

Slip a few Prince Albert smokes into your system!

You've heard many an earful about the Prince Albert patented process that cuts out bite and parch and lets you smoke your fill without a comeback! Stake your bank roll that it proves out every hour of the day. Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

There's sport smoking a pipe or rolling your own, but you know that you've got to have the right tobacco! We tell you Prince Albert will bang the doors wide open for you to come in on a good time firing up every little so often, without a regret! You'll feel like your smoke past has been wasted and will be sorry you cannot back up for a fresh start.

You swing on this say-so like it was a tip to a thousand-dollar bill! It's worth that in happiness and contentment to you, to every man who knows what can be gotten out of a chummy jimmy pipe or a makin's cigarette with Prince Albert for "packing"!

PRINCE ALBERT
the national joy smoke

THE PRINCE ALBERT tidy red tin, and in fact, every Prince Albert package, has a real message-to-you on its reverse side. You'll read:—"Process Patented July 30th, 1907." That means that the United States Government has granted a patent on the process by which Prince Albert is made. And by which tongue bite and throat parch are cut out! Every where tobacco is sold you'll find Prince Albert awaiting you in tippy red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidor and in that clever crystal-glass humidior, with sponge-moistener top, that keeps the tobacco in such fine condition—always!

GILLIES STORY FAILS TO "ROCK THE STATE"

Former Commissioners Reply by Saying Convict's Charges Are Lies.

"Nothing to it," replied A. B. Ernst, former member of the industrial insurance commission, when asked about the published statement of J. F. Gillies, convicted looter of the state's industrial insurance fund, that he, Floyd L. Daggett and Clarence Parker, all former members of the commission, were to blame for the passage of fraudulent claims. Parker's comment was just as laconic. "It's a lie made out of whole cloth," he said.

The statement was made in a type-written history of 28 pages of details that Gillies promised he would publish, if not granted a pardon, Ernst said. Local reports are that it was offered for sale to various newspapers. It was written last March while Gillies was in the local jail and after he had been twice convicted. It was Gillies' oft-promised story that would "rock the state."

The essential part of it is: "I hereby charge Floyd L. Daggett, A. B. Ernst and Clarence Parker, commissioners of the industrial insurance commission, with the blame for the fraudulent claims by which the fund was looted," says Gillies' statement. "I had at the time of approving such claims no guilty knowledge of their falseness, though I did have suspicion as to some of them later, and any action of mine out of the ordinary routine was taken on orders of Daggett and Parker, respectively."

Gillies further says that he was instructed that if any man came in and asked for Gillies personally or had his name in Parker's or Daggett's handwriting, he was to give the claim prompt attention, get the warrant and have the claim approved by Parker or Daggett and deliver the warrant to whoever of the commissioners had signed the claim.

It failed to "rock the state," as Gillies predicted.

WAR'S COST STAGGERING

Estimate Expenditures of All Nations During First Two Years at $55,000,000,000.

On the second anniversary of the start of the great war, August 1, the direct money cost to all the belligerents is estimated to total $55,000,000,000. This is the consensus of financial opinion in New York City. Estimates six months ago were slightly lower, but the daily cost has mounted steadily and the figures given are considered conservative.

The direct cost does not include the losses by destruction of property, by the disorganization of civilian industry, by the death and crippling of workers and by enervating human sickness and misery.

The war is now costing all belligerents more than $110,000,000 a day. This is divided among the principal nations as follows: Great Britain, $30,000,000 (official figures); France, $17,000,000; Russia, $18,000,000; Italy, $8,500,000; Germany, $23,000,000 and Austro-Hungary, $12,000,000, the lesser powers making up the balance.

FINED FOR HIS MERCY.

Man Who Killed Deer Hit by Train Prosecuted by Game Wardens.

Because P. A. Murray, of Ford, Gray's Harbor county, killed a deer that had been run down by a train he was fined $10 and costs for having deer meat in his possession out of season. Murray, who is a section foreman, killed the deer, he says, because its legs were broken. He gave his neighbors pieces of the meat, and the story reached the game officials, who caused his arrest and fine.

Murray is a former resident of Gate and has a wide acquaintance throughout Thurston county.

SOME GOOD ADVICE

Strengthened by Olympia Experiences

Kidney disease is too dangerous to neglect. At the first sign of backache, headache, dizziness or urinary disorders, you should give the weakened kidneys prompt attention. Eat little meat, take things easier and use a reliable kidney tonic. There's no other kidney medicine so well recommended as Doan's Kidney Pills. Olympia people rely on them. Here's one of the many statements from Olympia people:

L. S. Gorham, policeman, box 159, R. F. D. No. 2, Olympia, says: "Several years ago I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and at this time I am glad to endorse them again. I used Doan's Kidney Pills when I was having trouble with my back and kidneys and they soon gave me relief. Since then I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills several times and they have helped me just as much as they did when I first took them."

FEWER NEW PRISONERS.

Speaker Says Prohibition Reduces Population of State Prisons.

Where 192 prisoners were received at the Monroe reformatory in the first six months of 1915, only 92 were received during the same period this year. W. H. Cochran, member of the state board of control, said in an address at the union church services at the Congregational church Sunday evening, attributing the decrease to the operation of the prohibition law.

A proportionate reduction in the number of new prisoners in the state penitentiary has also occurred this year. Mr. Cochran said, and for the same reason. These statements were made in the course of an interesting talk on the 12 institutions of the state, during which he spoke particularly of the work in the insane hospitals.

OLYMPIA PEOPLE GET INSTANT ACTION

Those who have used it in Olympia are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ka. Because it acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, ONE SPOONFUL Adler-ka relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. F. G. Munson Drug Co., 201 East Fourth.

EASTERN STATE HOSPITAL.

haps the best way to force this to be done would be to make each county pay for the maintenance of its insane in the state hospitals. This would cause no hardship, for they have to do so anyway, only the tax being a direct one would appeal to them more keenly. They would then take action to see that their county supported only its own citizens.

If the adoption of new methods of aborting syphilis should prove as effective as experiments now indicate, it will lessen, if not eradicate the dread disease, paresis. Not less than 75 per cent of paresis cases have a syphilitic origin, and some authorities even go so far as to claim all cases are syphilitic. However, this treatment will never be of value to the cases now afflicted, for the damage is done before commitment, but it will be of inestimable value in preventing the disease by early abortive treatment.

The lines advanced by the leading authorities are followed at this institution, and research work has been undertaken in hope of improving the present methods. Internal medicine and moral treatment have been supplemented with the use of chemical reagents and the microscope, in order not only to make and certify diagnosis, but to make more effectual methods of treatment.

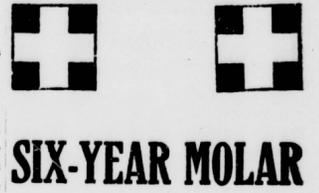

To those experienced it is well known that in the treatment of the insane drugs play a minor part, and that aside from those needing surgical measures, the main reliance is placed upon what is known as moral treatment. Moral treatment consists of employment, amusement, diversions of various kinds, teaching self-control and respect for the rights of others, inducing interest in books, music, flowers, open air exercise, regular methods of living, and all the agencies which tend to lead the mind in normal channels of thought.

Old Methods Discarded.

In caring for the insane, the old methods in which the dungeon, crib and padded cell figured so prominently, have given way to the modern methods, in which kindness, tact, amusement, exercise, rest for the mind and body, and the proper administration of medicine where the mental or physical health require it are practiced. Kindness and tact go hand in hand in helping those who have lost their mind to regain control. Exercise and occupation are very necessary adjuncts in the treatment of the insane, and the benefits derived therefrom in diverting their thoughts and using up the surplus energy so frequently found in this class of patients cannot be overestimated. Those able and willing to work are employed on the farm and around the buildings, laundry, etc., and those not willing to work, or not strong enough, are taken for daily walks in pleasant weather. Amusements help pass away the hours of confinement pleasantly.

During the summer the weekly ball game is appreciated by many, and during the interstate fair at Spokane a number of the working patients are taken to it. The library furnishes reading for all and the books are taken in the wards, also the newspapers. Checkers and cards are found in the wards and are usually in use, also the game of ping-pong for the quieter and convalescing patients.

Attorney W. W. Manier, secretary of the county game commission, Industrial Insurance Commissioner John M. Wilson and Deputy County Auditor R. A. Cruikshank have been spending the week on a fishing trip in the Olympics, above Forks.

SIX-YEAR MOLAR

Your child at the age of 6 cuts four of the large molars, these teeth being termed the six-year molars.

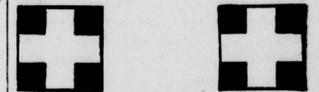

They erupt just back of the baby molars and are not replaced by nature if lost. Parents frequently mistake them for temporary teeth and neglect them when they should be repaired by filling.

Look and see if your child's six-year molars are free from decay.

WHAT HAPPENED IN OLYMPIA AND STATE TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

From The Washington Standard for August 7, 1891. Vol. XXXI. No. 38.

On Wednesday next our old amusement friends, the popular Sells Brothers, are to again visit Olympia, making their twentieth consecutive annual tour.

The excursion given by the local post of the G. A. R. Monday evening, by the steamer Bailey Gatzert, to Stellacoom, was a delightful affair. Over 300 persons participated. The excursionists arrived home about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The sale of the Mason county railroad and sawmill at Shelton has been made to Allen C. Mason of Tacoma and Eastern capitalists, for $80,000. The postoffice will be moved to the new Reed building in a few days.

It is said that trains to Montesano from this city will begin running next Monday.

An Olympia expert has examined the rock now being used to pave Main street and reports that it is largely impregnated with iron.

It is said that the filling of the made ground on which the Northern Pacific depot is built, in the rear of the Olympia hotel, cost the company fully $90,000.

Work has been commenced on the street railroad eastward from Quince street to the point where the road diverges towards the Olympia Land company's addition.

The largest plate glass windows in the state are in the McKenney building and these are 130x118 inches in the clear.

The assessed valuation of property in Thurston county foots up $12,797,592. Of this amount $11,566,396 is classed as realty and the remainder personal property.

The litigation pending for several years past over the tract of land known as Priest's Point, on Budd's inlet, has been amicably settled and the suit withdrawn. As a result of the compromise a land company has been organized, the land is to be platted immediately and the Olympia street railway is to be extended to the addition thus created.

Saturday morning about 1 o'clock an alarm of fire was turned in from box 43, which speedily brought out the department, but it was soon ascertained that the fire was at Tumwater and had already made such progress that the horizon was aglow with the light from the burning buildings. The fire originated in the old grist mill, near Allison & Co.'s sawmill, and was doubtless the result of carelessness of tramps who had made it a rendezvous for some time. Both mills were wholly destroyed, as well as McNeill's grocery, and blacksmith and barber's shop. The total loss is about $15,000 with no insurance. Both Olympia companies did excellent service in extinguishing the flames and their efforts met with the ample appreciation of the people of our neighboring city.

The brick walls of the jute mill at the penitentiary are completed and the carpenters are now at work on the woodwork.

ANOTHER DRY LAW RULING.

Man Who Wanted to Be Druggist Held Liqueur Illegally, Court Says.

Another interpretation of the dry law was given in a decision of the supreme court holding against Fred Martin of Walla Walla. Martin stored a large quantity of liquor in his barn when the prohibition law went into effect and attempted to keep it on a certificate as a registered pharmacist for use later when he intended to open a drug store.

The court draws a line between this and the Eden case and rules that Martin's intention of going into further business as a pharmacist does not justify his possession of an excess amount at this time.

Eagles Picnic at Offut Lake.

Offut lake, the Southwest Washington summer resort, was packed Sunday, the occasion being the annual picnic of the Centralia and Chehalis series of Eagles. Many Willapa Harbor Eagles were in attendance, a special train being run to the lake from Raymond over the Milwaukee, while a larger number of Olympians also participated. The program included dancing and sports of all kinds, cash prizes being awarded the winners.
