MT. RAINIER'S FLOWERS

Unequaled in Beauty, Number and Luxuriance, Says Uncle Sam,

That the natural flower gardens of Mt. Rainier national park surpass in beauty of color, number of species and luxuriance of growth, those in any other alpine region of the world, is a statement made by J. B. Flett, in a pamphlet entitled, "Features of the Flora of Mount Rainier National Park," recently issued by the department of the interior.

"These flower beds must be seen and their fragrance inhaled," says Mr. Flett, "before a full comprehension of them can be realized. The more one sees them, the more does he realize their infinite beauty and the full significance of the spiritual lessons which these floral emblems teach."

This pamphlet, which may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for 25 cents, contains well selected and finely printed pictures of the common flowers. The publication recalls John Muir's statement that in Mt. Rainier national park "specimens of the best of nature's treasures have been lovingly gathered and arranged in simple symmetrical beauty within regular bounds."

DESERVES RE-ELECTION.

(Yakima Independent.)
The many friends of Governor Lister are rejoiced at the announcement that he is a candidate for re-election. These friends are not all Democrats by any means, but include many from other parties and practically all who desire a strong and clean man in the executive chair of the state. His election before was won by the votes of Republicans, Progressives, Prohibitionists and others outside the Democratic party and it is believed that this year he will draw strong support from the same sources. His administration has been marked by strong and fearless leadership and he has stood uniformly for the right, as he saw it, and for the safeguarding of the home from the inroads of vice. Governor Lister deserves the office again, because his present administration has been such a decided success. He should be re-elected because such faithfulness deserves recognition; and he should be re-elected because he is the best man who has yet appeared for the office and another term of such service is needed for the moral uplift of the state.

Lewis County Poll Shows President Favorite of Farmers.

CHEHALIS, May 12.—A straw vote conducted by P. C. Beaufort at his office last week displayed surprisingly the strength of President Woodrow Wilson in his candidacy for re-election when the vote was counted. Mr. Beaufort asked all who entered his office to vote and also called in many persons from the street, there being an unusual number of strangers about the courthouse, owing to the jury term that is being held.

When the ballots were counted it was found that Wilson had polled 48 votes, Roosevelt 28, Hughes 14, Root 9, Ford 3, LaFollette 2, and Cummins 1. J. R. Buxton of Centralia and S. Best of Chehalis acted as tellers. Mr. Beaufort stated that quite a large proportion of the votes were cast by farmers.

COUNT VON ZEPPELIN PLANS LONG FLIGHT

Proposes to Fly to New York at Close of War.

It has been reported that Count Ferdinand von Zeppelin has set his mind upon making a trip to New York city in one of his own airships whenever the cessation of hostilities will give him an opportunity. In his opinion the Zeppelin airship will soon be quite able to make the journey in view of the improvements that have been made.

Nearly all men of inventive genius have to suffer periods of disappointment, failure and distrust before real success is obtained. Ferdinand von Zeppelin has at last brought his work to such triumphant completion that the kaiser has called him the greatest German of the century. For twenty years he had nothing but failures.

The Zeppelin airship is today a wonder of the world, but the count knows right well its limitations. But he believes that it will develop into one of the most remarkable and practical conveyances of the near future. The Zeppelins are the terror of the German enemy in this war, with their searchlights, wireless outfits, machine guns and bombs. The count, who is seventy-seven, was a military attaché with the Union army during our civil war.

The civil war inspired Count Zeppelin with the idea of coming to this country, and he served as second lieutenant with several of the Union generals, and Grant gave him a special permit to go anywhere within the Federal lines.

He has always said that his first idea of the value of an airship and the possibility of its construction came from the constant ascents he was allowed to make in Lowe's captive balloon, from which observations were made on the Confederate lines.

SHAKESPEARE'S GLOVES.

Relics of the Poet Among the Treasures of the Furness Library.

The only personal belongings of William Shakespeare in this country are a pair of gloves which belonged to the poet and which were presented by Fanny Kemble to the late Horace Howard Furness, editor of the great variorum edition of Shakespeare. Fanny Kemble received these gloves as a precious legacy from her aunt, Mrs. Siddons, to whom they were given by Mrs. David Garrick, wife of the famous actor.

The gloves are preserved in a glass case in the great Shakespeare library which Dr. Furness collected during a long and studious life at Linden-shade, his country home at Wallingford, Pa. Besides a number of early folios and rare editions of Shakespeare and his commentators, there are many relics in the library pertaining to great interpreters of Shakespeare, such as Garrick, Keen, Macready, Booth and Irving, but the gloves are the only actually personal belongings of the great poet.

In some respects the Furness library and collection is the most remarkable in the world. Its only rival is the Shakespearean library and museum at Stratford on Avon. During the great Shakespeare celebration culminating on April 23 next, the three hundredth anniversary of Shakespeare's death, the Furness library and collection have a peculiar interest for those who revere the memory of the greatest bard of all time.
