CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

George S. Allen is up from Tacoma. Horse and auto show next Wednesday. Fred Ernst is on a business trip to Seattle. For the best results advertise in the STANDARD. A son was born, Saturday, to Mr. and Mrs. Will Eades. Foresters' Grand Lodge will meet here next Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Holmes left this week on a visit to Iowa. Exceedingly high winds prevailed the greater part of yesterday. E. R. Lyda, of Kirkville, Mo., is visiting his brother, Dr. Lyda. H. B. Eaton and Faith Henderson were married in this city, Saturday. Miss Fanny Van Eaton has returned from a visit to Riverside, Cal. C. W. Bonner is putting a new front to his brick building on Third street. A site has been selected for the State Reformatory in Snohomish county. The teachers of Olympia schools enjoyed an outing at Arcadia last Saturday. Patrolman Whiting has resigned to take a position with the Reynolds liverly firm. The Married Folks' Dancing Club will give their last party for the season to-night. An entirely new system of house-numbering is under consideration of the City Council. Miss Gertrude Peake, of Port Orchard, is on a visit to the family of Governor and Mrs. Mead. W. T. Husk and family have moved to Portland which city will hereafter be their place of residence. The Eagles will hold memorial services in their hall Sunday, at 2:30 p. m. The public is invited. Mrs. Capt. Brecker, of Westside, has been on a week's visit with Mrs. John H. Price at Tumwater. Elizabeth Wyman and Gus Anderson, of Aberdeen, have been licensed to wed by the County Auditor. Mrs. Dr. Warren of Portland, a sister of Thomas N. Ford deceased, was present at the funeral Tuesday. Brad Davis has gone to Portland to take charge of the Olympia Brewing Co.'s bottling works in that city. Hong Yek Sam is about to open a restaurant in the building on Fourth street lately vacated by the tea-store. C. Bates has been appointed Coroner to succeed E. J. Marnell, who had resigned to enter upon other business. Mrs. A. Mack, of Boston, is on a visit to her cousin, Miss Gertrude P. Moore, in this city. She once resided here. It has been demonstrated that the substitution of oil for hard fuel has given the already fleet steamer Greyhound additional speed. Gov. Mead has re-appointed J. J. Edens of Bellingham, trustee of the Normal School at that place for the term ending June 12, 1915. A dog-catcher is to be appointed on the 15th inst. to take in charge all dogs that have not been provided with license tags by that time. Those unknown contractors had better "get busy" if they expect to have the gas plant in operation by August 1st—eleven weeks hence. Mr. Usher, Deputy County Treasurer, has so far recovered from his serious injury by kick of a horse, as to appear on the street this week. Gov. Mead has appointed J. A. Durrent, of Snohomish, a member of the State Medical Examining Board, for the term ending in May, 1910. Mrs. B. B. Lord delivered an interesting address at a meeting of Brighton Park Grange, Tuesday. That lady leaves for her home in New York about June 1st. Byron Millet left yesterday for Columbus, Nebraska, having been called there by the illness of his mother. He expects to be gone about three weeks. Mrs. Diven has so far recovered from an affliction of gall-stones, as to be removed from the hospital to the residence of Mrs. T. L. Brown on East Fourth street. The M. E. Church is undergoing repairs and renovations, and in consequence it will be replaced with a brick annex before December. This course is rendered necessary by the impossibility of obtaining labor and material for erection of the permanent structure at the present time. The first strawberries made their appearance in our market this week and sold at 20 cents a box, notwithstanding their immature appearance. They were from California, and as usual with such early products, what little ripening that was shown had doubtless resulted after shipment. California cucumbers and peas have likewise appeared. The former first sold for a quarter a piece but now, as a concession, go at fifteen cents. The City Council, Monday night, passed the resolution to improve Main street by paving with brick or asphalt, from Third to Seventh streets, at an estimated cost of $20,278.50. Protests may be filed prior to the 20th inst. at 5 p. m. Those who have voluntarily submitted protests are: Mrs. B. B. Lord, Geo. E. Lane, Mrs. F. V. Donnelly, James Martin, Talcott Bros., Frank Dickinson, G. A. Mottman, I. C. Ellis, Dr. David Mitchell and W. H. Mitchell. The Civic Improvement club has appointed the following committees to take charge of the different wards in the cleaning up of the city to be held Monday: First ward—Mrs. H. H. Smith and Mrs. A. B. Woodard; Second ward—Mrs. C. B. Mann and Mrs. Theodore Brown; Third ward—Mrs. William Yeager and Mrs. Suter; Fourth ward—Mrs. Wm. Nunn and Mrs. C. A. Marshall; Fifth ward—Mrs. L. B. Faulkner, Mrs. A. Lang, Mrs. Anna Macleay and Mrs. Phil Skilman; Sixth ward—Mrs. David Mitchell and Mrs. L. P. Holbrook. E. A. Collins, a rancher on the Deschutes, in this county, was married in Seattle, Monday, to Miss Pearl Van Norman of Chicago. The main interest in the fact is that it illustrates the wide-spread benefits of advertising. Mr. Collins advertised for a wife in several leading papers, and this is the result. Correspondence led to a speedy, and let us hope, happy marriage. It annihilated space and placed two hearts in rapport for time and let us hope for eternity. The bids submitted for "county printing" (advertising) yesterday, were as follows: Recorder, one and a half cents per inch, breviter, for proceedings, etc., and three cents per description of the delinquent tax list; County, one cent per copy for proceedings, two cents per description for delinquent tax notices, and other advertising two cents per inch; STANDARD, nineteen cents per inch, nonpareil, first insertion, and nine cents for each additional insertion. Ira Good, a teamster for Mattingly, sustained a sprained ankle Wednesday, and imminent danger from more severe injuries, by his team, attached to a wood-wagon, backing over an embankment on East Bay Avenue. It seems the team was not endowed with the usual amount of "horse sense" and deliberately took a plunge with the vehicle into the slime of the mud-flats, from which they were with difficulty rescued without much injury or loss. Mr. Good's injury is only temporary. Willamette Peer won the special prize, at Vancouver, B. C., this week, for being the best bull terrier on exhibition, as did Sound End Queen, another bull terrier take reserve winnings to Willamette Peer, and needs only three more points to become a Canadian champion and enter at the Alberta show this summer. These dogs belong to Mr. G. C. Israel. Another Olympia winner was Duluth Barney, an Irish terrier, belonging to Mr. Struick, which took first prize in a class of six. Mrs. Adaline Rover, who has been a resident of this city the past two years, left Monday for Chicago, to meet for the first time in nearly half a century the lover of her girlhood days, William Barry, who lives in Kenosha, a suburb of the Windy City. A chance meeting with the groom's sister at the Portland fair, led to a renewal of acquaintance and an engagement to take up the romance where it terminated in youth. Both of the parties are 69 years of age, and it is arranged that they shall celebrate their long-deferred wedding on arrival of the bride at her destination. The change of ownership of the Capital Hotel brings to light the fact that it has been the home, the residence of a well-appearing, refined old lady who has been ever since, the ward of the good ladies of the Relief Society. She was afflicted with some mental aberration which had made her past a blank; she did not even know her own name, where she had come from or whither going. An application to the County Commissioners for relief has been met with a proposition to place her in an asylum, but this the ladies will not listen to, and just what has been done is a problem that still interests those who have befriended her the past five years. A baker named Carl Starck was found dead, at Centralia, last Saturday, in a ditch, with his throat cut, but whether the wound was self-inflicted or by the hand of an assassin, nobody seems able to determine. Several strange men and a woman had inquired for Starck, several days before the body was found, a mystery surrounds the transaction which gives support to the belief that he had been murdered, while an attempt at suicide several months ago gives quite a wide scope for a theory of self-destruction. Starck worked in Olympia, at the time Fred Ford bought out the interest of A. L. work in the bakery here, and soon afterwards left for Centralia. The present Presbyterian church has been transferred to the Y. M. C. A., and it will be immediately removed to their lot on Franklin street, between Fifth and Sixth. Mr. Keppeler, the house-mover, it is said, will begin the work of removal Monday, to prepare the site for the new structure to be erected for the Presbyterian congregation. Meanwhile services will be held in the present building on its new location. The matter of construction of the new Y. M. C. A. building has been abandoned for the present, from inability to secure a fund adequate for the contemplated plans. The church building will be, as far as possible, fitted up for a social hall and gymnasium by its new owners. The gratifying announcement has been made that Mr. A. A. Phillips has been appointed a deputy of Mr. A. V. Engle, State Bank Inspector, positions created by an enactment of the last Legislature. The deputy carries with it a salary of $2,400 per annum; its duties are responsible and strenuous, but Mr. Phillips is amply qualified to fill them, having had a life-long experience with figures and accounts. The confidence in his fairness and honesty was shown when the First National Bank, of which he was President, failed some years ago, and he was unanimously recommended for re-appointment by depositors and citizens generally, and the assets, under his management, paid liabilities in full. Our little jerk-water railroad enjoys a distinction that some of our larger corporations have been unable to attain. For instance, the "cannon-hill" express came in Saturday night with a blazing comet-tail attached, which glowed with an intensity that corresponded with the wonderful speed that it was flying through space. The very general opinion expressed that ignition was caused by friction of the air, is hardly tenable although astronomical research has shown that it may be possible on the confines of interstellar space, and it is quite probable that the flames originated from sparks from the smoke-stack hurried with astounding force while engaged in a mile-a-minute stunt. Later—The same logging train came in yesterday about noon with another blazing car of logs and scattering fire all along the route. The cause of the fire was shown how impossible it was that death could have resulted from the cause charged. The opening in the skull was unusually small. The physician who conducted the autopsy declares the baby died of convulsions resulting from improper nourishment. It came out during the investigation, the Coroner says, that the parents fed the baby pickles and similar indigestible food. The trial of the alleged assassins of Gov. Steunenberg, of Idaho, in December, 1905, has begun at Boise. It will doubtless occupy the center of the stage in public thought for seasons.

Residence, Black 1252. ANOTHER PIONEER GONE. Death of Thomas N. Ford, Who Has Been a Prominent and Active Citizen. The death of Thomas N. Ford removes one of the old-time settlers, whose residence in this city dates back nearly two score of years. He had been in failing health for some time, and while his demise was not unexpected, it created a shock among the friends with whom he had been so long associated. It happened a few minutes after ten o'clock Friday morning, after a sudden relapse from what had been thought an improved condition. Mr. Ford was born in Salem, Oregon, Dec. 22, 1844, making him a little over 62 years of age. He came to Olympia in 1870, and was married to Georgiana S., daughter of Capt. S. W. Percival, in August, 1876. He succeeded Capt. Percival in the mercantile business, and was Territorial Treasurer from 1881 to 1886. He was a worthy member of the I. O. O. F., in which he held many positions of honor and trust. In the early days of the volunteer fire organization he took a very active and effective part. Of late years he has been engaged in the real estate and insurance business. His personality was of the positive type; he may be said to have been a man of few words, but they were overbalanced by his actions. He was a firm friend to those who had found their way to his better nature. Deceased leaves a wife, and a sister and three brothers residing in Oregon. The burial rites were held under direction of the Odd Fellows, from St. John's Church, Tuesday afternoon, amid a profusion of floral offerings. Death From Pickles. The adage that you must go away from home to hear the news is illustrated by this clipping from the P.-I., dated Olympia, May 31: "A father calling to examine the body of his dead son, to see at rest sensational stories and suspicions that a female relative had been the cause of the child's death, was the unique happening here which followed the sudden death of John Allen Carter, the 14-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Carter. The mother of the dead child said that on several occasions the child's aunt had handled the infant while calling at the house, and declared that the visitor had caused the death of the child by pressure on the delicate skull of the infant. These charges were made so strongly that Coroner Marnell caused an autopsy to be made. Following this the parents were called in and shown how impossible it was that death could have resulted from the cause charged. The opening in the skull was unusually small. The physician who conducted the autopsy declares the baby died of convulsions resulting from improper nourishment. It came out during the investigation, the Coroner says, that the parents fed the baby pickles and similar indigestible food."

Esther Mitchell Makes Charges. The latest development in the fight being made in Seattle against the present management of the King county jail under the direction of Sheriff Smith by women who are desirous of having a woman matron appointed, is a letter from Esther Mitchell, now in Steilacoom asylum, in which she charges that during her stay in the King county jail one of the guards made improper proposals to her. Esther says she reported the matter to Sheriff Smith, and that after her complaint the persecution ceased. Found to Be Innocent After Two Years' Imprisonment. At North Yakima, a few days ago, Max A. Mobley, charged with a statutory offense against 16-year-old Lydia Palmer of that city, was acquitted in the Superior Court. When the verdict was announced Mobley was overwhelmed with congratulations. He addressed the jury, saying among other things that he thanked it for the verdict on account of his wife and two children. For two years Mobley has laid in the County Jail awaiting an appeal to the Supreme Court for another trial. On the first trial he was convicted and sentenced by Judge Riggs to life imprisonment in the penitentiary. The verdict of the jury on the first trial was unpopular and Judge Riggs was severely criticised for his extreme sentence. The Supreme Court in its opinion granting a new trial also criticised Judge Riggs for the sentence he had imposed on the prisoner. Money is Said to "Talk." J. F. KEARNEY & CO. ARE BOYCOTTED Because They Sell Too Cheap On complaint of the Olympia Grocers that we sell flour too cheap, an our refusal to sign a contract agreeing to sell at the price fixed by the Grocers' Combine, we are denied the privilege of buying some brands of flour, the best flour made and at a price not fixed by the combine. Our guarantee with every sack or money refunded. Below is a portion of a letter received from one of the flour mills. J. F. KEARNEY & CO. MESSRS. J. F. KEARNEY & CO., OLYMPIA: APRIL 22, 1907. GENTLEMEN: After talking with our Mr. ——— to-day over the matter of cutting prices on ——— flour, we have to advise that it would be entirely against our best interests to sell ——— flour to anyone at a place like Olympia, who would not agree to sell it at the same prices others sold at. We think to sell ——— flour 10c below others, would imply it was cheaper flour. Again to do this would be to lose our trade in Olympia, and therefore we will have to sustain Mr. ——— in the position he took in talking with you. We shall regret very much losing your account, which has been very satisfactory, and if you can see your way clear to comply with our stipulation in this matter, we shall be glad to go ahead with you as we have done in the past. Yours truly, J. F. KEARNEY & CO.
