Youngsters Weighed and Measured.

Local Minute Women have been engaged this week in taking the measurements and weights of all the children of the city less than 5 years old, at the request of the national government. The Minute Women have also taken up the local campaign to recruit nurses for the U. S. student nurse reserve, under the call issued last week, by which Thurston county was asked to furnish nine young women to take up this work in civilian or army hospitals in this country.

Five Army Officers' Training Schools Opened.

The War Department has established five central officers' training camps at which civilians and enlisted men will be trained for commissions in the officers' reserve corps. Infantry training camps are located at Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va.; Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Ga.; and Camp Pike, Little Rock, Ark.; field artillery at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky.; and machine gun at Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga.

These training schools will be run continuously a new class being admitted monthly. The course of training will be four months at the infantry and machine-gun schools, and three months at the field artillery school. The schools are open to qualified enlisted men in all branches of the service except Coast Artillery, Signal Corps, and labor units. The number of civilians admitted will be limited.

To be eligible for admission candidates must be between 20 years 8 months and 49 years; citizens of the United States and not born in any of the countries with which the United States is at war or allies of such countries. Enlisted men must have the moral, educational and physical qualifications required of an officer. Civilians must be graduates of a high school or have pursued an equivalent course of instruction, be of good moral character and have the required physical qualifications.

In addition to the above qualifications, candidates for the field artillery must possess a thorough understanding and working knowledge of arithmetic, algebra to include quadratic equations and plane geometry. Trained civil, mechanical electrical, mining and architectural engineers are desired. Civilian applicants will be certified by the army officer on duty as professor of military science and tactics at the educational institution nearest the residence of the applicant.—Official Bulletin.

An official announcement made this week states that civilians of this state may apply in person or by writing to Colonel W. T. May, State College, Pullman, who will act on all applications.

New Wheatless Bread.

A recipe for a wheatless loaf of bread is soon to be made public by the office of home economics of the department of agriculture. It is the discovery of the experimental kitchen conducted jointly by the department of agriculture and the food administration. Directions are to be given for the making of three new wheat substitute breads—the half wheat loaf, the one-fourth wheat loaf and the wheatless loaf. The recipe is expected to save thousands of pounds of wheat flour.—Official Bulletin.

LOCAL BOYS NAMED IN CASUALTY LISTS

DEPARTMENT NOTICES SHOW THAT OLD SECOND WASHINGTON IS ON FIRING LINE.

Chairman H. L. Hughes of the industrial insurance commission received a telegram last Saturday from the war department, stating that his son Private Edwin A. was severely wounded in action July 1, "somewhere in France."

Hughes, who was only 19 years old when he enlisted last October with Company A of the 161st infantry, the old Second Washington, was below regulation weight at that time, but succeeded in joining the army. Since then he had gained 22 pounds, according to the last letter his mother received.

He is one of four members of Chairman Hughes' family in the service. Another son is in the old Oregon regiment and two step-sons are in the national army at Camp Lewis. The report of his wound, together with that of other Washington boys, indicates that the old Second Washington is brigaded with French troops on the fighting line.

On the same casualty list with young Hughes was another Thurston county boy, Elmer G. Johnson of Gate, also reported to have been severely wounded. He was one of the well known young men of that section of the county.
