BIG PROMISES

are made by promoters.

Don't be led away by promises—you can be promised the whole world. It is what you GET that counts.

Your reason should tell you a promoter is not able to earn more on the money invested than a good business man, and the failures prove it.

A good thing will not have to be peddled from door to door.

Consult your banker when some smooth promoter tries to sell you stock, and be guided by his advice.
