EXPECT PASSAGE OF FOSHAY FRANCHISES

worth, with which it estimates it can run the pumps at the water plant and also light the city. The Light & Power company is now receiving approximately $3,000 a year for this pumping, which would make the cost of the two $6,264 a year, or twice the cost of the other plan.

Under the Foshay deal, however, the city would have to erect the distributing system, probably by special assessments, unless Foshay engages in the commercial sale of light and power as the franchisees and contract permit him to do in a district bounded by Seventh, Jefferson, the government waterway and the north city limits, if the city does not, when he would have to erect a distributing system in that district.

The franchisees contain a 1 per cent gross earnings tax and stipulations as to when the plants are to be in operation, while the proposed contract requires a $5,000 bond if accepted.

IMPORTANT FOREIGN AFFAIRS THIS WEEK

its possession on the Arabic case.

While Bernstorff has communicated with his own government, Ambassador Gerard at Berlin has been instructed to present to the German foreign office a summary of the evidence gathered by the United States government and accepted as conclusive proof that the White Star liner Arabic was torpedoed without warning, causing the loss of two Americans.

The general expectation is that several days, possibly two weeks, will elapse before the decision of the German government is made known. Bernstorff, however, is optimistic and gave out an interview in which he said: "I am sure that within a fortnight all supposed difficulties between the United States and Germany will have been settled and permanently settled, and the nations will be more friendly than they ever have been."

The Dumba Incident.

The situation which resulted in the request for the recall of the Austrian ambassador, Dr. Dumba, arose when an American newspaperman was arrested in London and a letter bearing Dumba's signature and directed to Austria's foreign minister, asking financial aid in promoting a strike in munitions factories in the United States, was found. When asked by this government for an explanation, Dumba not only admitted the plan but attempted to justify himself, and the United States immediately sent a note to Austria requesting his recall.

No answer has been received to this yet and Associated Press reports from Vienna say the note has not yet been received by the Austrian officials. Meanwhile Dumba himself announces he has asked his government for permission to return to Austria, thus relieving the situation. No difficulties with Austria are anticipated.

rott's right name, he said, was Franz Obreze.

"About four years ago," Marinich told the sheriff, "I met Parrott in Seattle and he told me I was a fool to work. He said he never did, and made lots more money. He said he laid around logging camps and robbed the loggers when they were paid off. I know John Brown, Parrott's pal. They have been traveling together for years. Brown was across the street when Parrott was arrested in Tacoma and he has been watching the case closely since then."

ORGANIZE FIGHT TO RETAIN FARM AGENT

of Commissioner Rowe's statements, to show the value of the work done since it was started last January, and to point out the advisability of continuing it, will be presented to the commissioners by those interested in the retention of the county agent. Reports current in Olympia tell of opposition among the farmers to the plan, and several farmers appeared before the commissioners last Monday and urged them to "stand pat" upon the elimination of the appropriation, among these being John Rogers of Pleasant Glade and Arthur G. West of Brighton Park, but friends of the plan claim this sentiment is not strong and that the great majority of the farmers of the county favor the continuation of the farm expert.

The Thurston County Farm Bureau, which has supervised the work of the county agent this year, was organized last December and is composed of Commissioner Littlejohn as chairman, C. J. Lord, F. R. Klumb, C. A. Marshall, A. S. Caton and George Stearns of South Bay. The plan under which the work has been carried on in this county is original and has been highly praised by federal and state authorities, who have recommended to other counties that they adopt the same form of organization.

J. F. Gillies, claim agent of the state industrial insurance commission, left for Kansas City, Mo., Tuesday night to attend the convention of the National Association of Claim Agents, composed of railroad, steamship and private insurance company officials. He expects to be gone two weeks.

Members of the Women's Relief Corps were hostesses at a tea Tuesday afternoon at the G. A. R. hall, a program of readings and vocal songs being offered for their entertainment, while all visitors were presented with a souvenir cook book.

DEATHS OF PAST WEEK

PETER HUME.

Peter Hume, a resident of Oregon for 48 years, founder and president of the Bank of Sellwood, a suburb of Portland, and brother of Mrs. J. V. Yantis of this city, died at the family home in Sellwood Sunday morning, the funeral taking place at the Sellwood Methodist church Tuesday, Rev. A. R. McLain, the pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. T. B. Ford of Oregon City, an old friend of the family. Mr. Hume was one of the leading and best-liked pioneers of Oregon and was widely known among the old-timers of Southwestern Washington. He had lived for 26 years in Linn county, Ore., was the founder and ex-president of the Bank of Brownsville and ex-president of the Brownsville Woolen mills. The widow, who is a daughter of an Oregon pioneer of 1845, Elias Walter, five children, two brothers and two sisters, survive. Joseph Hume of Brownsville and David Hume of San Diego are brothers, the sisters being Mrs. Yantis of this city, who was at his bedside at the time of his death, and Mrs. Sarah Ross of Alameda, Calif.

TENINO TO HAVE FAIR.

Following plans made by the schools last year and a movement which was started by the Commercial club early in the spring, an industrial fair is to be held in Tenino this fall, perhaps about the middle of October, says the Tenino Journal. Arrangements will be made to hold the fair in the I. O. O. F. hall. Full details will be arranged by Superintendent C. Lee Martin, who has the school division well in hand, and a committee from the Commercial club. The plans to finance the fair as now outlined, are for the merchants of Tenino to each have a booth where they can demonstrate their various lines of goods, and there will also be booths for school work.

Premiums for work of school pupils will be offered, also for agricultural produce, including canned fruit and vegetables. At this time no effort will be made for a showing of live stock or poultry, that division will be left until another year.

Accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Martin and son Bruce, who will spend about a week here, Mrs. Ira B. Moor returned Tuesday evening from a visit at the San Francisco exposition and other California cities. Mrs. Moor is full of praise for the fair and says the Washington building is the most attractive of any of the state buildings.

COUNTY W. C. T. U. ELECTS.

Miss Mary Page New President—Talk on Alaska Features Convention.

During the annual meeting of the Thurston County W. C. T. U. at the Christian church in this city last Saturday, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Miss Mary L. Page; vice president, Mrs. H. M. Wallace; corresponding secretary, Mrs. B. R. McClelland; recording secretary, Mrs. R. J. Hoage, and treasurer, Mrs. Emma Scott. Among those from different parts of the county who attended as delegates were Mrs. Emma Palmer of Rainier, Mrs. John Seed of South Union, Mrs. Thomas Rutledge of Little Rock, and Mrs. Van Tine, Mrs. Robert McDonald and Mrs. Quick of Tenino. The feature of the convention, besides the excellent reports of the work of the past year and the plans for the coming winter, was the illustrated lecture on "Alaska, the Last American Outpost," by Mrs. Cornelia Hatcher of Knik, Alaska. The meetings were largely attended.

SEEKS TO AVOID ELECTION.

City Asks Supreme Court's Authority to Amend Water Bond Ordinance.

Acting upon that feature of the water bond decision from which it appears the city might have issued more than $90,000 in bonds if it had so desired after the special election, City Attorney George R. Bigelow this week fled with the state supreme court a motion for a reconsideration of the suit and a modification of the opinion.

If the city is successful in this motion, another special election will be unnecessary and all the council will have to do will be to raise the amount of the original ordinance from $90,000 to $98,000 or $100,000, whatever is necessary to cover all the expenses involved, instead of paying the $8,000 out of the general fund as it had intended but was prohibited by the court. The city is reported to have found a buyer for the larger issue.

Miss Nellie Rosalia Gallher, sister of Mrs. George A. Mottman, was married Sunday at the home of Mayor and Mrs. Mottman to Glen B. Eaton of Valdez, Alaska, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Henry S. Champe, pastor of the Christian church. The spacious Mottman home was elaborately decorated for the occasion. After the ceremony an informal reception was held and 25 guests, relatives and friends of the bride and groom, partook of the wedding dinner. Mrs. Eaton is well known in Olympia, having lived here practically all her life, while the groom's parents reside in Shelton. After a short wedding trip around the state, they will sail for Alaska and will make their home 90 miles inland from Valdez, where Mr. Eaton has been interested in a gold mine for the last 10 years.

Many hunting licenses have been issued by the county auditor's office this week, on account of the opening of the hunting season.

STARTS NEW SHOE STORE

Ben T. Smith Plans to Open Establishment Here Saturday.

Ben T. Smith, who has been in the shoe business on the Pacific coast for the last 15 years and previously had had three years' experience in the business in the East, will open a new shoe store at 423 Main street within the next few days under the name of the Smith Shoe company.

Workmen are now busy remodeling the storeroom and erecting a partition, and Mr. Smith hopes to have things in shape to open the store for business Saturday, as the stock of shoes has already been received, but may be delayed by the work on the building. He plans to fit the room up nicely, mission style seats being planned for the comfort of customers and various other conveniences, found in up-to-date shoe stores, being provided.

Mr. Smith has been in Olympia for the last year, until just recently as an employe of the Ward Shoe store, and has fully acquainted himself with the local situation. He announces his plans are to sell the best makes of shoes at less than the usual Olympia prices and to feature men's and women's shoes at from $2.50 up. He will give his personal attention to the business.

Whether he is able to open the store for business Saturday or not, Mr. Smith will be on hand to welcome the friends he has made in the city during the last year and asks them to call and see him.

Must Quit One Job.

When R. A. Cruikshank, deputy county auditor and chairman of the Thurston county game commission, returns from the two weeks' vacation upon which he started with W. W. Manier, another member of the commission, last Monday, he must either quit his job as deputy auditor or as game commissioner, under a ruling given State Fish Commissioner L. H. Darwin this week by Attorney General W. V. Tanner. The latter held that Cruikshank could not vote to pay out warrants as a member of the commission and then act in the capacity of deputy auditor in passing on these warrants. He is expected to quit the commissioner's job, as it pays no salary.

Considerable interest attaches to the regular monthly meeting of the Thurston County Pomona Grange, which is to be held at the Des Chutes Grange hall next Tuesday, owing to the action of the county commissioners in eliminating the appropriation for the county agent from next year's budget, and consequently a large attendance is expected at the September meeting. Transportation arrangements are being made by F. A. Warner of South Bay, who asks all Grangers to communicate with him.

Word was received here this week that E. Huntly, formerly of Olympia, is now a member of 101 regiment Edmonton Fusiliers and expects to go to the European battlefield soon with the regiment.
