VAN BRUNT SINGLE DISC DRILL

For more than half a century the name Van Brunt has stood for the best drill construction. From the first, all effort has been twofold—first, to make a perfect seeding machine, and, second, to construct that machine so as to give long life and constant service. Van Brunt Drills today fulfill this ideal.

Constant improvement has resulted in a drill which will plant any variety of seed, from alfalfa and flax to bearded oats, corn and beans, in any desired quantity, in any soil capable of being seeded. Improved construction overcoming unnecessary weight and strain, has made the Van Brunt the light draft drill. It has added to the durability of the drill, and reduced repair bills. The bearings are guaranteed for life. Made in all sizes and priced very reasonably. For sale only by

LIVING COST LOWEST HERE

Southwest Washington the Cheapest Place in State in Which to Live.

Southwestern Washington is still the cheapest part of the state to live in, according to the compilation of food and fuel costs for a family of five made by the state labor department. These estimates are made annually in April and the comparative cost tabulated for four years. Commissioner C. H. Younger's figures for 1917 also leave Spokane in the lead as the most expensive city in the state, cold winters and heavier fuel charges being a decisive factor there. As the part of the state where food and fuel is cheapest, the cost per family in Southwestern Washington is given for 1917 at $534.09, an increase of $109.29 over last year. Northwestern Washington leads the price-jumping list with a 1917 cost of $560.45, an increase over 1916 of $124.87, although Eastern Washington still is high with a cost in 1917 of $569.26, or an increase of $115.71 over 1916.

R. L. Fromme, supervisor of the Olympic national forest, received word from the national capital this week that the government will recruit in this state a regiment of foresters, logging engineers, experienced woodmen and loggers, for immediate service in France, as a unit of the engineers' corps now organizing. Enlistments are in charge of George H. Ceell, district forester.

ATHLETES IN WAR

Walter Camp, Football Star, Will Train College Men.

FOR ALL OVER MILITARY AGE.

In Manufacturing Cities Throughout the Country There Will Be Great Amount of Guard Duty, and Mr. Camp Plans to Relieve Military of This Work.

New Haven.—The Internal Defense league, an organization to be composed chiefly of former athletes between the ages of forty-five and sixty, is being organized by Walter Camp, Yale's football adviser, for home guard duty in the event of war. Mr. Camp announced that the league would be organized at New Haven, when he will start a body of prominent New Haven business and professional men in a course of physical training. The league has been started by Mr. Camp at the request of many former college athletes who are over military age, but who are desirous of performing some kind of guard duty which ordinarily would have to be performed by the militia. The object of the new organization is to make the regular militia available for more important duties. Mr. Camp stated that for the past few months he has been receiving numerous communications from former athletes between fifty and sixty years old asking if there was not some branch of the service where they could be useful. In the event of war it will be necessary to guard railroads, bridges and munition factories, and many men past military age believe that they can get into good enough physical shape to perform these duties.

The league will not be limited to college men, but will be open to all men between the ages of forty-five and sixty. Mr. Camp has mapped out a course of training, which he believes will be efficient and yet will not interfere with the members' routine business duties. The squad which went into training at New Haven will give up one morning hour a day at first—from 8 to 9—to walking and other exercises, which Mr. Camp will suggest. The plan is to take only light exercise at first, gradually working the men into shape until they are able to tramp fifteen or twenty miles a day without fatigue.

In the manufacturing cities such as New Haven and, in fact, all over New England, there will be a great amount of guard duty to perform, and Mr. Camp believes that if the older men, who have already shown much enthusiasm to do their "bit," can be worked up to proper physical condition the militia will be relieved of much of this home guard duty.

After the league gets under way in New Haven it is expected that the movement will be taken up quickly throughout the country.

BELIEVED DEAD FOUR YEARS.

Friend Now Says He Saw Manseau Recently.

Grass Valley, Cal.—Four years ago word came to the relatives of Peter Manseau that the young man had been killed by falling from a tower he had been repairing on the Mexican border. The aged mother has thought her son dead, and all the rest of the family and friends held the same opinion until recently a letter was received from a friend of Albert Manseau stating that he had seen "Pete" at El Paso, where he was acting as interpreter for the government in connection with the military authorities.

ALL WEDDING GIFTS NOT BRIDE'S PROPERTY

New York.—Think of it, girls! A jury in New York decided that all wedding gifts do not belong to the bride nor does the wife own all the household effects. Mrs. Amy Philbrook Clark was suing to recover lots of things, including an automobile, all valued at $44,000, when the blow fell. She said when her husband brought action for divorce he put a new lock on the family safe.

HOW CAN WOMEN HELP

State College to Distribute Bulletin Written Especially for Housewives.

"What can women do in winning the war?" This is a title of a bulletin just written by President E. O. Holland and to be published by the Extension Service of the State College of Washington. "Do women realize that the silver bullet may carry farther than the steel bullet?" is a question asked by President Holland.

Crisp, practical, and worth-while suggestions are given regarding ways in which women can aid; specific information relative to what they can do and how they should do it. A list of material available for distribution along the lines of home economics, canning, gardening, and poultry work is included and it is hoped that the all over the state. At present it is in press and will be issued in a few days.

Loan Applications Forwarded.

Applications of 14 local farmers for loans totalling $24,300 have been forwarded to the federal land bank at Spokane, Secretary W. W. Manier of the local farm loan association, stated this week, and applications for $12,000 more are under consideration. The property to be covered by the first 14 loans has been inspected and approved by the local appraisal committee, consisting of J. F. McCorkle, L. L. Snow and Joe Comstock, and the other applications will be forwarded to Spokane bank as soon as the property has been appraised. The money will be forthcoming when the loans are approved by the federal appraisers.

State Code Governs Auto Speed.

The automobile division of the secretary of state's department announced this week that all city ordinances designed to regulate the speed of motor vehicles will become void at midnight June 5, the speed of automobiles being regulated from then on by the new auto code passed by the last legislature. This specifies a speed limit of 12 miles per hour in the business section or thickly populated portion of any city or the immediate vicinity of any schoolhouse between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m., 20 miles per hour in the rest of the city and 30 miles per hour outside incorporated towns.

Hugh Ross received word this week that his sister, Mrs. George Menke of Sacramento, Calif., had been appointed a director in the surgical department of the National Red Cross. Mrs. Menke, who was Miss Rachel Ross before her marriage, is well known in Olympia, having visited her brother frequently, and is a trained nurse.

Tono Resident Goes to Finland.

Peter Hedman, a prominent resident of Tono, left last week for his old home, Kalajoki, Finland, where he will make his home with his well-to-do sister. Mr. Hedman, who served in the Spanish-American war, was bugler of the Tono home guard organization. He has made one trip to Finland since the war in Europe started, the ship on which he was returning to this country having been sunk in British waters.

To Meet in Olympia Next Year.

The Washington State Association of Building and Loan Societies at the annual meeting in Spokane last week, voted to hold its next meeting in Olympia. Walter F. McDowell, secretary-manager of the local association and retiring secretary of the state association, attended the meeting.

Schedules Games for Senators.

Manager Williston is arranging some rattling good baseball games for Olympia. Next Sunday the Senators stack up against the Seattle Drydock & Construction company's team, Memorial day Tono's speed artists are scheduled as visitors and the following Sunday, June 3, St. Martin's team of Lacey will put up the opposition. Sunday, June 10, the Stacy-Shown aggregation of Seattle is due to play here and two weeks later, June 24, another Seattle team, the Pacific Coast Steel company's outfit, are scheduled.

Tenino to Graduate Nine.

State Land Commissioner Clark V. Savidge is to deliver the commencement address at the graduation exercises in Tenino Friday evening, when nine seniors of the Tenino high school will receive their diplomas. The graduates are Edna Keithahn, Dorothy Angel, Mildred Mayes, Villa Cole, Marie Mullaney, Hattie Medley, Delta Wright, Leonard Gotchy and Raymond Giddings.

Representatives of Sunday schools of Olympia and Thurston county are attending the annual convention of the Western Washington Sunday School Association, which opened in Tacoma Wednesday and will continue until Saturday afternoon.

PRESIDENT'S STIRRING APPEAL FOR NATION UNITED IN ONE COMPACT FRONT AGAINST A COMMON FOE.

From proclamation designating Tuesday, June 5, as Registration day:

The power against which we are arrayed has sought to impose its will upon the world by force. To this end it has increased its armament until it has changed the face of war. In the sense in which we have been wont to think of armies, there are no armies in this struggle. There are entire nations armed. Thus the men who remain to till the soil and man the factories in France are no less a part of the army than the men beneath the battle flags. It must be so with us. It is not an army that we must shape and train for war; it is a nation. To this end our people must draw close in one compact front against a common foe. But this can not be if each man pursues a private purpose. All must pursue one purpose now.

The nation needs all men; but it needs each man, not in the field that will most please him, but in the endeavor that will best serve the common good. Thus, though a sharpshooter pleases to operate a trip-hammer for the forging of great guns, and an expert machinist desires to march with the flag, the nation is being served only when the sharpshooter marches and the machinist remains at his levers. The whole nation must be a team, in which each man shall play the part for which he is best fitted. To this end, congress has provided that the nation shall be organized for war by selection and that each man shall be classified for service in the place to which it shall best serve the general good to call him.

The significance of this can not be overstated. It is a new thing in our history and a landmark in our progress. It is a new manner of accepting and vitalizing our duty to give ourselves with thoughtful devotion to the common purpose of us all. It is in no sense a conscription of the unwilling; it is rather, selection from a nation which has volunteered in mass. It is no more a choosing of those who shall march with the colors than it is a selection of those who shall serve an equally necessary and devoted purpose in the industries that lie behind the battle line.

The day here named is the time upon which all shall present themselves for assignment to their tasks. It is for that reason destined to be remembered as one of the most conspicuous moments in our history. It is nothing less than the day upon which the manhood of the country shall step forward in one solid rank in defense of the ideals to which this nation is consecrated. It is important to those ideals, no less than to the pride of this generation in manifesting its devotion to them, that there be no gaps in the ranks.

It is essential that the day be approached in thoughtful association of its significance and that everyone give it that meaning that it deserves. Our industrial need prescribes that it be not made a technical holiday, but the stern necessity of the occasion urges that it be carried in all our hearts as a great day of patriotic devotion and obligation, when the duty shall lie upon every man, whether he is himself to be registered or not, to see to it that the name of every male person of the designated ages is written on these lists of honor.

MEMORIALS

WAR STAFF WANTS TO EXEMPT ALL WITH DEPENDENTS

"The war department desires at the outset to exempt from military service as far as possible all those having dependents."

This will be the military policy of the government on conscription, according to a statement by the Council of National Defense.

The complete policy has not yet been formulated, the council replied. The war department realizes that all those with dependents cannot be exempted and accordingly has asked congress for an appropriation to take care of those left behind.

If the last resting place of your loved ones is yet unmarked by a memorial, repair the omission by arranging to erect a monument this spring.

Order it now so it will be ready for Decoration Day.
