

A POST-DEFERRED season of six weeks will be inaugurated Sunday, at the A. S. Hunt, at which people can come and look at what has been done. It is not, at 25 cents a head, as in the Well, well, many have wondered what the next Seattle would be like, and now the answer is here. Come to think of it, the "expected" lap, paid before the fair began when a quarter was charged to see the mushroom city built.

AS has been noted commenting on the business in public matters, say that "the course of America is in the hands of the public mind, and it is this which allows trusts to fatten and fatten the government of Chicago and almost every great city over into the hands of a compact band of criminals—who are interested."

Mrs. Phillip N. Moore, of St. Louis, the first President of the National Federation of Women's Clubs to visit this State, was the recipient of a warm welcome at Tacoma, Monday, by the State Federation. Miss Janet Moore, of this city, it held presided at the reception held in the rooms of the public library.

The talk about the necessity of having rules to govern the actions of policemen to keep them from doing acts that were palpably wrong, is nonsense. No man, much less an official, needs a rule or precedent to do right.

Three more A.-Y.-P. fair awards have been accorded our county: High school furniture, native wood to the Olympia Door Co., and best fire-place to Tenino Sandstone Co.

How in the world did they overlook the Bush exhibit when they had all of them had been habitues of the red-light district and participants in the midnight revels. A new deal, we think under the circumstances, would have been the proper thing. As it is, Attorney Bigelow is sent on a roving expedition at the city's expense to dig up evidence to corroborate charges made against Chief Rogers, of usurping the duties at times of the Committing Magistrate.

At a meeting of the taxpayers, last week, in the Superior Court room, Judge Robinson said he had heard it remarked that the formation of a taxpayers' association in this county is a Democratic movement; if that be the case "God bless the Democrats, or any body of citizens who take interest at this time in the welfare of the people," that the expenses in maintaining our State Judiciary are too high; that since the increase in the number of Judges, litigation had increased in a marked degree. He believed in the forming of a State Association which would accomplish the results that the taxpayers are now getting.

Some of our heaviest taxpayers have remarked that the Commission for a certain amount of money be right for cities of the size of Des Moines, Galveston and Tacoma, but they don't know how such plan might work regarding places the size of Olympia. The Commission is the same plan as operating the business method in something like a corporation, directly responsive to the demands of the citizens. Take for instance a lumber mill plant which cuts only thirty thousand feet of lumber daily, is it not just as necessary to operate this moderate business in an efficient manner as if the plant were larger and the capacity two hundred thousand feet per day? Really if any preference is made, the proposition ought to be resolved in favor of the smaller municipal bodies in trying the new plan first.

Three drunken Japs Tuesday evening, caused no little worryment for Mrs. Joseph Wilson, who lives alone with her children on West Fourth street bridge, her husband being absent in Tacoma. The drunken orientals sought to enter her domicile, and she, in a moment of indignation, standing at the window ordered them away. They refused to go, when finally a passer-by was hailed by the woman and word was sent to patrolman McClelland, who lost no time in reading the riot-act to the insolent and noisy trio. He needed a remarkable faculty of intellect when he tried to make them realize the enormity of their conduct. A close watch was kept the remainder of the night over the Wilson home, and it is now understood among the Japs that any further disturbance will be followed by immediate and severe punishment.

And now the high school "sophis" have written a challenge to the freshmen for a match game of football, the language of which is said to be more expressive than that of the "sophis" and "mutts" and "grammar-school babies." One object of higher education is to inculcate the amenities of social life, to teach gentlemanly and lady-like conduct. And we may here note that it is said the junior girls of the high school lately entered the building clothed in each others dresses. What sense or propriety is manifested by the exchange is unknown, but it was about on a par with parading the streets with torch-lights, spitting their throats out, and other things which nothing to recommend it but being handed down from some prominent educational institutions that have unrestrained made football their leading incentive.

Walks in His Step. The cartoonist's wife was talking to a friend. "I just know Fred didn't want to work at the office last night," she said. "Why, how do you know?" was asked. "Because in his sleep he said, 'Well, I'll stay in, but I don't know what to draw.'"

John Byrne owns real estate with 120 feet frontage on Main street. The assessments thereon for the street pavements are $9.45 per lineal foot. This expense does not include that for the concrete walk abutting the property. His assessment on the Four street improvement on the same basis was about $6.45 per foot frontage.

At the Council meeting, Monday evening, Councilman Swayne seconded the Mackay resolution in the matter of investigation of the police force in this city, and when the Mayor declared the same out of order voted to sustain the chair. What caused his sudden change of heart was a matter of speculation on the part of the visitors in the lobby.

Chris Benson, who is serving a term in the penitentiary for killing Dave Morrell, a few years ago, sent over a number of presents, of his own make, to persons in this city. Among them, Min McClelland, who succeeded in having as jailer, received a beautiful brooch, set with pearls, which required considerable time, patience and skill to make.

E. T. Young, last Monday, was present at the opening session of the Supreme court for the present October term. He was interested in hearing the arguments in the Weatherhill litigation. One of the main points involved is the legality of a marriage ceremony according to the Indian custom by which it is claimed a white man was married to a klottchman (squaw) many years ago.

Mrs. Eliza J. wife of Ezra Meeker, the pioneer, of Puyallup, died last Saturday in the Sound View Sanitarium, at Seattle. She was 75 years of age, and she came to this country in 1852, with her husband, traveling the "Plains across" by ox-wagon. Four children survive. At her death, her husband was touring his way back to Washington D. C., by way of California, in his ox-cart. His only object in life now seems to be to pose as path-finder.

An Alaskan dog team passed north this city, Tuesday, with a lot of $10,000, is performing a journey from Nome to Seattle, thence to Washington, D. C., returning by the same route, with a detour from Seattle to San Francisco, reaching that point by Jan. 1st, 1910, with any of the original dogs alive. The start was made with ten dogs. At last accounts three of the original dogs are left and their owner feels confident that he will win the prize.

An Olympia man who occasionally visits Tacoma and Seattle, says that when he goes about the streets of that city, without looking to the right or left, some of his lady friends have complained of his indifference, saying they met him on the streets and he wouldn't recognize them. He said that really he did not like to mistake and he thought that it was a strange city for he might make a mistake and get arrested for "mashing" by some over-zealous policeman, which he thought should excuse his apparent rudeness.

Suit has been started in the Superior Court by E. A. Charles and Frank Collins, sons of Anna M. Collins, against Mrs. Ida M. Seyfang, formerly Ida May Collins, and who is the daughter of Charles Collins and niece of the other two plaintiffs. According to the complaint the suit is started for the purpose of setting aside certain deeds made in 1903 by the mother of the plaintiff to her grand-daughter, the defendant. The plaintiffs ask the court to set aside the deeds of conveyance and place the title of the lands involved in their names. The land lies in the vicinity of the Collins school house, on Chambers prairie.

Many people think that Mr. Mackay offered the best plan for settling the police disturbance resulting simply from the fact that the suspended men had discussed the question of succession in office of the bosses; and that was to dismiss both the chief and the two suspended patrolmen. It was like "lifting the lid," and when patrolmen Gansfield and Herndon were suspended, and it was found that all of them had been habitues of the red-light district and participants in the midnight revels. A new deal, we think under the circumstances, would have been the proper thing. As it is, Attorney Bigelow is sent on a roving expedition at the city's expense to dig up evidence to corroborate charges made against Chief Rogers, of usurping the duties at times of the Committing Magistrate.

The Tax League. At an adjourned meeting of the Thurston County Tax-Payer League Tuesday night Judge Byron Millett was called to the chair and Mr. Thayer elected Secretary pro tem. A lengthy letter was read from Judge Robinson, who had left the city on legal business, in which excellent reasons were given for perfecting the organization.

Acting upon the suggestion of the necessity for an immediate permanent organization, Charles D. King was elected unanimously permanent President and Fred W. Stocking permanent Secretary. The Chairman then, on motion, appointed a committee consisting of C. B. Mann, John Miller Murphy, and George R. Bigelow to formulate a constitution and by-laws, and to report suggestions for objects and scope of the organization at a meeting to be held on Tuesday evening, the 25th inst., when a meeting will be held in the court-room to consider and adopt the same.

It is understood that the work of the League will embrace the interests of citizens of the whole county, and it is planned to enlist organizations in all parts of the State with concurrent action.

The city registration for 1908 and this year is as follows:

Ward	1908	1909
First	315	218
Second	255	142
Third	228	128
Fourth	325	212
Fifth	314	216
Sixth	163	80
Total	1,610	1,036
Outside Third	48	18
Outside Fourth	33	8
Outside Sixth	34	3
Total	115	29

It will be observed that while the registration has fallen off in all the wards, it is phenomenal in the Second ward, where apparently the decrease is not on a 50 per cent basis. This may account for the well-defined suspicion at the time that a prominent hotel in that ward was used as a colonization office for registry and voting of the "wild men from Borneo."

Names of Jurors for November. Following is the list of jurors drawn for the November term of court at which Otis Hamilton will be tried:

Impertinent Preachers. Two certain preachers come a calling around the district and bother a widow woman in the time of her sickness. I think it is about time that a preacher of that kind had some preaching preached to him. This preacher is taking advantage of a widow woman. He is getting subscriptions for a certain amount of money for a young man to become a preacher of the Gospel. He succeeded in getting this widow to donate $1,000 toward this institution. He worked this widow woman under hypnotic influence. I think it is time that something was done with these kind of preachers.
