POTATO CLUB PLANS MEETING SATURDAY

which will open the outside markets to the local product. The association will also supply local merchants and believes that when Olympia consumers learn that the club potatoes are good potatoes they will demand them from their merchants.

Can Undersell Yakima.

So far as the outside markets are concerned, Dr. Carlyon points out that the club could sell local potatoes in the Seattle and Tacoma markets for $1.50 a ton less than Yakima spuds and still make as good a profit as the Yakima growers, because of the advantage in freight rates in favor of the local growers.

The organizers of the club want as many farmers to join as they can get, of course, but whether a farmer intends to join or not, they want him to attend Saturday's meeting.

ADMITS EVIDENCE TO PROVE CONSPIRACY

F. Lawrence, J. P. Johnson, Ross Chilson, Mrs. L. E. Duval, Mrs. C. W. Littlejohn and Mrs. C. J. Oiney.

Link by link the state is forging the chain of evidence it is presenting to prove that Gillies was involved, as charged, in the looting of the industrial insurance funds, and step by step Gillies' counsel is fighting every way, endeavoring to "show up" lax methods in the conduct of the department and to shift the responsibility for any frauds that may have occurred to the industrial insurance commissioners.

So far the state has introduced evidence to the effect that the usual post card notices to employers were not sent at the direction of Gillies on claims which later have proved fraudulent; that Gillies directed his assistant to rate certain claims himself, instead of the department's medical advisor, who alone had been authorized to do so by the commissioners, and that the particular claim involved in this case, issued to "Carl Jackson" for $1,071.55, was one of these; that warrants on certain claims had been delivered to Gillies at his request; that the "Carl Jackson" claim is fraudulent, and that the signatures of the road gang foreman, physician and claimant were forged.

Theory of Defense.

Attorney Vance, for the defendant, has closely questioned the state's witnesses, including Chairman Floyd L. Daggett of the commission, Secretary Percy Gilbert and various clerks, as to the routine of the office, the system of checking on claims and various other office details, endeavoring to show that the methods were very lax, that there was no adequate system of checks to determine the validity of signatures to claims, that no acknowledgements to claims were required under the law, and that there was no record of physicians' signatures in the office for purposes of identification. He also sought to show that Gillies' duties as claim agent were merely to pass upon the regularity of the claims from such evidence as appeared on the face of them and to see that the awards were properly figured.

In the opening statement to the jury for the prosecution, Assistant Attorney General Wilson declared the evidence would show that Gillies had committed first degree forgery, not by writing others' signatures on the fraudulent claims, but by passing the claims as true; that all of the fraudulent claims were written by the same person; that Gillies rushed certain claims through the office, withheld postcard notices on them, and made all computations himself, certifying them to be correct, and that he had the warrants delivered to himself on statements that he would turn them over to the claimants; that all of the warrants were endorsed by Frank Stone, now in jail on a similar charge, and cashed by him in a saloon in Olympia, or one in Tacoma or one in Seattle, and that every time after a warrant had been cashed deposits much larger than the salary he was receiving were made in a local bank by Gillies.

Vance Scores Methods.

Attorney Vance, in the opening statement for the defense, severely arraigned the administration of the industrial insurance department, and declared that Governor Lister had "prostituted and abused his power to get evidence against Gillies and Stone by methods unlawful and repugnant to the sense of decency, to fix the crime upon Gillies and Stone, defend the commissioners and find a scapegoat." He also declared the defense would prove that Stone had never forged any industrial insurance claims, so that he and Gillies could not have entered into a conspiracy to defraud the state, as alleged.

Governor Ernest Lister is to be a witness for the state, as also Commissioners A. B. Ernst and Parker, while the defense has subpoenaed several employes of the department as witnesses.

Seventy business men of the city presented a petition to the council Tuesday night urging city officials to exert all their influence in seeing that contractors on local work employ local men, and the council appointed Forstell, Ramberg and Draham as a committee for that purpose.

A Bank's Duty

Some—in fact many banks, have only one object—and that is to make all the money possible for themselves, regardless of the effect on the community.

We feel that as a bank receives its support from the surrounding community, it should be willing to assist in all movements for community upbuilding, when such assistance can be safely given.

POMONA GRANGE OPPOSES JOHNSON'S ROAD SCHEME

Protests to Depletion of State School Fund—Installs New Officers.

Resolutions protesting to the bill introduced by Congressman Albert Johnson of this district, to use money derived from the income of the national forests for the construction of a road from the Quinault-reservation north on the Olympic peninsula, on the ground that it would be taking money which rightfully belongs to the state school fund and is needed in that fund, were adopted at the January meeting of the Thurston County Pomona Grange at the Chambers' Prairie hall Tuesday.

Installation of officers for the year, with L. L. Snow as master, initiation of four new candidates, reading of reports of old officers and the appointment of new committees, occupied the attention of the Grange at this meeting. A fine dinner was served at noon to some 75 persons.

The February meeting is to be held at the Skookumchuck Grange hall, about five miles southwest of Tenino, which will be the first time the Pomona has met in that neighborhood. The hall of the Grange is new, having just been completed.

Then come prize winning letters in contest on "Marriage or Business, or Both," and finally a further announcement of "The Birth-Control Contest." The following selections are made from the special departments: "Daughters of the Golden Treasure," "How to Plan the Vegetable Garden," Among the articles appearing under home making and household will be found "New Recipes for Old Vegetables," followed by something for the little ones, "Wig-Wag Cut-outs for Valentine's Day" with appropriate verses by John Davidson. The fancy work and embroidery department contains "Fillet Crochet for Underwear," "Novel Embroidered Luncheon Set," etc. Under fashions for the month are shown the multiplicity of styles: "Advance Spring Models for Southern Wear," "Gowns for Mid-Winter Social Functions," "Chic Version of the Popular One-piece Tailored Frock," "Easily Made Morning Frocks for Home and Street Wear," "Frocks for Young Girls Showing the Newest Fashions," "Graduation and Dance Frocks of Undeniable Charm," "Attractive Novelties in Negligees and Lingerie."

Under the auspices of the State Anti-Tuberculosis league and at its expense, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Davies began Wednesday a survey of tubercular conditions in Olympia and Thurston county, following the plan carried on in Yakima county, where such work was first undertaken. At the conclusion of the survey Mrs. Davies will report to city and county officials. Schools of the city and county and various organizations will co-operate with her.

The county commissioners this week adopted a resolution to pave one mile of the Pacific highway, beginning at the end of the East Fourth street paving and extending toward Lacey, with money allotted to this county from the state permanent highway fund. The sub-grade will be constructed by the state highway department, while the paving will be laid under the supervision of the county engineer. Both jobs will be done by contract and bids will be called for early this spring.

Six of the fifth grades of the county, those at Bush Prairie, South Union, North Star, Brighton Park, Oyster Bay and Yelm, received a grade of 100 in the December spelling contests, according to County Superintendent O. C. Goss, as did also 10 of the sixth grades, Plum Station, South Union, Maytown, Stony Point, Gull Harbor, Rochester, Summit Lake, Hubbard, Brighton Park and Bordeaux; four of the seventh grades, Chambers' Prairie, Collins, Maytown and Bordeaux; and six of the eighth grades, Plum Station, Summit Lake, North Star, Brighton Park, Tono and Bordeaux. This is the best report of the year.
