WOMEN BARBERS DRAW THE RAZOR FOR FAIR PLAY. The women barbers of Spokane, having been refused admission to the Barbers' Union of that city, have applied to American Federation of Labor for a charter of their own.

ANNA GOULD TO MARRY ANOTHER FOREIGN SCOUNDREL.—The sympathy with Anna Gould whose misalliance with Count Boni de Castellaine had elicited so much feeling and her divorce from the unprincipled scoundrel who had been making ducks and drakes of the Gould millions, had met with such wide-spread approval, is about dissipated by the announcement that she is now planning to wed another titled nabob whose chief distinction is in spending money. This time, however, it is a prince, but a prince without a kingdom or any prospect of succession.

DESPERATION NOT COURAGE.—While everybody admires courage in any laudable endeavor, merit stands always be the foundation on which it is based. The "courage," as some people call it, displayed by ex-Mayor Schmitz, is not worthy of that term. It is but the senseless fury of an envenomed reptile, driven to a corner, from which he darts his forked tongue in helpless captivity. His angry resentment of Judge Dunne's "lecture," as he termed it, was the moulting of a proven scoundrel, playing his last act for approval of the few spectators in the gallery. It was pre-eminently the province and duty of the Judge to review the enormity of his betrayal of trust, in pronouncing the sentence for its punishment. Schmitz's impotent protests showed better than anything else might have done, the turpitude of his debased nature.

POOR RUSSIA.—The Economist's special correspondent in Russia writes that the nation is returning to savagery. It has been for the past thirty years known to be undergoing an economic decay, but that has not extended to a distinct decline in civilization. Savagery, he declares, is the only word to describe the conditions of hundreds of settlements which a generation ago enjoyed prosperity and civilized instincts. Marriage is obsolete, domestic life a farce, and children are not considered human beings until they reach the age of six or seven years. Diseased, apathetic, hopeless, degenerating even to worse conditions, these savages of a great Christian empire are threatened with speedy extinction and that indeed is the most merciful fate they can expect.

THREE whales, one of them about 60 feet long and the others 30 feet each, are sporting in the waters of Admiralty Inlet and the West Passage, near Tacoma. Some boats have been obliged, several times, to give way to these bold leviathans, who have disputed aquatic rights with them.

THE Pacific mail liner left San Francisco yesterday for the Sandwich Islands, having several distinguished passengers, among whom were Nicholas Longworth and wife, son-in-law and daughter of the President, and Secretary of Commerce Straus.

Wm. Trospner has been on the sick list the past few days. Eli Blair has been appointed caretaker of Mission Park. Mrs. S. K. Taylor was up from Oyster Bay yesterday.

Miss Maule Alford left Tuesday for a month's visit to Alaska. Bailey Lish, of Seattle, is visiting his sister, Mrs. N. C. Davis. Louis Utterback has gone to Bremerton to spend several weeks.

Last Sunday a girl baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McGuire. Mrs. Ella Robinson, of Minneapolis, is visiting Mrs. S. Westover. The Christian Church will begin a series of revival meetings Oct. 1st.

Clark Savidge is contemplating a visit to his old home in New Jersey. Mrs. Lister has been quite ill at the home of her son, Stanley Lister. Jay Holster and family have moved to the old Newsam farm at Mud Bay.

Mr. J. L. Edwards, of Los Angeles, Cal., is visiting Mrs. Geo. Gaston. Chas. Whalen killed a large cougar near his home at Tenino a few days ago. Mr. and Joseph Reder are the parents of a little baby girl, born Tuesday.

A daughter was born Sunday to the wife of Chas. Tantlinger, of Belmore. The Santa Barbara sailed Monday with a cargo of lumber for San Francisco. Misses Laura and Vena Luther, of Seattle, are guests of Miss Lulu Kalar.

Mrs. W. A. Hageneyer is entertaining Miss Isabelle Anderson, of Seattle. A clam-bake will be the piece d' resistance at the park field-day, next Tuesday. "The St. Philip" is the name of Capt. H. M. Pierce's new hotel in Portland.

Mrs. M. E. George is enjoying a visit from her sister, Mrs. W. J. Ellis, of Seattle. The Olympia Water Co.'s office is now located in the Egley building on Sixth street. Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Trospner, of Black Lake, have gone to make their home in Tacoma.

A. N. Rice, a former Olympia real estate dealer, was up from Tacoma during the week. Harry Young of Tacoma, and Miss Mabel Scofield of this city, will marry on the 20th prox. W. F. Bell, State Librarian of Montana, has been on a visit to Librarian J. M. Hitt.

Miss Blanche Billings has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. T. M. McVey, at Tenino. The marriage of August Fargansa and Miss Sankula took place at Rochester, Tuesday. Miss Hazel Israel returned the first of the week from a visit to relatives at Oakville.

The door and pipe companies are to install instantaneous auxiliary Gamewell fire alarm boxes. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Taylor have moved into their fine new residence on Eighteenth street. Mrs. B. Steigler and daughter, Miss Clara, left Tuesday on a several weeks' visit to Alaska.

Rev. Robt. Cooper has arrived to take charge of the pulpit of the United Presbyterian Church. F. H. Scott, the grocer, is building a modern residence, corner of Third and Pugh streets. Harry T. Denham and Miss Mabel Goodman, both of Tacoma, were married in this city Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McKenna, of Little Rock, visited this week with Mrs. McKenna's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Kennedy. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Reed, who lately purchased the Cox place at Pickering's Pass, moved to their new home this week.

The city is to purchase a new horse for use of the fire department, to replace "Prince," who has served his time on the hose-cart. John Gunstone's farm team ran away Monday, the wagon being demolished by striking a telephone pole near the Baptist church.

Albert Brucker has been called to San Francisco by the serious illness of his father. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter. The family of C. J. Van Eaton left Tuesday for their new home on Orcas Island, where Mr. Van Eaton is engaged in the mill business.

Fred Cottle suffered a painful injury, Wednesday, by a heavy casting falling upon his left leg, while at work in the Pioneer Iron Works. Nate Foster, of Tumwater, is suffering from blood-poisoning in his right hand, as a result of getting it punctured by a catfish horn.

Daniel Varner, an old-time logger of this county, died Monday of paralysis at the home of his son, Charles Varner, at Tacoma. He was 70 years of age. Tumwater has made a formal demand upon the Port Townsend and Southern Railway for a side-track and station facilities in that enterprising little burg.

A purse containing $40 was "lifted" from a hand-bag belonging to Mrs. J. E. Walker, who lives in the country, while at Mrs. Jennie Lowe's rooming-house, one day this week. The remittitur in the case of Albert Wilson reached the Sheriff and he has notified his bondsmen for his delivery to begin a term of three years imprisonment for cattle-stealing.

"Br' Scobey," now of Portland, the predecessor of Boss Thacker, paid a visit to "the faithful," this week. He is doing well in Portland, and declares that it is the ideal city of the West. The Elswick suit for $1,000 damages against the Mayor and City Councilmen for destroying the dock to his boat-house on Tilton street, engaged the attention of the Superior Court yesterday.

Everybody who desires to put in a day's work at Mission Park, Tuesday, will be furnished free transportation by reporting that fact to Mr. F. G. Blakeslee, who has been assigned the duty of providing for that service. David Leek of Tenino was committed to the asylum yesterday by Judge Linn, on a showing that he was demented. Religion seems to have affected his brain, and he has made threats which render this course necessary.

It is reported that on last Saturday Rev. P. K. Howard fell off a ladder spraining his ankle. The accident happened at St. John's rectory. This mishap incapacitated the reverend gentleman from holding the usual services last Sabbath. A parole has been recommended for Edward Ahrens, of Vancouver, serving a term for assault. Probably sympathy had something to do with the recommendation, for a wife and several children residing in East Portland are in need of his aid.

Ed. Johnson, a logger in Simpson's camp near Shelton, who sustained injuries a few days ago while at work, died in the hospital here Sunday. Funeral services were held Wednesday by Rev. Wm. Hohberger, and interment was made in Masonic cemetery. Mrs. Sylvester, of South Bay, has returned after visiting with her sister and friends in Seattle. During her week's absence, her daughter Eunice was in charge of the fourth street store. Miss Frances Sylvester is enjoying her vacation at the old homestead.

The quarry of stone operated by convicts in Lewis county, for crushing rock to be used by the county in road repairs, has closed down and the laborers returned to the Penitentiary at Walla Walla. This was done for the reason that the Legislature made no provision for continuation of that labor. Mayor McClarty urges the City Council to cut down, such as possible, public expenses. He calls attention to the fact that there is little more than $7,000 in the current expense fund, with fixed charges aggregating about $2,000 per month and only licenses and fees to depend upon until the tax levy comes in.

The State Board has appointed J. R. Pritchard, M. D., of Chewelah, Superintendent of the State Institution for the Feeble-minded at Medical Lake. Dr. Sempie, Superintendent of the Eastern Washington Hospital, who has been temporarily in charge of the former institution will resume entire control of the hospital. The number by actual count who came down the gang-plank of the Yosemite, Sunday, was a little less than 500. Give the Multnomah 240 and the Greyhound 150, and the sum total of visitors was considerably less than 1,000. The number of people who went on the North Bay excursion was about 400, mostly of our townspersons.

Elmer, the little eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Matheson, of Sunnyside, to whose illness from diphtheria, at his grandparents' home, in this city, reference was made last week, died Tuesday morning. The real cause of death was heart-failure incident to the disease that prostrated him, and from which he was in a fair way of recovery, till a relapse in his weakened condition was fatal. The body was taken to Sunnyside for interment.

Mr. Alvord, the West Fourth street shoemaker, is the proud possessor of a diminutive automobile built by a lad of 16, in Grand Rapids, Mich. It is made of steel tubing and white ash and weighs only 275 pounds. The boy's name is Fred W. Pickles, and he writes that he intends to engage in the manufacture of these machines for the market at a cost of from $140 to $150.

The laws of 1907 of the State of Washington have appeared in bound volumes. The index has been compiled by members of the Tacoma and Seattle bar, as being indefinite and incomplete. Two hundred dollars of the State's money was paid for this pretense. The most serious complaint is that this index fails to indicate the sections of the Code and statutes amended and repealed. Another chance for graft is presented for a supplement to supply the defect, and perhaps a further effort may become necessary to explain the supplement.

The Thurston County Abstract office has been moved from the Court House to the room lately occupied by the Olympia in the Mottman building, corner of Sixth and Washington. The score or more of protest by the company no more constitute the crowning charm of the temple of Justice, but many of them will continue the work of transcribing the records in the new office.

The first recommendation of Mr. Lord, of the Olympia Commercial Club, is said to have been, improvement of the Nisqually road to adapt it to automobiles. Those plebeians who ride bicycles must make their own paths. They are of yesterday, antiquated and too narrow-gauged for those who find in the auto a mild initiation of the pride felt by the owner of a deep-sea yacht or a castle on the Hudson heights.

The eclipse was "pulled off," as Oly used to say, Wednesday night, just about as advertised, after making allowance for difference of computation. The moon rose with the shadow on, covering about 62 of its diameter, becoming visible over the trees tops in the southwest about 8:30. The shadow passed slowly off disappearing at 9:32. Probably more astronomical knowledge was imparted while the orb was so prominently before the public, than has been gleaned from books the past year. Some of it would cause a smile to pass over the countenance of the professional star-gazer.

TRANSFERS OF REAL ESTATE. John C. Tallot and wife to Mary Quarrens, lot 15, Euroka; $200. Conrad Schneider to Henry Knight, lots 18 and 19, Orchard Park addition, $200. A. B. Woodard and wife to Henry Knight, lots 44, 48 and 49, Orchard Park addition; $150.

May F. Sapp to W. L. Sapp, east half of southeast quarter of section 8, township 18, range 2 west, $1. Herman Hange to Earl Redlizer, west half of southeast quarter of southeast quarter, section 29, township 18, range 1 west; $100. Daniel P. Lilly and wife to Walter Randall, northwest quarter of southeast quarter, section 7, township 18, range 1 west; $200.

W. B. Hanna and wife to A. O. Page, Merrill L. Page and Mary L. Page, an undivided three-eighths interest in all of blocks 19, 20, 21, 14, 15, 16, 17, 2 and 10; also lots 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, block 5; also lots 8, 12, 13 and 14, block 12; also lots 3, 4, 5, 6, 15 and 16, block 7; also lots 11 and 12, block 1, Squires' addition to Olympia, quit claim; $70.

PITHY POLITICAL POINTS. Dot Man Abe Reuff Vas Von Pig Phool. "We can almost smell gas"—now. "Did I do it?" No. I have been too busy engaged manipulating County Court House affairs.—Local Boss. "Shall we run Mayor McClarty for re-election four months hence?" Well, I guess yes; didn't we wipe the Citizens' ticket off the face of the Earth last December.—Local Boss. "What church do I attend?" Why, the Methodist, of course.—Local Boss. "At what saloon do I take a 'smile'?" For coincidence, the "3 J. T. S." next door to headquarters.—Local Boss. Q. UO VADIS.

Dr. A. G. Cook Will Lecture. Next Sunday evening, at the Christian Church, A. G. Cook, M. D., will lecture on "The Jurisprudence of Tomorrow." I wish that lawyers, teachers, thinkers, new thinkers and young people, may hear Dr. Cook's discussion of so vital a question. Everybody is invited. W. S. CROCKETT, Pastor.

THE Superior Court of the state of Washington for Thurston county. W. H. Davis and Martha E. Davis, husband and wife, Plaintiffs, vs. Herbert Drelling, sometime called Hubert Drelling, an unmarried man, Fred A. McDonald and Anna M. McDonald, husband and wife, and the E. M. Colburn, a corporation, Defendants. You are hereby summoned to appear with your answer to a copy of your answer upon the above entitled action in the above entitled court and answer the complaint of the plaintiffs and serve a copy of your answer upon the undersigned, attorneys for plaintiffs, at their office, below stated, and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you, according to the demand of the complaint, which has been filed with the Clerk of said Court, on the above entitled action, as set forth in a quiet title in the following described premises in Thurston county, Washington, to-wit: Lot 1, 2, 3 and 5, Northern subdivision, block 60, Swan's Addition to the city of Olympia, W. T. & A. L. ALKOR, Attorney for Plaintiffs, P. O. Address: Box 1, Byrne Block, Olympia, Washington. First publication, July 26, 1907.

Violin maker and repairer. Special attention given to restoring old violins, repairing bows, mandolins, guitars, cellos or bass. Many violins are weak on some strings. I can strengthen them and equalize the tone. Satisfaction guaranteed. J. L. COATES, No. 2, Chickering Hall, 937 1/2 South C Street, Tacoma.
