City and Country.

This is Flag Day.
Prepare to spend the 4th in Olympia.
Harry Ranft made a business visit to Seattle, Tuesday.

A son was born yesterday to the wife of T. H. Galloway.
Mrs. David Mitchell is about to leave for Seattle to reside.

Dr. Story left this morning in his auto for Centralia on business.
Emil Oster, of Tenino, died at St. Peter's hospital yesterday from typhoid fever.

The street department is placing a sidewalk on Columbia street leading to the cannery.
Guy Rathbun has been "taking in" the sights at the Portland Regatta, this week.

Mrs. Christiana Freitag is on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Williams, at Hoquiam.
Tickets are now available to business men for the big North Bay excursion on the 28th inst.

Mrs. Joseph Zamberlin and two daughters, Pauline and May, are visiting relatives in Portland.
The new public market is to be opened three days in the week—Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

"Mickey" McLaughlin is now operator of the elevator at the Capitol building, and appears to like the position.
Several committees are actively engaged in laying plans for the big celebration at Olympia on July 3d and 4th.

B. A. Bird has secured his divorce from the wife who left him before the first month of married life had terminated.
Jack Sargent, who was recently crushed by a log while employed in the Union Mills, died from his injuries at the hospital yesterday.

Mr. D. J. Larson, who resides east of Tumwater, called on the Standard, yesterday. He is one of the good fellows we like to meet.
A requisition paper was issued Tuesday for Charles Potter, held at Bakerfield, Cal., wanted at Montezuma, on a charge of grand larceny.

The new Council Knights of Columbus will be organized in this city next Sunday, by Father Kerwin. A list of 300 have signed for membership.
The cannery is now running at full capacity on strawberries. The cannery pays a cent a can, returning the crate to the grower at the time of delivery.

Tuesday evening St. Margaret's Guild of St. John's Church, held a business meeting at which many matters for the welfare of the parish were considered.
Ernest Wolfe, Deputy City Engineer, has decided to become a candidate for County Engineer on the Republican ticket, and will file for the position next month.

Harry Kline, proprietor of the City Chop House, was called to Portland, Tuesday, by the illness of his little boy, who accompanied his mother on a visit to that city.
Mrs. George S. Allen, of South Tacoma, was a recent visitor to the city. She stated that her husband has been in poor health for some time past, but was improving.

Clyde Payton, who left Olympia in April for a tramp to New York, reports progress in Colorado, headed for Nebraska and Iowa as next points embraced in his itinerary.
At five o'clock, Wednesday evening, a score or more of automobiles left this city, carrying about 100 of the antlered herd and their friends to Tacoma, on a visit to the Elks of that city.

A. J. Bishop, a carpenter, had a shoulder broken by falling from the roof of a house, Saturday afternoon, on a pile of timbers. He may soon recover if he is not hurt internally, which is not apprehended.
Mrs. Gertrude Belding, manager of Doane's Cafe, is seriously ill from rheumatism and nervous breakdown. She was taken ill Monday, and if she does not improve soon will be taken to the hospital for treatment.

It is claimed that the rain the past few days was worth thousands of dollars to the timbermen of this State. The prolonged dry spell had started many incipient fires which were extinguished before a general conflagration could spread.
The funeral of Frank Daniels was held Monday, under the auspices of the G. A. R. of which organization he was an honored member. He was 82 years of age and passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. A. Hunter, at Hunter's Point.

P. M. Troy will leave next Monday as a delegate to the Baltimore Convention, to meet on the 25th, having been elected at the State Convention held in Walla Walla. He will embrace this opportunity for visiting relatives in the far East.

Mrs. C. A. Marshall has charge of the Anderson girl until her case of incorrigibility is called in court. The Nevess pair and Jenkins are guests of the jail who make the bastille their temporary home owing to circumstances over which they have no control.
Miss Edna Patnode and Harry E. Nelson were united in marriage Saturday, by Rev. Father Malley, and partook of a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Joseph Feder, after which they departed for Vancouver, B. C., their future home.

Mrs. Ida Anderson, wife of a well-known rancher near this city, died of tuberculosis, Wednesday, which is supposed to have been induced by burns from boiling paint exploded by fire some months ago. She was a native of Finland, and is survived by her husband and three children.
Delegates from the local camp of Spanish War Veterans left this week to attend a State Encampment that was held in Everett yesterday. Those from Olympia are as follows: J. Grant Hinkle, Ralph Eastman, John Stokes, J. E. Hoskins, Geo. A. Torchio, Ed. A. Henderson and Ed. McClarty.

On Saturday, in the First Congregational Church, Tacoma, Miss Olive Overhulse, formerly of this city, and Winthrop C. Bellaway, of South Bend, were united in marriage. The groom's home is in Detroit, Mich., where the couple propose making their home, after a short residence at South Bend.
Several Olympia passengers were on the train which met with an important wreck on the Tacoma-Portland road this week, but nobody was hurt. A local interest attaches from the fact that Mrs. Carlyon, Rev. D. A. Thompson and wife and John H. Norris and wife were Olympia passengers on the train.

On Sunday the steamer Nisqually brought up from Tacoma 325 Eagles on a visit to the Olympia aerie. They partook of an excellent repast in Eagles' hall, and a meet in Tunwater Park and a dance by the Tunwater club. They left on their return at 6:30 o'clock, and seemed well pleased with their reception and entertainment.
Rev. A. H. Hause has drifted back to the ministry—the Second Baptist Church of Seattle. He seems to be a man of many purposes and not long contented in any. From the Aberdeen police, he acted for a time as Secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., then as a member of the Olympia police, and is now again pounding a pulpit in the down Sound city.

The Governor has issued extradition papers for H. R. Winston, wanted at Chehalis for grand larceny. He is now under arrest in Oregon; also for Joe Brown and W. Serris, wanted at Spokane, under arrest for robbery, and held in Montana also for J. J. Griffin, held in California for return to Franklin county, where he is wanted for grand larceny.

Frank T. Watson, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who attended Seattle sessions of the Northwest Development League, reports that Olympia will probably be made the Western headquarters of the Congress. If this is done, a secretary will be retained here and an office opened. Dr. I. S. Harold of Soap Lake was selected Chairman and Mr. Watson Secretary.

Roderick Sprague, once editor of the Olympia, and now a resident of Benton county, is being urged by the citizens of his county to accept a place in the lower branch of the next Legislature. He spent most of the mountains for the benefit of his health some time ago, and has doubtless attained that result, for he now seems to be willing to brave the severities of our winter.

About 300 of our citizens have petitioned the Tacoma Navigation Co. for the steamer Nequally to change her schedule to 2 a. m. for departure for this city. This would leave the new boat, which was built for this trade, to dock at night in this city. It was because of this service that a project that had been entertained by Olympia men of providing a boat of their own was abandoned.

There is now the allegation against some lads of tender age, and two aged eight and eleven years, were caught in the act Tuesday. Hitherto it has been malicious mischief in destroying growing gardens and pillaging fruit trees, in which not the slightest tinge of justice could be urged. Chief Wright says that all such acts shall cease and is now waiting to make an example of some one old enough to know better.

A rancher named Muller, living on Patterson Lane, killed an eagle measuring seven feet from tip to tip. That was a fine specimen of the king of birds. If there is no statutory law against killing these birds, there should be, and used as very generally respected the sentimental custom that our national emblem should not under any circumstances be subject to the merciful rifle of the sportsman.

The auto fire-truck was called to the foot of Main street Monday, about noon, by James communication to the bulkhead of the parking fill from a burning trash dumpheap and the same night at 9 o'clock a call from Dr. F. N. McHolland's residence, on Fifth and Washington streets, was made to extinguish a blaze caused by live coals in an ash barrel in an out-house. The team are complimented for their prompt response in both instances.

Mrs. Kato Young, who has been engaged in creating a movement for an Orphan's Home in this city, under the management of the pioneer lodge of Odd Fellows, has been compelled to report to the Chamber of Commerce that the Grand Lodge had resolved to take no action in the matter for the next two years. The lady is greatly disappointed at the failure of a plan which she had thought was in a fair way of realization.

A stamp-collecting organization has been formed in this city, called the Philatelic Club, with Arthur K. Roberts for President; Lincoln Lounsbury, Vice President; Mrs. E. C. Story, Directress of Programmes; and Sidney Benning Segerson and Treasurer. The preliminary organization has ten members, and stands next to Seattle in size and interest manifested in its objects. This we believe will closely crowd upon our town bearing the largest list of secret societies in the State.

No better selection of Chairman of committee and manager of the 4th of July details could have been made than of Harry Ranft, (although the spelling of whose name may not follow all the rules of American orthography). He expects to make the parade especially interesting, and is trying to interest the granges in the display of floats representing a show of special crops and products. He has signified that a prize shall also go to the fraternal order having the best display.

Mrs. Duncan J. Bigelow, who is at the head of the managing committee to serve refreshments at the Pioneer picnic, next Tuesday, wishes to announce that one of the features of the occasion will be an abundance of strawberries and cream. Besides that, there will be dainties in the line of eatables suitable for all elderly people as well as young folks. An attempt will be made to provide refreshments for all wishing to attend, of which announcements will be made later.

Among the sudden deaths we have to note this week, is that of Mrs. F. C. Williams, who died in Seattle, Wednesday morning, from the effects of an operation for an abscess and tumor. She and her husband have resided in this city the past few months in the management of the Olympia Theater. They were married 23 years ago in this city. The only near relative of the deceased is a sister in Seattle. It is understood that the funeral and interment will be made at Seattle.

The city council has under consideration a project for filling in the mouth of Smuggler's Cove near Priest Point, to permit extensions of a roadway along the whole waterfront to Gull Harbor, for the accommodation of pleasure-seekers coming from the northward. The proximity of the dredger suggests the action to secure at a minimum cost the many benefits that will result from this project, which includes possible a short dock, for steamers of ordinary draft, which will doubtless induce excursions from down-sound cities for use of our beautiful park.

George and Nancy Nevess and William Jenkins, brought from Francisco on a charge of having abducted Frances Anderson, a minor, 15 years of age, from her father's home, near Lacey, are in jail awaiting trial which is delayed by the crowded condition of the calendar and illness of Prosecutor Wilson. They have been held subject to $1,000 bonds each, awaiting trial. A charge of white slavery has been preferred in amended complaint against the Nevess and Jenkins, and they are cited to appear and answer Monday, in the Superior Court.

Under a new decision all State liquor licenses will fall due July 1st of the present year, when new licenses will be issued for a period of one year, which plan makes State licensees become delinquent simultaneously with the Federal licensees. It is provided that all applications that are not in by July 15th, will be delinquent and prosecution will ensue, and a severe penalty will follow a fine of from $100 to $500, or imprisonment from one to six months, or both. This change will enable the officers to save much labor in collection and obviate confusion in keeping accounts.

A big meeting of the women of the State Federated Clubs is to be held in Tacoma next week, on the 17th, 18th and 19th. It is expected that 335 delegates will be entertained. The following ladies from Olympia will attend: Woman's Club—Mrs. Mary V. Johns, President, and Mrs. George Blankenship, delegates; Kenosha Club—Mrs. F. Y. Donnelly, President, and Mrs. Lou Diven, delegates; and Mrs. R. A. Blankenship and Miss Gwyneth Knight, alternates. Educational Club—Mrs. J. M. Hitt, President, and Mrs. George Gaston, delegates; and Mrs. George Ford and Mrs. C. A. Todd, alternates.

Ed Osborne, a well-known barber of this city, was picked up unaccountably after a fall from a motorcycle, in Seattle, Wednesday night. Last Summer he quit his trade, and engaged in the cattle business, riding a motorcycle to make his purchasing trips throughout the country, with headquarters at Seattle. It is said that the victim himself does not know how the accident occurred, for he was riding along as usual, and the first consequence that came to him was of lying by the roadside, with his motorcycle some distance away. Providence Hospital, Seattle, sends a late report in which it is stated that Mr. Osborne was still in a comatose state.

The following jurors have been drawn for the July term of the Superior Court:
District No. 1—Ernest L. Wolf, O. E. Hathorne, James Breen, J. M. Hutchings, H. K. Moore, Paul Darneston, H. E. Garcia, Hermine Stewart, Thomas Connelly, Joseph H. Dillon, F. V. Donnelly, E. O. Tew, all of Olympia.
District No. 2—A. D. Drewery, South Union, E. Pearson, George Ordell, Rochester, G. G. Pearce, Grand Island; S. B. Markham, Black Lake; L. L. Hunter, Gate; Ernest Barth, Tumwater; John Egan, Rochester; William Canby, Tumwater; Matt Fueston, Rochester; K. P. Jorgensen, Tumwater; Clark Callahan, Tumwater.

A GUESSESS FIND.
The skeleton of a man supposed to have died several years ago, was found on Tuesday afternoon. Bullet holes in the skull show that a large ball had entered the head in front of the right ear and came out behind the left, but no weapon was found which would have likely had it been used. The remains had been concealed behind the branches of a tree which seems to have been felled for that purpose. A derby hat and a pair of shoes were found in a good state of preservation, but the clothing and flesh had disappeared. No means of identification were found except these articles and a fountain pen. The skeleton was found by C. E. Giles, who reported the fact to the authorities. The remains were gathered together and have been held by Coroner Sticklin for the difficult task of identification. It is thought that at least ten years ago someone has been sustained and consequently the disappearance of a young named man Wm. Drown about that time, gives rise to the belief that it might be him; but this is of course mere guess-work, and it is possible that the truth will never be known.

Willis P. Shelton.
There seems to be a mystery concerning the death of Willis P. Shelton, at Tacoma, one night last week, which it is difficult to account for on any reasonable view from the circumstances stated. It had been attributed to despondency, but was assumed by a relative that the usual causes for despondency are entirely lacking. He was not out of employment nor in need of money, and his future prospects were exceedingly favorable. He owned considerable property and had been offered numerous positions at a very liberal salary. He was happily married to a daughter of our well-known townsman, George Langridge. So prominent was he in logging circles that he was to have been elected President of the new Logging Congress which was to convene in this city the coming summer. He had been employed as superintendent of the Wheeler, Osgood Company of Tacoma, for the Poulsen Logging Company of Hoquiam, and for other large logging concerns in Western Washington, and he was to depart for the Philippines on a two years' contract for management of a lumber industry at $3,000 per annum.

Under all those circumstances it almost staggers belief that his death was by his own hand. Mr. Shelton was 40 years of age, well educated, and numbered his friends by the score.
