The supreme court in a decision this week held that if a boy or girl under legal age marry without their parents' consent, such marriage is legal and binding regardless of the fact that the license upon which they married was illegally issued. The court says that to hold otherwise would be against public policy, such act on the part of a couple not being such as to remove them from the responsibilities that they took upon themselves in the marriage vows. The case decided was that of Thomas J. Cushman against Merrill Cushman the wife having appealed from the decision of the King county court, which held that the marriage was illegal, the lower court's decision being reversed.

PETITIONS OUT FOR NON-PARTISAN CONVENTION

(Continued from Page 1.) tical circles and the favorable reception it has found is taken to indicate that there is a considerable sentiment among the taxpayers of both the city and the county for the obliteration of party lines in the handling of county affairs and the placing of them on a strictly non-partisan, business basis. As far as state and national politics are concerned, the striking fact noted was the large number of candidates who have filed for the congressional nominations in the various districts. In another way, the filing of three of the present supreme court judges—Chief Justice Herman D. Crow, and Judges Stephen J. Chadwick and M. F. Gose—for re-election and the announcement they intended to conduct their campaign by remaining at their work on the bench, was considered important.

The Home Is Why 1. The general impression is that intemperance is decreasing very much in the United States. 2. United States Internal Revenue reports for the year ending June 30 (with figures for June estimated) show an increase in the consumption of beer (with a decrease in that of distilled beverages). Perhaps you are puzzled to reconcile facts 1 and 2. The growing custom among Americans of using beer regularly in the home is the answer. (Brewers generally are experiencing large increases in the sale of bottled beer.) Olympia Beer has more drinkers all the time and fewer drinkers who use it to excess. Beer began in the home almost at the birth of man, and in the home it is finding its permanent place. OLYMPIA Brewing Co., Olympia, Wn. Register, Vote, Work AGAINST PROHIBITION (Bill No. 3) If you want to continue enjoying this healthful beverage unmolested. 'It's the Water' from our artesian springs.
