CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Leat began Wednesday. Eggs now retail at 25-cents a dozen. How do you like the STANDARD's new dress? Ben Patterson was up from Seattle this week. Garry Hodje will soon leave for Fairbanks, Alaska. The Superior Court ended its January term yesterday. A good many Tyee salmon are being caught in our bay. Mrs. John C. Barnes is confined to her home with measles. Phil and Jos. Patridge left for San Jose, Cal., Wednesday. John Berg and family have moved to Olympia from Sumner. Miss Louise Ayer has recovered from a two weeks' illness. James Connelly, the butcher, was up from Shelton yesterday. George H. Mason, of Bucooda, was a caller at our office this week. The Thompson insanity case is now before the Supreme Court. A baby girl was born last Friday to Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bolander. Mrs. J. H. Meays left Tuesday for Pasadena, Cal., to visit relatives. Harry Weatherall has been ill and confined to the hospital this week. Rev. Mrs. Lake at the opera house next Thursday evening, Feb. 21st. C. Hultshusen has again taken charge of the Tony Faust Restaurant. A son was recently born to the wife of L. E. Sanger, west of this city. Mrs. J. M. Jackson has about recovered from a severe case of pneumonia. A bill providing for a half-mill tax for State roads has passed the Legislature. Paul Dethlofsen and Otto Braeger returned last night from a trip down the Sound. An infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilson died Wednesday of pneumonia. Dr. H. S. Strickland has gone to Seattle where he will take a couple of weeks' rest. Mrs. C. W. Shaffer has been called to Redland, Cal., by the serious illness of her sister. Mrs. W. L. Bowen, of Ellensburg, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cavanaugh. Miss Gertrude Arnold, of Aberdeen, is visiting her sister, Miss Mabel, in this city. An unsuccessful attempt was made to burglarize the Tunwater post-office Saturday night. The schooner Salem loaded a million feet of lumber at a local mill for San Francisco this week. The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Mohler, of Second and Franklin streets, died this week. F. W. Haworth, the confectioner, and Mrs. R. L. Green, a dress-maker, were married this week. Consideration of the Tenino condemnation cases was resumed in the Superior Court Wednesday. Mrs. Edith Peake, evangelist, is conducting revival services in the United Presbyterian Church. F. H. Higgins and Miss Hilma E. Matthews, both of Rochester, were united in marriage, this week. The Enati Club celebrated their eighth anniversary last evening, by a fine programme and banquet. Jacob Brown, formerly of this city, is now a barber in the Confederate Soldiers' Home, at Louisville, Ky. "George, the Greek," the restaurateur "met Greek," this week, in a memorable contest of just two days. G. R. Berry, of Portland, will deliver a lecture on "Church History," in the Christian church, this city, tonight. H. Hewitt, of Yelm, was in town this week on business appertaining to the Walker estate at Hunter's Point. Dr. L. P. Holbrook's condition remains unchanged. He has been very ill with pneumonia for nearly three weeks. Miss Mary K. Thomson, a teacher in the Garfield school, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents at Puyallup. Miss Fannie Van Eaton departed Wednesday for Riverside, Cal., where she will make a prolonged visit with her sister. The House, Wednesday, passed S. B. 63, by Graves, for imprisonment of the criminally insane at the State penitentiary. Miss Myrtle Scroggs, teacher in the second grade at the Lincoln school, has been ill with the grip the past few days. James Cordroy of Tacoma, and Miss Christine Erickson of Tenino, were united in wedlock, in this city, Saturday evening. James Dofflemeyer has just completed a fine gasolene launch for a party down the bay. It is 22 feet long and 6 feet wide. Mrs. P. J. O'Brien has so far recovered from her late illness as to leave the hospital and return to her home on Union street. It is reported that another saloon is to be opened in the building just west of Charley's saloon, by Albert Brucker and Mr. Reichel. The House and Senate committees voted last night to report favorably upon the bill to create the county of Gray's Harbor. Of course! County Treasurer Fred Schomber, his deputy George Uhler and clerk James Doherty have been confined to their homes the past week with grip. Robt. Marr, the Eastside druggist, has a cold cure that has been in many cases quite effective in curing the grip, and is a sure thing on a cold in its incipient stages. The writer's judgment is based upon trial. Try it. Mrs. Mary A. Burkett, an old-time resident of this city, died in Seattle, her home for several years, Wednesday. Burial will be made here and services held in St. John's Church to-morrow (Saturday) morning.

Senate bills dealing State tidelands at Point Defiance, to Tacoma, for park purposes, passed the House Wednesday. John Olson, a painter, died at St. Peter's hospital of pneumonia, Monday evening. It is said he left his widow and five small children in poor circumstances. Three "holidays" all in a row, this week Lincoln's birthday, St. Valentine's day and Chinese New Year. And Washington's birthday is only a week off. J. T. Thacker is threatened with an attack of the grip. The Lord is wicked, great and small suffer alike, according to the divine decree. The latest victims of the grip are Mrs. N. S. Porter, Mrs. C. J. Peterson, Capt. J. G. Parker, Miss Jessie Everett, Miss Errol Coulter, Miss Mary West and Miss Grace Wellman. The past week the weather has been ideal, except perhaps a few degrees too cold for perfect comfort. The sun has cast his benign rays upon Mother Earth and the buds are swelling. The Senate has concurred in the House amendment to the Knickerbocker resolution for investigation of the Land Commissioners' office. The amendment serves to secure a report by March 1st. Harry C. Kanft has filed a suit for divorce in the Superior Court, from Nancy Kanft, who is now in Skagway, alleging desertion. They were married in his city in 1892. There are no children. Mrs. L. Grant Talcott is recovering from an unpleasant spell of grip. Mr. Geo. N. Talcott's cough, of the same complaint, is yielding slowly to treatment. "Whom the Lord singeth, He chasteneth." It is reported that Principal F. F. Clem and teacher Miss Lena Leonard, of the Tunwater schools, are ill with the mumps, and in consequence school was adjourned yesterday for an indefinite period. Senator Piles has written the Chamber of Commerce that it will be impossible to secure a harbor appropriation this year, unless the city makes a better showing that commercial needs require it. Mr. J. W. Crawford and his son, Beverly, have discontinued their law office in this city and moved to Seattle, where the son has formed a law partnership with E. H. Kohlhaas, with offices in the Oriental building. Two savages were fined $27 Monday, by Justice Giles, for being drunk on Sunday. Whether the violation of sanctity of the Sabbath had anything to do with the severity of the punishment or not, we can only conjecture. George Scofield, a former townsman and esteemed citizen of Olympia in years ago, who now resides in Tacoma and is prosperous, staid in this city over Sunday. He remarked while here that more railway trackage in the Sound country has become a necessity. A preliminary meeting of the State Board of Finance, consisting of the Governor, the Auditor and the Treasurer was held Wednesday. The clerkship of the new board seems to be drifting towards William Nunn, who is at present filling the position of County Clerk. Mrs. J. A. Murch died Sunday night at the family residence on Washington and Nineteenth streets, after an illness of two years. She leaves a husband and adopted daughter. She was buried Tuesday, Rev. Walter S. Beckwith of the Christian Church officiating. Mr. J. R. Grant, who recently leased his residence property, has gone to Tacoma to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Hattie De Long. When he departed the old gentleman's physical frame was considerably debilitated, caused by overwork in disposing of his household furniture and personal effects. James Billideau, for many years foreman of the Mack Logging Co., near Elma, and Mrs. Emma Cameron, of Tacoma, were united in marriage in the Mitchell Hotel parlors, Saturday night. The bride is a daughter of Alex. McDougall, a millman of Tacoma. The newly married couple will reside in this city. Gov. Mead has granted another conditional pardon. This one is to Frank Ledhoff, sentenced to five years for obtaining money under false pretenses. The conditions imposed are that Ledhoff shall not go outside of the State; shall live with and support his wife and family and that the pardon shall be revokable at the will of the Governor. George G. Ashley died Wednesday at his residence south of Tunwater. He was born in Sylvania, Bradford county, Pa., in 1837. He came to this State in 1878 and settled on his present farm. He is survived by a son and daughter, the former being engaged in business at Tunwater and the latter is the wife of Robert Davies, of Bucooda. The funeral was held yesterday. Rainier Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, through Mrs. Eliza Ferry Leary, of Seattle, chairman of a special committee, has undertaken to raise money for a statue of Washington, to be placed on the campus of the State University. A subscription from the school children of the State will be taken on the 22d inst. The contribution in each case not to exceed five cents. The Gregg Congressional Apportionment bill, which passed the House yesterday, provides a district composed of the counties of Island, King, San Juan, Skagit, Snohomish and Whatcom, the 2d district of Chehalis, Clallam, Clarke, Cowlitz, Jefferson, Kitsap, Lewis, Mason, Pacific, Pierce, Thurston and Wahkiakum, and the 3d, Adams, Asotin, Benton, Chehalis, Colfax, Douglas, Ferry, Franklin, Garfield, Kittitas, Klickitat, Lincoln, Okanogan, Spokane, Stevens, Walla Walla, Whitman and Yakima. Thomas Connolly, Sr., died last night, at the residence of his son on Fremont street. He was born in Ireland, March 12, 1828, and came to this country half a century ago. He resided in Massachusetts a number of years and came to this State and county in 1870. Age is probably the cause of his death. Five descendants survive, Thomas Connolly, Sheriff of this county, Mrs. A. H. Chambers, Mrs. L. L. Portman, James and Paul Connolly both of Shelton. He died universally respected by all who knew him. W. O. Bush, one of the oldest and most famous pioneers of Washington, when it was part of Oregon Territory, died at St. Peter's hospital Wednesday night. He was born in Missouri in 1832, crossed the plains with his father's family in 1844, and settled the succeeding year on what has ever since been known as Bush Prairie. He was the farmer who raised the wheat that has taken the first premium in every world's fair held since the centennial year at Philadelphia. That collection is still on exhibit at the court-house in this city. In the House, Wednesday, ten bills were introduced, among which were one making July and August closed seasons for crabs, one providing for city milk inspectors, and one giving cities power to regulate telephone companies. In the Senate five were introduced. One of these is for making ten hours a day's labor in coal mines, smelters, metal foundries and boiler shops, and another to fix the fee of witnesses on matters involving technical knowledge at $25 per day. The Senate the same day passed the pure food bill originating in that body. The local lodge of Knights of Pythias celebrated last night the 23d anniversary of its establishment in this city, with a banquet accompanied by a flow of soul and the formal burning of the bonds issued against their hall, corner of Columbia and Fourth streets, once known as the "Olympic" and afterwards as "Good Templar Hall." A couple of score years ago, it was donated to that order by Capt. Finch when it was in the heyday of its prosperity. The Good Templars declined, however, and lost their lodge building in the maelstrom of excessive taxation. It was bought by the order that now owns it. The United Presbyterian Church of Olympia has been fortunate in securing the services of Miss Pearl Smith as a vocal soloist singer at the revival services which are being held during the present week. Since this young lady first appeared before Olympia audiences as a vocalist, her proficiency in her calling has elicited much interest and many favorable comments. The notes from her splendid soprano voice have a pronounced melody, blending harmoniously with a tender pathos, which reach effectively the finer pulsations of our nature. One of the principal reasons why she succeeds so well is that she puts so much soul-force into her efforts, which in turn charm her audiences. DEATH OF CAPT. HAMBRIGHT. He Was a Good Citizen and a Devoted Friend. Capt. George W. Hambright, one of Olympia's oldest and most respected citizens, departed this life Saturday morning at St. Peter's hospital, from the infirmities of age. He passed away so slowly that the final end of his life had been anticipated for a long time and thereby occasioned very little surprise. Captain Hambright was 73 years of age, a native of Pennsylvania, in which State he spent his youth and the meridian of life, having been for 28 years a conductor on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad. He had the distinction of which he was proud, of having been conductor of the train which carried President Lincoln's body from Washington to Illinois, in April, 1865, after the assassin's bullet had done its horrible work. A few years afterward he came to California, where he engaged in the real estate and afterwards in the hotel business for a time. He came to this city sometime in the latter part of the 70s, and for many years was connected with the business management of the Daily Olympian. He was never married, but was respected and beloved by all with whom he came in contact. He was a member of Corinthian Chapter No. 224, Royal Arch Masons of Columbia, Pa., but had not affiliated with the lodge in this city. He was buried Sunday afternoon, from Masonic hall, under the auspices of that order and with its beautiful and impressive ceremonies. THE STANDARD adds its expression of appreciation of the many good qualities noted in the life of a friend and companion whose fidelity was beyond question. German Bakery Burned. A little after midnight, Wednesday, the German Bakery on Fourth street, was discovered to be on fire, and although the department responded promptly it had gained such headway that about all the reputation of building and contents were destroyed. Two employes, sleeping in the second story, Harry Farmer and Gus Zillman, had a close call, and were almost overcome by smoke when they escaped by the upper windows. The fire is supposed to have originated from the bake oven. The property is owned by the Percival estate. There was said to have been a combined insurance of $1,300 on building and effects, which will doubtless cover all loss. SAN FRANCISCO SCHOOL BOARD RECALLED.—Making a virtue of necessity, the people of San Francisco have been successfully bulldozed into accepting Roosevelt's plan of securing peace with Japan by according her people an equality in the public school. The matter was ingeniously managed by the President, so as to provide a soft place for the outraged California educational board to fall upon, by a concession that "coolies" shall be excluded and Japan will be graciously asked if they will not accept schools for their children with equally good facilities, but separate from the white children. Of course they won't; having secured an inch they will take an ell. It was to establish an equality that the demand was made, as well as to serve as an excuse for other things. The people of San Francisco, who ever heard of "coolies," laborers. Now we'll see what we will see. The people of San Francisco, if we mistake not their disposition, will send their children to other than public schools, and that again will be taken as clear an intent of civitas belli as if they had not been admitted to the public schools. The people will come, if not in one form, in another, and the little "upstarts," as our German friends call them, will be as insolent as before until they measure sinews with American brawn. THE Senate passed the pure-food law, Wednesday, which provides that manufacturers shall label true weights and measures on each package, as well as its component parts. The original bill was an exact copy of the national act, and the clause for honest weight was inserted by amendment.
