

SOME NEWS NOTES OF THE CITY

Dr. Henry Harris of San Francisco, who is well known here, visited his brother, Mitchell Harris, and family, this week.

Superior Judge Wright this week granted Eva Tope a divorce from Samuel Tope and Alice Jackson from Harry Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur McQuarry of Victoria, B. C., visited Mrs. M. J. Hall and other local relatives this week.

Will Schneider and family sailed from Seattle the fore part of the week for San Francisco, where they are visiting the fair.

A baby girl was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ruddell.

Mrs. George Hopp of Camas, Wash., where her husband publishes the Camas Post, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Billings.

The October meeting of the Thurston County Pomona Grange will be held at the Chambers' Prairie hall next Tuesday.

Members and employes of the state state public service commission participated in a picnic Sunday on Harstein island.

Mrs. Frank Weir, formerly Miss Minne Huwald, this week resigned from the position of bookkeeper and cashier of the Olympia Gas company which she had held for nearly six years.

The Misses Sadie and Bernice Sapp returned during the past week from a three weeks' trip to California, during which they visited the fairs and toured the southern part of the state.

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Ranft were their guests Sunday evening, on the occasion of the celebration of Mrs. Ranft's birthday, the evening being spent most enjoyably and delicious refreshments being served.

Miss Bateman, teacher in Latin at the high school; Miss Snyder of Lincoln school, Professor Jones of the Central school, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hudson were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Christopher, 401 Union, Monday evening.

The Chi Rho society, an organization of the younger girls of the city, recently elected the following officers: Miss Margaret Main, president; Miss Helen Scott, vice president; Miss Alys Houghton, treasurer, and Miss Elizabeth Chadwick, secretary.

In the opening game of the season the local high school team defeated the visitors from Chehalis by a score of 49 to 7, on the local grounds last Saturday afternoon, one of the features of which was a 60-yard run for a touchdown by Captain Merle Morford of the local team. The locals outclassed the visitors all around.

Some thief, who has so far escaped the local police, stole two suit cases and two extra tires from an automobile belonging to Fred Grass, a teacher of the Teim neighborhood, while the machine was standing in front of the high school Wednesday morning, and hid them in a wood pile near the home of Mrs. T. N. Allen at Eleventh and Columbia. The articles were recovered.

Relatives and a few intimate friends attended the marriage Tuesday morning of Miss Albia Bohac and Verne Lawrence, two popular young people of the city, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bohac. The wedding was a quiet home affair, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Henry S. Champie of the Christian church, the bride being attended by her sister Miss Sylvia Bohac, and the groom by Howard Farrington. They left immediately on a honeymoon trip to Portland and other Oregon cities and will be at home to their friends at 306 Central street after November 20. Mrs. Lawrence was until recently an employe of the industrial insurance commission, while Mr. Lawrence is connected with the Olympia National bank.

The second real estate tax payment of the year must be paid within the next six weeks or become delinquent, the time limit expiring November 30, according to an announcement made this week by County Treasurer Fred W. Stocking. More than 1,500 taxpayers of the county have so far failed to pay their semi-annual installment.

Appeal will likely be taken from the decision given this week by Superior Judge D. F. Wright in the Westside Chapel case, in which he upheld the pastor, Rev. J. C. Baker, and the Westside Chapel congregation in their ownership of the property, valued at $2,000, as against Mrs. D. E. Werts and others, who sought to have the deed given some years ago, when the organization was incorporated, set aside.

Illustrating the decline in the "jitney" craze, the secretary of state's office this week announced that of the 1,023 bonds filed under the jitney bond law, 149 have been withdrawn, leaving 874 jitneys operating in the state, 596 of which are in Seattle, 134 in Tacoma, 70 in Spokane, 28 in Everett and 26 in Bellingham.

Celebrating Columbus Day, which was observed as a holiday last Tuesday, local Knights of Columbus participated in a big banquet that evening at the Woman's clubhouse, the guests numbering more than 100. John S. Lynch acted as toastmaster, and Frank M. Egan, assistant corporation counsel of Seattle, Attorney Thomas M. Vance, Superior Judge John R. Mitchell and Chief Justice George E. Morris of the state supreme court, made the talks of the evening.

Various business men of Olympia, as the result of the efforts of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, have agreed each to sign a note of $150 as endorser, the money to be pooled into a total of $3,000 which is to be loaned to the men who have been operating the McCann shingle mill on the waterfront, on a co-operative basis. This will enable them to continue operations, the local banks advancing money on these notes.

State forester E. W. Ferris has promised to co-operate with the state federation of women's clubs in its plan to plant a "mile of pines" along some branch of the Lincoln highway in this state. In response to a request for advice and assistance Mr. Ferris has suggested the planting of the shade trees along a section of the Sunset highway in Eastern Washington and has taken up with fire wardens and the federal forestry department the matter of securing sufficient trees for the purpose.

Harry L. Parr, one of the younger attorneys of the city and until recently a member of the firm of Vance & Parr, and J. O. Marts, who came to Olympia recently from Newcastle, Wyo., have established a new law firm in this city and opened offices in the Byrne building at Fourth and Main streets. Mr. Marts was prosecuting attorney of his home county for four years and chairman of the judiciary committee in the lower house of the last Wyoming legislature.

Answering an inquiry from Thos. W. Hotchkiss of New York, chairman of the Men's League for Woman Suffrage, Chief Justice George E. Morris has replied that the granting of the ballot to women has resulted beneficially for the state of Washington, adding that he had "never heard any intimation that the influence of women's votes has been deleterious in any way to the social fabric of any commonwealth."

Messrs. Troy & Sturdevant, the prominent local law firm, and Prosecuting Attorney Geo. F. Yantis, who is associated with them, moved into their new offices on the second floor of the new Olympia National Bank building, at Fifth and Main streets, the fore part of this week, and their many friends and clients have been congratulating them on their fine new business home. Their offices occupy the front suite on the second floor of this new building, and new furniture and cabinets with which they are equipped class them among the best appointed offices in the city.

Showing that Olympia itself has spent $4,000 more on the local harbor than has been spent by the federal government, and containing statistical data as to freight rates, shipping, and the like, the report upon which Olympia bases its campaign for federal appropriation for the improvement of the local harbor was adopted by the Chamber of Commerce Monday night and forwarded to Lieut.-Col. J. B. Cavanagh of Seattle, the government engineer for this district. It was prepared by the harbor committee, of which Dr. P. H. Carlyon is chairman.

Directors of the Bucoda school district, who planned their expenses for the coming year on the basis of a 12-mill levy, 2 mills more than allowed by law, will either run behind in tax revenues or else will have to cut expenses, County Assessor Sams having notified them this week that he would make a return for only 10 mills. One of the additional expenses planned by the board was the employment of another teacher.
