10 HOURS PAY FOR 8 HOURS IN WOODS

WORKING CONDITIONS IN THE
SPRUCE CAMPS ARRANGED
BY COLONEL DISQUE.

Workmen for the government in the forests of the Pacific Northwest are to receive pay for eight hours at the same rate as the 10 hours pay heretofore in effect, and for all time worked above eight hours in any day they will be paid at the rate of time and a half. All differences between the men and their employers arising hereafter will be referred to Colonel Brice P. Disque, director of the spruce production bureau, and both sides will abide by his decisions.

Agreement upon these points was the chief accomplishment of a conference in Portland the fore part of this week between Colonel Disque and delegates from the various spruce districts representing the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen. All spruce districts of Oregon and Washington were represented.

Colonel Disque told the men that very soon they would not have to provide their own bedding, as the government is purchasing 150,000 blankets for them. A fixed price of $7.35 a week for board at all logging camps and sawmills was announced. Improved sanitary conditions in the drying rooms also were promised by Colonel Disque.

Colonel Disque declared his belief that the workers will accomplish as much work in eight hours as has been done in 10.

Sixty representatives of Oregon and Washington timber workers' and shingle weavers' unions, at a meeting in Seattle Monday, voted to oust all disloyal workers from their ranks. The delegates also adopted a resolution declaring that the loggers and timber workers in their unions were squarely behind the government's war program.

They officially called off the strike for the 8-hour day, started last summer and announced that Northwestern loggers and timber workers will wage a whirlwind campaign to oust the I. W. W. from the camps and mills.

All the local mills established the 8-hour day last Friday. All the employees of the Olympia Door company joined the Loyal Legion this week.

THIRD LIBERTY LOAN ON FIRST WAR ANNIVERSARY

Campaign Will Start April 6, McAdoo
Announces, and Continue Three or Four Weeks.

The third Liberty Loan campaign will open April 6, the first anniversary of the United States' entry into the war, and will continue three or four weeks, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo announced this week.

"The campaign should begin with great demonstrations of patriotism in every city, town and hamlet in the country that would truly express the spirit of aroused America," McAdoo said. "On this date every American should pledge anew to his government the full measure of his resources and resolve to make every required sacrifice in the same fervent spirit that impels our gallant sons in the trenches of France and on the waters of the Atlantic to shed their blood in America's sacred cause."

The amount of the loan, the interest rate and other features, such as convertibility of bonds of previous issues, maturity and terms of payment, remain to be determined, McAdoo said.

CARNIVAL FOR HOME GUARDS.

Saturday, Which Is Children's Day.

The old Lobby at Seventh and Adams streets is to be the scene of merry-making beginning Saturday and continuing through all of next week, when a carnival for the benefit of the local Home Guards will be staged.

Saturday, the opening day, is children's day and some special stunts are provided for the youngsters. The regular carnival features will be foremost in this show, a jitney dance will be another attraction, and the various entertainments offered are expected to attract large crowds during the week.

Ray Hendrickson was the second Olympia boy of draft age to respond to the war department's call for chauffeurs and truck drivers.

Supreme Court Justice Died at Seattle Hospital Wednesday Afternoon.

Judge George E. Morris, member of the state supreme court since March, 1909 and a man beloved by Olympians, died at Providence hospital, Seattle, Wednesday afternoon, to which he was taken last week by an associate, Judge Stephen J. Chadwick, for treatment.

Death was due to intestinal trouble and had been expected for several days, an operation performed last Saturday having found that his illness had progressed so far that recovery was impossible. Mrs. Morris was at his bedside through his last illness.

The funeral will take place in Seattle Friday afternoon, at the Scottish Rite cathedral, and a large number of Olympians plan to attend. The services will be conducted by Seattle Rose Croix, No. 1, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, Rev. James H. The remaining justices will act as pallbearers.

SOCIETIES FORMED IN MANY SCHOOLS—MRS. ADA J. LEWIS
WORK DIRECTRESS.

Organization of Junior Red Cross societies has been completed in all of the grade schools of Olympia and in 24 of the schools of the county, and is under way in the local high school. City Superintendent C. E. Beach, who has charge of the work, announced yesterday.

Superintendent Beach also announced the appointment of Mrs. Ada J. Lewis of Brighton Park as work directress for the Junior societies, and of Shelley Mowell, assistant cashier of the Capital National bank, as treasurer. The schools in which societies have been fully organized are:

The Washington, Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley and Roosevelt schools and Providence Academy in Olympia, the schools at Maytown, Little Rock, Sherlock, Grand Mound, Fairview, Chambers Junction, Mima, Rocky Prairie, McAllister Springs, Butler's Cove, Alder Grove, East Union, Boston Harbor, Independence, Gibson, Forest Grove, Black Lake, Bush Prairie, South Union, Collins, Case, Lacey, Tumwater and North Star.

The school children of the county are taking a great interest in the work and the societies are being organized as rapidly as the different districts can be visited, Mr. Beach says. The work the societies will undertake will consist chiefly of making refugee garments, gathering sphagnum moss, making infants' layettes, patchwork quilts, handkerchiefs, bright colored bags, tray covers, wash cloths, gun wipes, gun cleaning rags, and the like. The boys are expected to make the boxes in which the garments will be shipped.

LONG-TIME RESIDENT LEAVES.

C. H. Clough and Family Go to Roseburg, Oregon, to Live.

C. H. Clough, resident of the Tumwater neighborhood since 1892 and an active Democrat, Mrs. Clough and mother, Mrs. Bates, left Tuesday for Roseburg, Ore., where they expect to make their home. Mr. Clough recently sold his farm to H. W. Myers. Mr. Clough is probably the oldest salmon canner in the Northwest, though he retired from the business 26 years ago. He started in it at Eagle Cliff on the Columbia river in 1872 when only four men were engaged in the business, William Hume, whom he calls the father of the business, G. W., Joe and R. D. Hume. Mr. Clough's partner was G. W. Hume. He followed the canning business for 20 years, until he came to Thurston county and bought a farm in 1892.

The state's quota of 100 chauffeurs called for by the war department the fore part of this week was filled by 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Captain Irvin W. Ziegans, in charge of draft operations in this state, announces.

WESTSIDERS OBJECT TO NEW SIDEWALKS

PROPERTY OWNERS REGISTER
VIGOROUS PROTEST TO PRO-JECTED IMPROVEMENT.

Vigorous protests to the proposed construction of cement sidewalks on Jackson, Garfield and Hancock streets, on the Westside, were voiced by property owners of the district when the ordinance for the improvement was before the council for consideration Tuesday evening.

The protesters declared that the chief boosters for the improvement were persons who would not have to pay the cost. Final action on the ordinance will be taken at the next meeting of the council, March 19.

Similar protests and charges of having been "double-crossed" were made over completion of the contract for grading and graveling Vine street, but the council, refusing to stop the work, instructed the street committee to straighten out the situation.

The ordinance for the grading and graveling of Washington street from Thirteenth to Fifteenth and of Fourteenth from Main to Franklin, was passed to second reading.

HEBERD ADVOCATES USING MORE SPUDS

WHEAT FLOUR SUBSTITUTE SAME IF POTATOES ARE BOUGHT.

SPOKANE, March 8.—Under an order issued by Charles Heberd, state food administrator, the wheat flour substitute basis for Washington was changed March 4 from one-third to one-half, and a campaign for increased use of potatoes was inaugurated by an option allowing the old requirement to stand if a pound of raw potatoes is also purchased with each pound of flour.

"Under the new rule, with each 50 pound purchase of flour the consumer must purchase either 25 pounds of authorized substitutes or else 16 pounds of substitutes and 50 pounds of potatoes," Mr. Heberd's announcement states.

The campaign for increased consumption of potatoes will be carried into every corner of the state, according to the food administrator. Posters and booklets, pointing out the advantages to which the vegetable may be put and urging its more extended use in view of the surplus crop and the scarcity of other food products, will be distributed in every community.

Mr. Heberd urges that potatoes be used more in hotels and restaurants and recommends that they be served with meat orders without extra charge. He asks housewives to serve them more in their home as a vegetable and use them more liberally for bread making. Retailers are requested to make leaders of potatoes with different displays and advertisements.

TELLS VEGETABLES NEEDED FOR CAMP

GREATEST DEMAND EXPECTED FOR LATE CABBAGE, CAR-ROTS AND TURNIPS.

Late cabbage, carrots and turnips are the three vegetables for which it is now believed there will be the greatest demand in the Camp Lewis market, supplied by the Thurston County Dairy & Farm Products Association, and A. J. Saltzer, assistant county agricultural agent, is sending an inquiry to the farmers of the county to ascertain the acreage they expect to plant this season of these vegetables and 17 others.

"It is difficult to determine at this time with any degree of accuracy the quantities of the various vegetables that will be required to supply the Camp Lewis market during the coming season," Mr. Saltzer's letter says. He adds, however, that, "according to the best available information the demand will be in the following order:

"Late cabbage, carrots, turnips, early cabbage, string beans, corn, celery, parsnips, beets, broccoli, tomatoes, cauliflower, green onions, squash, pumpkin, spinach, lettuce, cucumbers, radishes and peas.

"In order to avoid over-production of one or more kinds of vegetables," the letter continues, "I desire to have a record giving the acreage of each kind of vegetable each farmer expects to sell to the Camp Lewis market. If on the return of these reports it appears that the acreage of one or more kinds of vegetables is more than the market can use, I will notify those interested and suggest reductions."

SEDITION PREACHERS WILL BE DEPORTED

SECRETARY OF LABOR ORDERS
ROUND-UP OF ALIENS ADVOCATING SABOTAGE.

A vigorous policy for the suppression of anarchists and all who advocate sabotage and other forms of lawlessness was announced this week by Secretary of Labor Wilson in orders to immigration officials in the Northwest to proceed immediately to arrest aliens guilty of spreading such doctrines.

Even though they may not commit any overt act, they will be detained and deported.

Mr. Wilson held that membership in the I. W. W. organization was not in itself cause for arrest or deportation, but that alien I. W. W.'s or any other aliens who preach overthrow of the government by force, assassination, or who are in any other manner subject to deportation under the immigration laws should be taken into custody at once.

Secretary Wilson's order was issued with a full personal knowledge of the situation in the Northwest. As chairman of the president's mediation commission, he investigated the unrest in the lumber camps and sawmills last fall.

The new orders followed acceptance by the lumbermen of Washington and Oregon of the government's proposal to establish the eight-hour day.

Orders Columbia Street Work.

The council Tuesday night passed the ordinance for the grading and graveling of Columbia street from Twentieth to Twenty-first, and instructed the city clerk to advertise for bids. It passed to second reading the ordinance to construct a concrete bulkhead along the Main street side of General Stevens' property at Eleventh and Main. The cost, estimated at $403, is to be charged against the Stevens' property, the ordinance says.

Parcel Post Packages Larger.

The maximum weight for parcel post packages in the first, second and third zones will be 70 pounds after March 15. Postmaster James Doherty was notified this week. The former limit was 50 pounds. In all the other zones the limit is raised from 20 to 50 pounds. There is no change, however, in regulations governing packages sent to American soldiers and sailors in overseas service, the limit there remaining at 11 pounds.

CITY ASKS GOVERNMENT TO ERECT HOUSES HERE

Seeks $250,000 of $50,000,000 Fund
for Housing Shipyard Workers.

Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars will be appropriated by the United States shipping board for houses for workmen employed in the local shipyards, out of the $50,000,000 appropriation recently authorized by congress, if the Olympia Chamber of Commerce is successful in negotiations it has been conducting for some weeks.

At the request of Congressman Johnson, the Chamber is now preparing a statement of housing conditions in Olympia, pointing out that if the contemplated expansion of the Sloan Shipyard is carried out and work is resumed as expected at the Olympia Shipbuilding company's yard, the city will not be able to accommodate the workers unless the government helps by the construction of new houses.

ASK RESERVE BOARD FOR BOND DECISION

COMMISSIONERS PUT $600,000
ROAD ISSUE UP TO GOVERN-MENT FOR OPINION.

Information as to the $600,000 road bond issue on which Thurston county residents will vote at a special election March 26 has been forwarded to the federal reserve board by Chairman T. Ives Dodge and Commissioner J. C. Sams of the county board, with a request for an opinion as to whether the issuance of these securities would be contrary to the national interest at this time.

The commissioners asked for an immediate decision and it is expected that it will be forthcoming before the date of the election. The question whether the issue is advisable during war time has been raised frequently since the project was proposed and the commissioners have asked the federal board for its decision.

Meanwhile County Auditor Annie Gaston is having a lot of trouble obtaining voting places in the different precincts and up to date has been unable to complete arrangements in the Second precinct of the Sixth ward, Olympia, and the second precinct in Tenino, while in two other Olympia precincts she has been compelled to rent rooms in private homes.

Discussing the situation yesterday, she said she would ask the county commissioners to confer with the city council relative to the purchase of portable booths for use at this and the regular elections, believing that the demand for accommodations in Olympia would continue and make it increasingly difficult to obtain polling places.

Registration for the special election ended Tuesday night. While no reports have been received from the county precincts, the registration in Olympia is lighter than usual, only 2,230 being registered in the city proper and 2,472 when the three outside precincts are included.

PARENTS HEAR FROM LESTER TWOHY.

Lester Twohy, the Thurston county boy on the torpedoed transport Tuscania, is safe and well in Ireland, according to a letter received by his parents the fore part of this week. It was written February 5, shortly after he had been safely landed. He told his parents he did not save anything out of his belongings, not even his hat.

Winstanley trustee. The meeting was well attended and confidence expressed in the company's present business and future prospects.

CELEBRATE "GREATER FOOD PRODUCTION DAY."

The chief speakers of the affair will be E. F. Benson, state commissioner of agriculture, C. J. Lord and T. E. Skaggs of the state board of control County Agent C. H. Bergstrom has been asked to make a brief statement of his plans for the coming season.

Publicity regarding the meeting, supplementing that given by the newspapers, has been spread throughout the county by the Minute Women, the schools and the Granges, and the Council of Defense hopes to make it the largest patriotic gathering in Olympia since the United States became involved in the war.

Showing the importance attached to the gathering by the food administration, Administrator Roder received a telegram Wednesday from Charles Heberd, federal food administrator for this state, inquiring as to progress of the arrangements.

Governor Lister also sent a statement urging "all organizations and individuals . . . assist in making the day one of great benefit."

SHIPYARD WORKER IS BADLY HURT MONDAY

EARL TUCKER BADLY HURT IN 16-FOOT FALL AT SLOAN
YARD.

Serious injuries were sustained by Earl Tucker, an employe of the Sloan Shipyards, Monday afternoon when he fell from a 16-foot scaffold on ship No. 6, striking head foremost on a 6x6 beam on the platform below.

He was removed immediately to St. Peter's hospital, where it was discovered that, though his scalp had been gashed across his head from ear to ear, his skull had not been fractured, and Dr. N. J. Redpath, who is attending him, believes he will recover. Besides the severe injuries to his head, Tucker also suffered a broken left arm and a sprained right wrist.

Tucker, who was working on the staging, heard somebody shout, "Look out from above," and started to whirl around to avoid being hit. His corked boots, however, caught in the planking and threw him off his balance, and he fell to the platform.

$1500 for Soldiers' Entertainment.

The Olympia Recreational committee, advised by the National War Camp Community commission that $1,500 would be allotted to this city for soldiers' entertainment in addition to the $880 contributed here, this week submitted a budget and brief to cover this amount. Some plans contemplated when the original budget of $5,000 was submitted had to be eliminated, but the committee thinks the work can be continued satisfactorily on the smaller amount, with the continued co-operation of local citizens.
