Clarence Parker, a member of the industrial insurance commission, has let the contract for the construction of a home at 1313 Franklin street. It is to be ready October 1.

Regular services were resumed Sunday by Rev. C. S. Morrison, the rector, at St. John's Episcopal church, after a six weeks' vacation.

Members of the Central Union, W. C. T. U., enjoyed a picnic at the summer home of Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Edmonds, down the bay on the Westside, Tuesday, on the occasion of their regular meeting.

City Superintendent C. E. Beach and Mrs. Josephine Preston, state school superintendent, attended the annual convention of the National Educational association in Oakland, Calif., this week.

After having made an extended visit in this city with her sister, Mrs. Byron Millett, Dr. Ida Alexander has gone to San Francisco for a visit at the exposition before returning to her home in Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Newton of Madison, Wis., were the guests of George D. Aspinwall during the past week, stopping over here en route to the San Francisco fair.

Mrs. Jane A. Chadwick and Miss Mary Chadwick of Salem, Oregon, mother and sister of Judge Stephen J. Chadwick, were visitors at the Chadwick home during the past week.

Chief Justice George E. Morris of the state supreme court left Olympia Tuesday for Atlantic City, N. J., to attend the national convention of the Improved Order of Redmen, of which he is a high official. He expects to be gone a month.

Delayed by a collision with another machine, so that they had to spend Saturday night in Kelo, Mrs. Fred W. Stocking, Miss Helen Stocking and Miss Dora Pedersen arrived in Olympia Sunday afternoon after a month's motor trip through Oregon and California.

Suit to foreclose a mortgage given as security for a loan of $6,000 has been brought in the local superior court by D. K. Welty against Mr. and Mrs. Truman H. Heath. The property involved is located on the Olympia-Yelm road.

Only about 200 voters of Olympia have registered so far this year, according to City Clerk W. A. Hoage, out of the 3,100 who voted in the last election, but there is plenty of time for the rest of them between now and the city election next December.

Suit to collect $6,000 loaned to Albert Sheaben and wife and Fred Sheaben and wife on lot 6, block 75, Sylvester's plat of Olympia, has been brought in the local superior court by Myrtle E. Scobey. The loan is now held by Fred Medbury and wife and J. C. Surratt, having been transferred by the Sheabens, the complaint says.

Miss Margaret Brislaw, head of the domestic science department of the Colfax schools, visited her brother, State Tax Commissioner J. W. Brislaw, for a few days during the past week, going to Everett Wednesday to visit other relatives and friends.

Runaway Lad Brought Home. Albert Boshears, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Boshears of 1293 Langridge avenue, who ran away Wednesday of last week, taking his father's 38-calibre revolver, a flashlight and about $8 in money, was picked up in Everett Saturday by the probation officer in that city, and brought home by his father. The lad's disappearance caused his parents considerable concern, as they knew no reason for it and their first efforts to find him failed after tracing him as far as Tacoma.

Four generations were represented when little Emma Herndon Maury, the two-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Maury of Winlock, was christened by Rev. C. S. Morrison, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, in a private ceremony at the home of her grandparents, Judge and Mrs. Stephen J. Chadwick, Saturday afternoon. Her uncle, Stephen J. Chadwick, jr., was named godfather, while her grandmother and great-grandmother, Mrs. Jane A. Chadwick of Salem, Ore., were named godmothers. Mrs. Maury was formerly Miss Claire Chadwick.

Towns in Good Shape. Report of the bureau of inspection on Tenino, Bucoda and Tumwater shows these three Thurston county towns in excellent shape, Tenino having $2,214.02 on hand, total outstanding bonds of $5,309 and total assets of $7,055.15, in spite of a loss of $1,141.41 in the bank failure, of which $230.28 has been recovered. Bucoda lost $950 in the failure but has regained $188.75, while its surplus assets are $1,843.10. Tumwater is in the best shape of all, having no liabilities, assets of $5,772 and a cash balance of $4,531.28.

Charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, L. L. Brown, a local chauffeur, was arrested in Tacoma Monday and fined $100, being lodged in the jail there when unable to pay. Brown is charged with having driven an automobile over a sidewalk, narrowly missing a woman and child, last Thursday night.

Many Silos This Year. More silos have been built by the farmers of Thurston county this year than there were in the county at the beginning of 1915, according to figures gathered by County Agent O. C. Van Houten. At the beginning of 1914 there were only six silos in the county. Six more were built that year, bringing the total up to 12, while 15 silos have been built in the county so far this year.

Confesses to Tenino Robbery. Jack Woods, a young logger, arrested by Police Chief B. F. Hall and Officer Husk on East Fourth street Tuesday afternoon, is reported by the authorities to have confessed to burglarizing three rooms in a Tenino hotel Monday afternoon. The warrant, issued by Justice L. J. Miller of Tenino, charges Woods with having entered the rooms of H. A. Tichnor, E. T. Sullivan and George Steinberg and stealing a suit of clothes, a revolver, watch and other articles, all valued at $65.

Exhibition of Fancy Shooting. Quite a number of people of the city and county witnessed the exhibition of fancy shooting given at Athletic park last Monday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Ad Topperwein, traveling representatives of the Winchester Repeating Arms company of New Haven, Conn. Many intricate and difficult shots were performed by them.

Crowd for Grange Excursion. From 300 to 400 residents of the city and county, most of them Grangers, took in the excursion to Pt. Defiance park today, where the Pomona Granges of five counties, Thurston, Mason, Kitsap and Pierce, are joining in a big inter-county picnic.

Dupont Has Novel Record. The town of Dupont, just across the line in Pierce county, has the unique distinction of being the only "privately owned" city in the state, according to the state bureau of inspection report. The town is owned by a powder company of the same name. Another distinction falling to the town is that there has been no arrest within its borders since December, 1913, nearly two years, indicating there has been no work for the police magistrate during that time. The town has assets of $209.11 and no liabilities.

SENATOR BURTON AND PANAMA CANAL TOLLS

(From speech delivered during recent visit in Seattle.) "I differ, perhaps, with many of you on Panama canal tolls and ship subsidy. I voted to abolish the Panama canal bill that exempted American coastwise ships from the payment of tolls. In fact, I introduced a motion in the senate to that effect in 1912. I have been committed to that view since 1909. In that year I had a consultation with John Hay on the question.

"Every nation has a character and record. Some statesman has said that every nation has a soul. Certainly every country must have a policy in diplomacy. Ours has been against commercial discriminations on international waterways. We insisted upon the free navigation of the Mississippi when the mouth of this great highway was under the control of Spain. We maintained this view most sedulously.

"This nation was opposed to discrimination that was given by Canada in favor of Montreal in the operation of the Walland canal as opposed to American cities. Canada yielded to our demands.

"Under Hayes, we demanded the 'open door' in China, notwithstanding that England, Germany and France had 'spheres of influence' there.

"From 1826, it has been the understanding that a canal across the isthmus should be a trust for the world. Resolutions adopted in congress all proclaimed this idea of equality from John Quincy Adams to Cleveland and Roosevelt. To have held to the exemption of American ships from the payment of tolls would have been a reproach to the country and a backward step."

DEATHS OF PAST WEEK

REUBEN PEACHEY. As the result of a stroke of paralysis suffered a year ago and more recent attack of dropsy, Reuben Peachey, 76 years old, a resident of Washington for 27 years and of this vicinity for 20 years, having been postmaster and merchant at Boston Harbor during the boom days there, died last Friday morning. The funeral took place at Sticklin's chapel Sunday morning, Rev. R. H. Edmonds officiating, and burial was made in the Masonic cemetery. Mr. Peachey was a native of England and came to Washington in 1888 having been engaged in business in Olympia and vicinity since. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John McIntosh, and a grandson, Fred Sullivan of this city, and a son, Joseph Peachey of Chehalis and a granddaughter, Miss Elizabeth Peachey of Courtland, Calif.

FRANK M. MEAYS. Paralyzed since last October as the result of a broken back sustained when he fell from a building October 21, while working as a carpenter, Frank M. Meays, a well-known resident of the city, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Meays, last Friday night. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Sunday morning under direction of Borthwick-McClintock company, Rev. N. M. Temple officiating, and interment was made in the Masonic cemetery. After the accident last October when his spine was fractured, Mr. Meays underwent treatment at a Tacoma hospital, but failing to receive relief, was brought to the home of his parents in this city. He is survived by his parents, two daughters, Elsie and Grace, and three sisters, Mrs. J. B. Price and Mrs. F. R. Price of Yelm, and Mrs. Melvin of Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Mr. Meays was a native of England, was brought to the United States by his parents when but a year old and had lived in Olympia for 23 years, having at one time been proprietor of a local store. He was a member of the Carpenters' union and the Woodmen of the World, and these organizations took part in the funeral services.

MRS. LAURA FLINT. Pulmonary hemorrhage caused the death suddenly last Saturday night of Mrs. Laura Flint, 59 years old, wife of Warren Flint, at the family home along St. Paul lake. Rev. H. S. Champe officiated at the funeral services at the home Wednesday morning, interment being made in the Chambers' Prairie cemetery. Mrs. Flint, who had lived in this vicinity for eight years, was a member of the Ladies of the Maccabees and is survived by the husband and four daughters, Mrs. Olive Nystrom and Mrs. Edna Shelby of St. Paul lake, and Mrs. M. Olsen and Mrs. Fay Corley of Couer d'Alene, Idaho. The Borthwick-McClintock company had charge of the funeral arrangements.

MRS. MAYBELL QUICK. Olympia lost another of its old residents when Mrs. Maybell Quick, 57 years old, who had made her home here for 25 years, died from apoplexy Sunday morning at the family home at 322 Puget street.

Meets With Health Officers. Dr. Robert Kincaid, Olympia's health officer, attended the annual convention of municipal and county health officers of the state in Seattle Tuesday and there, with facts and figures, put forth Olympia's claim to be the healthiest city in the nation, calling attention also to the total absence of typhoid fever in this city since 1907.

BETTER DAYS AHEAD FOR FARM WOMEN

It is said, has to do with the kind of an organization that should be developed for the carrying on of the home economics work. Shall there be developed a woman county agent to work with the farm women in some such way as the county agent works with men? Just what, in detail, ought such a woman to do? How is she to organize her work and how go about it? Ought the county to pay a part of her salary and expenses, as in the case of the county agent? What training and general qualifications ought such a woman to have? Men take up the work of county agents as a permanent life work, but women agents will be likely to leave their work to manage homes of their own. In view of this fact, how ought the service to be organized?

Officials of the department of agriculture are free to say that they will welcome correspondence with anybody who feels he is in position to throw light on this situation. They desire to organize the work in the most effective way, and evidently at this time it is not certainly known just what that way is.

The chief objections of women to country life are usually (1) the generally small returns in farming, (2) the drudgery of farm work, and (3) the social isolation.

In the development of home economics demonstration work, it is pointed out that everybody concerned should keep in mind the idea that the problems of country women must chiefly be solved by country women. The county agent movement in some sections of the North and West, it is pointed out, has succeeded in exact proportion as the farmers of the county have taken hold of the work and made it their own.

Where City Women Can Help. City women, it is said in this connection, can be helpful in the forthcoming demonstration in home economics, but they can never do the work which the farm women themselves must take up if the movement is to be a success. One of the ways whereby city women can be helpful, it is said, is through greater social intercourse with farm women, through direct purchase of poultry, eggs, butter, vegetables, etc., and by co-operation in the maintenance of rest rooms, nurseries, etc., for farm women when they come to town. But what farm women need, and how to meet these needs, it is pointed out, are matters which must be worked out chiefly by farm women themselves.

The criticism sometimes heard with reference to home economics teaching is that it is done primarily from the standpoint of the town woman. This is a mistake, say officials of the department of agriculture, who add that the country woman's problems are peculiar to the country, and must be approached from that standpoint. It is believed that within a decade there will be organized in the United States a thoroughgoing and up-to-date movement looking in the direction pointed out in this article. The rapid extension of equal suffrage, it is believed, makes this all the more probable. The problem of the country woman will be taken up intelligently and pressed to a satisfactory solution, and there will be set apart, in due time, by the federal and the state governments, ample funds to that end. The work thus far done, and the legislation thus far enacted, it is realized, mark but the beginning and are but a promise of something larger and better just as soon as the federal and state authorities can agree upon the way the problem should be worked out. It seems probable that the investigations of the present year are to throw important new light upon the situation.

W. A. HOAGE, City Clerk. Published August 20 and 27, 1915.

More Talk About Mexico Here. Residents of Olympia pay more attention to and talk more about the conditions in Mexico and along the border than do the residents of Texas, according to Mrs. F. E. Lewis of El Paso, Texas, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. George D. Huestis lately. "Really, we don't think nearly so much about the trouble down there as you people up here seem to think," she says.
