped. Frank Carr, of Schneider's Prairie, met with a painful accident, last Friday afternoon. While riding horseback the animal became frightened and something in the red and shield throwing Mr. Carr heavily to the ground, breaking the left leg between the ankle and knee. The City Council voted unanimously Monday night to increase the saloon license from $500 to $750 per annum. There are now fifteen saloon licenses in force, but all have some time to run, and some nearly a year, so that the object, increase of revenue, will come quite gradually. The new owners of McKenny block are placing windows in the south wall of the upper story, which admit light to rooms that have hitherto only been available for sleeping purposes. It is said that the project of adapting the building for hotel purposes some time in the future, has been abandoned. A large gray timber wolf was killed Sunday, near Woodland, by a party of Olympia hunters, consisting of Will Yeager, George McClelland, Elney Van Epps and William White, after a search of the forest. The animal measured six feet from tip to tip. Gray wolves are seldom found in this part of the State. Remember the meeting of the Horticultural Society in the Superior court room to-morrow (Saturday) at 1:30 p. m. An attractive programme is published in another column. These meetings are growing in interest, and are as instructive as well as entertaining. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody. A. L. Hutchinson, a Seattle firm doing business as the National Trading Stamp Co., have brought action in the Superior Court of this county, to test the constitutionality of the anti-trading-stamp law enacted by the last Legislature. Unconstitutionality is alleged in its being class and special legislation. John Glenham and wife have bought the Union Logging House, on East Bridge, Fourth street, and will conduct it in connection with the New England Hotel, of which they have made a decided success. This will add seventeen elegant rooms to their capacity for entertainment of the wayfarer or permanent lodger. The old Bettman store building, corner of Second and Main streets, is being fitted up for a boiler-shop by Sole & Welsh, who will conduct business under the name of the Olympia Boiler Works. Their specialty is boiler and tank work of all kinds. They expect to be ready for business about the middle of next week. At the gold medal contest to be held in the Christian Church, next Monday evening, the contestants all hold silver medals, and are as follows: Maurice L. Carrey, Ida Hayden, May Umpleby, Mrs. Nora Griffin, and Ruby Griffin. Each speaker has the eloquence of enthusiasm and zeal for the cause they represent. Good music will be rendered. The City Council have awarded a contract to the Olympia Hardware Company, for a Champion combination hose-wagon and chemical engine. It will probably be delivered by the 1st of July. The contract price is $1,950. It is said the new machine is modern in all respects and with the same load of hose will weigh at least a ton less than our present unwieldy hose-wagon. Harry Phipps, a popular young man who has grown from boyhood in our city, and Miss Maud Henderson, an equally popular young lady of our town, were united in marriage, Wednesday, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Hickey, on Maple Park, Rev. R. M. Hayes officiating. May the life of the happy pair be as bright as the day and surroundings when the knot was tied, is the prayer of a host of friends. The Board of Control opened bids and awarded contracts for supplies of the State institutions last Saturday. The awards to our local tradesmen were for meats to A. H. Chambers, to supply the Hospital for the Insane at Fort Steilacoom, the Reform School at Chehalis and the Soldiers' Home at Orting; for hardware to Mills & Coles and Olympia Hardware Co., and lumber to the Olympia Lumber Co. The County Commissioners, Tuesday, appointed Matt Twoby road supervisor of the Second district, E. H. Bloomingdale of the Third and George Manier of the Fourth, leaving the First vacant, with the intention of looking after the duties themselves, which are necessarily small from the fact that the last board had largely exceeded the revenue for that service. The compensation fixed for supervisors was $3 per day; assistant supervisors, $2.50 per day; laborers, $2, and man with team, $1. Supervisor's bond was placed at $300.

The Olympia Development Company have made application to the County Commissioners for permission to make mining explorations in Section Capital Addition to Olympia, for marble, mineral and limestone. As a large portion of the addition has passed to the county for taxes, the company doubtless thought it best to secure a release of claim should a gold mine, a coal bed or the bones of a mastodon be unearthed. A sad accident befell the two-year-old daughter of Fred Witeman, who resides on Chambers prairie, Tuesday, which resulted in her death. She obtained possession, some way, of sugar coated tablets of strychnine and had them and swallowed the saccharine matter from them, and doubtless some of the poison. The funeral was held Wednesday and a large assemblage of neighbors were present to tender their sympathy in the distressing disaster. Assessor Duval has raised the figures of assessment given by many of our business men, and they have been notified to appear and pay the same or "forever hold their peace." It is said the new Assessor has adopted a novel plan to perfect his returns. When the taxpayer notified has neglected to reply, he has visited him with a stenographer, and he answers verbally, which will be submitted to the board, and they will have a hearing on their own statements whether willing or not. There may be "a hot time" when the board of equalization meets. Mrs. Madeline DeLaCateur was struck by the Gray's Harbor train, last Friday, while walking from her home a short distance from Elma to that city, where she went to visit a neighbor, who was ill. The unfortunate woman was walking on the track, carrying an umbrella, and being somewhat deaf, the train was well upon her before either heard or saw its approach. She was struck by some portion of a car with sufficient force to kill her instantly. The body was brought to this place and buried Sunday afternoon, the services being held in the German Lutheran Church, Rev. Wm. Hoberger officiating. Many friends of deceased attended the service, and floral offerings for the season were numerous and expressive of warm regard. She was buried in Masonic cemetery, beside the grave of her husband, who died about five years ago. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Bertha Linn, of Portland, and Mrs. Charlotte Hartman, of Pierce county. THE WHITMAN SURVIVORS. Oregon's Historian Takes the Matter in Hand. PORTLAND, Or., April 3, 1935. EDITOR STANDARD: In an article copied by you from the Wenatchee Advance, in your issue of the 31st ult., entitled "A Chapter From History," Mrs. Eliza Spalding Warren, daughter of Rev. Henry H. Spalding, is referred to as the "only survivor of the Whitman massacre" of Nov. 29-30, 1847. This is an error, as you will see. I am not able to give you a list of all the survivors, but I know that of the following members of those two fateful days, many were buried among the living in addition to Mrs. Warren, whom I know well. Mrs. Elizabeth Sager Helm, Portland. Mrs. U. K. Fringle, also one of the Sager children, and sister whose name I cannot recall at this time. Mrs. Pringle lives in Prineville and the sister in Spokane, I believe. Nathan Kimball. Mrs. Sarah S. Munson, a sister of Mr. Kimball. Mrs. Mira A. Meagher, also a sister of Mr. Kimball, but recently married a second time. These persons were the brother and sisters of Mrs. Susan M. Hart, referred to in the article from the Advance, and all three live in Clatsop county. Mrs. Gertrude J. Denny and Mrs. Rebecca Hopkins, both children of Mr. Hall, who was a victim of the massacre; the first living in Portland, and the last in Marion county. Mrs. Nancy Osborn Jacobs, Walla Walla. And there are, I think, at least three other survivors, two of whom were residents of Thurston county, in 1838 to 1862-3, on the wife of a man who called himself "Rev." Eli W. Foster, and her sister, Miss Mary Ann Saunders. They had another sister, who was in California in the early part of the century. And until within a month there was another survivor, Mr. J. Q. A. Young, who lived seven miles west of this city, and who died on March 8th. When the massacre occurred there were four persons killed, and fifty-three taken prisoners, the latter being ransomed by Peter Steen Ogden, of the Hudson's Bay Company, the last of December, 1847, and they were taken to Oregon City, arriving there Jan. 10, 1848. GEORGE H. HINES. Another Olympia Luncheon in Alameda. On March 28th, at the birthday party of Mrs. E. T. Munson, the guest of honor, a luncheon was given by her daughter, Mrs. U. R. Grant, at her home in Alameda, Cal. The floral decorations were smilax and California poppies. The following were invited guests: Mrs. E. T. Munson; Mrs. B. M. Voris, of Seattle; Mrs. Lucy Munson Van Buren, Mrs. P. C. Hale, Mrs. M. A. Whitney, Mrs. J. C. Hines, Mrs. Monson, Mrs. Lizzie Baldwin Berry, Mrs. Nettie Horton Rodgers, Mrs. Nettie Boynton Nott, Mrs. Kate Russell Brown, Mrs. Annie Harris, Mrs. E. M. Turpin, Mrs. Libbie O'Brien Wright, Mrs. C. Parsons, Mrs. W. Campbell, Miss Grace Campbell, Mrs. F. McComber and Mrs. Joie Munson Grant. After luncheon what was played the favors falling to Mrs. E. T. Munson and Mrs. M. A. Whitney, who were the consolation fell to Mrs. Libbie Berry. Programme of Horticultural Society. Following is the programme of the horticultural meeting to be held at the court house to-morrow at 1:30 p. m.: "Trap Nests and Their Work"..... G. C. Israel "The Spray Problem"..... G. C. Israel "Object Lessons in Pruning and Grafting"..... A. W. McMurray "The Grange and Its Value to Farmers"..... Mrs. B. B. Lord General discussion of each topic. Lack of time forbids our taking up the topic of the "Silo," but any interested may obtain desired information by talking with S. H. Westover, who has experience in that line. FRED W. LEWIS, Chm. Com. Note.—As Mr. Israel will have to be in Seattle on professional business to-morrow, his discourse on "Trap Nests and Their Work" will have to be postponed till the May meeting.

Mrs. Mary Ann Burg, a pioneer resident of Vancouver, aged 73 years, died in that city, Wednesday. She was a resident of Vancouver since 1852, and leaves ten descendants all residing in Clark county. By the collapse of the sidewalk on a footpath of the bridge across the Palouse river, at Colfax, Wednesday, a score of young people were precipitated into the stream. Less than an hour later the lifeless body of Miss Mary Onstot, of Astoria, was found. James E. West, of Port Angeles, went to Skagit county, last week, to bring the body of his son-in-law, C. Greenwald to that city for burial, when he was himself killed by a train accident. Lawyer Shank of Seattle, has offered to furnish 20,000 gallons of water to work on the Panama Canal, at 67 cents a day. The old commissioner declined to employ original labor, but the new managers may conclude to accept, from scarcity of West India negro laborers. The supposed murderer of Edna Hoffman, the Portland woman whose throat was cut Sunday morning, lies at the point of death at Dr. Keenott's hospital at Chehalis. He was captured on the north-bound passenger train at Central, about 4 o'clock Monday morning, by Night Marshal George Symonds and Charles Wakefield, both of Chehalis. Professor Eldred Jenne, from the Pullman Agricultural college, will arrive at North Yakima in a day or two and take up the work begun last summer of introducing the most effective and economical method of spraying in spraying for prevention and to kill the moth, and also what is the best time to spray. Dr. J. Edward Hughes, formerly a practicing physician of Seattle, was arraigned in the Superior court at North Yakima, Wednesday, on the charge of criminal assault, his alleged victim being the 14-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theophilus Hatch of Almira, Wash. He emphatically declared that he was not guilty. His trial was set for the 22nd of this month. It is alleged that the father of the daughter is accused of having alienated the affections of Mrs. Hatch while acting as the family physician in Almira, and to have eloped with her next summer, taking her two children also. It is alleged that the father of the daughter was accomplished in Yakima last August, and that Hughes later married her in Utah. Wednesday night a party of sixteen Northern Pacific surveyors landed at Napavine with an outfit and supplies for a summer's work. Next day camp was established on Jackson Prairie, four miles east and south, and work was begun on the survey of a railroad to the eastern part of Lewis county. The hasty action of the Northern Pacific to get busy no doubt has been caused by the work of the Chehalis Eastern Railway company, which has recently secured considerable right of way for a time to the Big Bottom country from Chehalis. This makes three prospective railroads under way in this section, the eastern part of the county the Big Bottom Electric Railroad company being third. Policeman H. Stolko was shot by sale-blowers at Spokane, early Tuesday morning. The burglars' entry opened fire without warning and before Stolko had discovered the robbers. The bullet beside the tracks about half an hour before he was found. He died on Wednesday morning. Mayor Boyd has offered a reward of $500 for the capture of the robbers. W. C. T. U. Convention. The annual convention of the Thurston County W. C. T. U. will be held in the Christian Church of Olympia on Monday, April 10, beginning at 2 p. m. The afternoon session will be devoted to reports and election of officers, closing with helpful hints for the W. C. T. U. work, and in the evening a gold medal contest will be held. The evening programme will be interspersed with good music. Admission to contest 10 cents. CARLOTTA VAN EATON, Recording Secretary. Judge Linn is holding court at Shelton.
