

Should Resist Attack.

Should be regarded and wholly unprepared for attack upon Professor Beach, superintendent of the Olympia schools, who has been designated to represent the district in the coming year. The intelligence of the district is a local employee who has been designated to write the news for the Seattle Times.

While Professor Beach is a full member and not a delegate, the people of Olympia and Thurston county should be honored because he is a candidate for a state office, and the only one from the county. Consequently, they should resist such attacks, wholly baseless, from a deceitful employee of a foreign press.

McKenna is the strike of newspaper men who only find employment on papers of the despicable character of the Purkins outfit and whose elimination would be a joy to a patriotic and to the newspaper profession.

Professor Beach has been an excellent executive for the Olympia schools, is a popular and highly respected citizen and is a vastly more valuable to a community than a fellow like McKenna.

City and County

What is reported to have been the first successful Caesarian operation in the history of Thurston county was performed last Sunday on Mrs. J. A. McCarty, wife of the superintendent of the Gar school, at Peter's table. Mrs. McCarty has shown constant improvement since the operation.

Charles Sheedy, George Smith, and Donald McLean went duck shooting along the Nisqually river Sunday.

Russell Callow, a graduate of the Olympia high school now attending the University of Washington, played in the football game between the University sophomores and St. Martin's college last Saturday.

Internal injuries received when she became accidentally entangled with a wire fence Saturday afternoon caused the death Sunday of Mrs. Edna Turner, 25 years old, at the family home on East Bay avenue. The funeral took place Monday afternoon, interment being made in the Old Fellows cemetery. Mr. Turner survives.

L. J. Myers was laid up this week with a four-day cold, which was sustained when the motorcycle he was riding collided with an automobile driven by Hugh McIntosh Sunday afternoon, throwing Myers through the glass windshield of the car. Confusion as to directions is thought to have caused the accident, in attempting to avoid which the McIntosh machine was driven into the street curb, smashing a front wheel and bending the axle. The accident occurred at Fourth and Chestnut streets.

A number of class friends met the body of Miss Grace Petty, 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. D. R. Burdick of Little Rock, when it was brought to Olympia Monday for burial in the Masonic cemetery. Miss Petty had been attending Olympia high school until she was taken ill with typhoid pneumonia two weeks ago, resulting in her death last Saturday. Rev. Mr. Nelson of Little Rock officiated at the funeral services.

The second of its winter dances will be given by the Thirty-five Dancing club tonight at the Woman's clubhouse.

Holding that a grade crossing at that point would be dangerous, the public service commission will be given by the Northern Pacific permission to construct its Point Defiance line across the Tenino road near the Milwaukee tracks. The fact that probably 500,000 cars pass over this line was an important factor in the commission's decision.

In the fastest game seen on the local grounds this season, St. Martin's college boys lost to the University of Washington sophomores last Saturday by a score of 7 to 0. The line-up for the Lacey boys was: Left end, Carter; left tackle, Nelson; left guard, McKeen; center, Nist; right guard, Sapp; right tackle, Peterson; right end, Bowman; quarter, J. Meyer; left half, H. Meyer; right half, McKnight; fullback, Vance (captain).

Harold Edmonds of Olympia will sing the part of the sheriff in Meyer's opera, "Martha," which will be given by the students of the Whittman conservatory of music this winter, under the direction of Professor Elias Blum. The chorus will comprise 30 students selected from the entire student body. The cast includes: Lady Harriett, Miss Florence Willis, of Walla Walla; Nancy, Miss Hazel Coleman, of Walla Walla; Lionel, Henry Flier, Ellensburg; Plunkett, Virgil Bennington, Ritzville; Sir Tristram, Newton Barrett, Tacoma.

Herbert Raymond, nephew of Chief Raymond of the Olympia fire department, was accidentally shot in the face and breast Sunday, while hunting with his brother, George, and Fred Harmon. He was taken to St. Peter's hospital where two bullets were removed from his chest, one from his nose and several from his throat and chest. His condition is not serious.

An early morning fire in a pile of barrels and cases in the rear of the Palm on East Fourth street caused a small loss last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sturdevant of Black Lake are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy and girl last Sunday.

T. H. MacLafferty of Tenino, was a business visitor to Olympia Monday.

Matt Outonen, John O. Johnson and Jonas Erickson of Rochester were in Olympia Monday.

C. F. Murphy of Sumner, spent Sunday in Olympia.

Mrs. Cole Leasure and Mrs. Ida Gunderson of Shelton, visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seisenweber this week.

Misses Emily Shirky, Margaret Shirky, Edna Foxwell and Mildred Dow of Rochester were Olympia visitors this week.

The members of St. John's Guild of St. John's Episcopal church gave an entertainment in the crypt of the church Wednesday afternoon.

Misses Dorothy Lang, Bonnie Van Eaton and Angela Boardman were the guests of Mrs. George Wright at her home in Rochester for a few days this week.

David Culman of Vashon Island spent Monday in Olympia.

Word was received this week by Judge and Mrs. S. J. Chadwick that Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Maury of The Dalles, Ore., are the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy.

Reports that several local merchants had been stung with worthless checks passed by a stranger who signed his name as "Charles E. Martin," were made to Chief of Police Wright last Monday. Each check drawn by the alleged forger, who represents himself as being a foreman in charge of a crew on the Temple of Justice, was for $24.50, none of his purchases amounting to more than $5. He is thought to have realized about $200 out of his victims. Martin left town almost immediately and has not been apprehended.

Mrs. L. Bevan and son, Chester, of Delaware, Ohio, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Fleming on their ranch south of Olympia for two weeks, left Wednesday for Berkeley, Cal., where they will spend the winter with friends.

RANCHERS OF NORTH BAY LOOK TOWARD OLYMPIA AS MARKET

Say Local Cannery Has Solved Difficult Problem and Given Impetus to Their Growth.

BUSINESS MEN ENJOY TRIP.

See Great Progress in Vineyards of District—Plan Expedition to Vaughn Soon.

Satisfied that the trip taken by nine business men of Olympia to the North Bay fruit district last Sunday was successful, efforts are now under way to gather together another delegation of merchants to visit Vaughn, with the view of making the trip a week from next Sunday.

The excursion enjoyed by local business men last Sunday revived in their minds the possibilities of the North Bay region from the standpoint of raising small fruit while also revealing the rapid progress the pioneer ranchers are making.

It revealed particularly that the ranchers are looking toward Olympia as their market and are relying upon the local cannery and its development as the means of giving them material aid in solving one of the greatest problems they have heretofore encountered: how to dispose of their fruit.

That the establishment of a local cannery had already given great impetus to their progress was the statement made by the ranchers throughout the entire district. They are going into their business of fruit raising with renewed zest, with their eyes turned toward Olympia as the gateway for their product.

The remarkable crop of all kinds of berries and small fruit and particularly of grapes is being harvested this year by the North Bay ranchers. The grape vines throughout the entire district were heavily loaded with ripe, sweet, luscious fruit of the different varieties, and the ranchers are hard at work gathering in their crops.

Leaving about 8:20 Sunday morning the local party first visited the ranches in the neighborhood of the Hartline postoffice, crossed then to three large ranches tributary to Detroit and proceeded finally to the ranch of Ernest Lister, where they were met by the host. They inspected the largest vineyard of them all.

The trip was a revelation to several members of the party who had not visited the district for several years. They found five ranches in the immediate vicinity of Hartline, three enlarged vineyards around Detroit, and passed numerous smaller ranches en route where vineyards are now in the making.

Among those in the party were Charles R. Talcott, Jay Dinwiddie, L. Whiting, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, F. R. Klumb, Eagle Freshwater, Frank P. McKinney, Joseph Barton, State Immigration Commissioner, H. F. Gilles and D. F. Gilles. The latter took several photographs of vineyards and scenic points visited on the trip.

LISTER AND THE PAPERS

Republicans for Lister.

Governor Hay is doing some tall busting for himself just now and well he may for there is no doubt but that both the Democrats and Bull Terrier candidates for governor are making hay while the sun shines. Lister is receiving the hearty support of such leading Republicans in Pierce county as survive the winter of 1912. The Big Bill Jones and scores of others equally prominent in Republican political circles. While Hodze will get some votes in Pierce county, yet Ernest Lister carries Pierce county two to one over all.

Struck Top in Crowd. (Spokane Democrat.)

Mr. Lister's candidacy has struck a most popular chord. The people, disgusted with the idea of electing prize merchants to the office, and the number of former Republicans who do not approve the Hay administration, and especially the lavish use of money in politics, are turning to Lister. They want him to be a clean and able man. His life and sympathies with the common people appeal to support among all classes. Of his election there can be very little doubt.

No Strings to Lister. (Progressive Democrat.)

There are three men before the state voters, and we believe that Ernest Lister regardless of politics, is the best man in the bunch for the job. Should Ernest Lister go into the office, he will be able to make appointments without let or hindrance. He will be able to pick the best men for the positions and fitness for office. The only thing that counts when he makes appointments to fill vacancies. With his five years' experience on the board of control he has learned how all the state institutions have been run and he will know how to remedy any evils that may show up during his term of office. When Ernest Lister was in office taxes were levied heavily on the state and he spent for the upkeep of the state that is now being spent, and we feel sure that as a business proposition, the people will make money by making Ernest Lister the head of the state.

Strongest Man in Party. (Ellensburg Dawn, Democratic.)

Ernest Lister is the strongest man in the Democratic party for that high and exalted position. He is a man that can defeat Governor Hay, and we come out with the word: Now get down the line boys, Lister is all O. K. and the next governor of Washington regardless of the dope doled out by a few of the wisacres.

Lister a Business Governor. (Douglas County Press, Democratic.)

Mr. Lister held the office of chairman of the board of control under John R. Rogers, the best governor and the most economical the state ever had. It was through the life executive ability of Ernest Lister that the state was able to check the John R. Rogers was able to check the horde of extravagance of the Republican party, which was running the state in debt to the tune of $1,000,000 per day, and had it getting out of debt at that rate and sent warrants up to par in a short time. Such was the excellent administration of John R. Rogers, and Ernest Lister was a part of that business administration. Compare that with the present extravagant machine one and then say on November 5th, 1912, you will know what a governor that will give with Rogers.

Demagogue Hoax. (Puyallup Valley Tribune.)

The substitution of Ernest Lister for Judge Black as the Democratic candidate for governor, has endeavored the leaders of the party to believe that the Democracy has a strong chance of carrying this state. They argue that the administration of Governor Hay—with the control of the various commissions, bureaus, etc.—has been very extravagant and for this reason thousands of Republicans will not vote to endorse it by re-electing the present incumbent. They say, "Lister will not—when it comes to the last moment—be able to stomach Hodze, and take the chance." This, together with the fact that Lister seemed to be a man of solid judgment, ripe experience, and exceptional capabilities, encourages the hope that he will maintain through the winter the ranks of the erstwhile G. O. P. Obviously enough, it is a year of political uncertainties.

Capable, Economic Executive. (Ellensburg Dawn, Democratic.)

Lister is a man of great ability and has a wide acquaintance. He was chairman of the board of control under Governor Rogers, the only Democratic governor Washington has ever had. Lister was always regarded as one of the strongest men in Rogers' administration and is given credit for much of the excellence of the administration and is largely responsible for the economy shown in handling the state's affairs. He was the head of the state board of control which managed all of the state institutions during a time when all were conducted at an expense of less than half what they have cost under Republican rule.

Lister is particularly strong in western Washington, where he is known as a capable business man, with splendid business ideas and executive ability. He is handicapped from the fact that he has but three or four weeks in which to make his campaign, but he is working hard and is receiving assurances of support from all of the Democrats and many Republicans and Progressives who are not satisfied with either Hay or Hodze. Lister is well and favorably known in Whitman county, where he should be given a hearty vote.

Lister Injects Life into Campaign. (Mason County Journal, Republican.)

The supreme court decides that Judge Black, who received the highest vote for Democratic nomination of governor, is ineligible, and Ernest Lister, who received the next highest vote, is now the nominee. This puts more life into the campaign of the party, as Lister is much more popular.

Lister for Governor. (Cosmopolitan, Democratic.)

In the elimination of Judge Black from the gubernatorial race and the substitution of Mr. Lister of Tacoma, the Democrats have materially strengthened their state ticket. Of course it is to be regretted that Judge Black could not stay in the race, because he would have made a fine governor and the Democrats have strengthened their ticket only in that Mr. Lister comes from a better voting part of the state, and he has the admiration of the Republicans, many of whom have told us that had the Democrats nominated Mr. Lister, they would vote for him. Now is his chance. Mr. Lister, like Judge Black, is a man without a speck of dirt on his private and public life. Endorsed by many Republican papers and with a united democracy back of him he will probably pull more votes than the other two candidates, put together. We were for Judge Black because he was a personal friend of ours, we are for Mr. Lister for governor because he is a clear record is a fine fellow, has lots of experience and is known among his associates as a man who will give everyone a square deal.

Old Lister Republicans for Lister. (Seattle Republican.)

Ernest Lister may not get the old line Democratic vote in Pierce county, but from the way that Charles Sullivan et al. talk the old line Republicans will be with him at the finish.

Republicans Due for Disappointment. (Mt. Vernon Herald, Republican.)

The Republicans who are counting on Democratic support for Hay because of the elimination of Judge Black, are likely to be disappointed.

"Sane, and Proof Lister." (Lewis County News, Republican.)

Sane, sound, and proof Ernest Lister has been named to take the place of Judge Black, who was disqualified by the supreme court last week as the Democratic candidate for governor. In his own county (Pierce) Lister will receive in addition to Democratic support fully 65 per cent of the Republican vote after it has been divided with Hodze, who appeals to the material hangers-on of the old party. When Ernest Lister arrived in Tacoma in the early days there was little to see but trees and stumps. Here at the age of 13 his real education began.

Another specific recommendation of Mr. Lister were Secretary of State Howell, Edward Meath, county treasurer, now running for state treasurer, Will Stewart, county auditor, Herbert, Balfour, Gasparine, and playwright of San Francisco, John Murray, merchant at Roy, Frank Clark, lawyer, Sergeant H. A. Brown, killed in our war with Germany, and some years ago, when Fred Forbes, the editor of the News, and others.

Unlike Mr. Hodze, who is even yet finding it hard to adapt himself to the English language, Ernest Lister has in reality not only grown with his growth and taken the keenest interest in the building up of our great state, but has had every opportunity to become acquainted with its longcomings and its shortcomings, as well as its needs.

Mr. Lister is a sound, practical business man and armed with every sound sense to qualify him for the office of governor.

One of State's Ablest Men. (Progressive Democrat.)

Mr. Lister is one of the ablest and most conscientious men in the state of Washington. He has made good in business and he also has made good in public life, and some years ago, when Mr. Lister was a member of the legislature, it was current comment among the newspaper correspondents at the time that "he was the only honest man there." Needless to say this is in the good old days of the "railroad ring" when legislators were bought and sold like sheep and when some of the would-be reformers of the present day acted as auctioneers.

In Tacoma, his home city, Mr. Lister is known as a public spirited man who is both honest and fearless. Of the candidates before the people the Progress inclines strongly to Mr. Lister, not because he is a Democrat, (we do not believe in partisanship where the people are concerned), but because we believe him to be fitted for the position and that he will give the state a wise and efficient administration.

Monday Well Known. (Progressive Democrat.)

James A. Munday, the Democratic nominee for governor, is making a splendid campaign and from all accounts will be the man who will succeed Stanton Warburton in Congress. Mr. Munday has been a man of affairs in the state for years. He knows the need of the district and as the next president will be Woodrow Wilson, it will be best for the district that we send a Democrat to Washington.

Railroad to Pay Bond Premiums. (SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Beginning with January 1 of next year, the Harriman lines will assume all bond premiums of employees' life policies, according to an announcement made at the offices of the Southern Pacific company here today.

In the past it has been the custom to require all men handling money to put up a security bond, and the premium on it has been paid by the employee himself. On the Pacific system the cost of the bond has been about 45,000 employees, it is said, will involve a heavy expenditure annually.

This action is in line with the welfare campaign which the Southern Pacific and its allied lines are carrying on to better the conditions under which its employees are working.

Popular Mechanics for November.

"Motorboating in Winter" is a backyard sport exploited in humorous vein by George Fitch in the November issue of Popular Mechanics. "Electroengineering in the Alps," "The Soldier's Soldier," "A Strap-Iron Story," "Revival of the Bicycle," and "A Motion-Picture Story" are subjects discussed editorially by H. H. Windsor, in his characteristic pithy style. The cover design for November is developed from a railroad building scheme to construct a railroad line in Alaska regions hitherto inaccessible to ordinary railroads. Also, a project of a suspended monorail system for Chicago is described. "The Rise of Photography" is traced by J. Gordon Ogden, in the ninth article of his interesting series on "The Wonders of Light." Among the other features for the month are: "Bird-Shaped Wings to Keep Aeroplanes from Upsetting"; "Model Shoes Designed for American Feet"; "The Electric Culture of Cheeks"; "The Electrical Culture of the Panama Canal Cut"; "Spraying Plants with Electrified Water"; "New Talking Machine for Telephone"; "Catching with Searchlights"; "Photographing the Curvature of the Earth," and others.

"IF BETTMAN IS ON THE LABEL YOU ARE SAFE"

Bettman Sells Good Suits

If Bettman were content with selling just an ordinary amount of clothing, he'd have to charge you $20.00 for a Bettman $15.00 Suit—that's what folks pay most places for equal quality.

But Bettman ambition runs higher—in fact, he has two ambitions, if you can use the word in that way—one is to sell a better suit for $15.00 than anyone else; the other, to sell more of them than anyone else.

Bettman $15.00 Suits are the result of this dual ambition—the suits that have yet to be equalled anywhere at the price.

Suppose you look into Bettman $15.00 Suits—suppose you get into one!

Historical facts prove that prohibition has but recently been instituted in a small part of the Christian church, but it is not one of the tenets of Christianity. The vast majority of the Christian church, both as to denominations and membership, preaches against intemperance, but does not endorse nor believe in prohibition.

The above mass of evidence would tend to prove that the only sensible way to handle the liquor traffic would be through educating the public up to a temperate use of alcoholic drinks. Together with this it is necessary to control the industry with laws or rules that will not allow it to run wild nor to produce the rank poisons that are often sold as stimulating drinks, especially under prohibitory laws.

If our teachers and preachers would direct their energies in teaching mankind to be temperate, and to control the sale of alcoholic drinks in a way that would make it a clean business, they would accomplish much more good than in trying to pass laws that attempt to force man's actions and morals by such education. The thoughtless citizen would be awakened to the fact that it is he who has allowed the bad saloon to exist, and he would then take measures for removal of its most objectionable features. I hope that in this article I have shown that nothing is to be gained, indeed much is lost, by an intemperate use of stimulants. I respect the high motives of the advocates of prohibition, and my object is merely to point out how they defeat their own avowed objects.

The stamps are about three-fourths of an inch high by one and a sixteenth inch wide. At the top appear the words: "U. S. Postage," and "San Francisco, 1915."

make his presence known to the mastering officer at the place and within 24 hours after the time designated in the summons shall be taken to be a deserter and he shall be held in contempt in the Articles of War of the United States unless he shall produce a sworn certificate from a licensed physician of good standing that he was physically unable to appear at the time and place designated, or unless he shall have furnished a substitute as in this act elsewhere provided.

You and I, men and women of the working class, know when those distinguished men of the legislature of 1909 put the terms war, insurrection and invasions in an occasional way in the laws of the state, they were simply repeating so much twaddle and for this reason of fooling the great mass that might some day be asked to play at the game of target. But they were subtly getting down to real business when they put in those other damnable terms, tumult, riot, resistance to law, or process or breach of the peace.

They were put there for but one purpose, and that is, to provide that laboring men may be drafted into military service to quell any and all labor troubles. That is the one reason for which that law was passed. The framers of that law knew as well as do we that they had no idea of any invasion and they knew as do all Americans that no law of drafting would be necessary for such an occasion.

But just as truly as we know that all men in America stand on equal rights, ready to fight a known foe, just so truly do we know that not a drop of manhood's blood is offered willingly to in any way force his fellow man to endure intolerable conditions.

For that purpose state militia laws are passed and in this great state of Washington is a law of which there is no more controllable in the statutes of any state in the nation.

Read the above quoted sections and if you can find a copy of the session laws of 1909, look at page 435 and read the entire law, then think.

Now space forbids further discussion of this or other laws on the statutes unfavorable to the great working class. Let I want you folks to be sure to go to the polls on November the fifth and first vote for the initiative and referendum so that you can repeal such laws by your own votes and you won't have to depend on any good man for you. Then vote for the recall so that if a man mistakes his position for one of a ruler instead of a servant and thinks the office was given to him for his own use, you can just send him back home.

Then if you have made up your mind what party ticket you want to vote help yourself. But as truly as you live it is more important to get control of any official in office than it is to put the most saintly creature in the community in a position of authority over you. The Socialist party has a system of requiring the undated registrations of all the candidates before their names are placed on the tickets so we have the most absolute control of our candidates. Just inquire of some of your Socialist friends for some literature and find out how well the laboring class can do things if they but try. If you are convinced vote the Socialist ticket.

If you are not willing to be drafted into active citizenship, voting and thinking for your own interest and the interests of your children and mine, vote one or the other of the old party tickets or just go home and try to learn your lesson. For since the cost of living has gone up 80 per cent in the last ten years and wages but 20 per cent and the grind for an existence is constantly getting harder there is no danger but that you will soon see the proportion if you don't now.

Yours for democracy, rather than violence.
