SYSTEMATIC PLANNING

LESSENS THE HOUSE-CLEANING LABORS

Better equipment and more systematic planning help the housekeeper to do her cleaning more easily and quickly. It is well to have a special place where cleaning utensils may be kept in the best condition and ready for instant use, suggests the department of agriculture. Much time and energy is spent in collecting the utensils needed for cleaning.

A closet, cupboard, or wardrobe in the kitchen is the best place for keeping the cleaning utensils. A back-stairs closet is also a good place. One end of a back porch may be inclosed and used for such a purpose. The closet should have plenty of hooks and racks for utensils and a shelf for cleaning materials.

The housekeeper should choose utensils according to her own needs and according to the requirements of her house. Those suggested below are inexpensive and will help to lighten the work of cleaning:

Bucket with wringer for mopping. A piece of inch board 15 inches square with rollers makes a convenient platform on which to set the mop bucket, and permits it to be moved easily without lifting.

Wall mop made by tying a bag made of wool or cotton cloth over an ordinary broom.

A broom, with a hook screwed in the end of the handle, by which it can be hung up.

A long-handled dustpan. Several brushes for cleaning purposes.

Cheesecloth, worn silk, and flannel for dusters.

Duster may be made by dipping pieces of cheesecloth in two quarts of warm water to which one-half cup of kerosene has been added. These cloths should be kept away from the stove or lighted lamp, as they are inflammable.

A blackboard eraser covered with flannel for stove polishing.

An oiled floor mop to use on oiled or polished floors. Several makes can be found on the market, or one may be made of old stockings or any discarded woolen or flannel material. The material is cut into one-inch strips and sewed across the middle to a foundation of heavy cloth. This is fastened to an old broom handle or used in a clamp mop handle. The mop is dipped into a solution made of one-half cup melted paraffin and one cup kerosene, and allowed to dry. To keep it moist, it is rolled tight and kept in a paper bag, away from stove or lamp.

COLD STORAGE FACILITIES FOR COTTAGE CHEESE

The comparatively limited demand for cottage cheese and the surplus production of it during certain seasons of the year have made it desirable to use cold storage facilities for keeping it, in order that a sufficient supply to meet all demands may be available at all seasons.

More recently the cold storage of cottage cheese has proved very satisfactory, especially when the cheese is well made and of good quality. In storing it for long periods, the best results have been obtained when it was placed in storage as quickly as possible after being made and held at 10 degrees F. or below. When held for a short time, a temperature of 32 degrees to 33 degrees F. has been found satisfactory.

In removing the cheese from storage, it should be thawed out slowly in order that the curd may retain its normal moisture content, which makes it soft and moist, for when thawed out quickly the curd will be dry and chalky and undesirable as a food product. Cold-storage cheese should be sold and used within a few days after it is taken from storage, as it is more susceptible to the development of undesirable flavors than fresh cheese.

REDER WILL PUSH SALE OF WAR SAVING STAMPS

Thrift Campaign Among School Children of the County to Begin Next Week.

Pushing the sale of war savings stamps and thrift stamps to school children, Joseph Reder, director of the Thurston county war savings stamp campaign, is making arrangements for supplying the stamps to rural schools throughout the county.

In King county arrangements have been made with banks to deliver the stamps in $100 lots to principals and superintendents of schools, who turn them over to the teachers. This plan will be modified in Thurston county, the stamps being supplied direct to the teachers by rural mail carriers. In this way the thrift campaign will reach all children, regardless of their isolation from cities.

Thurston county will be one of the first counties to inaugurate the plan of a short talk to pupils on thrift at the beginning of the school year.

Mr. Reder will start on September 15 to organize Thurston county for the work, and expects to have every school in the county aligned for the movement within 30 days.

Navy Recruiting Lags Here.

Due to the fact that there is such a demand for workers in Olympia, enlistments in the navy are dragging here, Stanley Matthews, the local recruiting officer, says, though Centralia, Chehalis and other Southwest Washington towns are sending in recruits daily.

54-inch Coating Velour

J.A. Howell Finds Kelly Cords Good After 14,000 Miles

MR. HOWELL and his family were in Olympia yesterday, en route to their home in Los Angeles in their Paige Six, after making a tour of Yellowstone Park and driving from there to Puget Sound. Mr. Howell's car is equipped all around with Kelly-Springfield 34x4 Cords which have gone 14,000 miles and are still in fine shape. They never caused one stop on the road to Yellowstone or up through Montana, Idaho and Washington.

Mr. Howell is a stock broker and he intends to tour in Southern California this winter on the same Kelly Cords which have given him 14,000 miles of pleasure so far.

F. J. Torrence Thinks Kellys are Unequaled

Mr. Torrence is Tacoma manager of the Pacific Coast Coal Company. He had his old Chalmers equipped with Kelly Kant Slips and after he had driven them for 10,000 miles he bought a new Chalmers. The first move he made was to equip his new Chalmers with Kelly Cords. That was a year ago and the tires look good for another year. Mr. Torrence says.

No quibbling over Kelly mileage. You get it, for the Kelly is made on a long-wear and not an adjustment basis. But, remember, if you have any complaint it is adjusted right here.

Look at the Guarantee: 7,500 miles on Hand-Made Kant Slips. 10,000 on Hand-Made Cords. 15,000 on Hand-Made Caterpillar Cushions.

We carry a complete line of automobile accessories.
