CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Gov. Mead was 11 years of age yesterday. The stores are enjoying a good holiday trade. Mrs. J. G. Parker is visiting friends in Seattle. Miss Gertrude Moore spent Sunday with Tacoma friends. Charles Schwartz is ill at the hospital with typhoid fever. Col. S. P. Richardson, of Shelton, was in the city this week. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Henderson left Tuesday for New Orleans. C. T. Rayl has opened another music store on East Fourth street. A daughter was born yesterday to the wife of Andrew Sandberg. Mrs. J. W. Wale left Monday for a few days' visit to Montesano. The Davenport restaurant, after a five weeks' struggle, has closed. Judge Root was called to Seattle Tuesday by illness of his daughter. J. R. Bolton, who has been quite ill, is reported considerably improved. Claud Mann and wife have returned from an extended visit to California. Attorney G. H. Funk was at Gray's Harbor on professional business, this week. The Poor Farm has turned in $34.50 derived from sale of hogs, to the county treasury. Mrs. Elsie Morgan, of Little Rock, visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. George C. Israel, this week. Mrs. Annabell M. Farquhar left Saturday for an extended stay at Red Wood City, California. Mrs. P. D. Stovall, of the Stovall candy manufactory, made a business trip to Seattle this week. Charles Brown has been appointed janitor of the court house to succeed A. Palma, who has resigned. Charles Carpenter and wife, of Gull Harbor, have been spending the past week with friends in Seattle. C. J. Swayne has just completed the north half of the Tumwater bridge and it is now ready for travel. Frank Spawhove, of Everett, and Elizabeth Yeaght, of Sacramento, Cal., have been licensed to wed. Mr. and Mrs. Allen White are up from Tacoma, their present residence, on a visit to friends in this city. Several cases of scarletina have been reported in the school district near Waddell's place, south of Rainier. Secretary of State Sam Nichols was called to Everett, Saturday, by the death of his son-in-law, F. J. Riley, of that city. Fred. Erb has leased his farm a few miles east of town to a German, and has taken a position with the door company. Joe Chiliberg is down from Nome to spend the winter with his family. He is interested in mining operations near that city. Robert Doragh, the popular manager of the local telephone exchange, rode the goat in the Elks' lodge Monday night. Mitchell Harris has arrived from San Francisco to superintend the preliminaries for resuming business early in the new year. The liquor licenses of Joe Farrington of Bucoda and Johnson & Willard of Tenino, have been renewed by the county board. The ladies of the new German Lutheran Church gave an enjoyable social at the home of Mrs. Chas. Vietzen, on Eastside, last evening. John Byrne has sold the lot and two-story building adjoining Lansdale's grocery store, on East Fourth street, to Zan Munro, for $3,200. G. A. Sayer, of Hunter's Point, died at St. Peter's hospital, Friday night, of heart disease. The body was sent to Harris, Minn., Wednesday, for burial. Mrs. George Avery, formerly of this city, is quite ill with scarlet fever, at her home at Elma. A four-year-old daughter is just recovering from the disease. Mr. Stenz does not seem to extract much satisfaction from his appearance as the star witness in the late prosecution of Mrs. Kohlman. He says it was involuntary. Judge T. N. Allen has been appointed Receiver of the Olympia Land Office. As the "United Friends" were to respond, in their ritual—"Satisfied: let it be recorded." A Box Society is announced to take place at the McLane school-house, on Mud Bay, to-morrow night, the proceeds of which are to be applied in opening a Sunday school. Mr. and Mrs. M. Eaton, of Lynden, and Mrs. John Alexander, of Kent, have returned home after a pleasant visit to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Guiberson. The ladies are sisters of the latter. State Treasurer Mills has received an aggregate of $59,926.86 of taxes collected last month, from seventeen of the smaller counties and Spokane, Thurston's remittance being $3,601.55. Angus McPhail was executed at Walla Walla at an early hour last Friday morning. His sentence was for the murder of Fred. Anderson, a Derrington saloon-keeper, in March, 1903. Mayor Wright, of Tacoma, has vetoed a Summer automatic telephone ordinance similar to the one twice vetoed here. The automatic seems to wobble considerably before it gets into action. The Supreme Court has decided as a finding in a suit of Martha J. Landis vs. J. A. Wintermute, of Tacoma, that he must refund to plaintiff the sum of $5,000 she entrusted to him for investment on which he sold her worthless mining stock.

O. C. White leaves to-morrow to join his family in California. The eightieth birthday of L. R. Murray, was celebrated with a dinner, Sunday, at the home of his son, A. W. Murray, east of Tumwater. Besides relatives a number of friends were present. All sentiment is knocked out of "The Hum of Industry" when a boiler factory takes Sunday to rivet together smoke-stacks by the resounding blows of apparently half a dozen sledge-hammers. The Shrock farm, about four miles east of this city, has been sold to Eugene Wolcott, of Brinnon, Mason county, who will make it his home. The farm consists of 60 acres, mostly under cultivation. Robert Ayer, whose ankle was badly broken several weeks ago, is in a fair way of recovery from the injury. The plaster cast to hold it in place was removed this week and the parts seem to have knit well together. The Women's Club, at its session Tuesday adopted resolutions of sympathy to be sent to the family of Mrs. Luana Percival, and to Miss Janet Moore, a member of the club, in memory of her brother Waldo, lately deceased. Guy J. Rathbun, foreman of the Olympia Door Co., has been appointed Chief of Police to succeed Otto Braeger. He is a native of Portland, 33 years of age. He is prominent in lodge work and has a large circle of friends. The State Board of Tax Commissioners will hold a meeting in Seattle, next Monday, to confer with a committee of the State Bankers' Association, to consider some objections made to the new form of detail tax lists used in making assessments. A. S. Caton of the Olympia Development Co., has returned from the East, accompanied by J. H. Reider and family of five children, who will for the present reside in this city. Mr. R. is a farmer by occupation and will probably secure a home near town. Papers have been filed for record in the County Auditor's office by which the Wolverine Co., conveys the Jameson and Nelson Moshay & McDonald logging works, locomotive, cars and timber lands, near Summit Lake, to the Henry Cleary Co. of Chehalis county. George I. Raymond, aged 90 years, died at the home of his son, E. B. Raymond, in this city, Sunday morning. He leaves seven sons and three daughters. The funeral rites were held in the Christian Church, Tuesday, Rev. Walter S. Crockett conducting the ceremonies. The Nineteenth Annual Convention of the Washington Educational Association begins at North Yakima, for a four days' session, on the 27th inst. The work is divided into sections embracing the School Board, the Manual, the Manual Art, the Commercial and the Library sections. Olympia Chapter No. 7, Royal Arch Masons, have elected the following officers: High Priest, Robt. Marr; Treasurer, A. B. Cowles; King, Chas. Wilcox; Scribe, Jesse Bowman, and Secretary, Gordon Mackay. It is the seventh consecutive term that Robt. Marr has been re-elected as High Priest of that order. Cyrus Bolenbaugh, a carpenter, while getting into a boat at night with his father-in-law, J. E. Loy, a fisherman, at the city slip, fell into the bay and was drowned. The body was drawn into the boat by Loy and several others who came to his aid. The rescued man was prostrated for a time by the chill from the icy water. It has been announced that next Monday, and for a week thereafter, all stores will remain open at night to facilitate the sale of holiday goods, and that all places of business will be closed on Christmas and New Year's days. This arrangement has been made by the Retail Clerks' Association and approved by the Trades Council. The State Land Commission made its monthly remittance to the State Treasurer, Tuesday, turning over a total of $32,806.70. Of this amount $13,474.65 goes to the current school fund. The tideland receipts, which are the general fund, were $17,036.45. The balance was divided in small amounts among the minor funds. Dennis J. Griffin, of Ottumwa, Ia., 55 years of age, died Wednesday night, at the residence of his sister, Mrs. P. J. O'Brien, after a severe attack of paralysis. Mr. Griffin was a prosperous farmer and was on a visit to his relatives here. He was unmarried. His body will be taken East for burial, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien. The trouble in the Pioneer Iron Works is still on. The week began with Tremper, one of the company in charge, with drawn pistol. Then Lester, another in charge, was shot in possession, and now the Zimmerman-Wells-Brown Co. have brought suit against the company and garnished its bank account for a debt of $1,511.56. Gov. Mead has been asked to name two delegates to a convention to be held at Salt Lake, Jan. 25th, by transmittal of a letter from the State Board of Education, to devise some plan for inducing tourists to visit the northwestern portion of our own country in preference to Europe. The letter suggests likewise that the presence of the Governor at the meeting would be desirable. Otto Braeger has resigned his position as Chief of Police to assume a high interest in the saloon business hitherto conducted by Chas. Vietzen. His success is assured from possession of all the personal characteristics which constitute a good entertainer. In fact he has made a success of about everything he has undertaken and it can hardly be expected that this will be an exception. C. F. Leavenworth, the prospector, miner and townsite speculator, so well known to many of our people for his residence here in "and lang ayne," stopped in upon our community Tuesday on one of his periodical visits. He is now engaged in operating a placer-mine near Jacksonville, Oregon, with satisfactory results. The glad hand always waits him from many friends who know his sterling worth. The local court of Foresters of America, Wednesday evening, elected the following officers: Chief Ranger, Joseph Reder; Sub-Chief Ranger, J. E. Mitchell; Financial Secretary, J. T. Otis; Recording Secretary, Bige Eddy; Physician, R. Kincaid; Druggist, Hugh Ross; Senior Woodward, A. Leipke; Junior Woodward, Geo. Hahn; Senior Beadle, John Lyman; Junior Beadle, Joe Lyman. This Lodge has over 200 members and $1,600 in its treasury. The circulating library in charge of the Women's Club, will soon be available for eight Circles of two members each, and a ninth will be added after the holidays. The Library Committee consists of Medames Mowell, Hill, Funk, McCully, Schively and Fain, to whom application for membership may be made. The Secretaries of the organized Circles are Medames Funk, Tinkham, Niles, Hadley, Falkner, McCully, Hewitt and Miss Pendergast. T. J. McCorry, of Seattle, who came up with Mrs. Bartlett, lady interested in prison reform, today presented a petition for pardon of Convict Carey, an Englishman, held on a life term for murder of an Indian woman in 1897, became suddenly (but probably temporarily) insane, while at dinner, Wednesday, and was for a time under custody of Sheriff Connolly. He was so far recovered, however, towards evening, that he was able to leave for home. The Olympian seems to be engaged in a strenuous effort to win fame by shooting arrows at the Seattle weekly, which was Harve Scott of the Oregonian, who was the target for his barbed missiles; this week it is a no less luminary than W. R. Hearst, owner of half a dozen big city newspapers, the champion of the masses, who polled enough votes to elect him Mayor of the largest city in America, who comes under its lance. The inquiry arises unbidden, upon what meat does this Caesar feed, that he has grown so great? An unknown man fell dead near Rainier, last Friday, without anything upon his person to prove his identity. He was 50 or 55 years of age, five feet three inches tall, thin featured, had grizzled moustache and thin hair. The few personal effects in his pockets afforded no clue for identification. He had left a freight-car early in the morning and obtained a job from the section foreman. It was while on his way to work on a hand car that the tragic end came. The body was brought to this city Saturday by Coroner Bridgford. The Catholic Order of Foresters, at their meeting Tuesday evening, elected the following officers: Chief Ranger, Mrs. Lena Heye; Vice Chief Ranger, Mrs. Lydia Reder; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Ella Lyman; Financial Secretary, Mrs. Nellie Gaidis; Treasurer, Mrs. Eva Lyman; Trustees, Mrs. Mary Lyman, Mrs. Anabelle Smith, Mrs. Sarah Grimm; Conductors, Mrs. Alice Taylor, Mrs. Olivia Dolan; Sentinels, Mrs. Catherine Kenney, Miss Jeanette Lyman; Chaplain, Rev. Father Knepper; Delegate to Convention, Mrs. L. Heye; Alternate, Mrs. Mary Lyman; Auditing Committee, Miss Jeanette Lyman, Mrs. Anna Strater, Mrs. A. Smith. President Schmidt of the Olympia Brewing Co., has performed another of those generous acts for which he is famous, by presenting, free of cost to our city, to be erected in Mission Park, the beautiful Swiss Chalet in which the brewery headquarters were held at the Portland Fair. It is 40 by 60 feet in size, two stories in height and cost $4,000. Chalet is another name for a Swiss peasant's cottage and it will be a useful as well as appropriate adornment for a park. The building has been carefully taken apart and brought over by cars and is now stored at the city wharf, in a fine weather and selection of location for placing in the public recreation grounds. Mrs. Virginia Tarbell returned Saturday from a three months' visit to relatives in Portage, Wisconsin. She was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Sarah Tarbell, who, after a few weeks' visit, will proceed to Southern California, where she has been in the habit of spending her winters. She is delighted with our climate, and thinks it is equal to that of the halcyon days inseparably connected with her Western experience. She will probably move on before our interminable rains set in and cause her to somewhat modify her opinion. But Washington weather is all that is to be desired during the seven "Summer" months, and during the five of "winter" is immeasurably to be preferred to the intense cold, the blizzards, the floods, and the terrible storms of wind that prevail all over the country east of the "Rockies."

WOMAN RAILROAD PRESIDENT WITH AMPLIFIED MEANS—A railroad company in California, capitalized at $1,000,000, has a woman, Mrs. Mary Ringde, for President. It is the Hueneere, Malibu & Port Los Angeles, and has its office at Santa Monica. The road follows the beach, and is ultimately to be extended to Santa Barbara, and possibly pushed to San Francisco. The section now under construction is the first part of what is proposed to be a beach trolley-line from Los Angeles to the "Day City." Mrs. Ringde is the widow of a multi-millionaire, Frederick H. Ringde, who initiated the enterprise. The estate amounts to $35,000,000, which seems to be a backing sufficient to guarantee almost any enterprise. The death of Senator J. H. Mitchell, in Portland, Saturday, from a hemorrhage, caused by the pulling of four teeth, is an event as unexpected as the cause is unusual. The closing chapter of his eventful life was not what indulgent friends had a right to expect, but it silences earthly criticism and the duty falls upon all to remember the much of good in his life and let the grave cover his faults and transgressions. Following precedent, his appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court was dismissed Monday, and thus closes any reversal of the record made. The funeral rites were held in Portland Tuesday.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman is now Prime Minister of England, with an entirely new cabinet, which is said to be much stronger than that which it displaces, Arthur J. Balfour, the former premier and his cabinet. Mr. Balfour is now active leader of the opposition party. OLY says that "the great bulk of honest writers for the press are desirous that the grafting custom adopted by some newspaper reporters should be exposed and punished." Certainly; approval of that view of the matter may be had in great quantity.

Owing to the order issued by the City Council, at Walla Walla, forty saloons of that city closed their doors from midnight last Saturday to midnight Sunday. The cigar and confectionery stores did not close, and the saloon men say they will enforce the law against them if they persist in keeping open Sunday. The saloonkeepers are in a humble mood since the revocation of five licenses for violation of the gambling laws. All express themselves ready to obey all state laws and city ordinances to the letter. Clair Waldrip, 14 years old, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Waldrip, was killed in the South Tacoma yards while stealing a ride on an incoming Northern Pacific freight train about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. His head was crushed beneath the wheels. Death was instantaneous. Mrs. Marion B. Baxter is at the head of the only free hospital in Seattle, Wash., the hospital ship Idaho. Roger S. Greene and other public-spirited men of the city bought the ship and gave it for the benefit of those too poor to pay for admission to hospital.
