

E. T. KEENE, SALESMANAGER

A Maibohm Enthusiast Who Will Put Pep Into the State Agency Sales Force.

There is an old saying that a salesman must believe in his wares if he is to be successful. Here is where the Marcott Motor Co. was particularly fortunate when E. T. Keene became associated with the company. He not only believes in the Maibohm, but so enthusiastic is he about this motor car that it has become contagious and the entire sales force is inoculated with this enthusiasm.

Mr. Keene has not long been a resident of Olympia. He has seen the possibilities for a motor car agency in this city, but not until last December could he see his way clear to engaging in that line of work here.

He has been engaged in the motor car business for the past four years, and for two years was state salesman for the Universal Tractor Co. During the past twelve months he was in partnership with J. A. Wakefield, selling the Columbia in connection with a used car market.

GIVE CREDIT TO PROHIBITION

Absence of Liquor Given as Cause for Crime Decrease.

A reduction in municipal expense due to a decrease in prisoners and juvenile delinquents has resulted from the dry law at Cleveland, Ohio, according to official reports, which show that fewer prisoners were lodged last summer than at any time in the past 10 years. Charles F. Burns, superintendent of a workhouse near Cleveland, says that the inmates at the house have fallen off from more than 1,000 to less than 400. Judge George Adams, of the juvenile court, credits prohibition with a reduction in juvenile crime. Alexander Haddon, judge of the probate court, says he has fewer cases of alcoholics than formerly. As a direct result of prohibition, the felony court has been abolished in Cincinnati, thus causing a saving in municipal expense.

THE TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

"The Triple Alliance does not seek to rely on the Democratic party for support but goes in to capture the Republican organization. That being the majority party in the state and most counties, is the target of the Socialist-Labor organization at the coming primaries."

"That there are Republican politicians who will bid for the support of the Triple Alliance there can be no doubt, as results will show."

The above is from the Manufacturer, of Portland, the strongest standpat organ of the strongest standpat reactionaries among big business employers who always have controlled the Republican party. We don't wonder they are bitter against the Alliance. It is about to jar them loose from their control. And the policy of the Alliance is so decidedly radical that it reminds them that they have sown to the winds, and they are in mortal fear of reaping the whirlwind.

It's a Republican scrap, however, and the real democracy of the state expects to take on the winner and send it to defeat.

SOVIET OR AUTOCRACY?

The overthrow of the democracy in Germany by the monarchist party is the first step in the deliberate plan to restore the Kaiser or his unspeakable son, the crown prince Willie, to the throne and resume again the plans for world dominion which the pan-Germans dreamed of before the entrance of the United States into the war.

The monarchist party received its encouragement from the attitude of the U. S. senate, and with this country apparently the friend of the autocracy, and against the League of Nations, they felt the time had come to strike.

It looks as though the United States might have to go back and do the job over again—but if we do, we should first clear the senate of those traitorous un-Americans who have knifed the government in the back by playing into the hands of the monarchists, and throwing away all the fruits of a victory which should have crushed autocracy forever.

It may turn out that bolshevik strikes will check the revolution somewhat, but if so it will only spread the kind of government for which Lenine and Trotsky are responsible in Russia.

The United States senate has killed democracy in Germany and given the world either autocracy or sovietism for Mittel Europa for years to come.

TRADE AT HOME.

The best evidence that Olympia merchants are awake to the interests of the people whom they serve is the efforts they put forth to draw trade to this city, and thus benefit both themselves and their customers.

Look at the columns of the Washington Standard and see who are making an effort to serve the people of this county as well as city by keeping them posted on prices and quality of goods offered. Patronize these advertisers, for they desire to build up home industry and the home community.

DIVINE DISCONTENT.

Bad will be the day for every man when he becomes absolutely contented with the life that he is living, with the deeds that he is doing; when there is not forever beating at the doors of his soul some great desire to do something larger, which he knows that he was meant and made to do.—Phillips Brooks.

They say that serious illness makes a man see things in a true light oftentimes, and on reading the Bee-Nugget of last week we are inclined to believe it. Editor Ellington, a staunch Republican, has been down with the flu, and on his first issue after recovery he condemns the narrow partisanship of the P.-I., takes a fling at the Oregonian, informs the state central committee of the Republican party that if it expects it can ram Poindexter down the throats of the Republicans of the state as a presidential candidate it has another think coming, and so forth. Brother Ellington certainly wants to put himself right.

VOTE FOR LARGE PRODUCTION

Members of Farm Bureau Declare for Practical Solution.

Farmers of the country, organized in the rapidly-rising farm bureau movement, placed themselves vigorously on record at Chicago for the largest possible production, and called on labor to join in the same service at this hour of the world's great need. This section of the resolutions, adopted by the American Farm Bureau Federation, following its permanent organization, declared the practical farmers' view as follows:

"The world war resulted in a great waste of human labor. Increased production is essential to national well being. We stand for higher individual efficiency, and believe that every citizen, regardless of his station in life, should have opened to him every incentive for the development of his full power. Therefore, we condemn any system or practice which tends to set up the mediocre man as the standard in any group, and hereby declare that it is un-American to fix by rule or law the accomplishment limitation of any men or women within our gates."

RESULTS OF BOOZELESS YEAR

Savings Banks Deposits Increase More Than Two Hundred Million.

Prohibition is believed to have been an important factor in the marked increase in the deposits in the savings banks of New York in the past year. The Savings Bank Association announces that deposits advanced $222,708,832 between January 1, 1919, and January 1, 1920. "Some one who has given free rein to his statistical inclination," said Milton Harrison, executive manager of the association, "has figures which show that the $2,000,000,000 liquor bill of this country will be distributed to the benefit of five lines of business in the following order: Savings banks, soft drinks, ice cream, motion pictures and candy. How much of the candy and motion picture money can be diverted into the savings banks constitutes an interesting problem for savings bankers. Savings institutions in the state of Pennsylvania increased their deposits from $295,908,917 in 1918 to $314,256,637 in 1919, and it is interesting to note that the number of depositors has decreased in the same period from 538,873 to 537,724. Savings banks in Minneapolis increased their deposits from $23,000,000 in 1918 to $43,000,000 in 1919."

Ralph Hopkins, an auto dealer, from Tenino, was in Olympia the first of the week looking after business affairs.
