At the home of A. J. Haycox, east of this city, a number of friends gathered to celebrate the 51st birthday of Mr. H.'s mother, last Friday. An excellent dinner was served.

Mrs. S. G. Mahlum, wife of the senior member of the firm of Craun & Mahlum of the Wardrobe, has been quite ill the past few days. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Melvin, who have been spending the summer with their daughter, Mrs. A. W. Robinson, a few miles southeast of this city, left Tuesday for their home in Everett.

J. L. Phillips, aged 69, died suddenly Monday morning, of apoplexy, at his home on Union street. He leaves a wife, and daughter, Miss Edith Phillips. Interment was made Wednesday.

Mr. Powe is constructing an elevated water tank, to utilize the superfluous water obtained by sinking his tubular well to 196 feet by making it available for fire extinguishing if needed.

Samuel Turber, aged 74, died at his home, south of Tumwater, Sunday. Deceased is survived by a wife and one son. The funeral was held Monday and the body taken to Puyallup for interment.

The Commissioners have instructed the Road Supervisor of District No. 3 to open the east end of the Hubbard road between Rainier and Yelm, since its location is made by the County Engineer.

In the case of Patrick Terry against the Merrill & Ring Logging company, for personal injuries in their camp at Mukletuo, has been ordered dismissed in the Supreme Court with reversal of judgment.

The City Attorney has been instructed by the Council to prepare plans and specifications for a bridge across the slough on Garfield street near the Westside schoolhouse, to cost on estimate, about $800.

The trial of George H. Wilson, charged with murdering the Cobles, is on and will consume several days more owing to the large number of witnesses to be examined. The court room is daily packed with spectators.

Last Sunday morning at Christian Science Temple on Adams street, there was an audience of sixty individuals to listen to the services. If interest shall continue to increase, a larger place of meeting will become necessary.

The Thurston County Fruit Growers' Association have moved their plant to the building formerly occupied by the machine shop on Columbia, between Sixth and Seventh streets, having obtained a five years' lease of that site.

Henry Rohr, boom tender of the Mason County Logging Co., on Westside, had his foot badly crushed between two logs, Monday, and narrowly escaped death by the rolling log. He will be laid up a couple of weeks from his injuries.

The following marriage licenses were issued by the County Auditor, this week: Edwin Bendizon and Eva Folberg; V. H. Wilson and Miss Lovell; John Saito and Bertha Sam; John Bostingham and Nora Hessey; I. A. Burbee and Emma Springer.

Assistant Attorney General Kallar, has decided that the word "rivers" or "rivers" in the statute defining fishing rights with regard to placing nets, means and includes creeks, or waters that flow between two banks, and needs no specified dimensions.

The lower Mud Bay bridge has been closed while under reconstruction by W. E. Teller, contractor, by authority of the County Commissioners, and for a time travel and from Mason county will have to cross by the upper bridge at the head of the bay.

The estate of Mary E. Church has been settled in the Superior Court. John Hedges received as executor $41.32 and his attorney, Bigelow & Manier, $350. Hollin Church, the surviving son of deceased, becomes the sole owner of property of considerable value.

The Mallory case against the city for $2,000 for work on the Swanton flume has been continued to Nov. 14th. It was thought to be a lengthy case, and lay-over on the jury term, which began Monday, so much as to interfere materially with the proceedings, hence the postponement.

An agent of the United States Brewery Association, to meet in Chicago Oct. 28th, is here to gather data regarding a new industrial insurance company. This State has, however, worked out its own insurance law, and its action therefore will not have to include that industry in Washington.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Nommensen at the hospital underwent operations in the nose and throat recently. Though the youngster was put under the influence of chloroform his cries were agonizing to the mother. The brave little fellow is now back home, and it is said he is doing well.

It is reported that Charley Swayne, the owner of a large number of old planks taken from the bridge at Tumwater, is willing to donate the same to the city, if it will use those planks, which are suitable for the purpose, in the construction of a temporary sidewalk on Fifth street across the Swanton flume.

H. A. Fairchild, Chairman of the Public Service Commission, fainted Saturday, from acute indigestion, but was quickly restored, and advised by his physician, Dr. Robt. Kincaid, to rest a few days before resuming his excessive labors, as it was owing to overwork that his vitality gave way from the strain.

Miss L. C. Chipman, of South Bay, returned Monday from a visit to Mrs. Wm. Virden, at Cle Elum. The latter was formerly Miss Fanny Larridge of this city. She will soon leave Cle Elum to spend the winter in Colorado, in the hope that the change of climate may benefit her health, which has been failing for some time.

Mrs. Ellen Henry White's serious condition seems to have baffled medical skill, but now the conclusion has been arrived at, she is afflicted with an ulcer of the brain. The sympathy of the STANDARD is extended to the worthy suffering woman, hoping that competent medical treatment may effect a cure. She has been taken to the hospital.

Laban Wentz, charged with larceny, for being somewhat forgetful as to possession of rights to property that had no existence, was found guilty by a jury after two hours' deliberation, Wednesday. It seems the allegation of insanity failed. The punishment may be for a term of not more than 15 years in the discretion of the Judge.

At the Yakima State Fair just closed, Mr. James D. Barton, proprietor of the Archer Orphanage Farm, on the west side of Hartstein Island, took prizes for 1st, 2d and 3d pullet, and 2d prize cockerels and pullets. Mr. Barton purchased the Seaward place, formerly Lott's, last year and has added extensive poultry equipment since.

Dr. Riley had a close call from losing an eye, the other night. While returning in an auto from visiting a patient in the country, an overhanging branch of a tree struck him in the face and injuring his left eye. At first it was thought that he would lose the sight of that eye. Although very painful for several days, we are pleased to note that his sight was saved.

A resolution to improve Fourth street from west end of the lift-bridge to Hancock street, is under consideration of a committee of the Council. The resolution stipulates that the car-company will pay approximately $2,000 of the expense, the county $1,000, and the remainder to be taxed against the enlarged district supposed to include the entire Westside.

At a meeting of the trustees of the Chamber of Commerce it was concluded to collect all membership fees and dues forthwith, and also all subscriptions for support of the chamber. It is announced that the proceeds will be devoted to payment of $2,000 towards the belt-line of railroad but in our opinion salary of the Secretary is quite as much of an incentive for action.

It is the present intention for the Light & Power Company to build a trestle for extension of the street-car system to Westside, and it has made application to the Superior Court for an order to condemn property of the Percival estate for a track. It has, however, also asked to open the Port Townsend track to the city, as an alternative plan at grade, probably an alternative should condemnation proceedings fail.

A big convention of the Northwest Indians will meet next Monday, continuing six days, at the recently completed Shaker Church at Mud Bay. The building will be dedicated Sunday, and at the meeting a bishop will be selected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mud Bay Sam. Alec Teio, who has been temporarily acting in that capacity, and Peter Kalama, head elder, are mentioned for the position.

Bertha Hackmann, a girl still in her teens, residing several miles in the country, left Seattle, Sunday, for New York, to proceed to Paris, France, to take instructions in music for a year or more. She is well known in this city, having lived several years with Mrs. Sant Yeager. Her father, John Hackmann, accompanied her to destination to make arrangements for her instruction.

Mrs. Prudence Stokes Brown held forth at Labor Temple last Wednesday evening. The hall was comfortably filled. Miss Frances C. Sylvester presided. The speaker had been engaged in kindergarten work for many years. She said children should have sand-piles provided on school grounds with which to play and construct objects, which would develop their aptitudes and genius, that it is natural for the child to make mud images.

Notwithstanding the fact mentioned by the STANDARD heretofore, many of our citizens and taxpayers are of the opinion that in all criminal cases the State pays the costs. Such is not the fact. All the costs and fees are taxed against the county, save witnesses fees and mileage in felony prosecutions in the event of conviction. Felony cases are those in which the punishment may be capital or imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Capitol architect Wilder, of the firm of Wilder & White, New York, who came here to look over the ground of our contemplated composite capital and plan the Temple of Justice, after his return home was attacked by typhoid fever, rendering it absolutely necessary for extension of the time for completion of plans from Dec. 1st to Jan. 1st. The time limit asked has been extended, and it is hoped that his illness will not be of a nature that will require further delay.

George Dougherty, who took a couple of shots at J. O. Pearce, the negro hotel-man, when the latter alighted from the cars at Rochester, on Thursday, of last week, and then took to the woods, was arrested the next morning, at his home near Rochester by Deputy Higgins and brought before the Superior Court when he was committed, his bond fixed at $1,000 to appear and answer. Being unable to furnish bail he languishes in jail. Pierce died Saturday morning.

The case of Frank Maahs against the city and I. O. O. F. lodge, over-reconstructing the cement sidewalk abutting the property of the lodge, at the corner of Main and Fifth streets, presented a unique situation. When the sidewalk was first laid it was supposed to have been constructed on a legal grade, but it afterwards transpired the work did not conform to the grade established by ordinance fixing the grade on Main street southward from Third street to the city limits.

Primary elections of candidates for a municipal ticket will be held on Nov. 7th, and the city election be held Dec. 5th. The candidates who have filed for the Republican nomination are W. L. Bridgford and J. K. Hawkins for Mayor; I. N. Holmes for Clerk; W. H. Bradstreet for Treasurer; C. E. Claypool for Attorney; R. H. Loupke for Councilman-at-Large, and Councilmen: First ward, R. W. Elwell, Robt. Doragh and J. H. Brown; Third ward, Julius Werthgen and R. J. Hoag; Fifth ward, E.

E. Taylor. On the Citizens' ticket, R. H. Fry has filed for Attorney.

Mr. Henry Wood, the well-known compressed water systems, in which air is used for the motive power, compressed in a boiler by an electric engine, which works automatically by a switch that opens and closes a current to keep the pressure at any given force. The action of the compressed air is similar to that of the automatic sprinkler seen on our streets recently, which was actuated by compression of water stored in a boiler by pressure running into it from the street main. This device is intended for sources of supply that do not have enough head of water to operate a water-rain, and all that have been placed thus far are said to be operating satisfactorily. Mr. Wood is now placing one in rear of the Oxford saloon lot for supplying the Owings building.

Mrs. N. J. Kirkendall, of Seattle, is visiting friends in the city.
