Special Notice to Subscribers

Increased cost of newspaper production and a recent ruling of the postoffice department rescinding former newspaper clubbing rates, have made it necessary for us to discontinue sending the Western Farmer to a large number of our subscribers as we have in the past at no additional charge above our regular subscription rate, and to increase the charge on this paper or on the Thrice-a-Week World in a club with The Washington Standard.

You are specially advised that you owe nothing for the copies of the Western Farmer received by you during the past year or two through this office. If you receive any bills, send them to us. Your only debt would be for a subscription from this date on, and you do not owe that if you do not order the paper.

If you care to receive the Western Farmer in the future—and we hope you will want it—we can make you a clubbing rate of $2.00 per year for the Standard and the Farmer. The regular subscription price of the Standard is $1.50 and of the Farmer $1.00 per year, the combination price meaning a saving to you of 50 cents per year on the two papers.

Similarly, we are compelled to increase the price of the Thrice-a-Week New York World in combination with our paper from $1.75 per year to $2.00 per year, beginning today. The regular subscription rates of the two papers total $2.50 per year, so that in this combination there is a saving of 50 cents per year also.
